Arrival of Month Of May Celebrated During Weekend

May day and the first weekend in May were celebrated in various ways in La Grande — with breakfasts, luncheons and golf. The tennis courts on Walnut street were filled through-out Sunday, while Mrs. L. M. Hoyt and her daughters were hostesses at a delightful Saturday bridge luncheon.

May Day Breakfast At the La Grande

Miss Madeline Larson was hostess yesterday at a large May day breakfast, held in the main dining room in the La Grande hotel. Fifty-one were invited for the occasion.

The guests were seated at nine small tables, the number at each table varying. A dainty color scheme with yellow predominating was carried out in the table decorations. Yellow snapdragons were arranged in the center of each table.

Miss Wayne Hockett, of Enterprise, was an out-of-town guest for the breakfast.

Bridge Luncheon At the Hoyt Home

One of the most delightful parties of the past weekend was the bridge luncheon at which Mrs. L. M. Hoyt and her daughters, the Misses Mildred and Myrtle, entertained at their home Saturday. Luncheon was served at 1 o'clock, with the guests seated at five small tables. Spring flowers of many different hues were attractively arranged in centerpieces for the tables.

and May day baskets, with miniature parrots perched on the handles, and the colors blending with the centerpiece, were presented as favors.

During the afternoon bridge was played with Mrs. J. T. Longfellow receiving the prize for high score; Mrs. P. A. McDonald, second; Mrs. George McDonald, third; and Mrs. Beatrice Young, fourth.

Women Golfers Planning Event

Women golfers at the La Grande country club are making arrangements for entertainment on their day at the country club, which is Thursday. A flag tournament has been planned by the tournament committee and is to be an 18-hole event with handicaps. Mrs. John Theisen, chairman, stated this morning.

A golf luncheon will be served at 12:30 in the club house. Women members of the club, whether in tournament or not, are invited to play and to attend the luncheon.

Anyone entered in the sweepstakes may play in the tournament and they may make up their own twosomes, according to the tournament committee.

Saturday Bridge Club Entertained

Mrs. W. G. Sawyer entertained at bridge Saturday evening for her club. Guests to make up two tables were present and Mrs. Grace Melton received the club prize for high score.

Mrs. Hugh E. Brady, a guest of the club for the evening, received the guest award.

Refreshments were served by the hostess. Mrs. Charles Devine will entertain the Saturday Bridge club in two weeks.

Meeting Climaxes Successful Year

Coming as a climax to a very successful year, the La Grande branch of the American Association of University Women entertained the Pendleton and Baker branches Saturday at a luncheon at the La Grande hotel at 12:30 o'clock. Luncheon was served in the gold room, with 69 present.

Miss Amanda Zabel, retiring president, presided at the meeting and between courses introduced the visitors. Mrs. A. C. McIntyre, president of the Pendleton branch, was among the Pendleton guests and she introduced the other members of that branch who were Mrs. Henry Decker, Mrs. J. P. Brennan, Mrs. F. D. Monroe, Mrs. Charles Marsh, Mrs. Stanley Brode, Mrs. Russell Akey, Mrs. Art Anderson, Miss Mel Best, Miss Dorothy Straghan, Miss Margaret Bolt, Miss Abby Adams, Miss Henrietta Hansen, Miss Margaret Burke, Miss Laura Johnson, Miss Naomi Mosher, Miss Edith Deussen, Miss Isabel Goodnough, Miss Wylth Fitzpatrick and Mrs. Roland Oiler.

Mrs. W. L. Patterson, president of Baker, introduced Mrs. J. H. Donald, Mrs. F. W. Eppinger, Mrs. Glenn Wolfe and Mrs. Leland Finch.

La Grande members were also introduced together with one new member, Mrs. Lois Comstock Telfer.

Miss Bessie Pettigrew was re-elected as member at large of the executive board, and after a short speech by Miss Helen Moor, the newly elected president, Mrs. Norman Fries presented a program of unusual interest.

"The Boon," a Russian one-act play by Tchekoff, was presented by Sock and Buskin, dramatic organization at the Eastern Oregon Normal school, under the direction of Miss Lena Foley. Ernest Tuveson gave a brief resume of Russian drama, introducing the audience into the spirit of present day Russia, when the drama takes place. Miss Jennie Peterson, music director at the Normal school, played "Barcarolle" by Godsky, a modern Russian composer, as an introduction to the play. The characters were Grigori Stepanovitch Smirnov, played skillfully by Floyd Baxter; Mrs. Popov, a typical Russian woman of the higher class, appealing yet severe, played almost flawlessly by Miss Theresa Tabor; while Boyd Jackson played the part of Luka, a servant. Miss Elnora Hansen had charge of the program.

The program was closed with two songs by Mrs. Leland Finch, accompanied by Mrs. J. H. Donald. Both women, who were enthusiastically received, are from Baker.

Following the program many of the visitors remained for an informal visit at the La Grande hotel, while others went to the Normal school on a tour of inspection.

The luncheon closes the first year of the La Grande group which has a total of 68 members.

Auxiliary Dinner To Close Season

Seven o'clock this evening is the latest time for anyone to secure a ticket to the banquet to be given for the Young Women's Educational Auxiliary at the La Grande hotel Tuesday evening at 6:45, according to Miss Blanch Clark and Miss Mabel Doty, the ticket committee. A program under the direction of Miss Amanda Zabel and her committee, is being planned, and Miss Mabel Morton, general chairman, announces that the whole affair promises to be one of the most delightful events of the auxiliary year.

Tickets already have secured for the event, the ticket committee stated this morning, and many more are expected to be spoken for during the day. This is the last meeting of the auxiliary for the season.

No-Host Dinner At McClure Home

A no-host dinner Saturday evening closed an enjoyable season for the McClure Bridge club. The home of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. McClure was the scene of the event. Dinner was served at 7 o'clock at small tables, each of which was decorated with a centerpiece of vari-colored spring flowers and yellow candles.

Bridge was played during the evening, with players to form four tables, but no definite arrangements have been completed. The meeting was held at the Knights of Pythias hall at 2 o'clock.

Refreshments were made by Mrs. James O'Neal and Joel Richardson.

W. R. C. Planning For Memorial Day

The Women's Relief Corps is making plans to honor American soldiers who have died on the battlefields in time of war, on Memorial day, May 30. The corps met Saturday and discussed plans, but no definite arrangements have been completed. The meeting was held at the Knights of Pythias hall at 2 o'clock.

Victim and Scene in California's "Hanging Murder"

The picture at the right shows the setting in which the nude body of Miss Louise Tenber, left, was found hanging from a tree near San Diego, Cal., by a Mexican shepherd, giving Californians one of the most sensational murder mysteries in a decade. Three suspects have been arrested but officials haven't yet succeeded in solving the mystery or ascertaining the motive that prompted the hanging.

Independents Of Party to Oppose Hoover 2nd Term

By Francis M. Stephenson
WASHINGTON, May 4 (AP)—Republican Independents may oppose President Hoover in the party primaries next spring.

This group in the senate from the Northwest agricultural states has disagreed with Hoover policies throughout his administration.

Senators Borah, of Idaho, Norris of Nebraska and LaFollette of Wisconsin, Independents, are mentioned in political discussions here as possible candidates, together with Governor Pinchot, of Pennsylvania.

Senator Johnson of California, who was not aligned with the Independents, but who has found himself in frequent opposition to the president, also is counted among the potential candidates.

Republican regulars who in 1928 went into the field against Herbert Hoover in the presidential campaign are watching intently and preparing to go actively to the fore for the president.

It is a paradoxical situation. Leaders in the fight for Hoover in 1928 may be his opponents in 1932. The old guard allies who fought him so hard in 1928 may be his main support next year.

Senator Brookhart, Republican, Iowa, a member of the Independent group, opened the discussion of a progressive battle Saturday.

Progressive sentiment ought to be tested out, he said, "by such leaders and Senators Johnson, Borah, Norris and LaFollette, and by Governor Pinchot. There is no doubt in my mind of their popularity in many states."

"The standpatters feel that the reelection of Herbert Hoover is impossible and that it would strengthen the party immensely to have a new candidate. If the progressives could carry most of the principal states it would then be evident to everybody that a new candidate should be renominated."

However, the prospective candidates put forward by Senator Brookhart decline to concede the likelihood of their becoming candidates—at least at this time—and the whole proposition is still in the speculation stage.

In 1928 the old guard "allies" took away several important states from Hoover in the pre-convention campaign, some in direct contests, but they failed to muster enough strength and founded when the powerful Pennsylvania delegation went to his support.
