Argentina Jumpy With Bad Nerves After Revolution

BUENOS AIRES (AP) — Their first revolution in 40 years has left the Argentinians with a collective case of nerves that makes them easy prey to disquieting rumors.

Newspapers repeatedly have cautioned the public against accepting unverified reports. They have charged that many rumors have been started by sympathizers of the deposed Yrigoyen regime in a sort of whispering campaign for his restoration to power.

Reports of possible political trouble of an undefined nature are frequent, but die away when nothing happens.

Dramatic demonstration of the speed of these rumors came one night when word started circulating that the capital's water supply had been poisoned. Soon it was being told that scores were dead in one section of the city, and that many were suffering elsewhere.

Radio listeners said they had received the report over the air. That started officials looking for an unauthorized station. The report also spread by telephone, and the newspapers received hundreds of calls.

Sales of drinks were affected in the cafes. Customers avoided anything supposed to contain city water, such as coffee and milk. There was a big run on bottled goods until the morning newspapers appeared with data showing how ridiculous was the report.

Brisk Upturn In Wall Street As Week Is Closed

NEW YORK, Mar. 7 (AP) —The stock market ended a week of sharp declines today with a brisk upturn, and bears took their profits and bulls generated a fresh current of enthusiasm in the electric power issues.

The market again reflected little save the churning about of prices by professional traders. The weekend brought a distinctly encouraging new item, however, reporting that steel mill activity in the Youngstown area next week will be back to 50 per cent of capacity, after slipping down a couple of points from that level this week. Stocks closed 1 to more than 5 points higher.

The persistent bullish activity in the utility shares this week, even in the face of unfavorable market conditions, apparently reflects determination on the part of utility interests to make hay while the sun shines, and the sun shines for them primarily with congress out of session. Various projects involving mergers and financing are slated for completion before the legislators again convene.

United Corp., the Morgan-Bonbright issue, was pushed up 2 points in heavy trading. American Water Works, Public Service of N. J., and Standard Gas made similar gains, and International Telephone and American and Foreign Power were sent up 3 points.

Although this has been a week of much unpleasant dividend and corporate earnings news, at least two reports published today were regarded as distinctly satisfactory. Radio Keith rose 2 points, in response to its 1930 report, showing net income more than twice that of 1929. J. I. Case, despite the agricultural situation, was able to show $9.62 a share, and the stock rose 2 points.

Trading was in large volume in the last half hour, as repurchasing by shorts became rather urgent. Transactions for the two hour session aggregated 1,600,000 shares.

Six Freewater Prune Growers' Officials Held

PORTLAND, Ore., Mar. 7 (AP) — The president, general manager and four directors of the Freewater, Ore., Prune Growers Cooperative association were at liberty today under $500 bond each posted after their arrest Thursday for alleged failure to make true and accurate returns to growers from prune sales during the 1929 shipping season.

Those arrested, as reported here yesterday by United States Deputy Marshal Roy R. Knox, who made the arrests, were Harry Graham, president; E. J. Davis, general manager; L. H. Reineman, F. E. Wilcox, H. C. Yates, and H. R. Van Slyke, directors. All live in the Milton-Freewater district. Knox said a citation also was served upon the association as a defendant.

Department of agriculture investigators had gathered information against the men during the past year. The information was filed with John W. McCulloch, assistant United States district attorney. The alleged offenses are only misdemeanors and no indictments were asked by the district attorney's office.

The information alleges that in 1929 the association, engaged in a commission business, received prunes from Freewater growers under an agreement to pack, sell and ship them at cost. In so doing, it charges, the association withheld from each grower's share of the proceeds a proportionate cost of equipment cost. This, the government alleges, was in violation of an act passed by congress in 1927 designed to protect growers from incorrect accounting by commission merchants.

Penalty for conviction of the charges is a fine of $100 to $3000 and jail terms of not more than one year.

The government will attempt to have the case tried at Pendleton during the federal term of court beginning April 7.

WOOL MARKET

BOSTON, Mar. 7. (AP) — Movement of wool was somewhat slower than during previous week. Nevertheless there was a fair volume of wool sold and the outlet was quite broad. Finer grades of western grown wools continued to be the most active. Prices on 58-60's and finer grades of domestic wools were steady but irregular and slightly easier on 56's and lower quality.

BRITISH BUY BELGIAN BRICK

BUTTER OPENS FIRMER TODAY IN PORTLAND

PORTLAND, Mar. 7 (AP) — Portland wholesale butter market opened firmer today with receipts lighter and demand better, specially for 89-92 score.

Egg market remained weak. Receipts were in excess of demand and included many off grade eggs. Retailers buying direct from producers was an unsettling factor.

Both butter and egg quotations were unchanged.

Conditions in the fresh fruit and vegetable trade were reported by the government market news service as follows:

Roseburg's cauliflower harvest is delayed by very cool nights, following the favorable warm weather of last week. Consequently, heaviest shipments will probably not materialize for a week yet. California's cauliflower loadings continue heavy, with an occasional load shipped to the Northwest; meanwhile, some of Roseburg's movement is being sold in the middle-west, with that district offering a premium over local markets.

Local spinach is arriving in heavier volume, with quality equal to all outside offerings. As a result, there is lighter demand for Walla Walla and California spinach, and an active movement of local stock at prices as high as $1.00 per 20-lb. box.

STRANGE TRIBE FOUND ON ISLAND

The average height of the male is six feet. They hate white people beyond all reason. Colonel Masturzi says that several years ago an expedition sent to the island captured two boys who were taken to Mermocloo and educated in the hope that when they returned to Tiburon they would begin the process of civilization there, but when the youths returned they were promptly killed.

Buy Their Brides

When a girl reaches maturity there is a grand celebration to advertise her readiness for marriage. Her father then accepts bids, which range from 100 to 150 pesos (between $50 and $75) depending upon the girl's beauty. The youthful males, who for the most part are pearl divers, have to work long and hard to collect that much money to pay for their bride.

There is no water on the island, and the tribesmen have to tap a water-giving cactus in order to drink. They have an amazing love of gambling, games on the seashore sometimes continuing for days during which time a loser often gambles away even his wife's shoes. The favorite game is called "Yaceoucansha" and is nothing more than a form of the old shell game. Four hollow stalks are used, a bean being placed in one, the idea being to pick the three empty stalks.

Sun and Moon Worshipped

According to the Italian there is a tribe doctor who determines which of the offspring should live, only the hale and hearty babies being left to survive. Both the sun and moon are worshipped and the people revere the pelican and tortoise. The pelican skin is dried and used for gala attire at periodical cerebrations. At each new moon sea shells are filled with a native liquor and left on the beach, the fermented drink being used in an orgais celebration.

One white man has gained their friendship, a Mr. Thompson who lives at Bahia Kina, on the Gulf of California. He escorted Masturzi and Mme. Titayna to the island and persuaded the Indians to allow them to remain eight days, during which time they traded tobacco and water in return for information.

Harmonica Band From Imbler In Short Concert

By Mrs. L. Z. Terrall
(Observer Correspondent)

UNION (Special)—The second day of the tournament brought out gratifying crowds throughout the day. Special mention is due the youthful members of the harmonica club from Imbler, who entertained with several selections between games in the afternoon. A dozen boys and girls played their mouth organs in perfect harmony much to the pleasure of the audience.

The afternoon program of the Women's club Thursday, opened with a group of songs sung by Mrs. Helene Stearns in which she played her own accompaniment. She sang beautifully the Serenade by Tocelli, "Londonderry Air" and "Annie Laurie." Following her music Mrs. Walter Pierce talked to a good-sized audience on the subject of "State Government." She expressed the hope that the women of the state would become sufficiently interested in affairs of the state to take up a regular course of study on state government, in the various clubs. She spoke briefly of the work of the state board of higher education of which she has recently been made a member. She gave some elightening information on the practice of lobbying in the legislature and surprised her audience by telling them that there were six thousand people on the pay roll of the state. She made her subject one of deep interest to her audience. On behalf of the club Mrs. G. F. Hall presented her with a lovely bouquet of snap dragons, carnations and pussy willows. A dainty lunch was served by the hostesses and a social hour was enjoyed together.

The members of the Needlecraft club were pleasantly entertained at the home of Mrs. Ray Gipson Wednesday afternoon. At each meeting a contest of some kind is a part of the program. Mrs. Fred Brown won the prize for guessing 28 out of 35 articles used in a memory test, Mrs. Cecil Griggs won the consolation. The hostess served a two-course luncheon at the close of the meeting.

COVE PERSONALS

By Mrs. J. R. Price
(Observer Correspondent)

COVE, Ore., (Special)—Mrs. E. C. Rees was happily surprised at the arrival of her sister, Mrs. Emma Neely, of Portland, who is now visiting her.

Mrs. Marvin Blake, of La Grande, spent Thursday night with Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Hallmark. Mr. and Mrs. Blake were at the Eastern Oregon Light and Power plant above Cove until about two years ago when they moved to La Grande.

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Lund, who have spent the winter in Phoenix, Ariz., with their son, Herman, returned to Cove Friday. They arrived in Portland Sunday and since then have been visiting with relatives and friends in that city.

At the regular meeting of the Koda-Iwa Camp Fire Girls Thursday evening committees were appointed and plans made for a basket social to be held in the Cove gym March 14. The girls hope to have a good attendance as they are trying to raise funds to help furnish their new Camp Fire home and also for running expenses. Because the room which is to be used for a meeting place was not yet in order, the girls met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. O. M. Gardner. Katherine and Eleanor Davis, Mar Gardner's daughters, served refreshments to the group and the two guardians, Miss Hileman and Miss Thelma Anderson.

Mrs. Chris Bertsch and son, Clarence, with the help of Mr. Udell and Dave Lloid, cleaned the stove pipe in the library which finished the cleaning of the library building for the spring.

It is underatood that the La Grande armory project will still hold its first-place position in the state and another attempt may be made in two years.

TROPIC BREEZ CAPTURED TO "REFRIGERATE" HOTEL

BARRANQUILLA, Colombia (AP) — American architects have captured the steady wind of the Caribean sea and with it changed the temperature in a new hotel here to that of springtime in the middle west.

That is the kind of climate which prevails in the Hotel del Prado, designed to overcome the heat which makes most dwellings here uninhabitable by newcomers.

The four-story building has a center section and three wings, shaped like a great funnel opening to the Northeast. A constant wind blows off the ocean South-Southwest, sometimes strong enough to push chairs across the marble floors.

All the rooms face the breeze and the temperature inside the building is 20 degrees lower than outside.

RUIN THREATENS FAMOUS AUSTRALIAN MINING CAMP

ADELAIDE (AP) — Broken Hill, the mining town which has contributed much to Australian wealth and history, is faced with disaster.

Silver-lead miners have refused a five per cent cut in wages, which mine-owners say would permit them to operate until world metal prices rise. Now it is feared that Broken Hill may become only another played-out camp.

Only four mines are operating, thousands of miners are unemployed and the closure of the remaining mines, townspeople say, would ruin the city.

STICKS TO HIS GUN

FINALMARINA, Italy (AP) — An old cannon was fished from the sea here with fragments of human bones clinging to it. It is thought that a gunner was blown up with the piece when the British bombarded a fort here in 1745.

BURNS PEST HOUSE

FUNCHAL, Island of Madeira (AP) — Because for several years every tenant of his house had died of tuberculosis, Antonio Pinto set fire to his property, explaining it was "a hopeless plague spot."

Officials at all games were: R. C. Caccia and Al French, alternating as referee and umpire; timer, William Peare; scorer, Nolan Skiff.

The crowds were very large yesterday, with extra chairs required during the evening games to accomodate the great turnout.

The harmonica band from Imbler delighted the crowd during the day with three numbers. The band is composed of a group of grade school youngsters.

Today an award will be made to the most sportsmanlike player on the floor, and this evening the referees will select an annual all-star team, which will be printed in Monday's Observer.

BACKGAMMON

The game of Backgammon is fast becoming the popular game of the country. It is by far the most interesting game for two people to play that has ever been introduced. It combines both the elements of science and chance into the game with a fascination in the moving of the checkers which is equal to chess. It is not limited as was Mah Jong. Backgammon sets of all prices and style will now be found at Richardson's Art and Gift Shop. They will be glad to answer your questions concerning these sets and the rules of the game.
