Butter Market Turns Dragg; Prices Hold Up

PORTLAND, Mar. 5 (AP)—Portland wholesale fresh produce prices opened at prices around steady today. Butter and egg quotations were unchanged.

Some of the egg market strengthened to about steady with increased demand evident to absorb a large proportion of the continued liberal receipts. Some eggs moved into storage.

Butter market, on the other hand, turned dragg with prices shaded off $2 score cubes, offered freely. Receipts were more than ample.

Conditions in the fresh fruit and vegetable trade, notably mounting cauliflower supplies, were reported by the government news service as follows:

Roseburg cauliflower is now almost monopolizing the Portland market with another carlot receipt today, in addition to several hundred crates by motor-truck. Loadings are increasing daily, and the peak of the season will soon be reached. The market is about steady.

Asparagus dropped again today, with best California grass moving to retailers at 20c per lb. Small sizes sold at about 17c.

The potato trade is very unsettled. Sales of Notted Grains are almost too few to establish values; and trading in local Burbanks is also limited, on the wholesale market. Retailer stocks are mostly originating in smaller fruit-stands and jobbing houses, and direct from nearby producers.

Brydges Wins Derby With Crippled Dogs

THE PAS, Mar. 5 (AP)—Earl Brydges, youthful Cranberry Springs musher, yesterday staggered across the finish line to win the 200-mile non-stop dog derby for the second consecutive year. His time was 26 hours, 30 minutes and 20 seconds for the trying course, which at some places was snowed. Hatless and coatless Brydges finished the long grind with four dogs in his sled and the others crippled from the trying journey to Fin Fin and back. While far behind the record of a little more than 23 hours, established by Shorty Russick in 1924, Brydges' time yesterday was remarkable when the condition of the trail was taken into consideration. The victory carried a prize of $1,200 in cash and the Walter Gove trophy. Brydges, with eight other drivers, started the stamina testing drive to the North Manitoa mining camp and back at 10:40 a. m. Tuesday. Shorty Russick, veteran of many a mushing event, finished second in the long grind, 18 minutes back of the youthful winner. MRS. THOMPSON PASSES AWAY AT WALLOWA

By Mrs. Bertha Carper (Observer Correspondent)

PROMISE, Ore. (Special)—Aunt Julia Thompson died at her home in Wallowa Sunday. She lived for several years in Promise and had many friends here who mourn her passing. Grass is starting nicely on the canyon and some stock have been turned out to graze.

Howard and Harold Carper were sawing wood for Walter Carper Monday.

Farmers Insist On Having Blue Shirts

CHICAGO, Mar. 5 (AP)—The boys down on the farm are getting fastidious about the clothes they wear while mowing hay and threshing wheat.

I. Eller of New Orleans, a manufacturer, talked about this before the convention of the International Garment Makers' association.

"In the old days," he said, speaking of shirts, "the farm lads would accept any color, brown or gray, just so they would cover their backs, but now all they want is blue."

He said they liked blue because it doesn't show grease so much.

Dick Galloway in Wallowa.

John Carper went to Wallowa Monday on business.

C. P. Carper cut a large tamarack tree on his place a few days ago, which made 416 posts and eight ficks of 20-inch wood. Mr. Carper has a nice lot of wood sawed and also quite a number of posts made.

Harold Carper came in from La Grande Saturday and is visiting his brother Howard Carper.

C. E. Gerbitt has built a large pen in which he intends to keep his turkey hens while they lay and set, as he lost too many young turkeys last year.

Ivan Garrett and Edgar Barton left Sunday evening for Bates, Ore., where they expect to cut logs.

Mrs. Gladys Carper and baby, Barbara and Edna Roby, visited their father, C. E. Roby, and brother, Clarence Roby, Sunday at their camp at the old Cox place. They are cutting wood.

Maurice Teel took two horses loaded with household goods to the De Jean place across the river Monday. He went via the trail below the C. P. Carper place and focused the river. He returned the same day.

Charlie Moore and Earl Williams drove about 30 head of yearling lambs across the canyon to the Powwaka bridge Sunday and put them with some of Erna Worthington's sheep.

Mrs. Maude Haney of Caldwell, came in Saturday for an extended stay with her daughter, Mrs. Evelyn Moore. Her husband, Audrey Haney, brought her to Wallowa in their car.

She came on to Maxville by stage. Charlie Moore met her at Maxville and brought her on to his home.

Mr. and Mrs. Everett Hesse returned to their home in Maxville Wednesday after spending three days visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Teel.

Mrs. Alice Smith went to Maxville Wednesday and intended to go on to Enterprise the next day to stay with her son-in-law, Ole Poulsen, and two grandchildren, Glenn and Kethleen, while their mother is visiting here.

Mr. and Mrs. David Garrett and Ivan Garrett spent Saturday at the C. P. Carper home. Mr. Carper was butchering and David and Ivan were helping. They butchered one hog that dressed 350 pounds.
