Top Grade Eggs Unusually Firm In Price Today

PORTLAND, Ore., Aug. 19 (AP)—Top grade eggs were unusually firm in price today. Supplies of these were apparently below the demand. Complaint has been made that some eggs are showing effects of warm weather. Trading in butter was quiet with supplies plentiful. No change in price was announced.

Reviewing the fruit and vegetable situation, the Portland bureau of the U. S. department of agriculture says: "Trading was fairly good on the wholesale fruit and vegetable market Monday morning, with very few over-supplies, and prices generally steady or slightly stronger."

Track-holdings of cantaloupes were all cleaned up Saturday, and trading was brisk, at unchanged prices on today's arrivals. Potatoes advanced 20-25c per cwt. on all grades and varieties. Good green corn met with excellent demand at slightly higher prices. Corn of only ordinary quality showed no advance however.

Although there is a liberal supply of peaches en route from California, Portland's team-track supplies are light, today, and prices for Hales and Elbertas are steady to firm.

The outside celery market is very dull, and Oregon shippers are distributing their loadings over a very wide area, in preventing further declines. Destinations range from Montana to Texas and Georgia.

Closing Tone In Wall Street Easy

NEW YORK, Aug. 19 (AP)—The bull side of the stock market proved but slightly more profitable today than the bear side has recently, as a few large operators, disgusted with the lack of action proximately by the bears, changed their mind about delaying the next bull campaign until after Labor day and opened fire. Although a substantial advance, running from 2 to 9 points was recorded during the early hours, it was mostly lost in the last hour, and few important stocks showed net gains of more than a point.

Bears sold motors in the final dealings, Auburn selling off 7, and closed off 5 1/2. The closing tone was easy. Total sales aggregated 1,858,900 shares.

Brown and Freed Write Songs For New Film

Nacio Herb Brown and Arthur Freed, with the songs for "Lord Byron of Broadway" now added to their list are more than justifying their reputation for both quantity and quality of photoplay song production.

For "Lord Byron of Broadway," which will open Wednesday at the State theater, the composed and lyricist wrote "Should I?" "A Woman of Old Love Letters," "The Bumble in the Shoe" and "Only Love is Real." "The Woman in the Shoe" is a spectacular chorus number with scores of dancers and singers specially trained by Sammy Lee, formerly with Florenz Ziegfeld. The color review is a novelty number of the character of "The Wedding of the Painted Doll" and "Sings in the Rain." It is being pointed as a hit number of the comedy with music directed by William Nigh and Harry Beaumont.

Brown and Freed have written songs, in rapid succession, for "The Hollywood Revue of 1929," "The Pagani," "Untamed," "The Broadway Melody" and "Marianne."

"Lord Byron of Broadway" features Charles Kaley in the title role, with Ethelred Terry, Marion Shilling, Cliff Edwards, Owen Lee and others.

Tacoma Switchman Believed Murdered

TACOMA, Wash., Aug. 19 (AP)—Police were practically certain early this morning that Arthur G. Gagnon, 32, a Southern Pacific switchman, found dead last night on a downtown street here, had been murdered. Dr. Edward E. Perry, Pierce county coroner, found a 38 caliber bullet in Gagnon's chest after examination made at a morgue. He declared Gagnon had been stooping when the shot was fired, the bullet entering the back about a foot below the shoulder and penetrating a lung. The third rib was fractured, Gagnon's address is unknown.

Gus Cullas, a bootblack, was being questioned by the police as a possible suspect early this morning.

Health Talks

FINGER BOWLS FIRST
Though it is contrary to the book of etiquette, finger bowls might really be served at the beginning rather than at the end of a meal.

The present practice serves an esthetic end, the recommended one would serve as a measure of better personal hygiene.

But there is nothing very novel in this suggestion. In fact, it is an old idea. The Mosaic law which includes so many good rules for the protection of health, forbids an orthodox believer to touch food before his hands have been washed.

Keen observation had no doubt impressed the author of those sanitary laws that unclean hands are a source of, and a means of, transmitting disease.

Indeed the observations need not to have been so very keen to appreciate the point, for in the course of an hour the hands come in contact with a vast multitude of things which in themselves had previously been touched by scores of not hundreds of others, and each contact represents a possible source of danger.

Now the matter is simple and yet! A large number of our schools have lunch-rooms for their pupils, or cafeteria services, where those that cannot or will not go home for their midday meal may eat.

How many among these schools provide washing facilities? How many shops, factories, or offices have a place where the workers might wash their hands before eating, without having to stand in line for half the lunch period? And also how many parents insist upon having their children come to the dinner-table with hands freshly washed?

Consider the care we bestow upon our foods, how we protect our milk, our meat, and our water from contamination and pollution, and then consider how all of the precautions bestowed upon our food substances turn to naught by the soiled hands that transport the victuals from table to mouth.

Company Thrown Into Bankruptcy

PORTLAND, Aug. 19 (AP)—Four creditors of the Northwestern Pulp and Paper company, organized about three years ago to construct a mill at Astoria, Ore., filed involuntary bankruptcy petitions against the company yesterday while the Multnomah county grand jury opened its investigation into the company's affairs.

About $300,000 in stock is said to have been sold by the company largely to Oregon residents. Most of the money is said to have gone toward promotion.

The petitioning creditors are the Finnish Lutheran book concern, Astoria, which alleges the pulp company owes it $53,25 for printing; C. Clifford Barlow, Warrenton, $28,25; J. T. Allen Agency, Astoria, $17,28, and Hazel Thompson, Portland, who claims $730.20 are due her for labor. Governor Nobilad, sometime ago directed the attorney general to investigate the affairs of the company.

Pole Star Long Known
Polaris was known to the ancients, and was spoken of as the "Star at the End of the Tail of the Little Bear." The constellation of Ursa Minor, which includes the Pole star, was mentioned by Thales in the seventh century, B. C. The Greeks referred to it as the Cynosura and the Phoenicians as Phoenicea. Observations of this constellation were used in navigation.

EAST SIDE MARKET

PORTLAND, Ore., Aug. 19 (AP)—Corn demand far exceeded supplies on the east side farmers' market today. Prices responded to this condition with sales advanced at $1.00 to $1.25 sack.

There was also a scramble for quality tomatoes at 80-90c a box. Cantaloupes top showed a like condition. Offerings from The Dalles were far below requirements. Sales at $1.75 to $2.00 a crate with jumbo $2.25.

Berries were scarce with raspberries advanced to $2.75, while blackberries continued $1.25 to $1.35. Celery was easy at the late price reduction.

Apples were in big supply in strong contrast to the shortage of Monday, price unchanged.

Beans were weak with a general top of 4c. Peas firm at 6c for best. Crawford peaches moved up to 60c for best; some small stuff 55c.

Cucumbers sold 55c for 1s and 40c for 2s. Slicers 35c box. Barley peas were slow at $1.00 jumble box.

Danish squash was $1.10 flat crate with scallop 65c and Hubbard 4c lb. Potatoes were in liberal supply and fair demand. Best $1.00 orange box.
