

Champion Cherry Picker Busy In Cove Orchards

By Mrs. A. G. Conklin (Observer Correspondent)
COVE, Ore. (Special) — Everett Williams, son of Mr. and Mrs. P. T. Williams, has proven himself a champion cherry picker, having picked 1600 pounds in 12 hours. He left here several weeks ago to pick in the Willamette valley and it was there he made his record. He is now in Cove making an effort to maintain this record.

The $8000 bond issue voted by school district No. 15 of Union county was purchased by the state treasurer Saturday evening, July 12. These bonds are dated July 1, 1930 and will mature serially in numerical order at the rate of $1000.00 on the first day of July in each of the years 1935 to 1942, inclusive, and will bear interest at the rate of 5 1/2 per cent per annum, payable semi-annually.

The weather is very hot and dry and it is ideal weather for the perfect ripening of the cherries. The cherry picking began Friday but the fruit was found none to ripe and some of the orchardists did not pick Saturday but began work in earnest Monday morning.

Mrs. Hersey, wife of the Rev. N. E. Hersey, who is also an ordained minister, held services at Lower Cove Sunday afternoon.

William Stanley of San Francisco, a nephew of Rev. and Mrs. Hersey is spending the summer here and is now occupied in work in the cherries.

Emerson Williams, who has been ill and under the doctor's care for the past year, is recovering slowly and is beginning work again.

Capt. Lewis, of Baker, came down Sunday afternoon to hold service in the Ascension Episcopal church.

Mrs. V. E. Witty and two children, Eloise and Robert, of Pendleton are in Cove for a visit at the home of Mrs. Witty's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Breashear. Mrs. Annie Cruikshank, another daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Breashear, who lives on the highway above Union was a Sunday visitor here.

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Lee McClain Sunday, July 13.

Mrs. McClain is another daughter of the Breashears.

Mrs. Ed. Wright and her mother, Mrs. Clark, of Salem, are guests of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Rees. They came about a week ago and will remain for perhaps a week longer.

Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Hefy were hosts at a small dinner party Sunday, honoring Mr. and Mrs. Herman Lund, of Phoenix, Ariz. Other guests were Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Towle, Mr. and Mrs. O. Lund and the three children of the Towles, Inez, Verna and Clifford and two daughters of Mr. and Mrs. H. Lund.

Mrs. Emily Morton and family are guests of Mrs. Morton's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Allen.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Payne, of Walla Walla, Wash., were weekend guests of Mr. Payne's mother, Mrs. Lou Payne. They came Saturday and Sunday Mr. Payne went to La Grande for the golf tournament. They returned home Monday.

The new home of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Mills is almost ready for occupancy. It is situated on the hill, across from the present home. It is an old house that has been entirely remodeled and has several additions, making it a most attractive home and very comfortable.

Miss Geneva Murchison, daughter of Mrs. J. E. Collins, of Cove, and Leonard M. Van Wingerden, of Baker, were married Tuesday evening at Baker by the Rev. W. A. Allen, of the Methodist Parsonage. Miss Murchison is a Cove girl graduating from Cove High and taking normal training at Monmouth and La Grande. She taught very successfully at a school at High Valley last year and has the best wishes of her many Cove friends.

Catholics Will Meet At Omaha In September

OMAHA, Neb. (AP)—Omaha will be the goal of approximately 25,000 American Catholics when the sixth national Eucharistic congress is held here September 23 to 25.

Heretofore the congresses have included the clergy only, but the laity is invited this year for the first time.

Bishop Joseph Rummel of Omaha, who will act as host to the visitors, plans to welcome the largest number of Catholics ever gathered together in the United States with the exception of the international congress in Chicago, 1926.

The Most Rev. Pietro Piumoni-Biondi, of Washington, papal delegate to the United States, will open the congress with the celebration of the Eucharist in St. Cecilia's cathedral.

Preparations are being made to accommodate 50,000 persons September 24, when Cardinal Mundelein of Chicago will address a mass meeting in the Creighton university stadium on "The Blessed Sacrament and Catholic Action."

At the same meeting Martin T. Mantion, senior judge of the United States district court of appeals of New York, will speak on "The Catholic Laity and Eucharistic Devotion."

The call for the national congress, the first since 1911, was issued by Bishop Joseph Schrembs of Cleveland, president of the Priests' Eucharistic league.

The last national congress was held at Cincinnati and the first at Lille, France, 50 years ago.

A Review
"All Quiet on the Western Front" is being shown at the Arcade theater for the remainder of this week, starting this afternoon, and last night with the members and officers of Company E, 188th Infantry as guests.

A preview was held following the regular Monday night show.

By leaving the theater after the performance, one of the officers of the company—a man who had seen many months of service in France with the A. E. F.—declared that the picture was the most realistic portrayal of conditions as they had actually existed that he had seen. Not of conditions as they were after a few months, but rather as they were after a few years.

The picture is definitely in a class by itself, the writer being unable to recall any other picture even remotely similar. The plot is simple—dealing with the enlistment of a class of young German scholars and then following them through the war to the end—but the way the war scenes are handled, places the picture apart. It is undoubtedly the greatest bit of anti-war propaganda ever released, and presents the ravages of the war in stark outline, shorn of their fictitious glamour and their pristine glory. Instead, one views with horror the machine-like slaughter as it actually occurred.

The picture cannot possibly shock one's patriotism; later it presents a true story of life in the trenches, and the actors might just as well be represented as Frenchmen, Englishmen, Americans or Austrians. It is not a story of the German side of the war—it is a portrayal of modern warfare.

Those persons who still conjure visions of colorful, glorious war would do well to view the actual drabness of conflict as exhibited in "All Quiet on the Western Front."

Butter Trading Is Quiet Today

PORTLAND, Ore., July 15 (AP)—Trading in butter was quiet today. Supplies were plentiful with sellers more in evidence than buyers. Lower grades were easy in price, while the top grades held steady.

Eggs were reported as being affected by the hot weather and in some instances especially in lower grades, prices have been shaded to keep supplies moving. The higher grades are in good demand with prices generally firm.

Cantaloupes were 50c a crate higher. The green pea market is still over-supplied and quotations range low.

MORE ROAD CREWS

SALEM, Ore., July 15 (AP)—J. C. Siegmund, Marion county judge, says the county is operating five more road crews now than ever before. The county is in the second year of a five-year market road program.

Dr. John Trotter, the first surgeon who examined Goldsborough, reported a fracture of the right arm, a only major injury, but said that this with his long period of exposure and lack of attendance, was sufficient to make his condition most critical. Surgeons fear he has made his last flight.

Science Acts To Make Home Safe For The Family

By Sue McNamara (Associated Press Staff Writer)
WASHINGTON (AP)—To prevent mishaps such as happened to Mrs. Herbert Hoover when she suffered a strained back from slipping on a waxed floor of the white house, the U. S. bureau of standards is investigating the 24,000 accidents which occur yearly in American homes.

Forty per cent of such accidents, according to Dr. M. G. Lloyd, head of the "Safety of the Household" department which is making the investigation, are caused by falls.

The bureau of standards has asked the club women of North Carolina to assist in the preliminary survey by making reports of all accidents occurring in their homes during the last year.

From the findings of these reports the bureau will make recommendations for prevention which will be presented to the General Federation of Women's Clubs at its biennial convention in Denver June 5 to 14.

Dr. Lloyd will suggest the attaching of small rugs to the floors to prevent falls. Rugs to cellar steps will be another measure advocated as will hand holds on bath tubs. Many falls are due to slippery tubs.

RUM SHIP FOR YACHT RACES IS PROTESTED

NEW YORK, July 15 (AP)—Rumors that a ship flying the British flag plans to disperse liquor on its passengers outside the 12-mile limit during the international yacht races next September have evoked a protest from the American steamship owners' association.

H. B. Walker, president, said the association would appeal to the commissioner of navigation. He said he had the race course off Newport, R. I., during the day and make trips outside the 12-mile limit at night when liquor would be available to the passengers.

The Arguayo under the liquor with F. C. Brito permitted to bring liquor into America's ports under sail.

Walker said:

"Of course I do not know whether or not the British ship will be on the occasion, but rumors are rumors and will not constitute the cargo."

HELEN MOODY RETURNS WITH 2 NET TITLES

NEW YORK, July 15 (AP)—Her hold on the throne of women's tennis more secure than ever, Helen Moody was back in New York today after a flying trip abroad in which she snared her fourth straight British and third straight French championship.

Arriving from Europe aboard the Majestic yesterday, Queen Helen plans a quick dash home to Berkeley, Cal., before returning to New York to defend her United States title at Forest Hills starting Aug. 18.

To suggestions she was getting ready to retire after winning ten straight major singles titles, Mrs. Moody returned an emphatic denial. "I shall go on playing tennis indefinitely," she remarked.

"It has been a lovely trip," she added, "but I am eager to be home and plan to leave for California almost at once. I will be back in New York a week in advance of the national championship."

Most of Mrs. Moody's purchases abroad were furnishings for her home rather than the Paris gowns she has been accustomed to bring home with her.
