By Mrs. A. G. Conklin (Observer Correspondent)
 COVE, Ore. (Special)
 Cove was hostess to the executive members of the Baptist Missionary association of Grande Ronde at the hotel Wednesday afternoon. This includes Burns, Ontario, Haines, Baker, La Grande and Cove. All the districts were represented except Burns who found it impossible to be here. Among those present were Mrs. Happersett, of La Grande, president of the association, Mrs. Guy Smith, association director of Haines, Mrs. Fisher, secretary-treasurer. The Baptist Missionary association will have a meeting at Cove Friday, April 10.

GRANGE HALL PERSONALS

By Mrs. Charles Spencer (Observer Correspondent)
GRANGE HALL, (Special)—The members of Division 4 of the home committee of Blue Mountain grange met Thursday at the home of Mrs. G. E. Redhead to complete plans for a quilt exhibit and silver tea benefit to be held Friday afternoon, April 3 at the Grange Hall. In connection with the exhibit and tea, a bundle sale is to be held and patterns for the quilts on display will be sold. The committee is headed by Mrs. Tom Bates with Mrs. Redhead, Mrs. Alta Backford, Mrs. Roy Gekeler, Mrs. Charles Nizer, Mrs. Tom Williams, Mrs. Clarence Carter, Mrs. Ed Jasper, Mrs. E. E. Hughes, Mrs. Clara Scriber, Mrs. Kate Husley and Mrs. Ella Fryer as her assistants.
 "Spring" was the idea carried out in the program and the refreshments when the Countrywoman's club met Friday at the R. A. Masterton home with Mrs. Masterton, Mrs. Bert Grou and Mrs. J. B. Lindsey as hostesses. In the absence of both president and vice president, Mrs. Masterton conducted the show business session. A gift shower in honor of Mrs. Lester Masterton was a feature of the meeting. In the contents Mrs. C. W. Bond Jr. was first and Mrs. C. E. Golden consolation in one and Mrs. Ralph Wells and Mrs. C. B. Spencer first in the other two. Lovely refreshments were served before adjournment. Mrs. Alice Davis, Mrs. Ira Kennedy and Miss Wilma Bedden were victors for the afternoon.
 Mrs. C. R. Gekeler entertained the members of the Birthday Dinner

Welded Simmons was taken ill at school Thursday and grew worse so promptly that a physician was called, who recommended that he be taken to Hot Lake immediately. On his arrival at Hot Lake he underwent an operation for appendicitis.

Sunday, March 22 the Rev. Walter Platt's connection with the Cove Baptist church was ended. Mr. Pratt is still at Hot Lake where he was for kidnaping of Frank Ritchie, Evanston brewer, who paid $4,000 ransom. When he recovers his health they will move to Seattle.

OLD AUTO PLATES SOLVE MOTORIST'S RAT PROBLEM

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo. (AP)—They couldn't fool a Missouri motorist who was required to pay registration fees for the fourth quarter of 1930 before a 1931 license would be issued for his new car.
 Soon a letter arrived at the automobile commissioner's office along with the money.
 "If I have to pay the fee for the last quarter I am entitled to the plates, and even if I can't use them on my car I want them to cover up rat holes."

"You wait, and do some of that thinking you talk about," replied Mr. James sourly.
 "Well," he continued, "I didn't follow the guy at all. Before he reaches the end of the corridor he stops, squints at the number over a door, and flashes on a torch. I got half a glimpse of his face, and who do you think it was?"
 "Way?"
 "No, it wasn't. It was that old rumhound, Colonel Campbell. And what room do you think he'd gone into?"
 The Doctor stared in amazement.
 "Not Way's?"
 "You've got Way on the brain. No, it wasn't Way's. It was the sainted and sanctified room of that hard-boiled Miss Skinner! That's what."
 "Well, I'm damed!" said the Doctor. "... Anyhow, we'll soon put an end to that sort of thing."
 "We've never had a scandal in The Monastery yet and we won't start now," he added virtuously. "Colonel Campbell and Miss Skinner clear out of here tomorrow, ill or well, cured or not cured."
 "And the Way guy?" sneered Mr. James.
 "What's he got to do with this?" inquired the Doctor.
 "Well, perhaps you can say," was the reply. "For I just sat me down comfortable in a recess in that corridor, waiting for that boozey old guy to come out again and get the shock of his life, when, lo, it wasn't so. It was me who got the shock."
 "For, ten minutes later, along comes another one, treadin' soft," "Gee!" thinks I. "Am I in The Monastery?" And believe me, Boss, this second wanderer stopped at the same door, too!"

Tomorrow Way gets his stern lesson from Dr. Charters. But will he follow them?

club and several visitors Thursday at her home. At noon a potluck dinner was served to 34. Visiting was the diversion following dinner. The next meeting of the club will be with Mrs. I. D. Smuts April 20.

At the meeting of Blue Mountain grange to be held Wednesday, April 1, a plant and seed exchange under the direction of the lecturer, is to be a feature. The roll call will be "My favorite plant or tree, and why?"

Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Gekeler are enjoying a visit from the lecturer's brother, Victor Johnson, of Nampa, Idaho. Mr. Johnson's brother, Ted, also of Nampa, accompanied him to the valley but went on to The Dalles where he is visiting his sister, Miss Ruth Johnson, before returning to complete his visit with relatives in the valley.

Edgar Stringham and two small daughters, Opal May and Aloha, who arrived a few days ago from Port Angeles, Wash., where he has been employed in the paper mill for three years, are at the home of his parents, Mr and Mrs. J. B. Lindsey, Mr.

Stringham plans to locate permanently in the valley.

Mrs. Sadie Small, of Caldwell, Idaho, is a guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Gekeler.

After holding meetings at the different homes of the members during the winter months, Liberty Sunday school has resumed meetings at the school house.

PRINCESS SPONSORS NEW SPIRAL CUT
 PARIS (AP)—The Princess Galtaine is appearing these evenings in a white satin gown designed with the new spiral cut. The frock is made of diagonal pieces winding around the figure and is belted with a narrow satin band finished with a jewel clasp on the right side. The new waistlength, shoulder drap, falls from the right arm of the gown.

MYSTERIOUS WAYE
 SYNOPSIS: Dr. Macadoo and his fellow in crime Mr. James, went to "Honey Hill" John Wayne, a well-known doctor, to demand Wayne's nursing home. But Charters, Wayne's admitted to his home and he was given a good thrashing by the abolition of "Spider" Schultz. Wayne may know that he had stolen from "Spider" his share of the loot in an American diamond bank. The physician's aid Mr. James is unwilling to do unless he drives a nail on Wayne and there is more trouble when Wayne's hints and Macadoo to Charters to demand half of the 15,000 pounds promised for certain developments in the case of Marjorie Lauderdale. Charters, alarmed at the revelation of Wayne's knowledge, shortly contacts Miss Lauderdale telling Wayne he is a medical expert and makes her worse. Dr. Studley of the home casually tells Dr. Matthews, Wayne's personal physician, that Dr. Macadoo is an expert in dental poisons.

SCANDAL IN THE HOME

Chapter 15
DR. CHARTERS AND MR. JAMES
 Dr. Charters and Mr. James came as near to a breach as was possible between two men whose lives were so bound together.

They sat in solemn conclave until Dr. Charters introduced the subject of John Wayne, and very quickly the Doctor's pallid face was outworn by Mr. James' dull reiteration of his one specific, "bump him off!" and the simple mind of Mr. James was irritated by Dr. Charters' off-putting and vain speculation. "Who is this man Wayne?"

"He's got me guessing, all day and all night."
 "Well, get him guessing," growled Mr. James.
 "Guessing what?"
 "How to nibble his way out from a hole in the ground, six feet deep. Bump him off, I say."
 "I wish you could say something sensible. I've told you how his got us fixed, and Matthews's coming again. ... I'll get him in the end."
 "If he doesn't get us first. Bump him off, I say."
 "Again, but so your wife to work against him and Spider Schultz, and find out something about him. I can't do everything myself; my hands are full, and all you can do is to sit there and say 'bump him off,' when I tell you that his life's absolutely precious to us, just at present. Watch him, I say."
 "Yes, you say a lot, boss. Now 'Yes, you say a lot, boss. Now suppose you give yourself a rest and listen to me. Then perhaps you'll do some thinking, too. Last night I was making my second round, and half turning a corner, what should I see but some one coming along it towards me. Coming soft, too, in black socks and a dark dressing gown. I fished flat into the wall, with half an eye round the corner, intending to follow him up."
 "Good boy, Jimmy. And where was our Mysterious Mr. Waye off to?"
 "You followed him, of course?"
 "You wait, and do some of that thinking you talk about," replied Mr. James sourly.
 "Well," he continued, "I didn't follow the guy at all. Before he reaches the end of the corridor he stops, squints at the number over a door, and flashes on a torch. I got half a glimpse of his face, and who do you think it was?"
