

Why pay more when so much may be had for so little?

$5 & $6

This copy of conversation recently overheard explains better than any advertisement could why Natural Bridge Shoes are sweeping the country!

"My dear, you surely don't mean to tell me you only paid $5 for those stylish looking shoes! I just can't believe it. And are they really so comfortable?"

"The most comfortable shoes I've ever worn. They fit perfectly. I bought three of the sweetest models I've ever owned—two at $5, one at $6—three pairs for less than I used to pay for one."

DEGLANE DEFEATS CHAMPION LEWIS

Montreal Athletic Commission Recognizes Victor as Title Holder.

MONTREAL, May 5 (AP)—Henri Deglane was recognized as the wrestling champion of the world today by the Montreal athletic commission as the result of a bout last night with Strangler Lewis in which Lewis was disqualified for biting.

Deglane won the first fall with a flying mare in 32 minutes of wrestling after Lewis had him groggy with a series of headlocks.

Billy Sandow, Lewis' manager protested the fall, claiming that Deglane had failed to hold Lewis' shoulders to the mat for three seconds. Sandow was ejected from the ring by a squad of policemen at the order of Dr. Gaston Demers, chairman of the athletic commission.

Protest Dismissed

During the intermission the athletic commission considered Sandow's protest and dismissed it.

When the bout was resumed the men struggled for nine minutes. Then Lewis grabbed the ropes to escape a hold by Deglane, who was attempting a headlock. The next moment, Lewis had his opponent pinned to the mat. Referee Tremblay awarded the win to Deglane.

Deglane arose holding his right arm. The referee examined the wrist and after a conference with two members of the athletic commission announced that Lewis had bitten Deglane's wrist. Lewis was disqualified and the bout awarded to Deglane.

Lewis filed a protest, denying that he had bitten Deglane.

"In 18 years of wrestling," he said, "I never bit a man and did not start tonight."

Sandow said that he had signed an agreement for a return match in which Lewis will go to Chicago to prove that Deglane was not entitled to the decision.

Senators Again Take Yanks To "The Cleaners"

By Gayle Talbot Jr.

(Associated Press Staff Writer)

Ability of the Washington Senators to trim their "cosine," the Yankees, just about as they please promises to be a great help to Walt Johnson's veteran team in its quest of the American league flag.

Of five games played between the two clubs, Washington has won four and the Yankees one. The Senators have been victorious in 21 of their last 26 engagements with the Yanks.

Although they were outwitted yesterday, the Capital City crew opened their series in New York with a 3-1 win and moved into second place, a game and a half behind the Cleveland Indians. They collected only three hits off three Yank pitchers, while Sam Jones gave up 11, but they bunched five of them for as many runs in the sixth inning.

Howlers Win Again

The St. Louis Browns' reduced Cleveland's victory with a 3-1 victory, their second straight. Walt Stewart, who has turned in three of the Browns' five triumphs, kept nine Indian hits well distributed, while his mates made the most of their five off Willis Hudlin. Goose Goslin contributed a homer.

Some concentrated stick work by Freddie Simpson featured the Red Sox's 3-1 victory over the Athletics. Pickering drove in three runs with a homer and two singles, and Redmond had a homer and double.

Detroit mixed short hits off McKain, with four White Sox errors to win, 2 to 3. H. Walker drove in three runs with a triple and single.

Brandt Hit Stings

Ed Brandt, crack southpaw of the Boston Braves, scored the day's outstanding triumph in the National league when he limited the Phillies to three hits and posted his fourth victory after having pitched the Braves' second homer in as many days accounted for one of the scores off Brandt.

Another homer to hang up win No. 4 was Clarence Mitchell, the Giants' 42-year-old lefthander. He belted a pair of homers, adding to the club's lead, to stop the Browns, 5 to 3. Terry and Ott each blasted a triple and double for the winners.

Homer's Homey's Chicago Cubs extended their lead at getting rid of St. Louis by slugging the Cincinnati Reds into complete submission, 13 to 1. After Jack Quinn, to stop the Reds for three days by the Cardinals' stall, the Cubs dealt misery to a quartet of Red pitchers. Mack Wilford and Bill Hays, while Hornsby and Cuyler cracked three home runs apiece.

St. Louis and Pittsburgh enjoyed an off day.

Two 1910 Track Records Still On The Eastern Oregon Record Books

By Nolan Schiff

Ho hum! Who said these modern youths are not improving a little with each generation?

For example, let one consider athletics.

Back in 1910, there were some huskies, some of them not so big physically, but they were all big-hearted. There was track and field meet with all Eastern Oregon competing. And 15 records were made in 15 events. Not bad!

Now, 21 years later, only two of those records remain in competition, and one, the relay mark, has been equalled. The 50-yard dash and the hammer throw are no longer on the program, but the other 13 records have faded by the wayside with the exception of Dr. William Peare's 2:02 in the half mile and the relay mark of 25.75 for each year. Dr. Peare, now timing the runners instead of leading opponents, gives a handsome trophy to the man who wins the Eastern Oregon half mile. Each year he thinks that possibly his old record will be replaced. But so far, each year has passed with that 2:02 becoming a little more sacred and seemingly a little more secure.

Fiser Lasts 21 Years

There was a boy named Fiser, down in Ontario, in 1910. He was one of the mightiest of them all. Saturday afternoon, Oct. 1, 1910, he set a record for another generation held two Eastern Oregon records, both 21 years old. One was 11 feet 3 inches in the pole vault, and the other was 1:10-10 seconds in the high hurdles.

Saturday evening, Fiser's records were chalked off and new ones written by Prahl, Ontario pole vaulter. Fiser's record, crack La Grande timber topper.

Prahl and Nowland didn't do things by halfway measures either. Prahl went five inches higher than Fiser, and Nowland's hurdle time, 1:07-10, was seven-tenths of a second. Nowland, not content, about an hour later lowered Sherwood's 27-foot time to the low hurdle mark of 29 seconds. Willie Everett and Conroy Beery, both of La Grande, turned in new marks in the broad jump and the 220-yard dash, respectively.

Three 1910 Marks

Now for the marks made in 1910 in 13 of the 14 events that make up today's track meet. (No javelin throw and made in 1910.)

100-yard dash: Carpy, La Grande, 1:1-5 seconds.

220-yard dash: Brunough, Baker, 2:3-2 seconds.

440-yard dash: Peare, La Grande, 55-1-5 seconds.

Half mile: Peare, La Grande, 2:02 (new Northwest record).

1000-yard dash: Nowland, 5:10.

220-yard high hurdles: Richards, Cove, 27-1-5 seconds.

120-yard high hurdles: Fiser, Ontario, 1:10-10 seconds.

Broad jump: Fiser, Ontario, 20 feet 7 inches.

High jump: Fee and Kimball, of Pendleton, 4 feet 11 inches.

Shotput: Jones, of Baker, 46 feet 1 inch (new Northwest record).

Discus: Beery, Baker, 111 feet 3 1/2 inches (new Northwest record).

Pole vault: Fiser, Ontario, 11 feet 3 inches (new state record).

Relay: won by La Grande, 1:35 flat.

The 1931 Marks

Now for comparison:

Winning marks last Saturday were:

100-yard dash: Beery, La Grande, 1:1-1-5 seconds (same as 1910).

220-yard dash: Beery, La Grande, 2:3-2 seconds (with starting blocks).

Quarter mile: Hufford, Mac-1, 2:5 seconds (faster than 1910).

Half mile: Wagner, Helix, 2:10-4-5 seconds (slower than 1910).

Mile: Wagner, Helix, 4:51-3-10 seconds (new Northwest record).

220-yard high hurdles: Nowland, La Grande, 1:5-3 seconds (faster than 1910).

320-yard high hurdles: Nowland, La Grande, 3:5-5 seconds (faster than 1910).

Shotput: Kidder, Pendleton, 40 feet 7 1/2 inches (less than 1910).

Discus: Prahl, Ontario, 111 feet 8 inches (higher than 1910).

Broad jump: Torrence, La Grande, 21 feet 7 inches (12 inches farther than 1910).

Discus: Baker, Ontario, 118 feet 5 inches (nearly 7 feet farther than 1910).

High jump: Torrence and Nowland, La Grande, 5 feet 9 1/2 inches (3 1/2 inches higher than 1910).

Relay: won by La Grande, 1:38-2 seconds (faster than 1910).

Checking them over, of 13 events, one was the same, eight were better than those record-breakers of 1910, but five were lower.

Which doesn't prove a thing, except that both the 1910 and 1931 track meets were worth anybody's money to watch.

Saturday's meet started something else—a movement that some hope may develop to a point where the Eastern Oregon meet becomes a permanent fixture. The Eastern Oregon meet and next year the pros and the cons undoubtedly will have a lot to say.

NIGHT SHIFTS BEGINNING IN COAST LEAGUE

By the Associated Press

Night shifts will be started in another coast league baseball park tonight as play is resumed after Monday's layoff.

Under the plan of the Incandescent, Oakland and Sacramento will meet in the former's lot at Emeryville, playing nightly except Saturday and Sunday when the fans will assemble under Old Sol's glare.

Night games will be continued in the Seals' stadium at San Francisco where the Mission Reds assume the position of the home team in a series with Los Angeles' Angels.

The Angels at present are holding tightly on to first place and rigorous attempts by the Senators last week to dislodge them, were fruitless. The Angels replaced the Senators in the coveted position and this week's series starts with the Senators a close second.

The hard-punching Bass knocked out the Colorado collegian in the third round last night with a jabbing right that fractured Mack's lower jaw. Ringers who saw Mack's condition shouted to him to stay down until counted out.

Bass led by a wide margin up to the sudden and unexpected end. His heavy punches to the head and body had Mack in distress as early as the second round. Mack's boxing skill and a left jab were insufficient to keep the champion from landing hard and often with both hands and backing him into the ropes.

Bass, whose title was not at stake, weighed 131, Mack 134 1/2.

Benny Bass Breaks His Opponent's Jaw

PHILADELPHIA, May 5 (AP)—Eddie Mack, Denver, Colo., lightweight, today broke his jaw at a hospital, nursed as a result of his debut in a Philadelphia ring against Benny Bass, eighth weight champion. His condition was regarded as satisfactory.

Hack Beginning To Hit Like in 1930

CHICAGO, May 5 (AP)—The signs of worry are disappearing from Hack Wilson's face—he's beginning to hit the baseball as he did last season.

The pudgy outfielder of the Cubs, who set a new National league record of 34 home runs, had difficulty getting started this season, and it wasn't until the unhappy series at St. Louis that he really began to connect. He got his first homer of the season last Saturday, then added a double to it. He got a couple of doubles Sunday.

Yesterday he produced his first circuit drive of the home season. He also connected for a single.

Oregon Nine Wins From W. S. C., 8-7

EUCLER, Ore., May 5 (AP)—Overcoming a two-run Washington State lead in the eighth inning, the varsity of Oregon Ducks came from behind to win when Dave Bloom, Oregon's pitcher, cleared the bases with a slashing double to put him and team in the lead. Both teams scored three runs in the ninth, Oregon retaining her one run advantage. It was the first of a series of four conference games.

The score: R. H. E.
Washington State 7 10 3
Oregon 9 12 3
Foster, Jones and Mitchell; Bloom and Shaneman.

RUSSIES WIN SEATTLE, May 5 (AP)—Washington defeated Idaho, 9 to 4 here yesterday. Bob Dignon belted the Vandals to seven hits and batted out a triple and two singles against team pitcher, Idaho shortstop hit a homer into deep right field in the eighth. The teams play again today.

The score: R. H. E.
Washington 9 12 0
Idaho 4 7 0
Dignon and Fautsch; Lindsay and Jacobs, Schutte.

When It Comes to Details

"My stern and stress," says a Philadelphian to The Record, "declares that women are weaker offenders than men. This, I dispute. What would you say?" "We'd say," chides the editor, "never dispute your wife—much. At any rate, here's our experience: My wife can't look at another woman's legs for two solid weeks and then describe it for two solid hours without repeating herself."

JOHNNY FARRELL ON GOLF

The average golfer, if slicing or hitting with the heel of the club in the short iron play, instinctively moves back. Illustrated by Johnny Farrell (left). Contrast awkwardness of position with correct form shown by Farrell on right.

By Johnny Farrell (Former American Open Champion)

No. 4—SHORT IRON PLAY

One of the commonest faults of the ordinary golfer is to stand too far away from the ball, especially in making short iron shots. The golfer who grips his club firmly usually stiffens his wrists too. Or, if he thinks about keeping flexible wrists he fails to grip the club firm enough.

On iron play, if I were to pass along advice for the early stages of the season, I would suggest that a player take his mashie and midiron out alone for a brisk workout. A half hour spent with these two clubs in practice will pay dividends.

Most players, when they pick up again after the winter, go away off the line with their irons. By taking the two clubs I suggest a chance is afforded to work out the kinks in two vital features of iron play—namely, the accuracy of long and short shots. It will be found that the other clubs also will handle easier and with more confidence.

Won't Interfere In Submarine Voyage

OSLO, Norway, May 5 (AP)—Government officials yesterday denied a newspaper report that the authorities might interfere with Sir Hubert Wilkins' proposed submarine trip to the north pole under a regulation which gives Norway authority over all Arctic expeditions equipped in her ports.

The director of navigation in the ministry of commerce said that the government would take no action which might prevent Sir Hubert from starting from a Norwegian base.

Freberg Defeats Charley Hanson

SEATTLE, Wash., May 5 (AP)—John Freberg, 232, Minneapolis, took two out of three falls from Charley Hanson, 188, Seattle, in a wrestling exhibition last night. The match was billed to decide the Swedish heavyweight wrestling championship.

Hanson won the first fall in the second round, but Freberg's body slam, Freberg hurt Hanson with a fall in the sixth that was disallowed, and was awarded a fall before the round ended and took a devastating fall on Hanson's return to the ring in the next round.

Ira Dorn, Salt Lake City, won two straight falls from Bill Donovan, Vancouver. See semi-final.

Count de Grasse Memory Honored

PARIS, May 5 (AP)—A message from President Hoover emphasizing the lofty place that Admiral Count de Grasse holds in American history made the dedication yesterday of a monument to his memory an event of significance in Franco-American history.

Memorial to "Francis Joseph Pul American Count de Grasse," French commander in the American revolution, was unveiled at the Trocadero palace and after an address by American Ambassador Walter Evans Edge, was formally presented to the government of France.

This Game of Golf

By O. R. Keefer

If the fair city of Portland, Ore., does not assume a dominant place in American golf pretty soon it certainly will be for lack of managerial expertise in the management of what is known by that name as "golf."

I confess I am not fully informed of the plans of the tournament at this juncture, so a bit bewildering, but Portland seems to be able to work out almost anything.

Matches are played on any course on which the two participants agree. In case they cannot agree, the committee has selected five clubs as neutral battle fields, and one of these is imposed as an enforced compromise.

Publication of the pairings, in the smallest type, occupied more than half a page in The Morning Oregonian, and the tournament committee spent a whole day in making the pairings, assisted by twelve expert typists. In every case it is obligatory on the first name of each player to get in communication with his opponent and arrange the time and place of the match.

Other American cities preening themselves on their eminence in competitive golf might consider and perhaps undertake the development of one like it.

Sport Slants

By Alan J. Gould (Associated Press Sports Editor)

Whether the Spanish situation has had anything to do with it or not, the home run kings of baseball have run into a flock of early trouble.

The injury to Babe Ruth, coming at a time when the Big Bam was off a bit usually by the time of his big strike, caps the climax of troubles for the 1930 monarchs of maul.

From the outset, Mack Wilson, who took the major league crown away from Ruth last season, has had trouble adjusting his batting sights to the new ball and the outer barriers.

There has been some talk that the Babe's sensitive soul, has not taken any too kindly to the Hornsby brand of leadership, but it is more reasonable to figure the Babe is merely caught himself in a slump and began to worry about it.

Joe Hauser, who led them all last year by banging out 63 homers for the Baltimore Orioles of the International league, has been set by the jinx hovering over the big bats of baseball. Joe strained a ligament before the start of the season and was forced out of the lineup. Nick Cullip, who led 54 homers in the American association in 1930 and Mickey Heath, who collected 37 in the Pacific coast league, so far have failed to strike much fear into National league pitching ranks, although they figure to give the Cincinnati Reds some much needed punch.

Larry Bettencourt, who led the Texas league in homers with 43 last year, has not rounded into good enough shape to hold down a regular spot yet with the St. Louis Browns.

COTTON TO COME

Henry Cotton, the crack young British professional golfer, is expected to play for Great Britain in the Ryder Cup matches at Columbus, despite his early declaration of independence and subsequent ouster from the visiting team.

He is coming over to the U. S. A. on a four months' "holiday" when in the British P. G. A. likes it or not, in order to collect exhibition money. Meanwhile the peacemakers are busy patching matters up, especially since Cotton has shown himself so far to be the best of the British professionals.
