ELGIN PERSONALS

By Mrs. L. E. Hill
(Observer Correspondent)

ELGIN, Ore. (Special) — Arthur Whitely received word from his father at Walla Walla that he was very seriously ill. His son left for Walla Walla immediately. The elder Mr. Whitely has made his home near and in Elgin for a number of years but is with relatives in Washington this winter.

Miss Glendora Macbeth is recovering from an operation performed at Hot Lake this week.

The members of the Christian church observed church night on Friday. As usual a good crowd was in attendance and a pleasant evening spent.

The Eastern Star social club met with Mrs. Hanford Reeds on Friday afternoon. Mrs. R. H. Osborne, new president, was in charge of the business meeting. Following the social hour, Mrs. Reed served refreshments. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. J. W. Brown. A social afternoon is being planned for March 17 at which members of the Elgin Pythian sisters and Febekahs will be honored guests. This meeting will be held at Mrs. Osborne's home.

Rev. Lee Harvey, of San Bernardino, Cal., went to Wallowa on Saturday. He has been with relatives in the Scott district for the last week holding services at various homes. At Wallowa he will visit with relatives and conduct services at that place for the next week or two.

John Scott and his sister, Mrs. U. F. Weiss drove to Wallowa Saturday to call on the Dave and Tom Scott families. Mr. Scott will return soon but Mrs. Weiss will spend the entire week visiting relatives in the Wallowa community.

Columbus Fisher made a trip to Spokane by truck this week to bring the new re-saw which will be installed in the new planing mill.

The Pythian sisters held a regular meeting on Thursday evening. Three new members were initiated and one was reinstated. An invitation was received from Violet Rebekah lodge for a social on February 13. Knowing the reputation the Rebekahs have for jolly parties, a large crowd is being planned for.

Grandpa Phillips has been quite ill at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Jonathan Green, of Cricket Flat. Mrs. Dave Zweifel is also with her father, whose condition is much improved.

WAY PAVED FOR SOLDIERS HOME IN WASHINGTON

OLYMPIA, Wash., Feb. 10 (AP) — Paving the way in Washington for financing the site to be chosen for the northwest national home for disabled soldiers, the house of the Washington legislature yesterday passed, by a vote of 89 to 4, a bill permitting the county chosen for the site to incur an indebtedness of not more than $100,000 and authorizing the transfer of title to the United States.

Representatives Joseph E. Hall and George McCoy of Clark county, sponsored the bill.

Representative Hall said a similar law had been passed by Oregon and the establishment of the home would bring in a $100,000 payroll to the county in which it will be located. He explained that prior approval of the voters to incur such indebtedness would be required.

Two other bills and a memorial to congress were passed by the house during a one hour session.

Medford Mill Has Resumed Operation

MEDFORD, Ore., Feb. 10 (AP)—The Owen Oregon Lumber company mill here has resumed operations on a three-day-a-week basis. The mill was closed last December. Officials said increasing orders from eastern markets brought about the re-opening. No logging will be done until logs in the pond here and at the Butte Falls camp are used up.

Lopez Sentenced To Serve Fifteen Years

PENDLETON, Feb. 10 (AP) — Pedro Lopez, 19, convicted last week on a charge of manslaughter in connection with the killing last Dec. 6 of Vincente Lopez at Reith, was yesterday sentenced by Circuit Judge Alger Fee to serve 15 years in the state prison.

Washington Moves To Raze Chinatown Close To Capital

Creation of the municipal center in Washington's beautification program will mean the leveling of about 70 per cent of the Chinatown which lies almost at the edge of the capitol grounds.

WASHINGTON (AP) —Celebration of the Chinese New Year in the national capital on February 17 will be tinged with sadness.

Clinging for years like a mottled but colorful fringe to the very base of the capitol's marble stairs, Chinatown now faces dissolution. About seventy per cent of its area will be razed to make room for the new municipal senter which is part of the capital's beautification plan.

Chinatown's strip of mystery, with its latticed windows and dim, incense-laden interiors contrasting strangely with the grandeur of the capitol near by, has achieved national distinction.

Senators and representatives, intent of a brisk constitutional, have long swung by the temples and joss houses on their way down Pennsylvania avenue. Inaugural parades and funerals of noted men have had Chinatown for a setting.

But even in this American environment, Chinatown has kept its only entity, aloof and impenetrable behind mysterious doors.

The New Year's celebration will start about a week before February 17, and the Chinese will gather in these joss houses for the last time to pay homage to Confucius.

Where they will go once the hammers' ring drowns out that of the temple bells is a secret. Those who profess to know the oriental mind say they will seek another location close to the capitol.

Teachers Meet At Wallowa On 7th of February

By Mrs. C. A. Hunter
(Observer Correspondent)

WALLOWA, Ore. (Special) — A meeting of the Wallowa County Teachers association was held in Wallowa Saturday, Feb. 7, at the high school auditorium. The program started at 9:45 and continued throughout the day. The doors were open to the public and a cordial invitation was extended to everyone interested in what the schools are doing by Supt. O. F. Campbell, who had charge of local arrangements. Lunch was served during the noon hour by the Methodist Ladies aid at the M. E. church for the teachers.

Funeral services for Thomas Finley, pioneer resident of Wallowa county, who died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Aylgin Lloyd, in La Grande Wednesday, were held at the Christian church here Friday at one o'clock with Rev. Mr. Harriman in charge and interment in the Wallowa cemetery. William Thomas Finley was born in Henry county, Tennessee, Dec. 15, 1854 and died in La Grande at the age of 76 years, one month and 19 days. On Jan. 16, 1881, at Murray, Kentucky, he married Nancy Mallory and to this union were born eight children, five of whom are living. In March, 1903, Mr. Finley moved his family to Wallowa where he made his home for 27 years. He went to La Grande last April to make his home with his daughter. His wife died 20 years ago. The five surviving children are Mrs. Joe Crabtree, Mrs. Aylbine Lloyd, Elmo and Prent Finley, all of La Grande, and Mrs. Mary Rankin, of Island City. There are 15 grandchildren and one great-grandchild. Mr. Finley was an active member of the Christian church for 50 years, was a charter member of the Wallowa Christian church and an elder until his membership was transferred to La Grande. Mr. Finley had many friends here among old and young who will remember him for his kind and friendly manner.

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Albert Bratz, of Enterprise, at the Wallowa hospital Tuesday, Feb. 3. Mrs. Bratz was formerly Miss Clara Nolan of Lostine.

Word was received in Wallowa this week that Neil Cameron, former resident now living in Sherwood, Ore., is critically ill in a Portland hospital where he has undergone an operation for amputation of his toe and may have to have a leg removed, due to diabetes. Mr. and Mrs. Cameron ran the well known eating place known as the Cameron hotel here for about 20 years, coming to Wallowa when the Mimnaugh lumber mill first began operations. They sold their property and moved to the Portland suburb about seven years ago.

The Ladies aid of the Christian church met Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Joe Rousanville with Mrs. Monroe Roop assisting hostess. Thirty members of the society were present and an enjoyable afternoon was reported.

Mrs. F. F. McCully and Mrs. C. T. Daniels were joint hostesses to the Methodist Ladies aid Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. McCully. The meeting was well attended. Refreshments were served at the close of the business meeting.

The Ladies aid of the Presbyterian church met Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Max Cook. Twenty members from Wallowa and five visitors from Lostine were present. Following the business meeting and program, Mrs. Cook served delicious refreshments.

Mertin Peterson received a message from Cheyenne, Wyo., Tuesday stating that his mother, Mrs. August Peterson, had suffered a stroke and was sinking rapidly. He left on the afternoon stage to be at his mother's bedside.

Mr. and Mrs. August Peterson visited in Wallowa with their son and family eight years ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Ross Hood and W. F. Poole were La Grande visitors Thursday.

Mrs. J. Ward Evans was hostess at a bridge luncheon at her home Friday. Guests were Mrs. Barton Wade, Mrs. Fred Furst, Mrs. O. P. Campbell, Mrs. George Dale, Mrs. J. B. Gregory, Mrs. Bruce Cox, Mrs. Fred Jones and Mrs. C. A. Hunter. Mrs. Dale and Mrs. Cox received prizes for the high and low scores at bridge.

Herbert Reavis, of La Grande, spent Friday night in Wallowa visiting friends.

Mrs. Walter Maxwell, of Lewis, was brought to the Wallowa hospital Monday. Her condition is reported to be serious.

J. C. Flippin was in Wallowa transacting business Thursday from his farm at Troy. Mr. Flippin reports that there is still much snow in that locality.

Ray Knight, mailcarrier on the Enterprise, Flora route, left Tuesday for Phoenix, Ariz., to bring home Mrs. Knight who has spent the winter there for her health. Mrs. Knight was an invalid when she left Wallowa last October but has written that she feels fine and is anxious to get back home. The Knight family formerly lived in Wallowa where Mr. Knight carried mail between here and Troy.

Julius Sommer, of Walla Walla, Wash., was in Wallowa Wednesday in the interest of his life insurance business.

Income Tax Facts

NO. 8

Of the millions of taxpayers who will be required to file returns for the year 1930, the vast majority are entitled, in addition to the personal exemption of $3,500 for married persons and heads of families, $1,500 for single persons, and a $400 credit for each dependent, to a further credit of 25 per cent of the tax on the full amount of their earned net income.

Earned income is defined as "wages, salaries, professional fees and other amounts received as compensation for personal services actually rendered." However, all net income up to $5,000, whether actually earned or not, is considered earned income for the purpose of this credit. A taxpayer who, in 1930, received a salary of $4,000 and a profit from a real estate transaction, or other business venture, of $1,000 may treat the entire amount as earned income. When it is shown by statistics that out of a total of approximately 4,000,000 returns filed more than 3,000,000 reported incomes of between $3,000 and $5,000, the far-reaching benefit of this reduction is understood. Following is an example of how a single person with no dependents should compute his tax on a net income of $4,000:

Net income	$4,000.00
Less personal exemption	1,500.00
Balance taxable at 1½ per cent	2,500.00
1½ per cent	37.50
Less 25 per cent of $37.50, earned income credit	9.38
Balance of tax payable	28.12

The maximum amount that may be claimed as earned income is $30,000, although the taxpayer actually may have earned an amount in excess of that sum.

In Washington

By Herbert Plummer

WASHINGTON—Random notes in A Washington Daybook:

In northwest Washington, in a triangle enclosed by Massachusetts and Connecticut avenues and the deep, picturesque canyon of Rock creek, there is a hill.

It is known in city history as Kalorama hill, but it might be dubbed the Hill of Presidents.

There is the fine old mansion to which Woodrow Wilson went when he left the White House. It is on S street, which cuts over the rise from Massachusetts to Connecticut.

In the same block is the home of Herbert Hoover. He lived there while he was secretary of commerce and when he was president-elect.

And over toward the canyon side is the home where Warren Harding lived as a senator, and which he retained until after he entered the White House.

For the most part the homes that cluster on the hill are of moderate size and grounds. Probably the largest and most imposing is that of John Hays Hammond.

SHAKY

David Ingalls, assistant secretary of the navy for aeronautics, does a stunt when he is flying his own plane which causes even the nerviest of airmen to get a bit shaky.

He takes his hands off the controls and steers with his feet. More than one friend who has gone aloft with him when he pulled the stunt has come down with a prayer on his lips.

Navy fliers will tell you that the assistant secretary is one of the best aviators in the service. He is referred to everywhere in Washington as "the Flying Secretary."

Ingalls learned to fly, as a combat aviator in France during the world war. He uses trains and automobiles as little as possible. Practically all his service trips away from the capital are by air. And in his own ship he makes most of his journeys to and from his home state of Ohio.

DOUBLE KILLING

INDIANA, Penn., Feb. 10 (AP)—After killing his wife with a pick handle, Frank Verhovcek, 42, went to the cellar of their home at Coy, a mining village, and killed himself with a charge of dynamite Sunday night. His body was blown to bits.

The killings are believed a result of domestic troubles.

Al Smith is in the fortunate position of being able to "feel sorry" for Herb Hoover instead of for himself.
