Old New York Orphanage—The Leake and Watts orphan home of New York is one of the oldest orphanages in the United States. The home shelters 400 boys and 100 girls who have no homes or who come from broken homes. It was founded by George John Leake, son of Robert Leake, commissary of stores for the English in the French and Indian wars.

Fine American Trees—The East produces one champion among the trees, the yellow poplar, or tulip tree, the tallest hardwood tree native to this country. Yellow poplars approaching the 200-foot mark have been found. The evermore, another native of the East, does not grow as tall as the yellow poplar, but it attains the largest diameter of any hardwood of the United States.

Canoe or Coffin? Argued—Archeologists of Scotland are arguing as to whether a rough hollow log of black oak, six feet long, found 25 feet below the normal level of Loch Thing is an ancient canoe or coffin. Tests showed that it would float on the lake, but the length makes the coffin contingent adamant in their arguing. Anyhow, both say it is a valuable find.

UNITED STATES APOLOGIZES TODAY TO PREMIER MUSSOLINI BECAUSE OF REMARKS MADE BY GEN. BUTLER

REFERENDUM BILL UP TO HOUSE TODAY

program outlined by the national conference on street and highway safety of which Secretary of Commerce Lamont is chairman and looks towards placing Oregon on the uniform law map.

Every chauffeur may be ordered cancelled at any time by order of the secretary of state. In line with the national conference policy, only those who in operating a motor vehicle are examined will be ordered to appear and the order is regarded in the main as a formality. New licenses will be issued upon the payment of 50 cent renewal fee.

Restricted Licenses—Restricted licenses will be issued to persons who have demonstrated their ability to operate a motor vehicle regardless of apparent physical defects and upon the secretary of state being satisfied of their ability. These licenses set forth conditions under which the driver may continue to operate the vehicle if it is provided with necessary mechanical aids. It was the intent of the law not to deprive any person of the right to drive his vehicle if he is competent.

Right Method of Walking—The public health service says that the correct method of walking is to walk with the toes pointing nearly straight ahead and only slightly out. Correct posture is more like the military attitude at rest—namely, with heels apart, toes almost straight forward, the sides of the feet approximately opposite sides of a square. This attitude gives stability and poise and insures a proper distribution of the weight of the body upon the structures of the feet.

Best Place for Statues—More statues, declares a writer, should be placed in the middle of ornamental ponds. But very few ornamental ponds are really deep enough.—London Humorist.

He Died Too Soon—"What's in a name?" asked the baron, who didn't live to see fake jewelry made respectable by prefixing the word "costume."—Birmingham News.

Or Don't Care—I spite of anti-noise campaigns there are still a surprising lot of people who don't know that noise annoys other people.—San Bernardino Sun.

Throne Seat Oldest Chair—The throne chair of King Minos of Crete, carved from a single block of stone, is said to be the oldest chair in the world.

Fish Reported Friendly—A California scientist announces as a discovery that fish are friendly. But very few ornamental ponds are really deep enough.—London Humorist.

O. S. C. Schedules Baseball Games—OREGON STATE COLLEGE, Corvallis, Jan. 29.—Willamette and Columbia universities have been added to the Oregon State baseball schedule, according to announcement today.

Senate Asks Investigation—The unusual scrutiny that the legislature is giving traveling expenses of state departments resulted in the senate's passing Senator E. W. Johnson's joint resolution calling upon the secretary of state to investigate these expenditures and make a report to the 1931 legislative session.

Senate Approves Joint Resolution—The senate approved the Marion county delegation's hope joint resolution authorizing the use of the state fair grounds for a centennial celebration in 1934 commemorating the arrival of the missionaries in the Oregon country. The centennial organization proposes to build at least one building on the fair grounds, without cost to the state, to become the property of the state after the centennial.

Senate Joint Memorial Introduced—A senate joint memorial introduced by Senators Hall, Upton, and Bailey, calling upon congress to provide legislation for payment of adjusted compensation certificates held by ex-officer men was adopted.

Clemenceau's Wise Dog—A remarkable story of a dog belonging to the late M. Clemenceau, which used to fire bullets has been told in Paris. This animal—a fox terrier—was independent as its master, used to go for long rambles about Paris. When the dog tired it would jump into a stationary car and sit down. As often as the driver turned it out it returned, until the driver became sufficiently interested to examine its collar— which bore the name of its famous master. The driver, anticipating a liberal tip, invariably drove it home.

FLAX INDUSTRY OF OREGON IS SCRUTINIZED

SALEM, Jan. 29 (AP)—Whether the ways and means committee of the legislature will have an audit of the accounts of the state flax industry depends on a report to be made in a few days by a sub-committee appointed to examine that industry at the penitentiary. This agreement was reached at the committee session last night.

Senator Woodward, who has taken the lead in the demand for an investigation, proposed that an audit be made of the flax industry. He moved that this be done and that George Black & Son, of Portland, be employed to make the audit, but he later withdrew the motion. The Portland accountants were in conference with Governor Meier for two hours yesterday afternoon.

"We are opening up a charter here," Woodward declared, "that will give us more concern than we can discern tonight."

The commission by resolution cancelled sewer assessments amounting to $202.10 on lots 4, 5 and 6, block 47, Chapin's addition. These lots had been added to the Normal school and in clearing the title the sewer assessments were overlooked. This action was recommended by Mr. Cherry.

In Mr. Cherry's weekly report he touched upon the question of fencing the pump and tool house yard. "Believing that a substantial wire fence, similar to the one around the reservoir, is needed, I had a bid submitted on same by J. A. Chandler. The proposal on same is $195.42," he reported. As this was more than he had expected he plans to hold the bid until some future action is taken.

Senator Burke, chairman of the senate committee, said that the state was "losing hundreds of thousands of dollars on an activity that nearly everyone thinks is a wonderful thing, because of the good it does the farmers and the good it does the prisoners."

Representative Homer D. Angell, chairman of the house committee, halted an immediate decision to audit. "I think we are getting the cart before the horse," he said. "Why not audit all the state departments. As for the flax industry, why not wait until the sub-committee reports." Angell questioned the authority of the committee to authorize an expenditure for the audit.

The motion to defer action was made by Representative Chindgren of Clackamas county. A financial statement of the industry was before the committee. It showed total appropriations and receipts from 1921 to the present time of $1,930,878.85 and inventories of the flax and lime industries of $592,723.70.
