NO UPSETS IN VOTING TESTS OVER NATION

for the senate contest and a dry for governor. The republican incumbents in these offices in Ohio are both drys and were without primary opposition.

Senator Robinson won by almost a three to one margin for the democratic senatorial nomination in Arkansas. Robinson championed national prohibition.

Bankhead, in Alabama, was maintaining almost a two to one advantage over Frederick I. Thompson, Mobile publisher.

In Ohio Robert J. Bulkley of Cleveland, who advocated repeal of the eighteenth amendment, had a lead of more than 40,000 votes over his closest competitor, W. W. Durbin, in the five cornered contest for the democratic senatorial nomination with almost all of the returns tabulated.

But the Ohio democrats chose George W. White, a dry, for the gubernatorial nomination over Stephen M. Young, an advocate of prohibition repeal. In 8735 of the 8956 precincts White had 128,021 and Young 75,433.

Wet Sentiment Indicated

Wet sentiment in the Ohio cities was indicated at Toledo where Representative W. W. Chalmers, a dry, who is serving his fourth term, was defeated for the republican nomination by Wilbur M. White, editor of the Toledo Times, who advocated repeal of the eighteenth amendment.

PENDLETON MAN HURT

SEATTLE, Wash., Aug. 13 (AP) — Clarence Jensen, 24, Pendleton, Ore., was in a hospital today with a badly fractured skull received in the collision of an automobile and a street car here last night. His name was on the danger list.

The car in which Jensen was riding was driven by T. J. Crozier, who blamed the collision on unpaved street car tracks. Crozier was badly injured and a third man, George A. Neilson, was less seriously hurt.

Wallowa Valley Smoky, Due To Northern Fires

By Leona Thornburg
(Observer Correspondent)

JOSEPH, Ore. (Special)—Although there are no serious forest fires in Northeastern Oregon the fires in Washington have kept the Wallowa valley almost filled with smoke. Some days the mountains are almost invisible through the smoke.

Joseph vicinity received a light thunder shower Monday evening but it was as hot and dry as ever the next day.

Guy Mitchell and the LeGore brothers are cutting their second crop of hay this week but most of the hay will not be ready to cut for a short time.

Miss Anita Edgmand, daughter of John Egmand, of Joseph creek, was bitten by a rattlesnake one day last week. Miss Edgmand had been swimming and was returning home when the snake struck her. She was rushed to Lewiston, Ida., at once and is now recovering nicely.

The water in Silver lake ditch was shut down Tuesday with the exception of a little stock water. The Wallowa lake storage water is practically all gone now. The farmers' ditch is dry and the farmers depending on that ditch are without stock water.

Shorty Lee, Marion Isom and Mr. Huffman, all of Joseph, left Tuesday morning on a fishing trip to the High lakes.

Elzie Thornburg is laying the foundation for a new hog house on his farm.

Mrs. L. E. Thornburg, of Prairie creek, had some dental work done while at Enterprise Tuesday.

Mrs. S. R. Barnes and daughter, of Portland, are spending their vacation at Wallowa lake. Mrs. Barnes, who was a resident of Enterprise until about a year ago, is a sister of Mrs. Stewart of the telephone company at Enterprise.

Amy Edmand has returned from Willamette valley, where he has been teaching school, to his old home in Wallowa county. He will teach at Zumualt the coming year.

Mr. and Mrs. Moore, of Ontario, are camping in the Dawson cabin at Wallowa lake at present.

The Rev. and Mrs. Pollock, of Vale, departed for their home last Thursday. Their son, Dean, and family also left for their home in Chicago. Dean Pollock is an artist and sketched and painted several pictures of the beautiful scenery around Wallowa lake while here.

The elk at the head of the lake which are becoming quite tame seem to be always a source of interest to the tourists and campers up there.

Sunday, Aug. 3, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Thornburg and son, Ian, of Kamela, and Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Thornburg and daughter, Leona, and son, Luther, of Joseph, met on South Fork a few miles above Lostine for a picnic dinner. Later in the day Mr. and Mrs. Bud Lane and daughter, Helen Mae, also of Kamela, joined them. Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Thornburg and son returned home Sunday evening while the others continued on up South Fork almost at the end of the road, where they camped at No Man's camp until Friday. Monday evening, Mrs. C. E. Thornburg's father, Mr. Gordon, a sister, Mabel Gordon, and a nephew, Gordon Haskett, drove up from Snake river and joined them. Wednesday the entire group enjoyed a hike and fishing trip to Minam lake, a distance of about six miles from their camp. The men stayed over night and came down the next morning with a nice lot of trout. Mabel Gordon returned home Thursday and the Lane family returned to their home Friday morning, while the C. E. Thornburg family, accompanied by Mr. Gordon and grandson, motored to Joseph Friday afternoon, taking Miss Leona Thornburg home. They returned home Monday evening, after spending the weekend with the L. E. Thornburg family.

Harry Gibson, L. E. Thornburg and son, Luther, of Joseph, Mr. Gordon and grandson, Gordon, of Snake river, and Engineer C. E. Thornburg, of Kamela, left Saturday on a fishing trip to the Imnaha by way of Lick creek. They returned home Sunday evening with a few trout and several nice salmon.

Mrs. C. E. Thornburg and son, Ian, Mrs. L. E. Thornburg and daughter, Leona, motored to Maxville Sunday, spending the day with Mr. and Mrs. Mason Raymond and daughter, Doris. Mr. Raymond is an engineer at Maxville.

Among the large number of Joseph people who made trips to the mountain lakes last week were a group of boys, including Don Dawson, Dan Kinney, Scott Valentine, Raymond Lozier, Clifford Lozier and Guy Davis and a party of girls, Miss Tresa Winston, Louise Kennedy, Pauline Houck and Helen Kennedy. Another group consisted of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Wagner, Miss Alice Amey, Miss Helen Scott and Leslie Gray, a brother of Mrs. Wagner.

Raymond and Douglas Cristy and Jesse, Robert and Harold White spent the past week in Lake basin.

Applications For Water Rights For $29,650,000 Development Are Filed

SALEM, Ore., Auug. 13 (AP)—Power development of the North Umpqua river and tributary streams at seven points above Roseburg, all in Douglas county, at a total estimated cost of $29,650,000 is proposed by the California-Oregon Power company in applications for water rights filed today with the state engineering department. Creation of a total of 188,661 horsepower is planned by the development.

Five of the developments are to be on the North Umpqua and two on Clearwater river, a tributary stream. Other tributary streams alro are to be used.

Receives Preliminary Permit

State Engineer Luper said that the company has already received its preliminary permit from the federal power commission for right of way on federal land. The company is required to apply to the federal commission by August 15 for license to use the right of way. Luper said that under the law the state department will be required to grant the power rights unless it is found that the development interferes with some public welfare project. It is not probable that such interference will be shown.

Time of beginning and completing any of the projects are not stated in the applications, this not to be determined until all details with the government are completed.

The contemplated development in Douglas county is the second large proposed extension of the California-Oregon Power company's operations in Oregon in recent weeks. Applications covering five developments on the Klamath river in Klamath county at a total estimated cost of over $27,000,000 were filed with the state department about two weeks ago.

The Seven Projects

The seven Douglas county projects covered in the applications today are:

Rock Creek project—Application to appropriate 800 second feet of water from the North Umpqua; tunnel and penstocks to be about 4800 feet long; concrete arch dam to be 215 feet high and 1350 feet long; fall 221.5 feet; horsepower 20,136; estimated cost $8,700,000.

Clearwater project, No. 1—Application to appropriate 150 second feet from Clearwater river and Watson, Rough and Fish creeks; canal and pipe line 34,000 feet; dam 20 feet high and 350 feet long or rock fill with concrete slab; water to be returned to Clearwater river just above junction of that stream with the North Umpqua; fall 555 feet; horsepower 10,091; estimated cost $1,400,000.

Clearwater project No. 2—Application to appropriate 235 second feet from Clearwater river and Watson creek through Clearwater project No. 1 to Rough creek, also from Rough and Fish creegs; pipe lines and canals 33,500 feet long; concrete arch dam 55 feet high and 230 feet long; fall 875 feet; horsepower 23,366; estimated cost $2,100,000.

Lemolo project No. 1—Application to appropriate 400 second feet from the North Umpqua; tunnels, pipe lines and canals 38,600 feet long; rock fill and concrete slab dam 60 feet high and 430 feet long; fall 775 feet; horsepower 35,227; estimated cost $3,500,000.

Lemolo project No. 2—Application to appropriate 400 second feet from North Umpqua; aunnels, pipe lines and canals 19,200 feet long; simple masonry dam; fall 750 feet; horsepower 34,091; estimated cost $2,100,000.

Lemolo projects Nos. 1 and 2 provide for a diversion dam on the North Umpqua about one mile downstream from the mouth of Lake creek. The water will be diverted away from the rives canyon and returned to a point opposite Umpqua warm springs about 15 miles below the diversion dam. The power house for Lemolo No. 1 will be on or near Loafer creek, and the power house for Lemolo No. 2 on the North Umpqua almost directly opposite Umpqua warm springs.

Toketee project—Application to appropriate 600 second feet from North Umpqua; tunnel and penstock 27,600 feet long; concrete spillway dam with rock fill ends 35 feet high and 500 feet long; fall 715 feet; horsepower 48,750; estimated cost $6,500,000.

Boundary project—Application to appropriate 800 second feet from North Umpqua; tunnel and penstock 2800 feet long, concrete arch dam 220 feet high and 490 feet long; fall 187 feet; horsepower 17,000, estimated cost $5,350,000.

THE ODD JOBS MAN — By Oscar Hitt

Wilbur Rowe, of Milwaukie, a former resident of Joseph, and Miss Una Hyatt, of Oregon City, were married at Oregon City last Wednesday. Mr. Rowe, a graduate of the Monmouth Normal school, has been teaching at Milwaukie and will continue teaching there for a year or so. He graduated from the grammer and high school in Joseph and is well known here. The couple will spend the summer at the beach, where they own a cabin.

Mr. and Mrs. P. F. Hampson, of Bend, who have been visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. M. McKinley, departed for their home Sunday accompanied by their daughter, Ruth, who has been visiting there for the past month.

Miss Beverly Scott and Miss Winifred Beith returned home last week from Portland, where they have been taking a six weeks summer course. Both young women are teachers in the grade school at Joseph.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Zimmerman, of Seattle, Wash., returned home Sunday. While here they were guests of Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Lambert. Mrs. Lambert and Mrs. Zimmerman are sisters.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Carpenter, of Oregon City, are spending their vacation in Joseph visiting relatives just now. Mr. Carpenter is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Carpenter, while Mrs. Carpenter is the daughter of Mrs. Gertrude Kennedy. Mr. Carpenter is employed in a bank at Oregon City.

Mrs. Jane Colson, of Portland, was a guest at the George Cole home last Thursday. Mrs. Colson is an old school mate of Mr. Cole and was a Joseph resident at that time. This is Mrs. Colson's first visit here since she moved away 48 years ago.

A team ran away with Bill McClintic on the J. B. Foster ranch near Joseph last Wednesday causing him an injured back and several bad bruises. One of the horses lost his bridle and the frightened team dragged the man some distance before he could get loose. Mr. McClintic is able to be up now and will go back to work in a few days.

Charlie Gibson arrived in Joseph last week to visit old friends. Mr. Gibson was employed in this vicinity five or six years ago.

Mrs. C. R. Patten and daughter, Eva, left Monday for The Dalles, where they will visit a short time before going on to other points they intend to visit before returning home. Miss Patten is employed at the county clerk's office at Enterprise.

Dave Tucker is having a well dug on his farm on Prairie creek. Tom Leffer, a resident of Joseph until about ten years ago, is doing the work.

Delbert Mitchell, a former resident, is back in Joseph on business.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Dick and family, of The Dalles, are camped at the head of the lake. Mr. Dick, an attorney at The Dalles, is a friend of Ed Eben, of Joseph, and is also visiting him while here.

Mrs. E. F. Peal, who has been visiting her sons, Dudley and Ben, of Joseph, has returned to her home in Milton. Mr. and Mrs. Dudley Peal took her home in their car.

Mr. and Mrs. Grandquist, of Molalla, are visiting Mrs. Grandquist's sister, Mrs. Frank Roup, of Prairie creek.

Ralph Kay was overhauling a tractor for Mr. Wardel on Lower Prairie creek last week. During Mr. Kay's absence from the woolgrowers' warehouse where he is employed, Clinton Trowbridge, an employe of the same company but from Enterprise, took his place.

Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Gaulke are entertaining Dr. and Mrs. H. J. Reisland, of Missoula, Mont., at their cabin at the head of the lake.

Ed Eben, of Joseph, and G. H. Thomas, of Enterprise, returned Sunday from Portland where they had been on business.

Fred Rich, an employe of the Joseph MacMarr store, will be employed at Union this week at the Macmarr store there while the manager takes his vacation.

Among those attending the trial of F. D. McCully vs. F. H. Gaulke and directors of the First Bank of Joseph, insolvent, at Enterprise last week and also visiting at Joseph were Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Laws and family, of Salem; Mrs. Al Jones and Mr. and Mrs. Rex Davis, of Salem; and Delbert Mitchell. Mrs. Al Jones is a niece of Mrs. McCully.

Ben Meek and niece, Miss Geneva Roup, of Prairie creek, were at Joseph on business Monday. Bill Scott and sons, accompanied by Mrs. Gullis Turnbow, left this week for Caldwell, Ida., where they intend making their future homes.

Lyle Foster and Mrs. Dave Burrows took their mother, Mrs. S. A. Foster, as far as La Grande last week where she boarded a train for Parma, Ida. Mrs. Foster has been visiting friends and relatives at Joseph for some time.

Mrs. W. G. Beith and daughter, Marjorie, Mrs. Robert Reams and son, Wayne, and Mrs. Kenneth Blevans left Sunday on a camping trip to the South Fork. Miss Beith, who is employed at the Joseph State bank, is taking a two weeks vacation.

The Ladies Aid society held a silver tea at the home of Mrs. George Dawson last Friday afternoon. Mrs. C. P. Crawford, Mrs. E. E. Metzger, Mrs. Jessie Amey and Mrs. R. F. Hudson were hostesses for the affair which was public.

CLOSE STRONG IN EXCHANGE; ISSUES HIGHER

NEW YORK, Aug. 13 (AP)—The bear camp, usually populated by a select group of professional operators, began to resemble a public picnicking ground in today's stock market, and several of the original bears started to withdraw in annoyance, influencing a midday rally in share prices, after a further decline during the morning.

The rally was considerably extended in the afternoon dealings as shorts covering became more insistent. Stocks like American Can, Johns Manville, Vanadium, Auburn Auto, Corn Products, Gillette, North American, Houston Oil and Warner Bros. Pictures sold 3 to more than 4 points above the Tuesday close.

There were gains of a couple of points in U. S. Steel, American Telephone, General Electric, American & Foreign Power, Eastman Kodak, Sears Roebuck and Public Service of New Jersey. J. I. Case, which with several others had touched a new low ground in the morning decline, showed a net advance of more than 12 points. The close was strong. Sales approximated 2,400,000 shares.

JACKSON AND O'BRINE SET NEW RECORD

as it continued to drone steadily around the airport.

Fearing that a storm might break, the refueling crew, P. V. Chaffee and William Brewster, went up at 9 a. m. with an additional supply of 70 gallons of gasoline and five of oil, ordered earlier by the fliers. About an hour and a half before that they had taken up 65 gallons of gasoline. The additional supply was sufficient to permit the endurance fliers to ride out a storm.

Both Chaffee and Brewster said the steady beat of the Greater St. Louis' motor indicated it was in excellent condition.

A downpour of rain deluged the field and soaked the scant crowd of 2,000 persons who had assembled when the record was broken.

As a burst of sirens, aerial bombs, automobile horns and cheers went up, Jackson and O'Brine dropped down low over the field and discharged a green flare. Then they came down to within a few hundred feet of the crowd and waved.

A crowd of about 50 airplane factory workers paraded across the field carrying a banner which read "Again Red and Obie." Factory whistles in industrial St. Louis also heralded the return of the flight record to St. Louis with a chorus of shrieks.

The fliers' monoplane, the Greater St. Louis, a sister ship of the St. Louis Robin in which they set their record last year, appeared to the observers and the ground crew to be functioning perfect.

The wives of the fliers were among those who stood in the rain to watch the record broken. They were showered with congratulations.

The din of noise continued about 20 minutes.

Flight Started Month Ago

The greater St. Louis is equipped with a challenger motor of the Curtiss-Robertson Airplane Manufacturing company, the same type of motor used last year. It is 170 horsepower. The plane's gasoline capacity is less than that of the St. Louis Robin, but it is so built as to give the fliers more room. The large fuselage tank holds 107 gallons and the two wing tanks 25 gallons each.

At the start of the flight, July 21, the plane used eight gallons of gasoline an hour, but it now is using about ten gallons an hour with about ten gallons of oil a day.

Today the endurance ship had made a total of 125 contacts with the refueler, had used about 5,055 gallons of gasoline and 250 gallons of oil. It had traveled approximately 33,000 miles and the propeller had made over 44,000,000 revolutions.

GAME COMMISSION MEMBERS OPENING COUNTER ATTACK

the decision had been born of an unanimous vote.

"'I don't care what you told the newspapers'," Poole said he told Evans. "'I am going to tell the true story'."

Poole said Evans opposed Clifford, but only up until a few days ago. He said he quarreled with Evans.

Poole declared the "fight has just begun to tell the public the truth about the Clifford deal."

EVANS REPLIES

EUGENE, Aug. 13 (AP)—David B. Evans, Lane county member of the state game commission today branded as false charges Harry W. Poole, commission member, hurled in his counter attack with the intention of restoring Harold W. Clifford, ousted game warden, to his former official capacity.

Evans said the vote of the executive meeting would stand. He said papers were not prepared before the session but were dictated before the commission at the chairman's request. Poole charged the ouster of Clifford was a "cut and dried affair."
