ing Columbia river freight service when the survey figures and associated considerations convince them of feasibility of the undertaking head a preliminary conference today looking to early action. Kipp said. Lack of river mindedness by shippers and the general public has retarded establishment of barge lines earlier, he indicated.
The barge lines would bring agricultural products from the inland Empire to tide water at lower rates and in greater amounts, the Columbia Valley association points out, whereas, under present conditions, with railroads handling almost all the freight and with rates fixed at the maximum figure the traffic can bear, it is as economical to ship over the mountains to Puget Sound as it is to ship down the Columbia gorge route.

KAY IGNORES DEMANDS OF JOSEPH MEN

time past, I have been communicating with Senator Charles L. The federal plan of the Unstilla Rapids project contemplates an appropriation of $45,000,000 for the construction of dams, for the equipment and operation of a huge power plant, and for the establishment of suitable locks for the improvement of navigation on the Columbia river at that place.

FADING FROWNS

A downtown hotel has a sign on the assistant manager's desk, where all the guests rush up with their complaints — and it has worked splendidly. The sign says, "Nothing is half as important as you think it is." The brave guest who waits for a chance to scream about missing baggage or no, across the hall stands and stares at the sign and the assistant manager says he can stand at one end, and watch the frown fade. — Detroit News.

HAWKS INJURED

WICHITA, Kas., July 11 (AP)—Capt. Frank Hawks, noted transcontinental flier, was injured slightly here today when his new monoplane, "Mystery S," crashed at the Travel Air airport. He suffered only minor cuts.

The plane fell from a height of about 50 feet after the engine stalled as Hawks started to land from a trial flight.

The flier said he was traveling at about 80 to 90 miles per hour when the engine suddenly went dead. The plane hurtled over twice as it struck the ground but Hawks was not thrown out of the cockpit.

Airport workers said the plane was severely damaged and would have to be virtually rebuilt.
