

New Patterns and Colorings in
PETER PAN PRINTS
29c. yd.
HILL'S

CHICAGO TRIMS GIANTS 3 TO 2

Young Danny Taylor Comes in With Winning Run in Ninth Inning.

By Hugh S. Fullerton Jr. (Associated Press Sports Writer)
By his brilliant work as substitute for "Old Hoss" Riggs Stephenson, young Danny Taylor has just about won himself a regular place in the Chicago Cubs outfield. Taylor, who finished the Cubs' triumph over Brooklyn a week ago by driving in the winning run in the final game, did the same thing to the New York Giants yesterday in a more sensational fashion and put Chicago five full games ahead in the National League pennant struggle with a 3 to 2 triumph.

Taylor stole home in the ninth inning when the score was tied, the bases full, two men out and two strikes on the batter.

The Cubs' triumph with a bit of rain in Brooklyn which gave the badly-worn Robins a day of rest, added a few more complications to the National League struggle for all the leaders except the Cubs. The Giants dropped a half game, remaining only 1 1/2 games ahead of Brooklyn while the fourth place St. Louis Cardinals placed themselves only one game behind the Robins by winning a double header from the Phillies, 6 to 3 and 6 to 4.

"Hitters" Who? Highlight
In the clash between two of the league's promising pitching streaks at Cincinnati, the Pittsburgh Pirates extended their series for triumph to seven games by defeating the Reds in the first game, 9 to 0, as Ray Kremer's pitching stopped Cincinnati. Ray Koip had the better of a duel with Steve Swetonic by a 3 to 0 count, each making five.

Opening their new series against the eastern club of the American League, Washington trounced Philadelphia, 7 to 3, and returned the leader's mantle to the Yankees.

The New York Yankees fell further back in third place as they divided a hard-fought double header with the Cleveland Indians. The Yanks won the first game, 3 to 2, in seven innings. Wes Ferrell hurled his 22nd victory for the Indians and his eleventh in succession in the second game. Allowing the Yanks only five hits for a 4 to 2 triumph.

The St. Louis Browns checked Earl Whitehill's series of pitching successes at eleven when they pounded him for 13 hits in eight innings and defeated Detroit, 7 to 5.

Chicago White Sox split a pair of pitchers' battles with the Boston Red Sox. Boston won the first game, 2 to 0 on Milton Gaston's three hit hurling but Chicago gained a 4 to 4 victory in the eleventh inning second clash as Pat Caraway outpitched Eddie Durham.

Ducks Get Even Break In Series With the Angels

By the Associated Press
The Hollywood Stars today found themselves right where they started at the beginning of last week's Pacific Coast League series—three games ahead of Los Angeles, their nearest competitors for the lead.

Hollywood won the series from Oakland, four to three, and with the Angels playing only six games, the Stars were able to come back for their three game lead after dropping to only one frame ahead during the week. The Oaks split the double header yesterday at Oakland, losing the first, 7 to 5 and coming back to win the afternoon round, 2 to 1, in seven innings.

Ducks Win
The Portland Ducks took Los Angeles for a 9 to 6 trouncing, and the Angels were coming back strong in the second game, leading 10 to 2 when it was called in the third to allow the Ducks to catch their train to Portland. Consequently, it was no contest, and the series was divided, three to three.

The San Francisco Seals also ended the week with a six game series, the odd game having been called yesterday morning in the seventh. Playing Seattle, the Seals won the series, four to two, and defeated Seattle 10 to 9 in a ten inning afternoon game. The morning game score was 6 to 6.

Sacramento pulled into fourth place with a five to two win for the week over the San Francisco Mission. The two teams split a double-header yesterday, the Solons winning 8 to 7 in the morning at Stockton, and the Reds, 7 to 1 in the afternoon at Sacramento.

At Los Angeles:
First game: R. H. E.
Portland 9 16 0
Los Angeles 5 9 1
(Ten innings.)
Kestling, Ortmann and Palm; Peters, Barlow, Ballou and Warren, Skiff.

Portland-Los Angeles, second game called on account of third inning to allow teams to catch a train.
At Stockton:
Morning game: R. H. E.
Mission 7 14 0
Sacramento 6 14 1
Knott, Darrough and Hoffman; Chesterfield, Hamilton, Thomas and Koehler.

At Sacramento:
Afternoon game: R. H. E.
Mission 7 16 0
Sacramento 1 7 0
Pillette and Brunel; Flynn and Wirtz.

At Oakland:
First game: R. H. E.
Hollywood 7 9 1
Oakland 5 9 2
Turner and Basler; Henderson, Merburn, McQuaid and Lombardson.

Second game: R. H. E.
Hollywood 1 3 0
Oakland 2 4 0
Hines, Wetzel and Severid; Hurst and Reed.

At San Francisco:
First game: R. H. E.
Mission 6 16 0
San Francisco 6 14 1
(Called end of 12th. Time limit.)
Second game: R. H. E.
Seattle 9 16 1
San Francisco 10 15 3
Hamer, Zahiner and Cox; Barragan, Davis, Blevins, McDougal and Penney.

Pee-Wee Golfer Is Hit by Club

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 25 (AP)—It was three o'clock in the morning, and instead of dancing the whole night through, a crowd of the boys and girls were playing pee-wee golf. Miss Uredia A. Thomas approached the fifth tee of a popular San Francisco course, and at the same moment Joseph La Salle fed off. Result—this girl's first L. or pee-wee golf tragedy, in instead of smacking the ball, La Salle's club smacked Miss Thomas in the mouth.

With the screaming of sirens and excited exclamations of the early morning golfers, Miss Thomas was taken to the emergency hospital.

Never Shakes Varnish
Never shake varnish, enamel or lacquer in the can. This causes bubbles, which are difficult to brush out.

League Standings

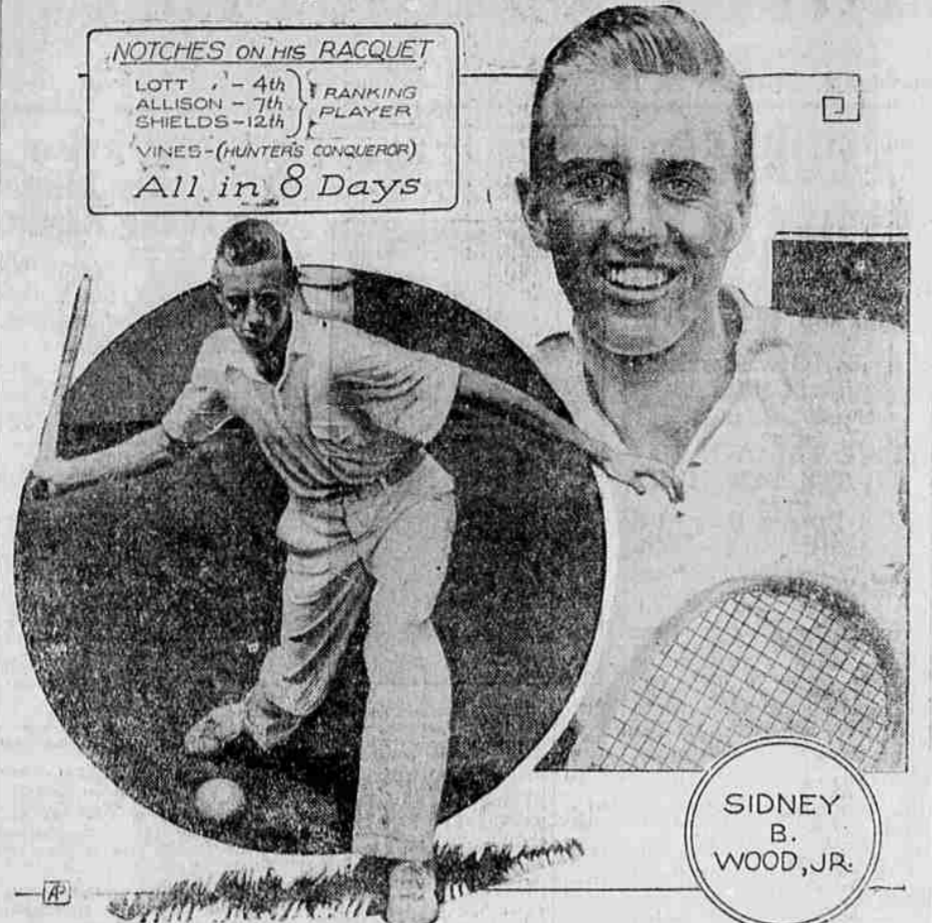

By the Associated Press

COAST LEAGUE
W.	L.	Per.
Hollywood	28	14	66.7
Los Angeles	25	16	61.0
San Francisco	24	17	58.8
Sacramento	20	22	47.6
Oakland	19	23	45.2
Mission	19	23	45.2
Portland	18	23	43.9
Seattle	11	39	21.7

NATIONAL LEAGUE
W.	L.	Per.
Chicago	34	48	50.7
New York	33	42	50.0
Brooklyn	29	56	52.2
St. Louis	27	59	54.5
Pittsburgh	23	63	51.0
Boston	22	67	45.1
Cincinnati	22	67	43.7
Philadelphia	20	63	32.5

AMERICAN LEAGUE
W.	L.	Per.
Philadelphia	33	42	50.0
Washington	28	49	61.3
New York	23	54	58.4
Cleveland	22	60	52.4
Detroit	20	66	47.6
St. Louis	18	73	39.6
Chicago	15	81	34.7

Sidney Wood is Playing Championship Tennis At Age When Cochet Was Practicing on Wall

NOTCHES ON HIS RACQUET
LOTT - 4th
ALLISON - 7th
SHIELDS - 12th
VINES - (HUNTER'S CONQUEROR)
All in 8 Days

SIDNEY B. WOOD, JR.

Sidney B. Wood, Jr., 16-year-old New York tennis player, has been upsetting the country's ranking players, in eastern tournaments this season.

By Ted Voshburgh (Associated Press Sports Writer)
NEW YORK (AP)—At 18 years of age Henri Cochet was just an obscure French boy industriously banging a tennis ball against a wall on the covered courts of Lyons.

At 18 Big Bill Tilden was a lanky kid still seven years away from his first national title.

But when the day of the Seabright final came there was Wood, still in the tournament, and arrayed against Vines in the title match he made a show of the coast, laid, soft-balling him to death, and allowing him just four games in three sets.

Wood's plan of battle, designed to pull the teeth of Vines' hard driving game, would have done credit to a Cochet or a Kozeh.

To prove this was no fluke Wood proceeded to win the Southampton invitation the next week, beating Bryn Grant, George Lott, Frank Shields and Wilmer Allison.

To find the explanation of these seeming tennis miracles one must follow Wood's career back a few seasons.

In 1927, a 15-year-old kid in short pants, he played Rene LaCoste at Wimbledon and took five games in three sets from the reigning world champion.

In 1928 at 16, he all but defeated Jack Crawford, Australian star, in the United States singles championships. Last year he was in ill health and played little tennis.

A nephew of Julian S. Myrick, former president of the United States Lawn Tennis association, and of William Washburn, one time Davis Cup player, Wood learned the game at the famous West Side Tennis club, Forest Hills.

At 14 he was runner-up to Junior Coen for the National boys' title.

DAVIS WINNER OF HANDICAP TOURNAMENT

Orville Davis won the Andrews trophy by defeating Nolan Skiff six up and five to go in the finals of the public Haka handicap tournament yesterday.

Davis, who had a handicap of eight more strokes than Skiff, went out in 49 to Skiff's 52, but slipped some in the last nine, taking a 57 to Skiff's 62. The runner-up received a golf bag and Bud Beard, with a medal score of 96, turned in the best 18 holes of the tournament, which started several weeks ago with 47 contestants. Beard received a dozen balls as a prize.

R. V. Copsy announced today that the second public links tournament, a sweepstakes, will begin immediately. Qualifying rounds of 18 holes must be played before the evening of Labor day, Sept. 1, and the 24 low scores will continue in the tourney. Ten prizes of golfing equipment will be offered, it was announced.

ROMANCE THAT VIES WITH DRAMA IN THE SUPREME THRILL OF THE YEAR!

Whether you need a range now or five years from now, we urge you to visit our store and see this attractive display of the New Monarch Range Design—built in accordance with the most modern, practical ideas—Beautiful and COMPACT—taking less room than the oversized types of other makes and without losing a fraction of an inch of useful space.

The MONARCH Practical Payment Plan enables us to offer you the MONARCH of your choice on convenient monthly or single time payments during this Sale—if you haven't the cash now.

STATE Now Playing

CROW INDIAN TAKES LEAD IN DECATHLON

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 25 (AP)—Wilson Charles, Crow Indian from Haskell institute, led one field of contenders for the national amateur athletic union decathlon championship after two of the ten events, the 100 meter dash and the broad jump, had been run off today.

Charles had 1651.03 points. Ever-

To Fight Sharkey

A picture that will live forever in your memory! And what a marvelous cast!

featuring Chester Morris, Wallace Beery, Robert Montgomery, Lewis Stone, Lella Hyams, George F. Marion, J. C. Nugent, Directed by George Hill

The Big House

See 3,000 desperate convicts in their break for freedom! Thrills!

Metro-Goldwyn Mayer TALKING PICTURE

A COSMOPOLITAN Production PLUS — NEWS and COMEDY

Associated Press Photo
Victoria Campello, Argentine heavy, is to fight Jack Sharkey of Boston in New York in September

Free Education Sought In China By Protestants

By Morris J. Harris (Associated Press Correspondent)
SHANGHAI (AP)—Twelve Protestant sects, representing more than three-fourths of the native Chinese Protestant church membership, have appealed to the Nationalist government at Nanking for removal of the 1929 restrictions on religious worship and education in the church schools.

The appeal, which was presented to the ministry of education, marks the first organized step by Christian Chinese to combat the Kuomintang's determination to divorce religious education and the schools.

Since the restriction went into effect in the spring of 1929 few Christian schools have been left untouched by the anti-religious campaign, and feeling against Chinese of both Protestant and Catholic faiths has resulted in several open clashes between the mission authorities and the anti-church crowd.

Several school strikes have occurred, while institutions in the jurisdiction of the Nanking government run the risk of being padlocked if they make the slightest pretense of teaching the young Chinese mind a few of the principles of Christianity.

The Chinese Christians have been harder hit by the restriction than the foreigners. British and American missionaries, who are in the majority, are protected in their work by their consuls, but the Chinese have been taught that they can expect little sympathy from the authorities if they carry Christian education outside the home.

SEPARATE GROUPS

DUBLIN (AP)—At a recent labor congress here where delegates of 40 unions represented 160,000 members, it was decided to separate the strictly trades union affairs from politics by having a separate organization for each activity.

Nevada is building a 157-mile road to be known as the Kit Carson trail.

By Alan J. Gould (Associated Press Sports Editor)
Robert Moses (Left) Grove could not be bought now for twice the price he cost Connie Mack—$105,000 and a record for pitching talent anywhere.

Connie has managed some of the game's greatest southpaws, among them Rube Waddell and Eddie Plank, but the veteran pilot of the A's seem in a fair way to get more and better service from Grove than any other pitcher. Perhaps the reason is that Grove has the speed and stuff of Waddell, the control and easy-going temperament of Plank, a rare combination.

Grove seems certain to sustain the spring suggestion that 1930 would be the best year the lean left-hander has had in the American league.

He was around the 20-mark in victories by the middle of August, with six weeks in which to beat his best record of 24 triumphs, made in 1928, and an outside chance to touch 30 victories since Sergeant J. Bayley did it for Cleveland in 1920, if Wes Ferrell doesn't beat him to it.

The fire-ball star's great mid-season work had a lot to do with the commanding lead seized by the Athletics, just when it looked as though they might be extended to repeat their pennant victory.

Vance and Grove! What a "natural" in pitching duels that would be, if Brooklyn wins the National league pennant, thereby enabling these rival speed-ball aces to oppose each other in the world's series.

Vance has passed the crest of his career, while Grove is perhaps at his peak, but the Old Dazzler still has plenty on his "high, hard one" when he chooses to bear down. Grove has more "swift" than any other American league twirler.

The ace of the A's was unable to start a game against the Cubs in the last world's series but he had them swinging earnestly in two appearances as a reliever man.

Grove pitched only a fraction over six innings but struck out ten and allowed only three hits. The Cubs may have prejudiced on the spot, because of their inability to connect, but several of them expressed the opinion that Grove was faster than Vance or any other National league moundman.

It now develops that an injustice was done to Joe Beckett, the most horizontal of all British heavyweights until Phil Scott took over the privileges and emoluments attached thereto.

Stout old Joe was misquoted as challenging the winner of the recent Scott-Stribling bout in London. It was the loser he challenged, for 500 pounds a side, and Beckett seized the first opportunity to advise "Pa" Stribling of the mistake made at the ringside by the master of ceremonies. "I don't want to fight young fellow in their prime like Stribling," Beckett said. "I know he'd lick me; but I know I can always lick Scott and that's why I challenged him for a 'monkey'."

WHALE SAFELY TIED

TACOMA, Wash., Aug. 23 (AP)—Safely tied up in Oakland Bay, a small inlet between Tacoma and Shelton, a 40-foot humpback whale is being held captive by a party of amateur Tacoma whalers. Somewhat subdued by harpoon and bullet wounds, it is believed the huge mammal can be towed to Tacoma at high tide this morning.

The whale's capture in Oakland Bay late yesterday came as the climax of an exciting day which started when the huge marine visitor was found tangled up in a log boom at Shelton.

SALEM, Ore., Aug. 23 (AP)—A dentist in the E. R. Parker System offices here had a patient in his chair. The dentist went into another room for a moment. The patient got out of the chair, stole $6 from the cash drawer and ran away. When the police got him a little later he said his name was H. C. Evans and that he came from Eugene.

Oregon voters will ballot on an initiative measure to prohibit sale of cigars in the state.

SPORT SLANTS

By Alan J. Gould (Associated Press Sports Editor)
Robert Moses (Left) Grove could not be bought now for twice the price he cost Connie Mack—$105,000 and a record for pitching talent anywhere.

Connie has managed some of the game's greatest southpaws, among them Rube Waddell and Eddie Plank, but the veteran pilot of the A's seem in a fair way to get more and better service from Grove than any other pitcher. Perhaps the reason is that Grove has the speed and stuff of Waddell, the control and easy-going temperament of Plank, a rare combination.

Grove seems certain to sustain the spring suggestion that 1930 would be the best year the lean left-hander has had in the American league.

He was around the 20-mark in victories by the middle of August, with six weeks in which to beat his best record of 24 triumphs, made in 1928, and an outside chance to touch 30 victories since Sergeant J. Bayley did it for Cleveland in 1920, if Wes Ferrell doesn't beat him to it.

The fire-ball star's great mid-season work had a lot to do with the commanding lead seized by the Athletics, just when it looked as though they might be extended to repeat their pennant victory.

Vance and Grove! What a "natural" in pitching duels that would be, if Brooklyn wins the National league pennant, thereby enabling these rival speed-ball aces to oppose each other in the world's series.

Vance has passed the crest of his career, while Grove is perhaps at his peak, but the Old Dazzler still has plenty on his "high, hard one" when he chooses to bear down. Grove has more "swift" than any other American league twirler.

The ace of the A's was unable to start a game against the Cubs in the last world's series but he had them swinging earnestly in two appearances as a reliever man.

Grove pitched only a fraction over six innings but struck out ten and allowed only three hits. The Cubs may have prejudiced on the spot, because of their inability to connect, but several of them expressed the opinion that Grove was faster than Vance or any other National league moundman.

It now develops that an injustice was done to Joe Beckett, the most horizontal of all British heavyweights until Phil Scott took over the privileges and emoluments attached thereto.

Stout old Joe was misquoted as challenging the winner of the recent Scott-Stribling bout in London. It was the loser he challenged, for 500 pounds a side, and Beckett seized the first opportunity to advise "Pa" Stribling of the mistake made at the ringside by the master of ceremonies. "I don't want to fight young fellow in their prime like Stribling," Beckett said. "I know he'd lick me; but I know I can always lick Scott and that's why I challenged him for a 'monkey'."

Special Sale and Display of the New Monarch Ranges

MONDAY - TUESDAY - WEDNESDAY - AUGUST 25-26-27

Special Gift Offer In Effect Only Two More Days

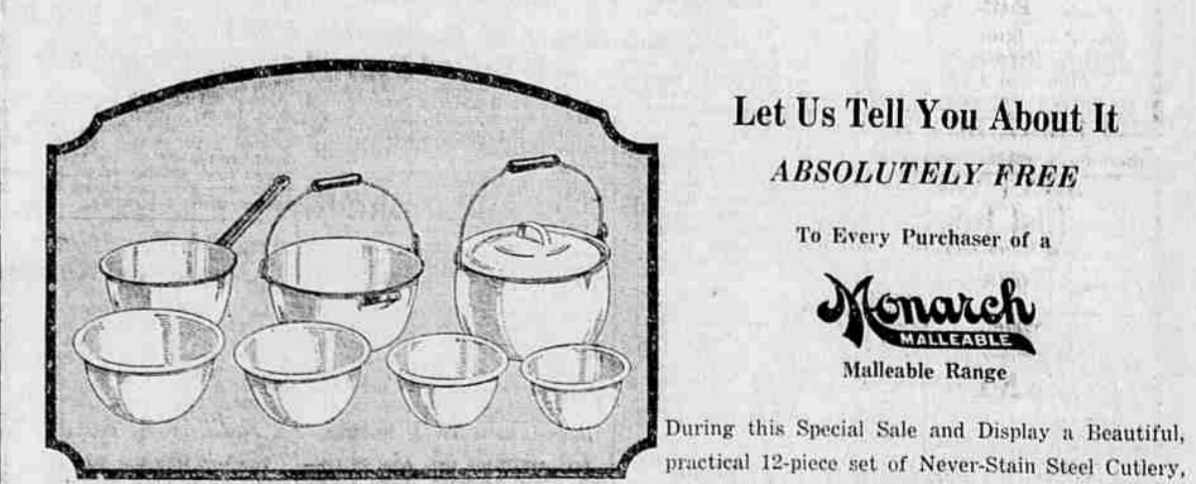

THROUGH special arrangement, an expert from the MONARCH Factory—the Largest, Finest Malleable Range Factory in America—will be here to explain everything to you—the superiority of MONARCH construction—the many time and fuel saving features as well as the details of our special offer during this sale period.

Whether you need a range now or five years from now, we urge you to visit our store and see this attractive display of the New Monarch Range Design—built in accordance with the most modern, practical ideas—Beautiful and COMPACT—taking less room than the oversized types of other makes and without losing a fraction of an inch of useful space.

The MONARCH Practical Payment Plan enables us to offer you the MONARCH of your choice on convenient monthly or single time payments during this Sale—if you haven't the cash now.

Let Us Tell You About It
ABSOLUTELY FREE
To Every Purchaser of a
Monarch Malleable Range

During this Special Sale and Display a Beautiful, practical 12-piece set of Never-Stain Steel Cutlery, or a valuable set of Vollrath Enamel Ware in Pink-Pearl or Apple-Green.

Only Two More Days!
Tuesday and Wednesday
Don't Miss this Opportunity to Modernize and Beautify Your Kitchen!

W. H. Bohnenkamp Co.