

CLASSIFIED ADS

The Market Place of Union and Wallowa Counties

NEW TODAY

FOR SALE—1 set of Ludwig drums, $72.50, now $65. E. O. Music Co. 7-19-2 tp

FOR RENT—Mod. apt. 2001-2nd st. Ph. 223-H. 7-19-2 tp

FOR SALE—28 Ford coupe, Bargain. Also toy Terrier pup, 1305 T ave. 7-19-2 tp

FOUND—Ladies white gold Tawannes wrist watch. Call Observer. 7-19-14

FOR RENT—Furnished apts. Waverly apts. Phone 353-W. 7-19-2 tp

FOR RENT—Mod. furn. house, 1511 Adams. Ph. 390-M. 7-19-2 tp

FOR RENT—Modern furn. apt. 1605 Wash. 7-19-2 t.

FOR SALE—Used cars—29 Ford "A" sport coupe. New tires, complete motor overhaul, excellent upholstery, fine appearance, rumble seat with an OK that counts, $499.

29 FORD A COUPE—New tires on rear, complete motor overhaul, body in beautiful brown buff, clean inside, low mileage. An OK car for only $495.

29 FORD A TUDOR—A real bargain, striking appearance, good rubber, thousands of miles of low cost transportation. Of course it's OK. $425.

28 CHEVROLET TRUCK—Tires are 75%. Flat rack body with stake sides, motor completely reconditioned. Has an OK that counts, $445.

LARSON CHEVROLET CO. Used Car Lot—407 First St. 7-19-1 t

FOR SALE

FOR SALE—Two houses and lots at Perry. Reasonably priced. Phone William Brown at Kameia. 7-18-3 tp

FOR SALE—La Grande Midget golf course. Best business proposition in Oregon. Priced for quick sale. Spruce and Adams sts. 7-18-4f.

FOR SALE—Lambert and Bing cherries, 3c lb. Call 443-J. Mrs. Dyal. 7-17-2 tp

FOR SALE—Old newspapers, 5c per bundle at Observer office. 7-17-3 tp

FOR SALE—1 4-burner oil stove. Cheap. At Melville's. 7-15-1f.

FOR SALE—Homes: 2 new modern bungalows. Attractive properties, with purchase price and terms right. Call Lowell Williamson, 1215 Adams ave. Main 900. 7-14-9f.

FOR SALE—Business and part furniture of Ostermoor hotel, 24 7th. Mrs. E. M. Martin, Ph. 400 Baker, Oregon. 6-16-1 m.

FOR RENT

MOD. COOL APTS. — Very special rates. Sommer hotel. 7-15-1f.

FOR RENT—2 furn. apt. Adults only. 1002 Wash. Ph. 639-W. 7-11-1f.

FOR RENT—Rms. over Silverthorn Wright Drug store. 7-10-1f.

FOR RENT—Mod. garage. Ph. 245-J. 7-3-1f.

FOR RENT—Furn. houses and apts., with baths, clean, quiet, low rates. Adults, 1319 G. e. wood. 5-10-1 m.

WANTED

EXPERIENCED GIRL wants housework. Call 333-M. 7-18-2 tp.

WANTED—Roomer in private home, breakfast if preferred. Ph. 431. E. G. 1708 First. 7-17-3 t.

MISCELLANEOUS

DON'T FORGET the dance at Elgin open air pavilion every Sat. night. Lindsey's orchestra. 7-18-2t.

OLD TIME DANCE Sat. night at Eagles hall. 7-17-3t.

NOW IS THE CHANCE to buy clean beef for less than half the price while they last at Island City school house. 7-14-1f.

WRITE YOUR INSURANCE in the Oregon Mutual Fire Insurance

PEACOCK COAL

For this time of year you want a quick, hot fire. PEACOCK COAL has less ashes and no soot.

VAN PETTEN LUMBER CO.

PHONE MAIN 732.

"GOOD SERVICE QUICK"

HUDSON BROUGHAM

New Paint - New Tires

Motor Completely Reconditioned

$500.00

PERKINS MOTOR CO.

Want Ad Rates Observer

(Count five average words to the line.)

Per line, 1st insertion 10c

Per line, each added consecutive insertion 7c

Minimum charge on one order 25c

RATES BY MONTH

3 lines, per month $2.50

5 lines, per month $3.25

10 lines, per month $4.00

15 lines, per month $4.75

Each additional line over five charged at 50c per line per month.

CASH IN ADVANCE is required on all Classified orders to earn these rates. Higher rates charged on all credit insertions.

Copy for all Classified orders must be in this office by 10 A. M. DAY OF INSERTION. Slip orders on ad inserted until further notice must be received by the same hour or extra insertion will be charged.

Telephone orders solicited. Cash rates may be earned on phone orders by payment on or before date of last insertion.

PHONE MAIN 37
"An Observer Want Ad Will Do It"

company for loss. La Grande Insurance Agency, agents. R. F. Baxter, Mgr. Ph. Main 86. 7-11-4f.

SOMMER HOTEL—First class apartments, summer rates, also house. Close in. 7-7-1 m.

AUCTIONEER—Call Jay Breshears, Ph. Farmers 9x1, Route 1, Allice. 6-30-1 m. p.

READY CUT garage lumber, 10x16 with doors, shingles and trim, $42.50. M. 960, Pota Dousquet. 6-24-1 m p.

EASTERN OREGON School of Music, violin, piano, voice. Credits. L. O. O. F. temple, 447-J. 6-5-1 m.

LA GRANDE MATTERS & Upholstering & Rug Cleaning Works. Phone 424-W. Chas. Ed. wargis, Prop. 12-1-1m

MONEY TO LOAN—We are representatives for the Prudential Insurance Co., and can make farm or city loans at attractive rates or interest. Chas. H. Reynolds, insurance, loans and bonds.

ROOFING WORK—Repair work or any kind of a new roof. Call Chas. Hildebrand, 210W. 3-6-1tp

MONEY TO LOAN on improved city property, straight loans or installment plan. Lowest rates. United States Investment Co. Phone Main 33. 5-16-1m

Hammurabi Code

The only fairly complete text of the Hammurabi code was found at Susa, inscribed on a diorite stele 8 feet high. It had been taken to Elam as plunder by invaders. Fragments of the code were recovered at Nippur and an Assyrian copy of the Seventh century at Nineveh.

Kalamazoo, Mich.—May E. Grattan wins $25,000 derby.

Professional Directory

This directory is especially handy for the newcomer or for the out-of-town reader who may want the name and address of some professional man. It has been carefully prepared and will prove to be a ready aid to any reader in obtaining prompt professional service.

CLASSIFIED FOR QUICK REFERENCE

Physicians & Surgeons

A. L. RICHARDSON, M. D.
Physician and Surgeon
Office over Glass Drugs
Office Phone, M-15 Res. M-55

LEE B. BOUVY, M. D.
LEWA WILKES, M. D.
Practice limited to diseases of the Eye, Ear, Nose and Throat.
New Foley Telephone Building Main 16

Astrologer

MRS. FREDERICK BALMES
301 N. AVE.
Readings Daily.
Readings by Mail a Specialty

U. S. L. Batteries
Your old battery and $6.50 puts a new one in your car.

Burgess Battery and Electric
2 blocks east of U. P. Depot.

Professional Directory

This directory is especially handy for the newcomer or for the out-of-town reader who may want the name and address of some professional man. It has been carefully prepared and will prove to be a ready aid to any reader in obtaining prompt professional service.

CLASSIFIED FOR QUICK REFERENCE

Physicians & Surgeons

A. L. RICHARDSON, M. D.
Physician and Surgeon
Office over Glass Drugs
Office Phone, M-15 Res. M-55

LEE B. BOUVY, M. D.
LEWA WILKES, M. D.
Practice limited to diseases of the Eye, Ear, Nose and Throat.
New Foley Telephone Building Main 16

Astrologer

MRS. FREDERICK BALMES
301 N. AVE.
Readings Daily.
Readings by Mail a Specialty

U. S. L. Batteries

Your old battery and $6.50 puts a new one in your car.

Burgess Battery and Electric

2 blocks east of U. P. Depot.

GARAGE GOSSIP

Announce Opening—J. L. Munhall, owner, and Curly Andregg, sales manager, announce the opening of the Munhall Motor company dealers in De Soto and Plymouth cars, at their new location in the Harris building, 215-217 Greenwood street. A carload of sixes will be unloaded in a few days, and the public is invited to visit the store and learn about the nation-wide prize contest. Jack Elliott, La Grande mechanic, conducts the complete garage service.

Austin Here—Considerable attention was attracted to a tiny red car, an American Austin, that was in La Grande yesterday to advertise a product. These small cars are made in the East. The Durant Motor company will handle the agency here. A shipment of cars is expected to arrive in about 10 days.

Buy Chrysler—Ira J. Irwin has purchased a Chrysler 70 sedan from the Chrysler garage.

Buy Studebaker—H. Wilcox is the owner of a new Studebaker Dictator eight bought from M. J. Goss.

Two Carloads—Two carloads of new Ford cars were received by the Perkins Motor company.

Here This Week—C. H. Gunther, manager of the membership department of the Oregon State Motor association and Mr. Knapp and Mr. Purson, members of the association called at the local A. A. A. office Wednesday.

Many Tourists—During the last three days more tourists have called at the A. A. A. office than at any time this season. Mrs. H. M. Bay, manager announced. Many Eastern people have stopped including at least two New York cars a day.

WASHINGTON DEVELOPING COLUMBIA ROAD

Remember when you were a small boy and one of the big thrills was rolling rocks down steep hills? But there were two outstanding difficulties in realizing your secret ambition—there weren't enough big rocks handy and besides you were scared of the farmer at the foot of the hill. Well, above Washington, where the state of Washington is rapidly eliminating a few hundred, more or less, curves from the North Bank Columbia River highway, a whole crew of men is being paid to roll rocks down a hill, the theory being that boulders once rolled down this steep slope will be safely out of the way when this beautiful highway becomes as popular with motorists as its sister road across the Columbia river, more popularly known here as the Columbia River highway.

A party of motorists in a Durant 6-14 sedan passed through here on a vacation trip and brought word to the La Grande Durant dealer about the construction of this new highway on the Washington side of the famed Columbia river, and paralleling the world-famous scenic roadway in the state of Oregon named after the celebrated stream.

"There is no doubt that this road will grow rapidly in public favor, for it is one of the most beautiful in the Northwest," declared a member of the party. "With the Washington highway crew rapidly widening and smoothing the right-of-way and pushing the paving up toward the rich Yakima valley and east into Pasco and Spokane, it is only a matter of time when this highway, winding along the Columbia, will be one of the great arterials of the west."

Lesson in Disappointment—"Disappointments," said H. Ho, the sage of Chinatown, "are the reminders that we are all mortals, who must keep striving to learn, even though we make miscalculations."—Washington Star.

Observing Girl—Little Sue was visiting in the country and saw some little pigs for the first time. What attracted her attention first was the twist in their tails. After gazing at them in wonder for a time, she asked: "Say, grandpa, does the piggie's mamma put their tails up in curl paper every night, or does they have a permanent?"

Trees From Japan—Trees with fan-shaped leaves that line some Washington streets are ginkgo trees, and are native of China and Japan. Only the staminate form is used in streets and parks, as the pistillate form bears ill-smelling, slippery fruit which is sometimes poisonous to the touch.

Flag of the "Lost Cause"—The first flag of the Confederate States of America, known as the Stars and Bars, was raised March 4, 1861, the seven stars representing South Carolina, Mississippi, Florida, Alabama, Georgia, Louisiana and Texas.

Ancient Indian Village—Oranib, an Indian village near Winslow, Ariz., claims to be the oldest, continuously inhabited community in the United States, having been in existence in 1370, more than a century before Columbus reached the New world.

Observing Girl—Little Sue was visiting in the country and saw some little pigs for the first time. What attracted her attention first was the twist in their tails. After gazing at them in wonder for a time, she asked: "Say, grandpa, does the piggie's mamma put their tails up in curl paper every night, or does they have a permanent?"

Trees From Japan—Trees with fan-shaped leaves that line some Washington streets are ginkgo trees, and are native of China and Japan. Only the staminate form is used in streets and parks, as the pistillate form bears ill-smelling, slippery fruit which is sometimes poisonous to the touch.

Flag of the "Lost Cause"—The first flag of the Confederate States of America, known as the Stars and Bars, was raised March 4, 1861, the seven stars representing South Carolina, Mississippi, Florida, Alabama, Georgia, Louisiana and Texas.

Ancient Indian Village—Oranib, an Indian village near Winslow, Ariz., claims to be the oldest, continuously inhabited community in the United States, having been in existence in 1370, more than a century before Columbus reached the New world.

Lesson in Disappointment—"Disappointments," said H. Ho, the sage of Chinatown, "are the reminders that we are all mortals, who must keep striving to learn, even though we make miscalculations."—Washington Star.

Observing Girl—Little Sue was visiting in the country and saw some little pigs for the first time. What attracted her attention first was the twist in their tails. After gazing at them in wonder for a time, she asked: "Say, grandpa, does the piggie's mamma put their tails up in curl paper every night, or does they have a permanent?"

Trees From Japan—Trees with fan-shaped leaves that line some Washington streets are ginkgo trees, and are native of China and Japan. Only the staminate form is used in streets and parks, as the pistillate form bears ill-smelling, slippery fruit which is sometimes poisonous to the touch.

Flag of the "Lost Cause"—The first flag of the Confederate States of America, known as the Stars and Bars, was raised March 4, 1861, the seven stars representing South Carolina, Mississippi, Florida, Alabama, Georgia, Louisiana and Texas.

Ancient Indian Village—Oranib, an Indian village near Winslow, Ariz., claims to be the oldest, continuously inhabited community in the United States, having been in existence in 1370, more than a century before Columbus reached the New world.

Lesson in Disappointment—"Disappointments," said H. Ho, the sage of Chinatown, "are the reminders that we are all mortals, who must keep striving to learn, even though we make miscalculations."—Washington Star.

Observing Girl—Little Sue was visiting in the country and saw some little pigs for the first time. What attracted her attention first was the twist in their tails. After gazing at them in wonder for a time, she asked: "Say, grandpa, does the piggie's mamma put their tails up in curl paper every night, or does they have a permanent?"

Trees From Japan—Trees with fan-shaped leaves that line some Washington streets are ginkgo trees, and are native of China and Japan. Only the staminate form is used in streets and parks, as the pistillate form bears ill-smelling, slippery fruit which is sometimes poisonous to the touch.

Flag of the "Lost Cause"—The first flag of the Confederate States of America, known as the Stars and Bars, was raised March 4, 1861, the seven stars representing South Carolina, Mississippi, Florida, Alabama, Georgia, Louisiana and Texas.

Ancient Indian Village—Oranib, an Indian village near Winslow, Ariz., claims to be the oldest, continuously inhabited community in the United States, having been in existence in 1370, more than a century before Columbus reached the New world.

Lesson in Disappointment—"Disappointments," said H. Ho, the sage of Chinatown, "are the reminders that we are all mortals, who must keep striving to learn, even though we make miscalculations."—Washington Star.

Observing Girl—Little Sue was visiting in the country and saw some little pigs for the first time. What attracted her attention first was the twist in their tails. After gazing at them in wonder for a time, she asked: "Say, grandpa, does the piggie's mamma put their tails up in curl paper every night, or does they have a permanent?"

Trees From Japan—Trees with fan-shaped leaves that line some Washington streets are ginkgo trees, and are native of China and Japan. Only the staminate form is used in streets and parks, as the pistillate form bears ill-smelling, slippery fruit which is sometimes poisonous to the touch.

Flag of the "Lost Cause"—The first flag of the Confederate States of America, known as the Stars and Bars, was raised March 4, 1861, the seven stars representing South Carolina, Mississippi, Florida, Alabama, Georgia, Louisiana and Texas.

Ancient Indian Village—Oranib, an Indian village near Winslow, Ariz., claims to be the oldest, continuously inhabited community in the United States, having been in existence in 1370, more than a century before Columbus reached the New world.

Lesson in Disappointment—"Disappointments," said H. Ho, the sage of Chinatown, "are the reminders that we are all mortals, who must keep striving to learn, even though we make miscalculations."—Washington Star.

Observing Girl—Little Sue was visiting in the country and saw some little pigs for the first time. What attracted her attention first was the twist in their tails. After gazing at them in wonder for a time, she asked: "Say, grandpa, does the piggie's mamma put their tails up in curl paper every night, or does they have a permanent?"

Trees From Japan—Trees with fan-shaped leaves that line some Washington streets are ginkgo trees, and are native of China and Japan. Only the staminate form is used in streets and parks, as the pistillate form bears ill-smelling, slippery fruit which is sometimes poisonous to the touch.

Flag of the "Lost Cause"—The first flag of the Confederate States of America, known as the Stars and Bars, was raised March 4, 1861, the seven stars representing South Carolina, Mississippi, Florida, Alabama, Georgia, Louisiana and Texas.

Ancient Indian Village—Oranib, an Indian village near Winslow, Ariz., claims to be the oldest, continuously inhabited community in the United States, having been in existence in 1370, more than a century before Columbus reached the New world.

Lesson in Disappointment—"Disappointments," said H. Ho, the sage of Chinatown, "are the reminders that we are all mortals, who must keep striving to learn, even though we make miscalculations."—Washington Star.

Observing Girl—Little Sue was visiting in the country and saw some little pigs for the first time. What attracted her attention first was the twist in their tails. After gazing at them in wonder for a time, she asked: "Say, grandpa, does the piggie's mamma put their tails up in curl paper every night, or does they have a permanent?"

Trees From Japan—Trees with fan-shaped leaves that line some Washington streets are ginkgo trees, and are native of China and Japan. Only the staminate form is used in streets and parks, as the pistillate form bears ill-smelling, slippery fruit which is sometimes poisonous to the touch.

Flag of the "Lost Cause"—The first flag of the Confederate States of America, known as the Stars and Bars, was raised March 4, 1861, the seven stars representing South Carolina, Mississippi, Florida, Alabama, Georgia, Louisiana and Texas.

Ancient Indian Village—Oranib, an Indian village near Winslow, Ariz., claims to be the oldest, continuously inhabited community in the United States, having been in existence in 1370, more than a century before Columbus reached the New world.

Lesson in Disappointment—"Disappointments," said H. Ho, the sage of Chinatown, "are the reminders that we are all mortals, who must keep striving to learn, even though we make miscalculations."—Washington Star.

Observing Girl—Little Sue was visiting in the country and saw some little pigs for the first time. What attracted her attention first was the twist in their tails. After gazing at them in wonder for a time, she asked: "Say, grandpa, does the piggie's mamma put their tails up in curl paper every night, or does they have a permanent?"

Trees From Japan—Trees with fan-shaped leaves that line some Washington streets are ginkgo trees, and are native of China and Japan. Only the staminate form is used in streets and parks, as the pistillate form bears ill-smelling, slippery fruit which is sometimes poisonous to the touch.

Flag of the "Lost Cause"—The first flag of the Confederate States of America, known as the Stars and Bars, was raised March 4, 1861, the seven stars representing South Carolina, Mississippi, Florida, Alabama, Georgia, Louisiana and Texas.

Ancient Indian Village—Oranib, an Indian village near Winslow, Ariz., claims to be the oldest, continuously inhabited community in the United States, having been in existence in 1370, more than a century before Columbus reached the New world.

Lesson in Disappointment—"Disappointments," said H. Ho, the sage of Chinatown, "are the reminders that we are all mortals, who must keep striving to learn, even though we make miscalculations."—Washington Star.

Observing Girl—Little Sue was visiting in the country and saw some little pigs for the first time. What attracted her attention first was the twist in their tails. After gazing at them in wonder for a time, she asked: "Say, grandpa, does the piggie's mamma put their tails up in curl paper every night, or does they have a permanent?"

Trees From Japan—Trees with fan-shaped leaves that line some Washington streets are ginkgo trees, and are native of China and Japan. Only the staminate form is used in streets and parks, as the pistillate form bears ill-smelling, slippery fruit which is sometimes poisonous to the touch.

Flag of the "Lost Cause"—The first flag of the Confederate States of America, known as the Stars and Bars, was raised March 4, 1861, the seven stars representing South Carolina, Mississippi, Florida, Alabama, Georgia, Louisiana and Texas.

Ancient Indian Village—Oranib, an Indian village near Winslow, Ariz., claims to be the oldest, continuously inhabited community in the United States, having been in existence in 1370, more than a century before Columbus reached the New world.

Lesson in Disappointment—"Disappointments," said H. Ho, the sage of Chinatown, "are the reminders that we are all mortals, who must keep striving to learn, even though we make miscalculations."—Washington Star.

Observing Girl—Little Sue was visiting in the country and saw some little pigs for the first time. What attracted her attention first was the twist in their tails. After gazing at them in wonder for a time, she asked: "Say, grandpa, does the piggie's mamma put their tails up in curl paper every night, or does they have a permanent?"

Trees From Japan—Trees with fan-shaped leaves that line some Washington streets are ginkgo trees, and are native of China and Japan. Only the staminate form is used in streets and parks, as the pistillate form bears ill-smelling, slippery fruit which is sometimes poisonous to the touch.

Flag of the "Lost Cause"—The first flag of the Confederate States of America, known as the Stars and Bars, was raised March 4, 1861, the seven stars representing South Carolina, Mississippi, Florida, Alabama, Georgia, Louisiana and Texas.

Ancient Indian Village—Oranib, an Indian village near Winslow, Ariz., claims to be the oldest, continuously inhabited community in the United States, having been in existence in 1370, more than a century before Columbus reached the New world.

Lesson in Disappointment—"Disappointments," said H. Ho, the sage of Chinatown, "are the reminders that we are all mortals, who must keep striving to learn, even though we make miscalculations."—Washington Star.

Observing Girl—Little Sue was visiting in the country and saw some little pigs for the first time. What attracted her attention first was the twist in their tails. After gazing at them in wonder for a time, she asked: "Say, grandpa, does the piggie's mamma put their tails up in curl paper every night, or does they have a permanent?"

Trees From Japan—Trees with fan-shaped leaves that line some Washington streets are ginkgo trees, and are native of China and Japan. Only the staminate form is used in streets and parks, as the pistillate form bears ill-smelling, slippery fruit which is sometimes poisonous to the touch.

Flag of the "Lost Cause"—The first flag of the Confederate States of America, known as the Stars and Bars, was raised March 4, 1861, the seven stars representing South Carolina, Mississippi, Florida, Alabama, Georgia, Louisiana and Texas.

Ancient Indian Village—Oranib, an Indian village near Winslow, Ariz., claims to be the oldest, continuously inhabited community in the United States, having been in existence in 1370, more than a century before Columbus reached the New world.

Lesson in Disappointment—"Disappointments," said H. Ho, the sage of Chinatown, "are the reminders that we are all mortals, who must keep striving to learn, even though we make miscalculations."—Washington Star.

Observing Girl—Little Sue was visiting in the country and saw some little pigs for the first time. What attracted her attention first was the twist in their tails. After gazing at them in wonder for a time, she asked: "Say, grandpa, does the piggie's mamma put their tails up in curl paper every night, or does they have a permanent?"

Trees From Japan—Trees with fan-shaped leaves that line some Washington streets are ginkgo trees, and are native of China and Japan. Only the staminate form is used in streets and parks, as the pistillate form bears ill-smelling, slippery fruit which is sometimes poisonous to the touch.

Flag of the "Lost Cause"—The first flag of the Confederate States of America, known as the Stars and Bars, was raised March 4, 1861, the seven stars representing South Carolina, Mississippi, Florida, Alabama, Georgia, Louisiana and Texas.

Ancient Indian Village—Oranib, an Indian village near Winslow, Ariz., claims to be the oldest, continuously inhabited community in the United States, having been in existence in 1370, more than a century before Columbus reached the New world.

Lesson in Disappointment—"Disappointments," said H. Ho, the sage of Chinatown, "are the reminders that we are all mortals, who must keep striving to learn, even though we make miscalculations."—Washington Star.

Observing Girl—Little Sue was visiting in the country and saw some little pigs for the first time. What attracted her attention first was the twist in their tails. After gazing at them in wonder for a time, she asked: "Say, grandpa, does the piggie's mamma put their tails up in curl paper every night, or does they have a permanent?"