her lap. Mrs. Watkins followed suit and it was not long before the women held their new babies.

"This one weighs more than the other one. I'll have to learn all over again how to hold him," joked Mrs. Bamberger, but she looked over at the little boy she had fondled for six weeks and there were tears in her eyes.

MILITARY COURT FREES AMERICAN

he had lived in the United States since 1872 and had not left that country until he sailed July 3 to visit his old home for the first time in a half century.

A court martial in 1919 had convicted the alleged spy who had received a death sentence by default.

The trial of Charles Hartmann and Henri Guilbeaux charged with espionage in having communicated intelligence to the enemy during the war, began Feb. 21, 1919. Both were convicted and sentenced to the death penalty.

Hartmann, so ran the evidence, was born in Alsace, posed as a Frenchman, went to New York in 1873 and there worked as ship painter. When he returned to France, the prosecution developed, he was reputed to have accumulated wealth. Testimony indicated he was in Switzerland in 1916 and he was also accused of having had relations with the enemy. No thought of the role played by an impersonator of Hartmann at that time entered into the consideration of the court.

The court expressed the sincere regret of France at the error.

Fingernails Green, Black Or What Have You?

WASHINGTON, Aug. 20 (AP)—Green or black fingernails and rose eyeshadows are in store this fall for the nation's billion-spending beauty seekers if cosmetology's calculations find popular favor.

Manicures to match women's costumes were named today by H. L. Franklin, managing director of the organized beauticians of the country as the latest wrinkle in the beauty game, designed to keep American women spending at a record-breaking clip.

Preparing for a national convention here of what claims to be the nation's fourth largest industry—making women pretty—Franklin was arranging demonstrations of color-scheme fingernails and "beauty-enhancing" eye shadows.

The "smart-to-the-finger-tips" style has already started, he said and due for a decided fall flair. Next enamel of every hue selected for the coming season by the stylists will be available, explained the spokesman for beauty as a big business.

If hats, gloves, shoes and bags are black, said Franklin the fingernails also will be black and the color of their gloss can be changed with each costume.

Beauty as a big business, he said, is exactly as old as the bob — ten years. Its rapid rise in the post-war decade to a present level of $1,900,000,000 expenditure per annum he attributed to the development of the permanent wave machine.

WAITING FOR VERDICT

NEW YORK, Aug 20 (AP)—Six policemen were waiting the result of tests by ballistics experts to learn which one of them gets the credit for killing a bandit.

William E. Drake, who while off duty, started a chase for the man when he recognized him as an ex-convict, has been promoted. The other policemen all fired at the car in which the man was fleeing, one of the bullets killing him.

The policemen were taken to the headquarters pistol range where they fired their revolvers into wads of cotton. The bullets were then taken for comparison with the one found in the body.

MEET AT KLAMATH FALLS

KLAMATH FALLS, Aug. 20 (AP) — Francis I. Jones, director general of the United States employment service, Washington, D. C., and C. H. Gram, commissioner of labor, Oregon, met here last night with a group of former service men and discussed the possibility of establishing a veterans employment service here. Jones left today for Medford via Crater Lake.

BYRD TO EAT OREGON FISH

MEDFORD, Aug. 20 (AP)—Roy Parr, game warden said today fish from Southern Oregon streams would be sent to Los Angeles for Rear Admiral Byrd next week. The fish will be served at a banquet in his honor.

Governor Asks Public Hearing On Applications

SALEM, Ore., Aug. 20 (AP)—Governor Norblad Tuesday sent a letter to State Engineer Luper insisting that public hearings be held before action is taken on applications of power companies for water rights on Klamath and other Oregon streams. It is presumed that the governor has reference mainly to the applications of the California-Oregon Power company for rights on Klamath and North Umpqua rivers.

Contemplated developments of that company at five places on the Klamath are estimated to cost a total of over $27,000,000 and at seven places on the North Umpqua over $29,000,000.

"My attention has been called to the fact that the question of the lease of some valuable power rights on the Klamath and other rivers of Oregon is now before you for disposal," the governor writes.

"As governor of the state of Oregon I am convinced that a public hearing should be held on such matters before these valuable natural resources are disposed of and the water and power rights alienated from our state.

"I know that the law, as now constituted, does not require that such hearings be held. However, I believe that the public should know about such matters before these rights are disposed of. These power and water rights naturally belong to the people of the state of Oregon, and in view of that I insist that a hearing be held on all pending applications before they are allowed."

Engineer Luper says that under the law he is without authority to deny the applications unless it can be shown that they interfere with the public welfare.

A. B. A. To Continue Liquor Referendum

CHICAGO, Aug. 20 (AP)—The American Bar association today voted to continue its membership prohibition referendum. The action was taken at the first plenary session of the organization's convention, after opponents of the prohibition pool had taken to the floor their fight to have it abandoned.

The vote was approximately ten to one with 2,000 members voting.

The referendum consisted of two questions, and went to the 30,000 members through the mails. they were:

"Do you favor a referendum on the repeal of the eighteenth amendment?

"Should the American Bar association go on record as favoring the repeal of the eighteenth amendment?"

tributing system and gas plant. Pipe for the distribution system is already en route to this city, where the construction depot will be located. Other supplies and necessary equipment have been ordered and are en route from the east.

Assembling Supervisors

Supervisory forces of the construction crews are being assembled in San Francisco, and as soon as materials arrive, men will be put to work assembling and laying pipe.

T. E. Bartlett, commercial manager of the company, was also in La Grande with Mr. Aitcheson, looking over the territory and he announces that a crew of men will immediately start a house-to-house survey of the city.

E. M. Lindsey, chief construction engineer in charge of the Oregon corporation, was here yesterday checking over the proposed plans and laying out initial construction plans.

Miniature Golf Course Opened Tuesday Night

The new Putt-Putt miniature golf course, located on Third street back of the La Grande hotel, is the third of the courses to be built in La Grande. It was opened last night.

Several of the holes are longer than usual, and are listed as par 3s, and there is one par 4 hole. However, it is possible to shoot birdies on most of these, or even an eagle if one is fortunate.

The course is very attractive, with natural rock used to build up the hills, in contrast to the green of the "fairways." Several of the holes present real problems to the golfer, and for the ball that strays from the "straight and narrow" there are hazards, including small water holes.
