The Following Appeared in my ad in Last Thursday's Observer:

SINCE 1913

"All business buildings in La Grande except three — La Grande Hotel — High School — Court House — all have been plastered by Harry Hoffman 'of course'."

THIS SHOULD READ —

Since 1913 all business buildings in La Grande except three have been plastered by Harry Hoffman. The La Grande Hotel, High School and Court House were my biggest jobs.

SPLINTERS

Official Publication of THE VAN PETTEN LUMBER CO.

Hold up those dahlias with our green garden stakes. They are dirt cheap and brighten up your flower bed.

It was the first time the baseball player had ever played golf. He hit one straight down the fairway, then shouted, "Which way do I run?"

You can put on a cedar shingle roof right now for less money than any time in the past several years.

Outside of a life insurance agent there's nothing will make you feel as old as changing a tire.

Strange voice, talking over 'phone — "Send up a bale of hay." Feed Merchant — "Who is it for?" Strange Voice — "The horse."

For the garden soil try a small sack of hydrated lime. It will sweeten up the soil and costs only 30c a sack.

WE SELL TO SELL AGAIN.

BUILDING PERMITS FOR WEEK $1,515

Most of New Work Contracted in La Grande for Alterations, Repairs.

Building permits, mostly for alterations and repairs, were issued in the amount of $1,515 last week, according to City Recorder J. E. Stearns. The permits issued were as follows:

June 23—E. O. Webb, to erect a woodshed on Fir between Second and Third, to cost $25.

June 23—Mrs. W. D. Hamilton (applicant F. J. Bartlett), to alter and repair a one-story brick building on Jefferson between Greenwood and Homelock, to be used for fruit storage, work to cost $50.

June 26—Goodenough and Kelly, to alter and repair a brick business building for J. Jorgensen on Depot between Adams and Jefferson, work to cost $250.

June 26—L. F. Wheeler and son, for Ed Hickox, to alter and repair a dwelling on O avenue between Fifth and Sixth, work to cost $300.

June 26—L. F. Wheeler and son, for P. W. Deboerde, to alter and repair a home on C avenue between Second and Third streets, work to cost $350.

SOUTHWEST INSPIRED ARCHITECT HERE

By the Associated Press. This house was inspired by the adobe houses of our Southwest with second story walls overhung with long galleries, behind heavy grille-work of which the ladies of the old Spanish families were wont to while away the time, observing but unobserved. The feature of the front face of this house is the gallery. If found more desirable to place this feature at the rear, to gain more privacy and possibly overlook the garden, nothing more would be necessary than to switch it on the plan. The house measures 28 x 38 feet and was designed for placing on a plot 50 x 100 feet. Walls are either of slightly rough textured stucco or of concrete cast in forms. A central hall runs the depth of the house, terminating at a rear entrance. Thus the first floor is divided into two parts. One is given over to the living room; the other contains kitchen and dining room. The stairs to the second floor rise from the hall, and underneath is the stairway to the basement. A range of convenient closets opens from the hall. The living room is well proportioned, and assured good air circulation. While the kitchen is not large, it has all the space necessary. On the second floor the rooms have been arranged to practically duplicate the first floor. Cost of erecting this house will be between $8,000 and $10,000, due to fluctuating charges for labor and materials in various sections.

PRODUCTION OF LUMBER SHOWS A DECREASE

PORTLAND, June 30 (AP)—A total of 344 mills reporting to the West Coast Lumbermen's association produced approximately 168,000,000 feet of lumber during the week ending June 21. This represents a decrease of 4,000,000 feet compared with production of 342 mills for the previous week. New business from the rail trade was about the same as the previous week and domestic cargo orders were more than 5,000,000 feet less than previous week. Export orders dropped about 750,000 feet from the volume of the previous week. Local orders decreased about 5,000,000 feet. Reports from 222 mills showed total production of 145,898,000 feet, orders 135,300,000 feet and shipments 145,928,000.
