Inspiring Series Of Services Mark Advent of Easter

Union Meetings Planned By Ministerial Association to be Held at Various Churches.

Palm Sunday ushers in Holy Week which will be observed in all of La Grande's Protestant churches next week, beginning March 30, and many of the social events are going on to the services. The ministers are emphasizing the necessity of every community to give sufficient attention to its religious life and services have been planned for every night in the week, each service being held in a different church and conducted by the members of the ministerial association. The full program will be announced later.

The association is making an especially appealing appeal to those who have given little thought to their religious needs. In the services they will be given opportunity to contribute to the religious life of the community, the members of the association point out.

The ministers hope that many who do not now attend any church will take this opportunity of making an investigation when they will have the opportunity of visiting every church and hearing every pastor in the city throughout the week, and then take an active interest in one of them. There will be opportunity given at each service for those who wish to do so to signify their desire to affiliate with the church of their choice, the ministers add.

Special Palm Sunday services are being planned for each of the churches, with the season of religious meditation ending in interesting and beautiful Easter services on Sunday, April 5.

First Methodist Church

Fourth street and Spring avenue
The last Sunday services before the anniversary of the crucifixion of our Lord, planned to introduce Holy Week services of meditation, will be held at the Methodist church on Sunday with Rev. W. H. Hertzog addressing the congregation at the 11 o'clock worship on the theme, "The Christian's Perspective," at the evening service at 7:30 on the subject, "The Vantage Point for Vision."

First Presbyterian Church

Washington and Sixth streets
In announcing his sermon topic for Sunday morning at 11 o'clock, "Christ Enters Our Hearts," J. George Walz, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, says, "The idea of Jesus are sunbeams. When they fall full and free upon the heart of humanity they are like the rays of spring upon winter's dark and icy lands." Special Palm Sunday services will be observed, with Mrs. Harley Richardson playing the numbers on Mrs. A. L. Richardson and the Triad choir will sing the beautiful anthem, "Jerusalem," by Parker, with an incidental song by Mrs. S. B. Morgan, Miss Ruth Gebel will sing as solo, "Palm Branches," by Fauré.

The evening message at 7:30, "Christ's Triumphant Entrance into Jerusalem," will be given by the minister, and Miss Gladys Miller will play the service.

At 9:45 Sunday morning the Sunday Bible school, S. B. Morgan, superintendent, will open with a worship period, during which the orchestra will play. The men's Bible class begins its study at 10 o'clock, and Christian Endeavor begins promptly at 6:30 and offers an inspiring service for young people.

Island City Community Church

"Decision Day" will be observed in both the morning and evening services next Sunday at the Island City Community church. "The Incomparable Speaker," is the subject which the pastor has chosen for the 11 o'clock worship hour.

Hymns of Fannie J. Crosby will be used in the devotional services beginning at 7:30 and the sermon story will be, "Barthelemy." Miss Beulah Prouty is the leader for the Epworth League service, beginning at 8:30.

Baptist Church

Spring avenue and Sixth
Two interesting sermons have been planned by B. Marcus Godwin, pastor of the Baptist church, for the Sunday services. At the morning hour, 11 o'clock, he will use as his subject, "Vox Populi, Vox Dei," and the evening hour, "Better Than Gold." Special music will accompany the addresses both in the morning and in the evening.

Miss Beulah Prouty will be the leader for the young people's meeting at 6:30, using as the subject, "Why Christ is a Worthy Master." The evening service at 7:30 will be no prayer meeting service at the Baptist church, the pastor announces, and urges everyone to attend the evening service, the object of which is to win decisions for Christ.

St. Peter's Episcopal

Fourth and G streets
Sunday is Palm Sunday and the beginning of Holy Week, at which time St. Peter's congregation will celebrate Christ's triumphal entry into Jerusalem after the conclusion of His ministry and the beginning of one of the most eventful, tragic, and beneficent weeks in any life in human history, M. G. Tennyson, rector, states.

Sunday services in St. Peter's church are as follows: Holy Communion, Palm Sunday, 8 a. m., Holy Communion, 9:45 a. m., church school, Mrs. G. N. Tarkington directing the services for the first time since her return to La Grande, and at this time the children will receive their Palm crosses.

Much as the Holy Communion, which will be devoted to observing Palm Sunday, the choir singing and Mrs. H. N. Ashby playing the service. A special solo, "The Palms," will be presented, the annual thank offering will be received, and Palm crosses will be distributed.

Holy Communion, except Friday and Saturday, at 9 a. m., and union services at 7:30 Thursday evening. Thursday is Maundy Thursday and is the custom there will be a communion service at 9 a. m., following the union service in celebration of the first communion. A three-hour service will be held from 12 to 3 p. m. on Good Friday, Saturday will be devoted entirely to holy baptism.

Central Church of Christ

Palm Sunday at the Central Church of Christ will be featured with special music, praise and prayer. In commemoration of Christ's triumphal entry into Jerusalem, the pastor, Rev. Paul De F. Mortimer, will use for the sermon topic, "The King of Kings." The choir will sing, "The Lord Reigneth," by Charles Gabriel. Mrs. Manley Arant will sing Fauré's famous song, "The Palms." This service will be at 11 a. m.

At 6:30 p. m. the Christian Endeavor and adult prayer meetings assemble for a brief song and praise service before retiring to their special rooms for individual prayer and meditation. Four groups meet at this hour.

At 7:30 p. m. the evening service will begin with the singing of well known hymns. Following the popular song service, the pastor will preach, using the subject, "God's Unspeaking Gift." There will be special musical numbers at this service.

The church school meets at 9:45 a. m. Splendid growth has been noted in the school this spring, and it is expected that there will be over 300 in attendance by Easter. The church invites all who will to take advantage of the facilities provided for the study of the Bible in this school, the pastor says. A large group of teachers will complete the first part of this year's training class in two weeks. Miss Dorothy Smute is superintendent of the school.

First Church of Christ, Scientist

First street at Washington
Services will be held Sunday at 11 a. m. and 8 p. m. at First Church of Christ, Scientist.

"Reality" will be the subject of the lesson-lesson in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on March 29. The Golden Text will be, "As the earth bringeth forth her bud, and as the garden causeth the things that are sown in it to spring forth; so the Lord God will cause righteousness and praise to spring forth before all the nations." (Isa. 61:11).

Among the citations which will comprise the lesson-lesson will be the following from the Bible: "And beside this, giving all diligence, add to your faith virtue, knowledge, temperance, and patience, brotherly kindness, and charity." (II Pet. 1:5).

The lesson-lesson will also include the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "The term Science, properly understood, refers to the laws of God and to His government of the universe, inclusive of man. . . . A knowledge of the Science of being develops the latent abilities and possibilities of man. It extends the atmosphere of thought, giving mortals access to broader and higher realms. It raises the mind into the sphere of spirit, and bestows the power of vision and perspicacity." (p. 128).

Sunday school is held at 9:45 o'clock for pupils up to the age of 20 years.

The Wednesday evening service, which includes testimonies of healing, is at 8 o'clock.

The reading room in the West-Jacobson building is open every day except Sundays and legal holidays from one to 4:30 o'clock.

Zion Lutheran Church

M avenue between 3rd and 4th
Rev. P. E. Basler, of Seattle, will again address the congregation of the Lutheran church at the Sunday morning services at 11 o'clock. Sunday school will begin at 9:45.

The pastor in his message will refer to the subject, "The Christian's Perspective," which Miss Mildred Dodge will read the Luther League at 7 o'clock.

The Gospel Mission

2301 North Fir street
Sunday at the Gospel Mission will be a busy day with Sunday school at 9:45 starting the day's services. Morning services of worship will follow at 11, and the evening service of evangelism is to be held at 7:30. In this service the message will be, "If Jesus Should Come to the City of La Grande on Sunday Night."

Week night services are to be held at 7:30 Tuesday and Friday nights. Young People's services, held each Sunday night at 8:45, have shown an astounding growth and the church is proud of the growth of the Young People's band in the last few weeks. Lester J. Carlson, pastor, states. They are called, "The Christ Ambassadors," and extend an invitation to all to attend.

A Gospel band has been organized and holds services at Union every Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

The Garden

ORNAMENTAL VEGETABLE GARDENING

Fitting the vegetable garden into the decorative grounds as part of its integral scheme of beauty will do more in this era of ornamental gardening to develop this highly useful phase of horticulture than any other factor.

Vegetable gardens have been abandoned, particularly in small places, because of their ragged and unkempt appearance from midsummer on. This is entirely unnecessary and if through force of circumstances it is a condition that seems bound to prevail, it need not deter anybody from having a vegetable garden because setting off the vegetable garden by attractive and concealing boundaries makes it a more beautiful part of the home yard or grounds.

First of all it may be enclosed with shrubbery that will conceal it as the season advances. It may be surrounded with an ornamental fence of some type, to be draped with flowering or even perennial woody vines.

It may be made a combination vegetable and cutting flower garden in such proportion that the color of the blooming annuals takes attention away from maturing vegetable crops. The most important of all, the vegetable garden given the care for ornamental purposes that is given the flower garden will go a long way to solve the problem. The beds should be laid out according to a planned design if ornamentation is to be taken into consideration. This is especially necessary when it is not possible to have containing boundaries. Paths neatly kept with vegetables of ornamental quality such as parsley, chives and sage, or other useful herbs, may be employed to edge the different patches of vegetables.

Borders of low growing bright colored annuals may readily be used to serve the same purpose. An ornamental gateway leading into the vegetable garden from the rest of the premises starts the ornamental idea of right. Shrubbery leading up to an ornamental archway, or a neatly trimmed hedge, will make the vegetable garden a focus of attention.

NYCTALOPA

Nyctalopia is not an animal like the guru brought into fame by the crossword puzzle. It is the name of a disease which in more common language is called night blindness.

The first sign of nyctalopia, in which objects seen clearly during the day or by strong artificial light become invisible in the shade, twilight or at night, is the fault, of course, is not in the object, nor in the light that falls upon them, but in the perceiving eye.

Ten years or so ago this condition was described in Oler's system of medicine as a functional anomaly of vision which rarely comes under the notice of the physician. It was observed, however, that it may occur in epidemic form.

This condition was known in the days of Hippocrates, for we not only find him describing it, but also completely prescribing for it. His remedy was liver.

In recent years, since so much study has been centered on vitamin in its connection with night blindness is associated with a diet deficient in vitamin A. The vitamin is found most abundantly in milk, butter, egg yolk and spinach.

The marked lack of this vitamin in the diet leads to the development of a disease known as xerophthalmia. In this disease the eyes become so swollen that they are opened with difficulty or not at all. Unless vitamin A is supplied in the dietary, blindness follows.

The injury following the absence in the diet of this vitamin is not confined to the eye. It has been experimentally shown in the laboratory that animals fed on a diet deficient in vitamin A are more than ordinarily susceptible to infection, particularly of the respiratory tract. This has also been noted in humans.
