PORTLAND, Ore., Apr. 16 (AP)—Despite the efforts made to stimulate some more rough tactics from touring wrestling champions here, Joe Maleswala, 210 lb., T. heavyweight, and Ted Tye, Portland, used every thing but the ring rules in their match last night in which the Rev. Tye defeated Tye two out of three falls.

Tye took the first fall in 25 minutes, 15 seconds with whistlers in which he used his whistlers' rule freely and had Maleswala's breathing from nose and mouth. Tye was still the aggressor in the second period until he was hit into one of Maleswala's legs which from which he was so stunned he was several minutes before he could be assisted from the ring. Time when stopped. Tye asked for additional time, but was refused and was ready to be returned for the final fall. With the aid of hand and feet the Rev. Tye landed the match in less than two minutes. Tye weighed 192 pounds, Maleswala 245.

GAR WOOD MAKES RECORD ATTEMPT

Gar Wood made a record attempt to change spark plugs and oil during the race.

Wood said after attempts to better the record would be made soon. He said wind conditions were not ideal. The wind was from the west with a velocity of between six and eight miles an hour, across the course.

On both his runs, great sheets of spray were hurled into the air as the craft raced over the course with its two 12-cylinder motors racing.

When Wood climbed out of his boat at the dock his 13-year-old son, Gar Jr., himself a motorboat racing enthusiast, rushed up and asked: "Did you have the throttle clear back?"

"Yes," Wood replied, "but only to the point of tripping it."

"Well," said Gar Jr., "you just next run, go out and pull the throttle back so hard you break it off."

The return race happened and said: "O. K. son, we've still got lots left in the old boat."

Will that Wood Sr. strolled off to supervise work the mechanics were doing on his boat preparatory to further trials.

New Ball Fails To Stop Homers; Aids Pitching

By Hugh S. Fullerton Jr. (Associated Press Sport Writer)

Fans who haven't already forgotten the pre-season ballgame over the new baseball used in the Major Leagues this year may well wonder after two days of the game play what effect the altered ball is having.

It seems evident that the ball still is likely as the home runs are made at their usual rate, but good pitching performance appears on the increase as well. Eight pitchers went the full nine in the two Major League games yesterday and an unusual number for the second day of the season.

"Bump" Hadley of Washington and Burgess Grimes, veteran spotter of the St. Louis Cardinals, shared the topmost starting honors. Hadley limited the world champion Philadelphia Athletics to four runs while Grimes pitched for the Detroit Tigers in the fourth inning and a 7 to 1 victory. Games pitched the year's first shutout, setting the record for the Cardinals won 4-0. Red Lucas was the only for Cincinnati.

Bob Smith of the Chicago Cubs and Claude "Weeping" Willoughby of Pittsburgh staged a full length duel, the Cubs winning their second straight 4 to 1. Manager Rogers Hornsby provided the winning run with a homer.

Continuing the surprises of the opening day, the Boston Braves while the St. Louis Browns each won a second consecutive game and joined the Cubs, Cardinals and New York Yankees in the top position of the clubhouse. Boston's pitching was good, hitting behind it told the tale in each case.

The New York Giants figured in the leading slugging contest. Hank Gowdy, both were hit rather freely. Sam Rice of St. Louis belted Willie Hoge of Detroit to gain a 4-3 triumph. Both struck the full line in the top position of the clubhouse. Boston's pitching was good, hitting behind it told the tale in each case.

Several of the League farmers were busy the first of the week branding their stock. The work is preparatory to putting them out on summer range. Among those who were working with their stock were J. A. Downing, Joseph Perkins, John Stein and A. W. Hanson.

Miss Laura Gregory, teacher of the Leap school, spent the weekend working at the high Leavenworth home west of town.

Fishing is reported to be quite good at this time in some of the better streams. The main stream is quite high and the water is quite muddy for good fishing. Several reports are heard of where anglers were successful in landing some large steelhead. The work of preparing nesting ponds at the St. James fish farm about two miles east of town is said to have progressed quite rapidly during the past few weeks. The reports that he does not expect to see very extensively of pouring this week. He says that the ponds are being filled in addition to those he said several years ago. The work which will be placed in the new ponds.

John Couch and wife and daughter, Ulla, made a trip to Grande Ronde today. The first of the year brought home some apples. They report a very good crop for apples and many of the through line been getting away large quantities.

Committee Asks Prosecution Of Malheur Dispute

SALEM, April 15 (AP)—The special committee appointed yesterday on the Malheur lake game refuge issue, following a short session, recommended that the federal government against the state to establish title to the land within the area. So prosecuted, it is further recommended that the government make into consideration the rights of persons who own lands adjacent to these lakes or are entitled upon the water within the boundaries of the reserve.

It is the understanding of the committee, the government should assume the financial obligation incurred in the establishment of a game refuge and the maintenance of the same. The committee agreed upon establishing the game refuge at Malheur lake, that both state and government should be given the project and that the government be placed in complete authority over the refuge.

Women Ask 18th Amendment Repeat

WASHINGTON, April 16 (AP)—The women's organization for national prohibition reform yesterday drafted the presentation to President Hoover, a resolution asking to take action looking toward outright repeal of the 18th amendment.

In executive session, 1,150 feminine anti-prohibitionists earlier had voted to seek an interview with the president. Word came from the White House almost immediately that Mr. Hoover would receive them at 12:30.

Pledged to outright repeal, the organization's resolution, introduced with a resolve that we petition the president and the congress of the United States to take such action as will give to the people of the states an opportunity to get into effect the principles to which we adhere.

Wallowa County Road Work Now Gains Momentum

By C. C. Meek (Observer Correspondent)

WALLOWA, Ore. (Special)—Some of the county road work now being done has been in use in the road in the valley recently, smoothing and straightening some of the dirt roads. A number of other projects will be worked at a little later date according to word from E. P. Johnson, county commissioner. Many of the roads in the hill sections have remained too muddy in places to allow any work at all. Machine shows the heavy rains of the past few weeks have caused many of them to become quite deeply ditched in places and in poor shape for our travel.

Considerable interest in the baby chick trade of the poultry business is being shown by many of the poultry keepers of this section. Some of the chicks for around May 1 delivered here some but there is much less getting of chicks from the country this season than last year. Reports of efforts at hatching and getting many of the best big chicks at home appear to be considerably more numerous than has been the case here in a number of years. With eggs remaining at an extremely low price, many of the keepers are getting into the business of hatching at home.

J. P. Ryan, of Seaside, recently moved part of his cattle to pasture in the Wallowa creek section.
