Femininity Is Fashion Edict For Outfits

By Diana Merwin (Associated Press Fashion Editor)

PARIS (AP)—Femininity is the fashion edict for the traveling costumes of June brides.

The "going-away" costume designed for summer trousseaux are replete with unusual colors and lingerie touches which make them as feminine as roses.

A frock of soft crepe worn under a simple wool coat is the favorite traveling ensemble for the American bride.

A smart combination for the dark-haired girl is an extended crepe de chine frock finished with white and dark red incrustations, worn under a full-length coat of oxford wool designed with a fitted waistline and simple revers collar.

For the blonde there is a silk crepe brook of an unusual green-black tint, made with three-quarter sleeves and finished with collar and cuffs of pale pink English eyed embroidery. It is worn with a matching long coat with a single pink gardenia tucked into the draped scarf collar.

The girl who embarks on a motor honeymoon may choose a suit of grey flannel barred in white, worn with a white dotted swiss blouse and accompanied by a full length cape to protect it from dust.

And the bride who travels across the continent may entrain in a crepe de chine frock of dark blue designed with detachable white lingerie collar and cuffs worn with a simple collarless navy-blue wool coat.

Yellow beige is another fashionable color for bridal traveling costumes. One of the smartest consists of a yellow beige wool coat trimmed with leopard, worn over a yellow beige crepe de chine frock stitched in orange and brown.

It is accompanied with a brown hat and gloves stitched in orange and yellow beige.

Hostess to Siam's Rulers Is Dead

Mrs. Whitelaw Reid, above, widow of the former Ambassador to England, who most recently was brought into national prominence when she turned over her palatial Purchase, N. Y., estate to the visiting King and Queen of Siam, died at Cap Ferrat in Southern France. One of the wealthiest women in America, her death occurred within a week after the Siamese rulers had arrived to make their residence at her home during their stay in this country.

To Reopen Fight On Differential In Grain Rates

OLYMPIA, Wash., May 5 (AP)—The battle of Puget sound ports against the Columbia river grain rate differential is to be carried to the courts, Fred K. Baker, director of the department of public works, said yesterday.

The order upholding the differential was issued by the I. C. C. nearly a year ago. Subsequently the department requested the commission to reopen its investigation of Western grain rates on the grounds a "great injustice was being done Puget sound ports."

The department's decision to carry the case to the federal court, Baker said, was made after the commission indicated it would not reopen its investigation or hold a rehearing.

The action of the department, Baker said, marks a continuation of the fight of Puget sound ports to win a parity in grain rates with Portland. The fight against the differential opened in 1919 when the Inland Empire Shippers league and the Oregon public service commission filed a complaint with the I. C. C. contending the route down the Columbia river to Portland was water grade and operating costs for the railroads were less, compared with the mountain grade to Puget sound.

From 1897 to 1921 the rates from points on the Northern Pacific and O. W. R. & N., both in Oregon and Washington, south of Snake river, Pendleton and West, were on a parity to Portland and Puget sound.

As a result of the complaint, bitterly opposed by Puget sound terminals, the commission held the rates to Portland were prejudicial and the differential of two cents per 100 pounds was ordered into effect.

The case was reopened in 1924 by Walla Walla farm bureau but was denied by the commission, which at that time held that only by the continuance of the differential could Portland be accorded the benefits to which it was entitled by reason of its natural advantages.

The question was again submitted to the commission by the Hochsmith resolution enacted by congress in 1920. The resolution ordered a general investigation of Western grain rates. Although a commissioner and two examiners who heard all the testimony recommended that the parity of rates should be restored, the commission, Baker said, assumed the opposite course and reaffirmed its former decision.

Roche Lays Down Capone Ultimatum

CHICAGO, May 5 (AP)—Pat Roche, chief investigator for State's Attorney John Swanson, laid down what he claimed to be his Alphonse Capone ultimatum yesterday.

Simply stated: When Capone walks into his office, it'll be in custody of the law.

Roche rejected all of Capone's offers of surrender.

Woman Charged With Murder Of Her Husband

KLAMATH FALLS, Ore., May 5 (AP)—Letha Gray Swindler, indicted by a recent grand jury on the charge of second degree murder for slaying of her husband, Joshua Swindler, former Chiloquin chief of police, was arraigned in circuit court here yesterday.

Dressed in black, weeping and nervous, she leaned upon the arm of her counsel as the indictment was read. An early trial is predicted. Mrs. Swindler was to plead to the charges today. The trial is expected to last four days.

To Keep Out Cold

If you have any draughty doors you can quite easily remedy this in the following way: Take any old felt hats you may have and, beginning at the edge of the brim, cut them round and round into strips about an inch wide. You will find it quite easy to stretch the strips flat. Just go carefully and then tack them where the draughts come through.

Bryan Untied Home After His Trip to Capital

TOWNER, Colo., May 5 (AP)—Bryan Untied, the boy hero who visited the president, came back to his parents 160-acre ranch near here today and is rousing welcome from his home-folks.

He jumped from the automobile into his mother's arms when the car that brought him from the train stopped in front of the ranch house.

"Oh, Bryan, I'm so glad to see you again," cried his mother, Mrs. H. A. Untied, with tears in her eyes. The boy's father gave him a hug.

After preliminary greetings Bryan's first thought was to let his younger brothers, Virgil and Ome, go hunting with the new guns he proudly brought with him.

The boy, who had been the guest of President Hoover last week, in recognition of his heroism in the Pleasant Hill school bus disaster, pulled from its case a repeating rifle which he received as a gift from Allan Hoover, the president's son, and handed it over for examination by his brothers. He also handed them a double barreled shotgun which he received yesterday at Kansas City.

"Just as soon as I can change my clothes, we'll go hunting and you can use the rifle, Virgil," said Bryan. His first conversation with his parents was a description of his visit

Red Cross Nurse On 2 Cent Stamps

WASHINGTON, May 5 (AP)—The symbolic figure of a Red Cross nurse will appear on 2-cent stamps on May 21, marking the fiftieth anniversary of that organization.

Postmaster General Brown yesterday announced the first day's sale would be limited to two historic places, Danville, N. Y., where Clara Barton was born and this city, where she organized the national Red Cross in 1881.

In two colors, black and red, the new stamp with its kneeling figure was pronounced by postoffice officials one of the most attractive ever issued.

Fifty million of the new stamps have been made.

Tax Payments In Multnomah Co. Less

PORTLAND, May 5 (AP)—Last minute rushes to pay taxes, being undertaken by Multnomah county taxpayers, is not expected to net the half-year's quota of $9,000,000. It is more likely, officials said, that receipts will be many hundred thousands of dollars short of last year's figures.

It was estimated Monday that the total collection thus far is only $1,875,000. The tax department doors close at 9 p. m. Tuesday, but many receipts are coming by mail.

Instead of paying now, it was explained, many taxpayers are waiting until the next collection period and taking advantage of the new law which has decreased the penalty for delinquency from 12 to 8 per cent.

CHEAP CUTS OF MEAT IMPROVED BY USING SUGAR

Sugar Blends Deliciously with Meat Juices and Seasonings

One of the most inexpensive meat stews to make is the famous Mexican dish—Chili Con Carne. The recipe, which is very simple, follows: Slice fine, two onions and cook slowly in four tablespoons of fat in a covered kettle until soft—30-40 hours. Then add one and one-half pounds round steak or cheaper beef cut in small cubes and cook until the meat starts to fry. Stir in one to three tablespoons Chili powder, mixed in a little water, one teaspoon salt and two teaspoons sugar. Next add one quart hot water and one cup tomato puree or juice. Simmer until meat is very tender and the stew is of a thick consistency. Serve with potatoes, rice, corn or hominy and a salad. This meal topped with a sweet dessert is most satisfying and properly balanced. Sugar can be similarly used when you stew, braise or pot-roast cheap cuts of beef or lamb; and a dash of sugar to a pinch of salt noticeably improve the flavor of vegetables. Most foods are more delicious with sugar. The Sugar Institute.

Bricks Never Imported

Wilstach says it is a pleasing but improbable tradition that bricks were brought from England for building in Virginia. There was an abundance of excellent brick clay here and no reason for importing bricks. The tradition probably had its origin not in the fact of the place where the bricks were made out in the trade phrase, "Dutch brick" and "English brick." These terms referred to sizes. Dutch brick were small and English brick large.

Architectural Idea

The Greek architect Vitruvius asserted that columns at the corners of a temple should be made a fifth thicker in diameter, because these outer columns seem smaller than they really are.
