Liquor Raids In Wallowa County Cause Arrests

By Edna Keaslow Hunter (Observer Correspondent)

WALLOWA, Ore. (Special)—A liquor raid was staged in Wallowa Saturday evening by Marshal John Crawford, with Sheriff Burton Miller and two deputies from Enterprise assisting. The home of Mrs. Katie Marshall was entered and six cases of beer, empty bottles and a brewing apparatus was found in the kitchen. Joe Marshall was arrested and taken to Enterprise but was released under a $500 bond, furnished by Mrs. Marshall and Earl Shorod. From Wallowa, the officers went to the Cleve Whitburn farm, southwest of Enterprise where they say they found a 50-gallon cask of beer ready for bottling, also several cases of bottles and about 50 empty bottles. Whitburn was also arrested.

Stanley Shod, left every Sunday morning for Seattle, on a vacation trip. He was accompanied as far as Portland by his sister Edna.

A number of Wallowa people drove to Pendleton, Sunday for the day. Those in the party were Mr. and Mrs. C. T. McDaniels and Ruth Miller; Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Seale and daughters, Myrtle and Maxine; Mrs. Reese Sutherland; Geneva and Calvert Sutherland. Mr. Sutherland has been employed in the mill at Pendleton for the past six months.

Therese Shall returned from Eugene Thursday. She was a junior at the University of Oregon this year. A baby girl was born to Mr. and Mrs. Ervin Keller Friday at their home in Madras valley. The child weighed eight pounds.

Mr. and Mrs. Orville McKinnis and Miss Lillian Dale drove to La Grande for the day on Sunday.

Delay in the selection of a republican candidate for governor will be extremely trying for aspirants but just think of the enlarged opportunity it gives political writers for newspapers!

This community has suffered a real loss in the unfortunate death of Ed Meyersick. Always pleasant, always interested in helping others, always a good citizen, Mr. Meyersick leaves a vacant place here not easily filled. As he was to hundreds of others, he was our good friend and La Grande could ill afford to have him go.

The opening of the Mt. Emily mill, the building of our two fine hotels, the location here of the normal school and state highway shops, the installation of the new lighting system, the rapid expansion and modernizing of the business district, the addition of adequate municipal water and sewage facilities, the growth of the dairy industry and horticulture throughout the county, the beginnings of a beautiful new railroad station and office building—these and many other things that promise stability and continued growth for La Grande we have witnessed in the five and a half years we have published The Observer here. They indicate the possibilities of the future. La Grande and the Grande Ronde valley will continue to progress. No community in the Pacific Northwest has greater potential resources, greater opportunities. It is "over the top," the outstanding city of Eastern Oregon. We are especially happy that The Observer has had a modest part in the development that has brought this pre-eminence into being.

RING IN THE NEW

This is the last issue of The Observer under the retiring ownership. We publish it with mingled feelings of pleasure and regret. Pleasure that we have had the opportunity to work the last five years in the La Grande community; pleasure that we can turn the job over to as fine a citizen, as able a newspaper man as P. R. Finlay. Regret that we must leave the good friends made through The Observer in La Grande and Eastern Oregon; regret that we must leave such a fine city and the beautiful Oregon country that surrounds it.

We have tried to give the community a good newspaper. We have tried to make it fair, helpful—stimulating for the things that make for greater prosperity and well being for the community as a whole.

If we have succeeded, it is due to the co-operation and support of our readers, our advertisers and our co-workers in The Observer organization. We have enjoyed every minute of our work with them and owe them a real debt of gratitude. If The Observer is a good newspaper, if it has rendered good service, if it has broadened its facilities and if it has become a greater asset to the community in the last five years, credit is due not to the publisher but to this city and this valley and to the fine citizenship found here.

To Mr. Finlay, the new owner, we commend this newspaper field as one with more combined advantages than can easily be found elsewhere. Here he will find appreciation for constructive community work; here he will find ready response and support for all efforts toward a better newspaper; here he will find enthusiasm for this territory that will be an inspiration to worthwhile development. And here he will find friends—kind friends, helpful friends, good friends—in every walk of life.

Little Strength Lost To Trojans For 1931 Meets

LOS ANGELES (Sp.)—Don't be surprised if the University of Southern California under crusaders repeat their 1931 track triumphs a year later.

Of the 37-70 total which brought victory in the National intercollegiate meet only 11 3-7 points will be missing from the squad in 1931, which only 4% of the 44% collected in the U. C. A. A. meet were scored by members of Coach Dean Cromwell's aggregation.

By simple deduction, this leaves the sun tanned youths of Southern California in possession of the talent for another year which brought 49 37-70 points at Chicago and 48 at Boston, more than those gathered by second place teams in either classic.

Captain Jess Mortensen, javelin thrower, and two pole vaulters, Bill Livingston and Bill Hubbard, are the three point collectors of the big meet who are lost by graduation.

Frank Wykert, next season also will add more power by assuming the 100 yard dash, which along with his hundred yard activities which led him to eclipse the world's record twice this year.

The squad will be strengthened by additions from the freshmen in training. The new comers include three outstandingers, Duncan MacNaughton in the high jump, Clarence Berry, a high hurdler, and Melville Shine, miler.

SOUND INVESTMENTS BEAR FRUIT

Someone has defined an investment as the careful loan of your money among one or more business enterprises of individuals, with or without specific security, either at known or unknown rates of interest return.

In that case, a certificate of deposit in a bank is an investment—loan your money to the bank at 4% payable practically on demand. A public utility bond is an investment—loaning your money to a light and power company, a telephone company at some stated rate of interest payable at some future time. All these bear fruit for you.

The important thing in making a loan—in investing your money—is therefore, to know how quickly you can withdraw money in an emergency, how much interest it will earn, how certain you can be that your money will fail to be fruitful and be lost.

Your banker is naturally in the ideal position to tell you these things. If he hasn't the information you require, he can get it. His experience and his judgment are invaluable to you in making an investment decision. And he is always glad to be of service to you.
