NEGRO IS BURNED TO DEATH BY MOB

above the crackling of the flames as they played about his head.

The crowd, with little disorder, stood about the four corners where the school was situated until the white, one-room frame building was reduced to ashes.

The prisoner was taken by the mob despite the fact that a detachment of Missouri national guardsmen had been placed on duty to preserve order and the sheriff's force had been augmented.

No one was injured in the clash between the crowd and the officers so far as could be learned immediately.

Guinn was seized as he arrived at the courthouse in an automobile driven by Gabe Purcell, deputy sheriff. The leader of the mob told Purcell to stand aside.

No firearms were in evidence. Spectators near the negro when he was seized said no resistance was offered by his guards.

Two squads of national guardsmen were detailed to duty about the courthouse when the mob formed at daybreak.

Furniture had been removed from the school building and heaped around the grounds.

A resolution requesting the President to open negotiations with Mexico for the purchase of Lower California and part of the state of Sonora, Mexico, was introduced by Senator Henry Ashurst of Arizona leaving late last night and the exodus continued early today.

Ingram, of Navy, May Be Coach At California

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Jan. 12 (AP)—William A. Ingram, football coach at the naval academy for the last five years, is leaving Annapolis to coach elsewhere, presumably at the University of California.

Captain Henry C. Cooke, director of athletics, announced that "Navy Bill" had resigned by telegram and said details must come from Ingram, now at his home at Jeffersonville, Ind.

At Jeffersonville Ingram said he had resigned; that he intended to continue coaching and that the school which employed him would make the announcement in the near future.

Ingram was a gridiron and rowing star for Navy and later football coach at William and Mary college and University of Indiana.

There have been reports that he and navy athletic authorities disagreed over the terms of his contract. During last year's sports season he was under a one-year contract. He asked for a three-year contract, friends said, and the navy offered him one of two years.

Ingram has been mentioned frequently as a possible successor to Price. Two weeks ago it was reported that he visited California.

Mexican President, Officials Play Polo

ACAPULCO, Guerrero, Mexico, Jan. 12 (AP)—A polo game in which nothing less than a general can play has been arranged here as a vacation diversion for the president. The game will be played when the contestants, who include the president himself, the secretary of war and a state governor, can get in trim.

Playing on the red team will be General Pascual Ortiz, president of Mexico; General Adrian Castrejon, governor of Guerrero; General Manuel Beltran, chief of the eleventh battalion, and General Jose Cortes Ortiz, chief of the thirtieth regiment.

Playing on the black team will be General Joaquin Amaro, secretary of war, and the father of polo in Mexico; General Agustin Mora, chief of the presidential staff; General Benito Garcia, chief of the plaza barracks, and General Manuel Madinabedia, military chief of the state of Guerrero.

In a Nutshell

There is one queer thing about a grouch. It'll never get well if you nurse it.

Sport Slants

By Alan J. Gould (Associated Press Sports Editor)

Professional wrestling, as a sport, has been held up in derision by the experts in many parts of the land, yet with comparatively little ballyhoo to stir them, some 20,000 customers of the cash variety literally rioted for admission to the most recent exhibition put on by the rhy-polites in New York's Madison Square Garden.

The contrast was sharp indeed, with the sparse and extremely unenthusiastic turnouts for many recent prize-fighting programs in the same arena.

The explanation, if one is necessary, seems to be that the wrestlers, regardless of their coupe, clique or combination for which they perspire, furnish satisfactory action and excitement. So long as they are given an entertaining show, the customers are not inquisitive as to whether or not the boys talked it all over while eating a few juicy steaks beforehand; in short, whether all the scowls and growls are genuine or not.

Wrestling showmanship has changed since the days of Gotch and Hackenschmidt, whose "feud" was a good box-office attraction until abruptly ended. "Scissors Joe" Stecher, "Strangler" Ed Lewis and Earl Geddock, the "man of a thousands holds" were forerunners of the present crop of foreign giants and American collegians, built up to furnish the necessary "color."

They are less scientific and no more effective than former methods of manhandling an opponent, but Gus Sonnenberg's "flying tackle," Jim Londos' "airplane spin" and Ed "Doc" George's "Wolverine Slam" have helped the catch-as-catch-can ballyhoo.

Timothy yielded the mat leadership to Michigan when Sonnenberg was somewhat disabled and beaten by George for a good-sized portion of the heavyweight wrestling championship claims.

George, a good-looking youth of 25 who wrestled for the U. S. A. in the 1928 Olympics and won numerous championships for Michigan, found the grappling game much more lucrative than engineering.

His rise to rank as a champion has been swift and dramatic. When he was graduated at Ann Arbor in 1929 he had little or no thought of turning "pro." Opportunity beckoned, however; he made a "hit" with the wrestling forces headed by Lou Daro at Los Angeles and in less than a year gained the match in which he defeated Sonnenberg.

George lost no time hitting the trail East to capitalize his victory but the 218-pound Buffalo boy is not likely to have a chance soon to show what he can do against so experienced a grappler, as Londos, recognized as world's champion in New York and Pennsylvania. They are members of rival groups and it seems to be axiomatic in professional wrestling that business competitors do not mix in the public arenas.

L. R. McIntyre calls attention to an erroneous news story reference to Nebraska's conquests of Notre Dame on the gridiron, giving 1923 and 1924 as years of victory.

As this column recently noted, Nebraska downed the Irish in 1922, 1923 and 1924. The Four Horsemen of 1924, at their peak, galloped rough-shod over the Cornhuskers to the tune of 34 to 6.

MICHIGAN 3-SPORT ATHLETE RECOMES REGULAR AT LAST

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP)—Norman Daniels has started a season as a regular on a University of Michigan team.

Although Daniels is a three sport athlete, and may equal the unusual record of Harry Kipke and Benny Oosterbaan, he has been used heretofore as a utility player. He is in a position to win nine "M's," three each in football, basketball and baseball.

Only Kipke and Oosterbaan did that. Jo Truskowski also was a three sport man. Daniels now has two football letters and one each in basketball and baseball.

Possibly Daniels had been too versatile to be a regular. Last year he played forward and guard in basketball. This year he started at center. In baseball he played shortstop, second and right field.

Although he has played chiefly at end on Wolverine football teams, he also has worked at fullback and half. He subbed at full in Michigan's most important 1929 game—Harvard.

One of Michigan's coaches gave him credit for saving the Harvard game through his defensive work against Barry Wood's passes.

This year Daniels' touchdown against Purdue started Michigan on its way to an undefeated Big Ten record.

Seadiness was Daniels' big asset in baseball. He made himself worth watching by turning in a wholly impossible play at critical moments.

Young Tennis Ace Now Loops Baskets

CHAPEL HILL, N. C. (AP)—North Carolina basketball fans are going to cheer a new star this year.

He is Wilmer Hines, who will be a first string forward on the university team.

Pre-season practice was responsible for Hines' sudden landing of a berth on the regular hardwood squad.

Hines, a resident of Columbia, S. C., barnstormed the country last year to win a flock of tennis titles. These included the South Atlantic title, the Southern Junior title, the National Junior title, and the Southern Senior title, which he won with Judge Sandy Beaver, of Gainesville, Florida.

Gentlemen:

"Spit" is a filthy word. So is the practice of spitting. More serious than any consideration of nicety, however, is the very grave danger of contamination carried in the mouth secretions.

Your attack on this evil in connection with your recent cigar advertising is an effective stroke which should do much to awaken the public to this peril.

I hope you do not abandon the attack. If my endorsement is of any value, please feel free to publish it in your campaign.

Sincerely yours,

J. C. Eldridge
HAMILTON COUNTY HEALTH DIRECTOR.

... one of 56 health officials from 56 different points approving Cremo's crusade against spit or spit-tipping.

Every smoker, every wife whose husband smokes cigars, should read Dr. Eldridge's letter.

"Who are the friends of 'Spit'?"

YOU MAY WELL ASK THIS QUESTION WHEN 56 IMPORTANT HEALTH OFFICIALS HAVE WRITTEN SO STRONGLY AGAINST THE EVILS OF SPIT OR SPIT-TIPPING.

Dr. Eldridge writes: "Your attack on this evil in connection with your recent cigar advertising is an effective stroke."

The war against spit is a crusade of decency. Join it... Smoke Certified Cremo—a really wonderful smoke—mild—mellow—nut-sweet! Every leaf entering the clean, sunny Cremo factories is scientifically treated by methods recommended by the United States Department of Agriculture.

In this period of cold weather and cracked lips, above all insist on a cigar—free of the spit germ.

ESPINOSA AND LOOS LEAD IN L. A. TOURNEY

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 12 (AP)—Only one stroke to the good. Al Espinosa and Eddie Loos turned into the home stretch of the Los Angeles $10,000 open golf tournament today with scores of 189, hoping they could match these figures on the remaining 36 holes.

Within half a dozen blows of the lead trocked eleven of the remaining field of fifty one, all in a position to overcome the pair and win first place money of $3500.

Foremost of these was Leo Diegel, former P. G. A. champion from Agua Caliente, Mexico, who had a par of 149 for two days of toil over the trouble making Wilshire country club course. One of Chicago's younger generation of golfers, Frank Walsh, stood next with a 141, while from the Atlantic seaboard, Willy Cox, Brooklyn, and Craig Wood, long hitting, Bloomfield, N. J. pro, followed with cards of 142.

In spite of the spectacular playing of the leaders it was Walter Hagen, great showman of the links, who gave the gallery of some 7000 persons its biggest thrill. Sir Walter, after an indifferent start Saturday with 74, came back to match par with a 70.

The most spectacular shot of the tournament on the eighteenth made this possible.

With a number 1 iron, the Haig drove his second shot to within eight inches of the cup and dived it for a birdie three. He was in a tie for seventh place.

Tomorrow one hundred of the golfers will move across the Mexican border where the Agua Caliente $25,000 open starts Wednesday.

Stribling-Schmeling Match Seems Certain

NEW YORK, Jan. 12 (AP)—If flistic observers have interpreted the signs correctly, all obstacles in the path of a heavyweight title match between Max Schmeling and Young Stribling have been cleared away and their managers are ready to sign on the dotted line.

Some of the more optimistic of the experts voiced the opinion today that the bout would be "made" within 24 hours, but the more conservative were inclined to believe that several minor odds and ends would have to be disposed of first.

Certainly there were definite indications that "Pa" Stribling, father-in-law of the Macon, Ga., heavyweight, and promoters for the Hearst milk fund were close to an agreement. Schmeling already is under contract to the milk fund and no trouble is anticipated from that quarter.

According to best available advices, the bout, if all goes well, will be held next June in Detroit, Cleveland, Philadelphia or Jersey City.

DEMPSY PICKS STRIBLING

NEW YORK, Jan. 12 (AP)—W. L. (Young) Stribling of Macon, Ga., is the best of the current crop of heavyweights in the opinion of Jack Dempsey.

Making his annual selections of world flistic stars for the Ring, boxing magazine, Dempsey places Stribling at the top of the heap with Max Schmeling second and Jack Sharkey third.

"To Stribling, I think, we must look to regain American supremacy in the heavyweight ranks," said Dempsey, "for it is my opinion that if Sharkey has ten more opportunities to win the crown, he still will fall short of the mark. Were I to attempt a comeback, which I am certain I will not, poor as I might be, there is one heavyweight I am sure I can knock out—none other than Jack Sharkey."

Skiers Injured Due to Ice Crust

VIENNA, Jan. 12 (AP)—One hundred and twenty men and women skiers broke legs, arms, ankles or fingers Sunday around Vienna and the courtyard of an emergency hospital here resembled in some ways a first aid station back of a battle line. Hundreds of other injuries were reported throughout Austria.

Ice crust forming over the snowfields accounted for the extraordinary number of accidents.

Celibacy of Priesthood

The first church council which definitely forbade marriage to the higher clergy was the local Spanish synod of Elvira in the year 905.
