Boone Returns From Meeting of State Chamber

After attending the annual sectional short course at the University of Oregon March 23, 24 and 25 at Eugene, and the annual meeting of the state chamber of commerce in Portland, Harold Boone, secretary of the Union county chamber, returned yesterday with a host of new ideas on the chamber of commerce work in the community, membership drives, policy, publicity and many other aspects of community development.

Chief among the topics of discussion at Eugene was the boosting of Oregon made products for sale, not because of their place of manufacture, but because of their good quality. Mr. Boone states, "Factors in merchandising Oregon products as home markets for home folks were among the interesting phases of the Oregon products question."

The "On-to-Oregon" campaign which has been underway for some time, and which, by national advertising in large magazines of nationwide distribution, is directing people to Oregon by exploiting its scenic beauties, also came in for its share of comment and discussion at the meeting.

Other interesting questions which were discussed were aviation as an advertising medium for the chamber, agriculture and its place on the chamber program, as well as matters pertaining solely to matters of chamber policy and development.

After leaving Eugene, where he was elected a director, Mr. Boone attended the annual meeting of the Oregon state chamber of commerce, at which Hugh E. Brady was elected one of the directors for the coming year.

Tea in Vacuum just like your coffee. It is just as necessary for tea as it is for coffee. The U. S. Government Tea Examiners have urged it, and Schilling has discovered how to do it. The most delightful flavor of tea has always evaporated long before it could reach you in an ordinary tin or cardboard box. There was no way to prevent it. But now Schilling has discovered how to keep tea fresh and fragrant in vacuum just like your coffee. Fragrant flavors you never before tasted in tea. FRESH Schilling TEA. 56 STORES C.J. Breier Co.
