To Recover Small Part of Shortage

PORTLAND, April 8 (AP)—The Portland school district will recover about $4,000 of the $69,000 shortage in the accounts of the late W. C. Alderson, county school superintendent, members of the board were told yesterday by William F. Woodward, administrator of the Alderson estate.

Alderson's suicide three years ago followed the investigation of his accounts.

The News Used To Be:

NEWS USED TO BE—

THIRTY-FIVE YEARS AGO (From Observer, Mon., April 9, 1906)

For the ninety-second time in her life, Grandma Palmer has passed a milestone. Last Saturday afternoon she was at home when callers and 60 of her friends called to offer congratulations to the great old lady.

All pioneers and citizens of this city and county are cordially invited to be present tomorrow afternoon at the unveiling of the monument to be placed on the old emigrant road which passed through that portion of the city now termed Old Town.

Cashier F. L. Meyers left Saturday for Portland to attend an executive committee meeting of the Oregon State Bankers association.

H. L. Alexander, the Imbler blacksmith, was a La Grande visitor yesterday. He reports Imbler booming and the farmers plowing.

TEN YEARS AGO (From Observer, Sat., April 9, 1921)

Today is the day the annual cleanup campaign begins. Every yard in the city is expected to be put into its class shape.

According to an announcement made this morning by Mrs. G. L. Larison, general chairman of the successful fund-raising campaign, $1941.24 was cleared from the three-day bazaar.

FOREIGN

Select Jury for Trial of Indian

PENDELTON, April 8 (AP)—The federal court jurying the case of Joe Wild Bill, an Indian, charged with the murder of Joe Sol Lule last Christmas eve, was selected in one hour here yesterday.

Wild Bill is charged with having shoved Sol Lule, Indian, in front of a rapidly moving automobile on the Old Oregon Trail east of Pendleton. Federal Judge John H. McNary is hearing the case.

N. Y. Legislature Passes Wet Bills

ALBANY, N. Y., April 8 (AP)—The legislature added to its list of wet measures yesterday by passing a bill to petition congress to call upon the states for a referendum on their voters on repealing the 18 amendment. Eight Republicans joined the Democratic minority of the senate in giving a 32 to 17 vote for the bill. The measure, already approved by the assembly, now goes to the governor. It was the fourth wet measure to pass both houses.

ITCHING ENDS WHEN ZEMO TOUCHES SKIN

—thousands say. It's wonderful the way soothing, cooling Zemo brings relief to skin which itches and burns. Even in most severe cases, itching disappears almost as soon as Zemo touches the tender and inflamed surface. To draw out local infection and help to clear away unsightly blemishes, we know of nothing better than invisible Zemo. Always keep this family antiseptic on hand. Use it freely. It's safe as can be. 35c, 60c and $1.00. All dealers.

I'D LIKE TO HANE YOU GO WITH ME, BUT YOU BETTER RUN HOME AND ASK YOUR PARENTS IF IT'LL BE ALL RIGHT.....

YEAH... AND I'LL MEET YOU AT THE DEPOT.....

BOY! THINGS ARE GETTIN' HOT NOW AN' I'D HATE TO MISS ANY OF IT.....

WELL, OF ALL THINGS!

POP, THE DETECTIVE TRAILED THE THIEF TO THE DEPOT.... AN' HE ASKED ME TO GO WITH HIM.... HE'S A NICE MAN, TOO.... CAN I GO WITH HIM? SAY G'BYE TO MOM.... I'M IN AN ANXUL HURRY!!

HOLD ON HERE!! YOU'RE DOING NOTHING OF THE SORT!!

BUT—

NO BUTS ABOUT IT!! YOU'RE STAYING AT HOME.... THE IDEA OF YOU GETTINS SUCH NOTIONS INTO YOUR HEAD!!

MOM'N POP

MYSTERIOUS WAYE

SYNOPSIS: John Waye tells Dr. Charters that he will do the latter's bidding until the killing of the man whose name Waye has assumed to a confession. "Sahler" Schiltz, his cloak of respectability, revealed by the record Charters has been compiled to admit him. Waye goes to the evil Dr. MacAdon a hint that would be in the lower left, one. After Charters learns through the licensed physician of Waye's record in the lower left, he is informed by MacAdon Mr. James Charters' analysis demands that the doctor should be kept in the hospital had been "blowing his own game" in the Lower left case.

never in his life set eyes on Maud. Not a living human being, except her and me and the glimmering of an idea of the Landerell scheme. It only existed in her brain and mine. And what follows: Mr. Mysterious Waye drops in on Maud, and not only sells him the plot, but mentions the exact sum that I'm to get....

The Doctor, threw himself back in his chair.

"God bless my sinful soul," he concluded explosively, "I begin to think the man's from Scotland Yard—or else the Archangel Gabriel."

"Hump him off, I say," growled Mr. James.

"It would do us a lot of good, wouldn't it, if a detective from Scotland Yard disappeared here. Better for us if it was the Archangel. Less likely to be missed."

"Put me wise on the whole story anyway," continued Mr. James. "What's the Maud female get, that she can slip for $50,000?"

"Well—Maud ropes a steer called Landerell. Not much to him except that he's going to be Sir Something Landerell when the old guy dies. Maud's sick of the racket and wants to retire in the odor of sanctity among the London Four Hundred."

"But there's not more money than will keep up the old Tudor place. Then what does Maud find?"

"Landerell's brother has died and left Landerell this girl, Marjorie for keeps, and a 100,000 pound Marjorie can't touch this until she comes of age. If she dies before she's 21, Brother Landerell scoops it."

"And if she marries?"

"Well, till she's of age," replied the Doctor.

"What a wicked world!" observed Mr. James indignantly. "Didn't the guy want the poor girl to live to be 21?"

Dr. Charters smiled.

"Well, you see, he trusted Brother Landerell... and rightly. There isn't enough money in the world to make him hurt a hair of the girl's head."

"Soon Maud comes to see me. She's worried about her husband's money, who lives with them. Such a lovely girl... so rich, if she lives to be 21. Quite sad to see her health falling like this. And mind you,

"A SCRAP OF PAPER"

DR. CHARTERS pained for a moment and scrutinized the maddening face of Mr. James before he resumed.

"An old friend of mine"—he began—"Maudie Landerell now days, who knows a lot about money in fact, I worked with her once—saw a clear chance of big money and came to me as the right man, trustworthy, sagacious and with the ideal facilities for the job. I felt for it at once... an absolutely safe job. Now, does it occur to our bright brain that this nice safe 10,000 pound job was all the safer for the fact that not a soul in the world could possibly know that it was Job?"

"The idea had come into Maud's brain, and Maud had got it to mine with a wink to a horse that's never been blind. Why, she didn't even mention the fee in words....

"If you see any good reason why I should shut about it to MacMoo and Fanny, and Louie and you? Not that I suggest that any member of our splendid team would ever be careless, but accidents happen in the best regulated families. A remark overheard—and then two and two put together and made into five and then the fat's in the fire."

"Of course, I trust each one of you as I trust myself, but if six people know a thing, there's three times as much chance of an accident as there is if only two know it....

The face of Mr. James retained its unpleasant expression, and his skeptical silence gave no consent to the Doctor's platitudes.

"And," continued Dr. Charters, "might I now ask how you presume to think you know that the 10,000 wasn't going into the pool?"

"Oh?" sneered Mr. James. "Oh? Then how was 5,000 of it going into Manoel's pouch, as soon as it got wise to the game? 'All going into the pool?' Like hell it was."

"Ho! Ho! So you've been talking to Manoel, and you've been thinking again. But thinking isn't your strong point, Jimmy."

"Plain question," growled Mr. James. "Where did I come in, if Manoel was to go fifty-fifty, because he caught you out?"

"Oh?" sneered Mr. James. "Oh? Then how was 5,000 of it going into Manoel's pouch, as soon as it got wise to the game? 'All going into the pool?' Like hell it was."

"Ho! Ho! So you've been talking to Manoel, and you've been thinking again. But thinking isn't your strong point, Jimmy."

"So? And where does all this love ly trust and fair-play come in, then?"

"Jimmy, you make me tired. Once again, who's running this outfit, you or I? If Manoel's fool enough to butt-in on my game... our game... aren't I free to put him off how I like? What's biting you? You don't want to start something when I'm at my wit's end over this internal Wye. That man'll succeed in breaking this firm up, if we aren't careful—especially with you helping him, by playing his game of sowing suspicion among....

"Playing his game!" exclaimed Mr. James indignantly. "What about you playing his game by letting him come here, threaten us, fool us, rob us, and get away with it....

"But you don't pull wool over my eyes like that. Say, now, suppose all that bunk—about means to pool that 10,000—is the goods, why must you cut it right out because Waye put Manoel wise?"

"Can't you see that that's the most disturbing and frightening thing in the whole world for us?"

The Doctor, with outstretched finger, pointed at the face of his young colleague.

"Get this, James. And then try to realize what it means. Waye
