

MENTAL STANCE IS GIVEN CREDIT

Bobby Dodd, Football Star, Finds "Smartness, Psychology" Second.

By Dillon Graham KNOXVILLE, Tenn., Jan. 21 (AP)—Bobby Dodd, for two years Dixie's outstanding quarterback, says mental stance paves the way for football victories.

"All this talk about smartness and psychology is good stuff, but it's the old frame of mind and poise that counts most," he asserted. For three seasons Dodd has been the generalissimo of Tennessee's great football team and almost unanimous choice for all southern quarterbacks in 1928 and 1929.

"Psychology will beat you in the long run," he continued. "You can win with it sometimes, but in a tight place some other guy is going to 'out-psychologize' you. It doesn't pay to be too smart. You're riding for a fall when you get that way."

A Cool Performer. "The boy whose heart pumps ice water," that's the way one writer pictured Dodd, one of the coolest performers under fire in Dixie.

Bobby Dodd's following as a player is following his attack, explaining, "I try to start out just like a boxer feeling out his opponent. I feel around with several plays, keeping close to the line, but I don't play too far or fall to go. Then, when I'm in a scoring spot I've got a pretty good idea which one of our pet touchdowns plays will work."

Dodd doesn't side with those exponents of quarterback play who suggest watching the faces of the opponents to find out their reaction to a play and to decide on the next play.

"That may work sometime, but if your opponents aren't mighty dumb, they can cross you up. You've got to figure what they're expecting and give them something different.

"Advice to quarterbacks—and you know I'm going to start teaching them at Georgia Tech next fall—is to study possible situations revolving around your plays ahead of time and then have several solutions available for use when the time comes. Don't wait for the circumstances and then try to depend on your quick thinking to get you out of trouble."

Dodd believes psychology is of greatest use in studying the men on one's own team.

His Greatest Thrill. "We'd been playing on a snow-covered field and had gained a yard through Kentucky's line all afternoon. They had us 6 to 0 with only three minutes left, and we had the ball near the center of the field.

With Lewis Out, Beavers Lose To Cougars 44 to 30

CORVALLIS, Ore., Jan. 21 (AP)—Washington State college's hoopsters came back last night to even the score with Oregon State, taking the game by a 44 to 30 score.

Despite Lewis' return to the game in the second half, the visitors would not be denied. After amassing a 10-point lead they stalled for nearly 10 minutes.

LOMSKI BEATS BELANGER IN PORTLAND GO

PORTLAND, Ore., Jan. 21 (AP)—Leo Lomski, Aberdeen, Wash., light heavyweight, took a close ten-round decision over Charley Belanger, Winthrop, here last night.

Lomski, a 160-pounder, was a hard battle with plenty of action. Lomski's aggressiveness throughout counted heavily in his favor.

Prisco McGale, negro middleweight, won a six-round bout over Tommy Pratt, Portland. McGale's experience counted heavily against Pratt.

Alvie Davies, Victoria, B. C., eight-weight, won a clean cut six-round victory over Edie Edelman, Eskimo southpaw in the semi-windup.

Joe Ferguson, 179-pound wrestler, won his first professional boxing start from Bill Robinson, negro, in the four-round curtain-raiser.

ELGIN DEFEATED IN FOURTH PERIOD (Continued from Page One) With the score tied, the Tigers tightened up and held the Elgin cagers to a lone free throw in the third quarters.

The blue and white team was playing below par last night, partly due to inability to hit the rim consistently, and partly because a new type of defense was being attempted.

Scoring was general, with Shepherd holding first place with eight and Scott, of Elgin, second with seven.

The summary: Elgin (23) F. (94) La Grande (23) F. (91) Eaton D. Adams (6) F. (8) Shepherd Scobee (2) C. (6) Torrence Davis (4) G. (5) Nelson E. Adams (2) C. (4) Overberg S. (4) Stoddard S. Lyman S. Munsell S. Corey

Score by quarters: 1 2 3 4 Elgin 4 8 10 1-23 L. H. S. 0 8 8 10-34 Field goals: Elgin 10, La Grande 17. Free throws: Elgin, three out of five; La Grande, none out of three.

Major Leagues Victorious In "Draft Battle"

NEW YORK, Jan. 21 (AP)—Baseball's battle over the universal draft is ended and the spoils of war belong to the major leagues.

The minor league's defenses, slowly crumbling for several weeks, collapsed yesterday when the last class AA stronghold, the international league, voted to accept the majors' demands.

The international league, where some of the most violent anti-draft sentiment was manifested, was forced to yield to a superior force.

A majority of the league's club owners decided that the battle was too unequal and what had threatened to develop into a bitter and costly baseball war had resolved into nothing more than a harmless verbal duel won by the majors without bloodshed.

Ending of warfare will bring about a renewal of business relations between the majors and the five leagues hitherto classified as non-draft minors.

Sport Slants By Alan J. Gould (Associated Press Sports Editor) Harrison "Jimmie" Johnston, the former national amateur champion, is the inventor of a new indoor game, diversion that seems likely to keep the spirit of competition alive in the winter-time.

It is called "Dart Golf" and as the name implies it is based on the idea of throwing darts, from distances of three to six yards, at a target on which a composite golf layout is pictured, including everything from an unplayable lie and water hazard to a hole-in-one, the latter, of course, corresponding to the "bull's-eye."

It's a big chunk of entertainment, with all the possibilities of marksmanship and trouble common to the royal and ancient game itself. If I can base a verdict on a trial match with "Jimmie" recently.

He quickly had me three down in three holes, which is about as well as he could be expected to do under the circumstances, but by a supreme effort I managed to halve a hole or two.

Johnston has done the "course" in 48, which is 21 under par and a record that Bob Jones can shoot at without having any concern about his amateur status.

"I've got my heart set this year on winning the amateur at Beverly. The man who looks most dangerous to me now is George Vogt. He is a great match player and perhaps he's due to break through to the top. I don't think the younger players such as Seaver and McCarthy are quite ready yet but they are all coming along.

Bull Riding Is His Recipe For Beating Illness

NEW YORK, Jan. 21 (AP)—Here's the tale of a Texas cowboy who took the bull by the horns and held on all the way from Brownsville to Brooklyn bridge—just for the ride.

He's Ralph Sanders, of San Benito, Tex., and the bull's name is Jerry. They moseyed down Broadway the other day with 254 days of travel behind him and 2700 miles of sage brush, sand and snow under their feet.

They had a 52 inch pair of steer's horns for Mayor Walker and a letter signed by Chief of Police J. T. Armstrong, saying they left Brownsville on May 12, 1930.

Let Sanders tell it. "I just wanted to ride a bull. It's something that ain't been done before on such a large scale and I wanted to see if I could do it. I was all run down—my health was pretty poor—so I bought that old bull and started out. I gained 12 pounds and now I'm strong as the bull. When I was Jerry weighed 910 pounds and now he weighs exactly a thousand.

It took 95 days to train that bull so as to make him a good riding animal. I tried to get fellows to ride along by me in an automobile but they wouldn't stick. I had five different guys and they all quit. The pace was too slow for 'em, and they couldn't stand the pressure.

"Jerry walked all the way. He wore out seven pairs of steel shoes. We crossed the Allegheny and the Ozark mountains. It was pretty slow going up in that snow. Bull riding is sure healthy, though. I feel better than I've felt for five years."

BEND YOUTH ATTEMPTS SUICIDE ROCK SPRINGS, Wyo., Jan. 20 (AP)—Arthur Luff, a youth from Bend, Ore., was taken to the hospital here today after officers found him hanging from a bar in the Rock Springs jail.

He was taken into custody on suspicion he was mentally deranged. Officers who cut him down had a terrific struggle and Luff had to be subdued before he was taken to the hospital. A brother who lives in California was summoned to take charge of the youth.

Charles Stewart, Purdue Center, Fills Big Shoes

Stewart, six feet, two inches tall, four inches shorter than Murphy, has some task to make the Lafayette, Ind., school forget the sharpshooting Murphy, who holds the Western conference record for points scored in a season and during a single game.

In his first Big Ten game Stewart netted only one basket from the floor. He was, however, facing the veteran and versatile Michigan athlete, Norman Daniels. Purdue lost the game 23-29.

Stewart, who, like Murphy, is a product of the Hoosier basketball belt, handles himself somewhat like "Stretch," moving around the floor somewhat awkwardly and apparent slowness. Murphy's great height and eye for the basket nullified his awkwardness.

Michigan Gets Wise To Purdue Cage Star ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP)—Coach George Venker of Michigan's basketball team has found a way to stop the Purdue "rubber man," Johnny Wooden, holding him to seven field goals in three games, two last season and one this year.

Wooden's most effective scoring play is a quick break down the floor after standing still slowly dribbling the ball. Venker's men never come in close to Wooden and thus they avoid the shoulder or elbow which Johnny uses to tip an opponent off balance.

The Michigan men stand out a yard or so, closely watching Wooden's feet, moving as he moves, but never attempting to get the ball until he makes a break.

CHARLES STEWART

He equalled that last year by netting 18 baskets from scrimmage. Purdue tied with Indiana for the conference title in 1928, was runner-up to Michigan in 1929 and won undisputed claim last year by galloping through the season without a defeat.

Stewart, who weighs 185 pounds, has a more rugged physique than Murphy, who was exceedingly slender and raw-boned. Coach Lambert expects Stewart's worth will be considerably increased when he has been seasoned by several conference games.

REISLET, HALL, THURNBLAD IN FIRST PLACE

CHICAGO, Jan. 21 (AP)—Two favorites and one outsider paced the field with perfect starts today as the struggle for Johnny Layton's three-cushion billiard world championship entered the second round.

The leaders, each with one victory and no defeats, were Otto Reislet of Philadelphia, who was dethroned in 1928 by Layton; Allen Hall of Chicago, former national amateur champion, and Arthur Thurnblad of Chicago, the northern champion and an outsider in the pre-tournament guessing.

Frank S. Scoville, the eastern champion from Buffalo who started the tournament Monday night by upsetting Layton, landed in fourth place last night when he fell before Reislet, 50 to 25, in 52 innings in his second start.

Steel-Nerved 'Red Head' Aspires To Get Fourth Three-Cushion Title

In the three-cushion billiard tournament January 19-25 at Chicago, Johnny Layton of Sedalia, Mo., seeks a distinction never before attained—a fourth title. Otto Reislet, Philadelphia cue artist, will be there to furnish opposition.

CHICAGO (AP)—Johnny Layton, the phlegmatic red head from Sedalia, Mo., will go after a record never before achieved in billiards when he meets the challenges of seven rivals in the world's championship three-cushion tournament here January 19 to 25.

under the strain. Last year, Willie Hoppe had him down in the final at New York but Layton took time out and then came back with a remarkable exhibition to win.

Three seeded players and four winners of sectional championships will oppose Layton. The seeded stars are Otto Reislet of Philadelphia, whom Layton defeated for the title in 1928; Allan Hall of St. Louis and Chicago; Alf Denton, Kansas City.

The sectional winners are Charles Jordan, of Los Angeles, who turned pro after 20 years to win the Pacific Coast title; Arthur Thurnblad of Chicago; F. S. Scoville, New Haven, Conn.; and D. J. Jacobs of St. Louis.

No one ever won the title four years in succession. Alfredo de Oro, the veteran Cuban, won the crown three times straight, from 1913 to 1915, and has held it since but lost each attempt to establish a record. Layton won the championship in 1928, '29 and '30.
