Chats With Parents

BY EXAMPLE
 By Alice Judson Peale
 The three children had spent the afternoon in the kitchen with mother which she did the weekly baking. She had let them help her mix the gingerbread.

When it was ready she had given to each enough dough to make a gingerbread man and a handful of raisins to be used for buttons and eyes and nose and mouth.

The gingerbread men were baked in the oven side by side. They came out wonderfully brown and plump and delicious to smell. The children could hardly wait for them to cool.

They bit into them joyfully and a head and one arm were quite gone before Nance and Judy remembered that mother must take a bit. Then Nance broke off one brown leg and asked mother to save it for daddy. Judy followed suit.

But Margie held back and ate her gingerbread man all by herself to the very last crumb.

At supper that evening daddy listened to accounts of the afternoon's fun and ate his gingerbread legs with every evidence of proper appreciation. Margie sat silent.

"Next time, mother and daddy," she said at last, "I'll give you each a great big bite of mine, too."

Daddy smiled across the table to Margie, whose voice, as she spoke, had sounded wistful and who now looked a bit unhappy.

"That's fine, Margie, I'm counting on you. How soon do we bake again, mother?"

Perhaps the best way for a child to learn to be generous with his treats is through the example of others. He needs no lecture, no pointing of the moral to add to a lesson which he has fully learned through the promptings of his own feelings.

"Paradise Island" Showing at State Tomorrow

"Paradise Island," a Tiffany musical comedy drama of love and adventure in the South Seas, is the attraction today and tomorrow at the State theater. The leading roles are enacted by Kenneth Harlan, Marceline Day, Tom Santschi, Betty Boyd, Bladden James, Vic Hotel, Paul Hurst and Will Stanton.

The story is concerned with the rivalry between two adventurers. These two, Thorne and Lutze, have matched wits for boats, cargo and girls many times. Lutze usually losing to Thorne. Thorne has heard that Lutze is the king pin on the island of Tonga, and he goes there deliberately to annoy Lutze.

Arriving at the same time at Tonga is Ellen Bradford, who has come out to marry Roy Armstrong the only white planter on the island. Roy has proven too weak for the temptations spread before him by Lutze, to whom he has lost half his plantation in gambling. He is drunk when Ellen arrives and she decides not to marry him until he reforms.

When Lutze and Thorne see Ellen both men want her—but Lutze not being bothered by any conscience or instincts for playing a fair game, while Thorne realizes such a girl is not to be had for the taking, the rivalry between the two in this instance is particularly intriguing.

A "talkie" theater has been installed in the home of A. W. Peterson of St. Louis.

Houston, Tex., is to celebrate its tenth year as a seaport in September.

Hawks Clocked At 220 M. P. H. In Plane Trial

CURTISS-REYNOLDS AIRPORT, Chicago, Aug. 29 (AP)—Captain Frank Hawks, holder of both cross continent speed records of the United States was unofficially clocked at 220 miles an hour yesterday in practice flight around the five-mile course of the national air races. He flew a Travelair plane with a special Wright motor.

Hawks flew through a drizzling rain to accustom himself to the course for the $10,000 Thompson trophy race. There is no official record for speed on a five-mile course. The American record for straight-away flying is held by Al Williams at 266 miles an hour.

The Thompson trophy race is to be run Labor day and many famous pilots are expected to start.

Direct Planes by Radio

The army air corps, which has been thrilling the crowds daily with fast war time maneuvers, introduced an innovation when Lieut. Arthur Innes today directed a squadron of army bombers from the ground by radio. His directions were heard by Columbia radio listeners and the spectators at the field as well as by the pilots in the planes.

Ray E. Kruser of Trenton, N. J., slid his plane to within 6 feet and an inch of the goal flag to win the men's daily dead stick landing contest. In this event pilots must shut off their motors high in the air and glide to a landing.

Theft-postponed dead stick landing contest for women resulted in victory for Charity Langdon of Norfolk, Va., who brought her plane to within 150 feet of the flag. Betty Lund of Troy, Ohio, was second and Nancy Hopkins of Garden City, L. I., third. Edith Foltz of Seattle broke the tail skid of her plane while landing.

Pre Wee Race

A 25-mile race for "pee wee" planes equipped with motors of 110 cubic inch piston displacement or less, was won by E. B. Healt of Chicago. His average speed was 79.13 miles per hour.

The race was limited to open type planes of 500-cubic inch piston displacement or less. The women pilots had considerable difficulty rounding the pylons, some shooting as much as 500 yards beyond before making the turn.

Doug Davis of Atlanta caught up with a balloon in 56 seconds to take the balloon bursting contest of the day.

May Hairlip of Kansas City won the first closed course race for women.

Evening Gowns To Display More of Milady

By Adelaide Kerr
 NEW YORK (AP)—Evening gowns are going to display a lower décolletage than ever this winter, early fashion showings indicate.

The front neckline dip is lower than last year, fashion leaders say, while the backs often swoop down to the waist, and the woman with angular shoulders blings will do well to cast a thoughtful eye about her before she chooses her evening array.

Diet Faddist Is Crank, Britisher Tells Doctors

WINNIPEG, Man., Aug. 29 (AP)—Diet, in the opinion of Dr. Robert Hutchison of London, should be a matter of likes and dislikes.

The diet faddist, he told the 98th annual meeting of the British Medical association, is perhaps the commonest and most malignant crank.

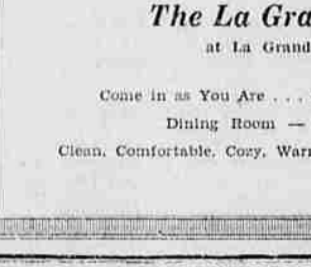

"The scientific truth about all this diet business," he said, "can be summed up as follows: eat moderately, taking ordinary mixed diet, and don't worry about anything else—to take no thought for what you shall eat or drink is wiser than to be always fussing over it. Likes and dislikes, however, should be listened to; they are nature's indication of what probably agrees or disagrees."

Harding back to the "days of mud pies," Dr. Hutchison said children were probably healthier and happier than than the oft-weighted, pampered, dieted and psycho-analyzed infants of today.

He laughed at calory-counters and vitamin victims, and held up as ideal the easy-going individual who "merely means to eat."

"What we need for attainment of health as individuals is not more
