

Over The Valley Personals

over the valley. One of the earliest and one of the most prominent pioneers, Mr. Williamson had much to do with the pioneer history of the valley. The picture of Mr. Williamson driving his white horse to town each morning for the paper is a very familiar one, and he will be greatly missed on this account as well as many others during the days to come.

No Enterprise.—Routh McKennon and W. E. Ledbetter of Alicel went to Enterprise yesterday to look after business matters.

Have Many Pigs.—There is a good pig crop reported at Frank Woodell's farm near Summerville. Mr. Woodell had a sow which recently had a litter of 19 little pigs and another sow which had 17 pigs. Each of the mother pigs has lost four of the original litter but even so, has quite a family still.

Busy.—Mr. and Mrs. Roger Deal were extremely busy on their truck ac-age when the reporter visited them Tuesday at their home up against the hills west of Summerville. Mr. Deal was busy seeding a piece of alfalfa which is being put in new this year. A new blackberry patch is one of the additions to the already long list of crops on the Deal acreage.

Blossom Time

Now is the time to drive around the valley to see the cherry trees in full blossom and within a short time there will be the additional beauty from the apple trees which are showing some color, but which will require some more days of sunshine before the blossoms are clear out. This is a very beautiful time in our Grande Ronde valley, as is the summer time, and the fall and the winter.

Are Seeing Deer

From various sections of the side-hill country come reports of deer in smaller or greater numbers which have come out into the clear. We are told that Guy Barker who lives above the Cove counted 18 deer on the bald ridges above his home within the past few weeks. Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Price have seen some of the creatures near their lodge, but of course they are some distance up the mountainside.

Proposed Wage Cut In Hands of Board

PORTLAND, Ore., May 1 (AP)—The proposed cut of ten per cent in wages of 1,000 union men employed by the Pacific Northwest Public Service company in its street car system here was yesterday placed in the hands of a board of arbitration which must reach its conclusion by May 20.

After a two-day conference between officers of the union and Franklin T. Griffith, president of the utility, it was agreed that the question be placed in the hands of a board.

The company yesterday announced a universal cut in wages, effective at once, and slashing the salaries of all executives, office workers, and building employees 10 per cent. It affects 3,000 employees.

"LOGICAL MAN"

RALEIGH, N. C., May 1 (AP)—Former Senator J. Thomas Heflin, of Alabama, here to make an address, yesterday said Gov. White of Ohio, a prohibitionist, was the "logical man" for the Democratic party to nominate for president in 1932.

Pretty Spanish Name

The name "Juanita" is of Spanish origin and means the Lord's grace.

NOW—THE "ARMCHAIR PARACHUTE"

It's "as easy as falling off a log" to use this nifty new "armchair parachute" for passengers in cabin airplanes. The chute is attached to the seat and all the wearer needs to do is jump from the plane when danger threatens and float to earth in a sitting posture—at least, that's the theory. Josephine Forbes is shown above as she demonstrated the new device at the National Aircraft show at Detroit.

Hall Declines To Comment on Brief Criticizing Him

EUGENE, Ore., May 1 (AP)—Dr. Arnold Bennett, Hall, president of University of Oregon, yesterday declined to comment in any way on the criticisms against the university contained in the reply brief which President William J. Kerr of Oregon State college filed Wednesday with the state board of higher education.

In its own reply briefs which the university will file shortly, those close to the situation believe it is quite unlikely that the university will recognize the complaints which President Kerr has filed with the board.

It was pointed out that the policy in its "follow the federal survey" originally stated by President Hall at the Salem meeting of the board.

It was explained that the university had accepted the federal recommendations which would concentrate journalism, music, the fine arts, and business majors on the Eugene campus, but protested the proposed removal of upper class science to Corvallis. On commerce it asks 800 of the 1,100 commerce students who would be transferred under strict interpretation of the federal recommendations.

In journalism, music, fine arts and those divisions which the survey would center here, the university will propose to offer instruction to the Corvallis campus on terms practically identical with those available here.

Although comment was withheld, the view on the Eugene campus is that the federal investigators and not the university opened up the matter of reappportioning work between the two schools which President Kerr cited as the basis for the now defunct board of higher curriculum.

The plan by which the university believes the $1,000,000 saving demanded by Governor Meier and the state board can be made in connection with the re-distribution of functions, will be submitted with final briefs.

A board meeting within two weeks is expected to hear the oral arguments of the university, the college, and the Normal schools on the sub-

Fish Creek Burn Hearing Opened

ROSEBURG, May 1 (AP)—The preliminary hearing of the case of E. H. Best, alleged leader of the Fish Creek burn colony, started yesterday before United States Commissioner C. F. Hopkins.

W. F. Staley, assistant to the solicitor of the department of agriculture, examined federal witnesses in an effort to show that Best was a trespasser on forest service land.

The evidence was cumulative, each witness testifying to the same facts, including statements that Best intended to obtain title to the land and made threats of violence if removal was attempted. He had erected a tent and planted a garden, witnesses said.

Defense witnesses were not to be heard until late yesterday. John Long, defense attorney, said he would endeavor to show there had been no violation of the squatter act. He said Best had filed a homestead application, had appealed its rejection, and was merely camping on the land until the land office acted. He said Best had received no official notification of rejection of the appeal until after his arrest.

Salvation Army Lassie Elopes

PORTLAND, Ore., May 1 (AP)—Officials of the Salvation Army yesterday sought police aid in locating one of their workers, Ruth Pollard, 25, who after leaving her post at the White Shield home on April 20, sent word that she had married Jack King whom she met at Alcatraz Island prison while doing social service work. He was a prisoner on the island.

Police were told that the girl's mother, Mrs. S. E. Pollard, Oakland, Cal., has become worried over the elopement and wants to find the girl.

In League With The Babies

WHEN LITTLE girls wore copper-toed boots and tight-waisted dresses, and little boys wore kilts—what of the babies? Swathed in yards of clothes. Scrubbed with unknown soaps. Few of them expected to live during the dreaded second summer. Many of them suffering countless ailments because nobody knew what to do.

A glance back only a generation or so is enough to reveal how fortunate babies are today. Now there are soft, cool soaps . . . every aid in food that care and knowledge can prepare . . . sensible, light little clothes . . . and such knowledge of sanitation and control of disease that every little baby should live and grow.

Mothers are indebted to advertisements for their news of these nursery aids . . . just as they are indebted for news of fascinating menus, fadeless curtains, sprightly dinnerware. Constantly, ways are being devised to make life happier, more comfortable for baby, the whole family. Laboratories clean and bright are scenes of goods being tested—being made safe and pure. When the testing is over, the perfecting done—advertisements hasten the goods to you.

No longer marvel (the next time you buy something widely known) at how fresh, immaculate, fine it is. These are qualities you can be sure of in buying advertised merchandise . . . qualities you must be sure of in buying for the health of babies, children, any one.

It is surprising how timely and vital the news in advertisements can be! Read them regularly.
