BUSINESS OFFICES OF

The New Observer Building

This office equipment is the best to be had—made to serve a lifetime—arranged for efficiency—beautifully finished—a pleasure to own and to use. The new Observer desks are in walnut, most of them covered with a special desk-top Linoleum, others with fine five-ply walnut tops. The desks include various styles—typewriter pedestal, pedestal, a specially built typewriter desk for the City Editor, office tables to match, etc. The office chairs are also finished to match and the steel filing cabinets are Bohnenkamp office equipment. The Observer is one more La Grande institution to be equipped with West-Made Desks. Others include the State Normal school, the high school, the Highway Shops offices, the Mt. Emily Lumber Co., the Perkins Motor Co. and the Chevrolet Motor Co., the La Grande Grocery Co., the Chamber of Commerce and the Reynolds Insurance offices, etc.

FINE QUALITY AXMINSTER RUGS SELECTED FOR BOTH OF THE PRIVATE OFFICES

Oriental Patterns, Long Wearing, Ideal for Office Purposes

As a floor covering for the two private offices in the Observer building, two fine quality Axminster rugs were selected from our stock. Made for hard service, these rugs are rich in color and set off the offices to the best advantage. You will be interested in noting these when you visit the building during the Formal Opening, Friday and Saturday. Take special note of the desks, chairs and rugs—all of them Bohnenkamp quality merchandise.

BEAUTIFUL CORBIN HARDWARE USED THROUGHOUT THE BUILDING

Good hardware is essential for any good building investment. There is no finer hardware to be had than Corbin—and Corbin quality is used throughout for The Observer. It is beautiful in appearance, efficient in the places it is used—and it will give long wear, stand the abuse and constant use that a business building gives.
