MODERN MILK HOUSE
Elevation

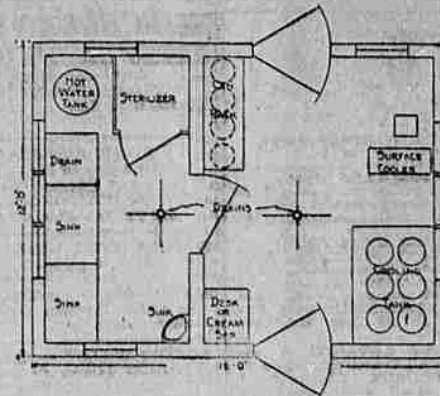

This modern dairy convenience and necessity was designed by dairy and construction specialists of Oregon State Agricultural College and Federal Department of Agriculture. Blue prints and special information to suit your plant will be sent on request of the College Extension Service, Corvallis.

REASON 1 — The Dollar Is Up, So Costs Are Down.

REASON 2 — It Means Quality Products at Premium Prices.

REASON 3 — Health Standards Require Modern Handling of Milk Products.

REASON 4 — You Will Be Ready When the Warm Weather and Heavy Milk Flow Come.

What About Building Materials?

Luckily both main materials—wood and cement—are Oregon products, the best in the world. At less cost, too—so that's settled.

Other Materials Local

The other materials—hardware, plumbing, tile, wiring, paints and glass—you can get of your local dealers.

Equipment at Dealers, Too

Equipment for the Modern Dairy House — gas engines or electric motors, sterilizers, refrigerators, separators, milking machines, and sanitary cans and pails—you can get at your local dealers, too.

And Your Building Plans

No trouble about that, either. Just write the State College Extension Service, Corvallis, for blue prints of plans approved by U. S. D. A. and State and City Health and Inspection Departments. Additional information will be sent on request.
