Bryan Untiedt Has Mrs. Hoover As Guide Today

WASHINGTON, May 1 (AP)—Bryan Untiedt had Mrs. Herbert Hoover as his official guide on today's sight-seeing trips. The 13-year-old hero of the Colorado school bus tragedy returned for a second visit to the national museum, that of yesterday having covered only a small part of the building.

Federal Policy Is Outlined Today

WASHINGTON, May 1 (AP)—It was announced today at the White House that it would be the general policy of the government for the next fiscal year and the remainder of this year to increase salaries of government employees only where such increase is required by law.

The announcement said other departments of the government would follow the policy of the interior and justice departments in maintaining present wage scales in the government but would not make any increases.

President Hoover has taken the attitude that congress clearly indicated its position by not appropriating money for wage and salary increases, although in some instances authorizations were made.

MICHAEL, CROWN PRINCE, IS ILL

was standing near her in the sick-room and answered:

"What is the matter? I have only one child. I shall never have another. My place is at his side!"

Carol, breaking a near silence of months in which he is said to have spoken to her only from over his shoulder, reiterated the physician's warning, and assured her that Michael had trustworthy nurses and attendants. But Helen only shook her head.

Second Illness This Year. It is the second time this year that Michael has been ill, he having suffered from a chill and influenza in January. Some concern was felt by the royal family last year at his tendency to obesity. Recently King Carol instructed attendants to teach him everything about automobile mechanics.

Called to the bedside of Michael at Helen's quarters in the Sinaia palace, was having his political troubles at the same time. Premier Jorga dissolved parliament and called new elections for next month.
