

KIDDLE MAY ENTER RACE FOR GOVERNOR

State Senator Urged by Friends to Become Gubernatorial Candidate.

FRIENDS BELIEVE HE WILL CONSENT

Not to Consider Matter, However, Until After Burial Ceremony for G. W. Joseph.

State Senator Fred E. Kiddle, of Island City, is being urged by his friends throughout the state to enter the race for the gubernatorial nomination. It was learned here today.

In respect for the memory of the late Senator George W. Joseph, republican nominee for governor, who passed away suddenly at Camp Clatsop early this week, Mr. Kiddle has failed to give the matter any consideration and does not expect to do so until after the burial ceremonies.

Senator Kiddle, when the vacancy occurred for congress in the second district, was almost assured of the nomination—which meant election, political observers believe—but because of business relations it was impossible for him to accept at that time.

Ex-Commander Oregon Legion. In addition to being state senator from Union, Umatilla and Morrow counties, he was the manager of the Hoover campaign and is an ex-state commander of the American Legion.

It is possible that he will be a candidate for the nomination, his friends believe.

According to news reports from Western Oregon, a nominee will not be selected by the republican state committee until in July.

Hotel Caravan Spends Evening, Continues Trip

Delegation From Western and Eastern Oregon Points to Attend Convention in Pocatello.

A caravan composed of hotel men and their families, traveling from Portland to Pocatello, where a convention will be held, and then to follow a route leading into Montana, through Yellowstone national park and return by Spokane, stopped in La Grande last night where the members were guests of the La Grande hotel at dinner and for the night. Fourteen persons from Portland and Willamette valley points, The Dalles, Arlington and Pendleton were joined by John MacPherson, of the La Grande hotel, and Mrs. and Mrs. Hugh Brady and Mrs. Julius Roesch, of the Seacawava Inn, who are now on their way to Pocatello after leaving at 7 o'clock this morning.

Other members of the caravan from Spokane who were to have joined those from Portland yesterday, missed connections and will pass through La Grande today, arriving in Boise this evening to dine with the others and stop for the night.

The convention at Pocatello is said to be the first representation of hotel men from the states of Montana, Utah, Nevada and Wyoming, besides Oregon, Washington and Idaho, to gather together in one session. It discusses the hotel problems from different angles and meeting in common to promote closer contact and business relations.

The program as outlined takes up a full day, starting at 10 o'clock in the morning of June 21. Representatives from the American Hotel association will give short talks. Interstate relations will be discussed and in the evening a dinner dance will be enjoyed. The caravan is scheduled to leave Missoula, Mont., June 26 for Spokane by way of Wallace and Coeur d'Alene on the return.

LA GRANDE UNIT IN DEMONSTRATION

Company E Illustrates Scouts and Advance Parties at Camp Clatsop.

By Charles Cook
CAMP CLATSOP, Ore. (Special)—A busy day of practice after a quiet Sunday opened the week for the La Grande unit of the Oregon national guard. The company, including the recruits, spent a busy morning and several hours in the afternoon rehearsing the demonstration of scouting and patrolling to be given to the other companies of the 18th Regiment. Each company is to present some phase of military science as a regimental demonstration, with Company E to demonstrate the various formations of scouts and advance parties. The method of procedure when an airplane swoops suddenly upon a battalion in march is to be another feature.

At the rehearsal, a patrol was ordered to flank a machine gun nest, represented by Fred Lovely.

JACK SHARKEY IS SEEKING A RETURN BOUT

NEW YORK, June 19 (AP)—Jack Sharkey today issued a three-page statement declaring he did not believe his fight with Max Schmeling had proved which was the better man, and asserted that under the circumstances on one should be recognized as heavy-weight champion.

Schmeling was recognized as champion today by the N. B. A. over Muldoon's protests. Proposing a return bout as the only way to settle the question, Sharkey's statement said he would fight immediately to meet Schmeling with only 12 1/2 per cent of the gate receipts as his share, 37 1/2 per cent to go to Schmeling, if he should insist.

Sharkey further said that if he fouled again he would agree to pay all the expenses for preliminary bouts and overhead for a return match and that if Schmeling fouled him he would refuse to accept the decision on that basis.

Wheat Today

CHICAGO, June 19 (AP)—Steadier pose showed itself in the wheat market today, despite late reports of shovels where needed in Canada, and of favorable harvest progress in the southwest. Traders friendly to upturns in wheat values took particular notice of assurances from Chairman Alexander Lange that federal farm board sales would not compete as sellers of wheat so long as the market remained at its present low level. Besides, talk was current in other quarters that despite world wide fall of commodity prices, wheat shows a decline of only about 6c a bushel compared with quotations 5 free months ago. Wheat closed firm at the same as yesterday's finish to go higher.

NATURAL GAS CORPORATION ASKS PERMIT

Concern Affiliated With Standard Oil Requests La Grande Franchise.

CITY ATTORNEY TO TAKE ACTION

Papers Will Be Prepared for Presentation Soon—City to Enforce Night Parking Ordinance.

La Grande's chances of securing a gas plant this year appeared bright today.

A number of requests for gas franchises have been made to the city commission during the last few weeks. But some of them appeared to be the promoter type, with the result that nothing further was done.

Prepared to Build
Last night, however, J. R. Donovan, of San Francisco, representing the Natural Gas Corporation of Oregon, indirectly connected with the Standard Oil company of California, applied for a franchise and stated that his company was prepared to have the first unit of a plant completed here by Jan. 1, 1931.

After a great deal of discussion, the city attorney was authorized to draw up a franchise and present it to the commission at the earliest possible time for further action. Mr. Donovan also stated that he was willing to put up a good faith bond, and on behalf of his company, offered a two per cent remuneration to the city after the first three years of operation. Many gas franchises are awarded on a basis of two per cent after five years, he said.

He estimated that near $100,000 would be required to install a gas system here, of which $20,000 to $25,000 would go into the plant and the remainder into mains. He said that the company is installing a plant at Klamath Falls at present.

Night Parking Discussed
Another question that was discussed in detail was the all-night anti-parking ordinance. Police Chief Clint Haynes presented a report of discussion at the officers' meeting at Ontario Monday, and it was decided to enforce the ordinance in earnest, beginning July 1. The ordinance provides:

Owners Cherry Trees Ordered To Apply Spray

By authority of the Oregon horticultural laws and by order of the state board of horticulture, an order has been issued requesting all persons to spray all cherry trees on their premises, either owned or leased, for the eradication of the cherry fruit fly.

The order states that the correct time for the application of the first spray is June 20. A second spray is required seven days later, and a third spray later if flies are still active.

For people with one or two trees, a man and sprayer will be available. A house to house canvass is planned but if anyone is missed, he is urged to notify County Agent H. G. Avery.

Five American Are Listed In Hoylake Leaders

Bobby Jones led the field by a stroke and five other Americans were in the first nine at the close of the second round of the British open golf championship. Jones scored 72 today for a 36-hole total of 142, just topping Fred Robson, veteran British pro, who scored 143.

Horton Smith, New York pro, was in third place with a two-day score of 145. Three Americans, Don Moo, Portland, Ore., amateur, Leo Diegel and MacDonald Smith were tied for fourth with two British pros, Archie Compston and Phil Rodgers, all scoring 147.

Geo. Von Elm, Detroit, required 73 strokes for his second round today, giving him a 36 hole total of 160, enough to remove him from the final 36 holes of competition tomorrow.

Moe Ties for Third
Don Moo, young Portland, Ore., amateur, turned in a score of 73 to go into a tie for third place with a total of 147.

Moe scored 33 for the first nine holes in spite of a six on his card. His card:

Moe, out: 45 254 364-38.
"It was by putting that helped me out," said the smiling Moe, obviously pleased with his scoring on the homevard nine.

WILL DECIDE ON "OBSCENE" TALK FRIDAY

PORTLAND, Ore., June 19 (AP)—Judge C. C. Cavanaugh announced today that he would hand down a decision tomorrow on whether obscene language of 10 years ago had continued to be considered "obscene" despite a purported change in the public viewpoint as contended by defense attorneys for Robert Gordon Duncan, self styled "Oregon wildcat" in a hearing on a demurrer yesterday.

The demurrer, which pleaded for dismissal of an indictment against Duncan charging him with violation of the federal radio act prohibiting broadcasting of "indecent, obscene and profane language over station KXPT," set forth that what many have constituted obscene language 10 years ago was "taken as a matter of course now because of the change in the public viewpoint."

Maniac Blamed For Killings In New York City

Search for Mad Slayer Shifts to Eastern Bronx After All-night Vigil in Queens.

NEW YORK, June 19 (AP)—Several hundred policemen searched the byways of the Boston Post road today for evidence of a third murder by the maniac blamed for two killings in Queens within a week.

Search for the mad slayer shifted today to the Eastern Bronx, after an all night vigil in Queens, when a newspaper received a warning in the mails purporting to come from the slayer himself, boasting that he had committed another murder, naming his victim as "Harold Bredenbach" and telling where the body would be found.

When Joseph Mozyzski, Queens delinquent proprietor, was slain a week ago last night in his motor car, parked beside a secluded road, his death was regarded as the work of a holdup man or a jealous enemy.

Killings Similar
But when Noel Sawyer, young radio salesman, was killed in a similar manner Monday night, and when the killer escorted the girl who was with him to a transportation line which would take her to her home—just as he had taken to a subway station the young woman in the car with Mozyzski—when a note mentioning the Mozyzski murder was found in the car beside Sawyer's body, police agreed that both killings were the work of the same man, apparently a maniac.

This conclusion was supported by a letter to a New York newspaper, received, it said, before the actual finding of Sawyer's body, announcing the killing and telling where the body would be found.

The killer warned in his letters that he would again strike last night in College Point, Queens, and six hundred policemen blanketed the district in a search for him, but while they still scoured the vicinity early today another letter, purporting to come from the same source, reached the newspaper.

It said the killing had been done, but about the Boston Post road in the Bronx, across Long Island sound from the borough of Queens. "Where is it now?" It is already dead. He is on the Boston Post road. His name is Harold Bredenbach. Find the woman, old man, and you've got me."

This note caused Police Commissioner Mulrooney to shift his search to the Bronx, where an all-morning hunt had failed today to reach the newspaper.

Cronemiller Is Named Forester By State Board

SALEM, Ore., June 19 (AP)—Lynn P. Cronemiller, who has been deputy state forester six years, was yesterday elected to succeed the late Frank A. Elliott as state forester. The selection was made at a meeting of the state board of forestry. His salary will be $4000 a year.

Cronemiller was authorized to make Porter S. King an assistant state forester in charge of fire protection at a salary of $3000. He has been with the department some years at $2700. The new state forester was authorized to offer to Theodore Rainwater of Marshfield the post of administrative assistant at $1800 a year, probably later to be made deputy state forester, it was said. Rainwater is now with the Coos County Fire Patrol association and has been in state work for three years.

Cronemiller was graduated from Oregon State college in 1914. He was in field work for the state forestry department for the following year and then went to Lakeview where he was in newspaper work, his father being the owner of a newspaper there. He followed newspaper work two years, and for the next seven years was with logging camps in Oregon and Idaho in various capacities.

PORTLAND, Ore., June 19 (AP)—Senator George W. Up until the funeral hour, the body of Senator Joseph, who sought and won vindication from political troubles in the Oregon primary, laid in state at Centenary-Wilbur while hundreds passed before the bier to silently bid adieu.

BOISTEROUS WELCOME FOR BYRD TODAY

Aerial Conqueror of Both Ends of the Earth Guest of New York.

DISCOVERIES IN SOUTH EXPLAINED

Rear Admiral, However, Says There are Thousands of Miles of Land Yet to Explore.

NEW YORK, June 19 (AP)—Aerial conqueror of both ends of the earth, Rear Admiral Richard E. Byrd set foot again today at 10:40 a. m. (E. S. T.) on the turf of Lower Manhattan, from which he sailed 20 months ago on a pilgrimage of exploration into the white wastes of Antarctica.

Surrounded in sea and sky and on by a roaring welcome in which planes and harbor craft and cheering thousands joined, he departed from the city welcoming tug Macom to receive from the city the third and by far the most boisterous greeting it has tended to him for his achievements of exploration by air.

Embraces Mother

Almiral Byrd had boarded the Macom half an hour before from his barque, the City of New York, at quarantine. The first person he greeted was his mother, whom he held in a warm embrace for a moment, then turned to other relatives and friends.

"It's good to get back again," he said smiling, he greeted the city from the radio telephone aboard the Macom. "It's good to have this reception."

Then, turning to the reporters, he spoke of what his expedition had accomplished in the Antarctic.

Find 125,000 Square Miles

First, he said, they had discovered and explored 125,000 square miles of land, extent of which had only been surmised before. They found rock formations indicating great coal deposits, of commercial significance. They photographed terrain and definitely established the need in Antarctica of a permanent weather station.

The thing for which he was most thankful, he said, was that he had brought all his expedition safely home.

"All my men have come back safe," he said feelingly, "for which we must thank Providence." The admiral said he had no future plans and would not undertake further explorations until a $10,000,000 fund remaining from his expedition is cleared away.

Much Yet to Explore
"There's not much left to explore, is there?" he was asked. "Oh, yes," he answered quickly. "There are thousands of miles of unexplored lands in South America and Antarctica, and as long as there is land no one has seen, man will continue to seek it."

Mrs. Byrd, who was prevented by high seas from boarding the City of New York last night from a specially chartered tug, was not down the bay today to meet her distinguished husband.

Relatives said she had not returned from the little trip out to Ambrose Light until 3 a. m. this morning and had decided to postpone her greeting until later. She

EXPENDITURES FOR MORROW ABOUT $44,000

NEWARK, N. J., June 19 (AP)—Expenditures on behalf of Dwight W. Morrow in his successful campaign for the republican senatorial nomination today were placed by his campaign manager at approximately $44,000, of which Morrow contributed $15,000.

Douglas Thompson, the campaign manager, said contributions totaling $65,608 were received. It said his figures included expenditures up to and including June 17. Alexander Simpson, democratic nominee who will oppose Morrow in the November elections, said: "The democrats will enter this fray unterrified by the money of J. P. Morgan and company which almost floated New Jersey out of a coalition between New York and Pennsylvania."

Morrow was a partner in the Morgan firm before assuming the post of ambassador to Mexico.

Aged Salem Man Hurt In Accident

SALEM, Ore., June 19 (AP)—Isaiah Hewitt, 75, of Salem, is in a critical condition at a local hospital with injuries received when he was run down by an automobile driven by Ferdinand Mickelham, who is 37. Mickelham, police said, has been warned not to drive a car. Records show that his driver's license was suspended a year ago.
