RED PURSE HIDES
WASHINGTON—A TRICK UMBRELLA
WASHINGTON—A TRICK hand bag concealing a small umbrella is carried by Mrs. Richard Yates, newly elected president of the Chevy Chase branch of the League of American Pen Women.

Mrs. Yates was seen at a country club wearing a smart sports outfit of red suit, white shoes and stockings, red gaiters, red hat and the flat red purse which, when opened, revealed a small red umbrella.

The only way you can tell when the Fourth of July in Chicago is by looking at a calendar.

SUMMER SUGGESTION TO SALESMEN: SLAP-NO BACKS IN SUNBURN SEASON.

Evangelist—Brother, why did you enter this life of sin? Sinner—I had no choice; my parents didn't consult me.

We hear of an Illinois man named Storms who has named his three sons, Hale Storms, Rayne Storms and Snow Storms, and suggests that his fourth will probably be called Bizzard. If they keep coming we presume there will be Sand Storms, Dust Storms and finally Brain Storms.

The night watchman on his night off, probably sits up and waits for his daughter to come home.

One thing about false teeth is that when they start chattering you can always take them out.

Wife (trying on hats)—Do you like this one turned down, dear? Husband—How much is it? Wife—Eleven dollars. Husband—Yes, buy it down.

The man who knows how will always find a place in life. But the man who knows why will be boss.

Modern limerick: "There was a young lady from Jackson, who wore dresses without any backs on. She was chased by the laws, but got loose because—there was nothing to pin any facts on."

Mother—We grow when we are green. Philip—It's when we think we are ripe that we begin to stagnate.

An Eastern ruler has a sword swallowed permanently on his staff to entertain him. And by this method he could easily dispose of his old safety-razor blades.

Angry Parent—You promised you would live within your allowance and you haven't done it. That shows how weak you are. Son (soothingly)—No, Dad; it shows how weak the allowance is.

THE HAGUE (AP)—Princess Juliana of Holland, who is just 21, now is a fully qualified cook as well as the holder of a doctor's degree from Leyden university.

Two expert cooks, one a French chef and the other a Dutch housewife, have found the princess an apt pupil. For four days a week she has devoted her forenoon, under their direction, to practical culinary experience. Now she cooks both plain and fancy dishes with success.

Testimony to her new skill was given at a dinner, prepared entirely by herself, with members of the royal family as guests.

CHICAGO, Ill., July 3 (Special)—Blue Ribbon mail, a Central Illinois firm, has sent a message to the Hunter boys in the plane "City of Chicago," that it would give them $1 for every minute they remained aloft after 6 p. m., July 1.

FERVENT desire to satisfy all the particular demands of our clients has given us a wide-spread reputation for trustworthiness. You can depend upon us without hesitation.

English Woman - Engineers Will Honor Aviatix

LONDON (AP)—When Amy Johnson comes home, decorated with one of the highest honors the British government can give a woman, she will find a warm welcome awaiting her by some fellow engineers.

They are members of the Women's Engineering society, of which Amy became a member when she secured her ground engineer's license.

While women of London society are asking Amy to garden parties, and while the man on the streets is acclaiming her flight, members of the Women's Engineering society will be asking Amy all about how her plane behaved during her long flight to Australia.

The society is planning to do honor to its member who has winged herself into fame. Nobody quite knows what to do for her, since the king already has given her a title, and the prime minister has sent his personal congratulations.

Some of the girl engineers think a pair of overalls with an oil-proof pocket in which to store a powder-puff might be suitable for a good engineer who is also feminine and pretty.

BOISE, Idaho (AP)—In the mouth of George F. Cokely, meat packer of San Jose, Cal., a nice steak off a prime horse is as good as beef, Cokely said.

It is sold under its own name at a price less than that for beef, Cokely asserted.

One of the hardest jobs, Cokely said, was to get the owners of horses to admit having any wild horses for sale, due to their fear of the assessor.

Ranchmen with as few as five horses listed on their tax rolls will ship as many as 500 horses to the packers during the season.
