YANKS' CASE IS NOT SO CERTAIN

Expensive Athletes, Battering Punch, but Problems are Present.

By Alan Gould
ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 13 (AP)—The New York Yankees still have the most expensive roster in baseball and the batting punch sustained to terrify most pitching talent. They still have spectacular appeal. Observers who remain open to argument and it is just a wild guess where they will finish in this year's American league race. They were third in 1929.

Marse Joe McCarthy, late of the Cubs, now undertaking at least a two year term as manager, has inherited an assortment of great ball players led by Babe Ruth, a flock of pitchers of all sizes and capabilities, plus a few choice problems. If he's worried about them, Marse Joe doesn't manifest it.

Still shuffling
The Yankees have flourished since the death of Miller Huggins. In Ruth and Combs of the outfield, Gehrig and Lazzeri of the infield they still have the main cogs of Huggins' late championship club. Otherwise the shuffling process is still on.

This early in the training program, it appears the veteran Joe Sewell, long one of the greatest American league infielders with Cleveland, may solve McCarthy's infield puzzle. The Alabamian has shown great form at bat and field. If he fits in at third, the infield will be rounded out with Tony Lazzeri at second, Lynn Lary at short and Lou Gehrig at first. If not, Lazzeri will cover third and Ben Chapman receive the assignment at second base.

The only debatable outfield post is left field. Alton (Dusty) Cooke, if he has found himself, will get the call. But he will have to outdist and outmuscle Sammy Byrd, one of the few ball players who can beat Babe Ruth at golf. Myril Hoag, the Sacramento recruit, can hit but does not yet seem ready for a regular post.

One Man Ruth himself admits that at 224 pounds he is in grand condition, ready for a big year. He looks it and he is hitting the new and supposedly less lively ball with all his accustomed vehemence. Center field belongs to the Kentucky colonial, Eddi Combs.

With Bill Dickey as backstop-in-chief, the Yankees have at least an regular capable of hitting well over the 500 mark.

Pitching is worrying the experts more than McCarthy, although George Fippas, war right hander, will not be recovered sufficiently from an appendicitis operation to start the season.

"Why should we worry?" responded Joe. "We have a great right hander in Charley Buffing and another in Fippas, who will be ready early in the season. We have two seasoned left handers in Ed Wells and Bert Pennock, another good southpaw in Vernon Gibson."

The Twisting Problem
The twisting problem seems to center around Gordon Rhodes, up again from Hollywood, Big Roy Sherrill and Henry Johnson. These three right handers all have had experience; if they settle down and produce consistently, the club's pitching should be the best in years.

With the veteran Cy Perkins possibly catching, a third string backstop will be picked from Arnot Johnson, Bill Karlan and Tom Padden. Jimmy Rouse will remain an infield reserve but Bill Werber, ex-college shortstop, probably will get another year's seasoning.

Training Camp News Of Today

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 13 (AP)—Bill McChesney's beginning to wonder when the Yankees are going to stop. If it isn't the Yankees it's the Cardinals and the Braves' manager is getting kind of sick of seeing his trapezoid get around.

Yesterday's game was marked by one bright spot so far as the trapezoid was concerned — Wes Schulmerich's batting. Wes, former Oregon State football star, drove in four of the six Braves runs.

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., March 13 (AP)—John McGraw, thinking of opening up a new hospital to take care of his long list of ailing New York Giants.

The scandals now include Lebbe and Leach, cold; Schumacher, lame ankle; Dunning, torn finger nail; Kuchberg, blunder on foot. But all the news has not been bad. Bill Terry has signed his contract.

BOY SPRINGS, Ark., March 13 (AP)—Scurry says to locate by the sound of his voice, Art Shupe, a manager—or at least the management of the Milwaukee Brewers can't find him. The "Great Cook" pressure here has been berated daily for week. But so far he has failed to put in appearance for spring training.

President Louis Mahlin decided last night Shupe had delayed his appearance long enough and sent out a tracer in the form of a telegram. It came back undelivered.

Shupe—if he shows up—is expected to play first base for the Brewers.

Keep Mat Game For Wrestlers, Is Urge

PHILADELPHIA, March 13 (AP)—Ray Fabiani, Boston and Philadelphia wrestling promoter, made a plea today to keep wrestling for the wrestlers. "Curt-type promoters who support athletes from other sports are a serious threat to the game, he said.

"Now that professional wrestling is profitable and drawing record crowds all over the country and a new and better type of man is going into it from the competitive side," Fabiani said in a formal statement, "there are many new promoters rushing in to it."

"They know little or nothing about wrestling or wrestling so they get football players like Joe Barrows, Gus Sonnenberg, Ed George and Tex Hamer and boxers like Carnera and Curley Gray and try to make a circus out of it."

"So surely as athletic commissions in the various states permit them to do this, so surely will the public abandon it as quickly as it has taken it up."

"Bringing every Tom, Dick and Harry into the wrestling game because he had starred in some other sport eventually will drive the fans away. They go to football to see gridiron stars and to prize fights to see boxers. When they go to wrestling matches they want to see wrestlers."

Baker Natatorium Report Is Given

BAKER, Ore., Mar. 13—Consideration of the nat as a possible junior high school building was reported by Mayor Bert Harvey and the school board after an estimate submitted by C. B. Miller, La Grande architect, showed a cost of $250,000 for remodeling the building to provide a gym, stage, opera seats and eight school rooms. If and when a new school is provided, the 18 rooms will be needed. Superintendent Hugh Coleman said, so the use of the nat as a school was regarded as out of the question. Mayor Harvey, who made the original suggestion, concurred. Use of the nat as a gym will be studied for another month before a decision is reached.

UNION PERSONALS

By Mrs. L. Z. Terrall (Observer Correspondent)
UNION (Special) — The contemporary literature group of the A. A. U. E. held an interesting meeting at the home of Mrs. Hal Rees Tuesday evening with 11 members present. Miss Helen Schaper gave a review of the romance of the Navajo Indian youth Laughing Boy and the Indian girl, "Sittin' Girl" as told by La Farge in his "Laughing Boy." The chief interest in the story is the charming style in which it is written. Mrs. Will Campbell gave an outline of Joseph Lincoln's new book "Blowing Glass" and Mrs. Rees told the story of Willa Cather's "The Lost Lady." The story of prison life in Russia as depicted by Dostoffsky in his book, "The House of the Dead," was told by Mrs. Cecil Griggs.

Two new books have been put on the library shelves this week—Zane Grey's "Sunset Pass" and Warwick Deering's "The Bridge of Desire." These are both late books.

The members of the Needle club met at the home of Mrs. Cecil Griggs dianapolis, and set the body afire in the automobile.

The state contended Schroeder intended it to be assumed he himself died in the fire, so he could resume his life under another name. Testimony of a deputy coroner tended to show the victim was stabbed before his body was burned, and former Sheriff Winkler said Schroeder admitted the hitch-hiker moaned just before he set fire to the body.

Tommy Loughran To Meet Ernie Schaaf

NEW YORK, March 13 (AP)—To the superstitious Tommy Loughran, Philadelphia dancing master, seems to be attempting a little too much in his ten round battle with Ernie Schaaf, rugged Boston heavyweight, in Madison Square Garden tonight.
In the first place, Loughran's voice has been beaten by Schaaf; in the second, it's Friday the thirteenth, and in the third, Tommy's the betting favorite. The faithful shudder every time they think what's happened to favorites at the garden this year.

But the one-time light heavy-weight champion of the world is not worrying. He turned in one of the finest boxing performances of his career in outpointing Max Baer at the Garden recently.
