Portland Club Defeats Seattle—Oakland Moves Into Tie For Second.

By the Associated Press

A determined crew of baseball players, the Oakland Acorns, had drawn alongside Los Angeles' Angels today in a tie for second place in the Pacific Coast league, while the Portland Beavers increased a hold they have annexed on first place.

The Beavers scalped Seattle's Indians 3 to 1 at Portland yesterday and last night, while the Angels were losing 12 to 6 to the Mission Reds at San Francisco, the Acorns triumphed 3 to 2 over Secramento in a 13-inning contest at Emeryville to move into a second place tie with Los Angeles.

In defeating Seattle, the Beavers got two runs on four hits in the second, adding another tally in the fourth when Johnson singled with the bases full.

Pitcher's Hit Wins Game

Pete Daglia, Oakland pitcher, delivered the hit which brought victory in the 13-inning contest with Sacramento. His single scored Stevenson who had previously connected for a triple. It proved the winning run.

The Missions went on a slugfest at the expense of four Los Angeles pitchers, gathering 16 hits which they converted into 12 runs. The Angels rallied in the ninth to score four runs, but the comeback did not last long enough.

Scoring two of their runs on homers, San Francisco's Seals beat the Hollywood Stars 8 to 4 last night at Los Angeles. The homers were banged out by Oana and Caveney of the Seals, while Gazella of the Stars, accounted for one of his team's tallies with a four-baser.

Added Attraction

An added attraction in this game was an altercation between Julian Wera, Seal third sacker, and Manager Oscar Vitt. At the end of the second inning, Wera became pugilistic over the asserted "riding" given him by Vitt and donated the manager a couple of punches in the left eye which slightly darkened the member. Players soon halted the "exhibition."

JOHNNY FARRELL ON GOLF

'SHORT PUTT'.... a slight tap, with elbows in—must be smooth.

APPROACH PUTT.... long, free backswing for smoothness—stroke is a swing, not a hit.

By Johnny Farrell
(Former American Open Champion)
As Told to Alan Gould

NO. 9 PUTTING

In putting it is essential to be well anchored in a comfortable position.

After getting a smooth stroke, with an easy follow through (for distance putting) it is just a matter of practice and getting the proper line.

There are, however, really two types of putting, one for short distances, the other for anything beyond 10 or 12 feet.

The short putt is more of a tap-stroke, but it should be made nevertheless with a smooth motion, using the wrists only and with the arms well anchored to the sides or the hips.

I m hevna i

I have a habit myself of anchoring my right elbow to the side to gain steadiness.

The long putt is a swing. For accuracy I usually try to pick a spot eight or ten feet from my ball, using this spot as a direction guide. Any golfer will find this is a big help in keeping to the proper line.

Putting is at least 50 per cent psychology. Some days the hole looks as big as a barrel, from almost any part of the green, probably because the player happens to roll in a long one at the start or get a few close enough so that he acquires early confidence.

I see good players as well as duffers tighten up on the greens, making stabs at the ball, when all they need to do is take a good breath and relax.

Too much time spent on the putting practice greens is as bad as none at all.

Tournament players make a mistake by indulging in putting practice before play starts. Anyone who hasn't his putting touch by the time a tournament comes along won't find it on the practice greens.

I remember one event I entered a number of years ago at Youngstown, Ohio. I felt confident I had a good chance to win. Before it started, however, I got into a syndicate game on the practice green with a number of other pros. We battled each other for fully two hours. When I went out to play I found I had left all my putts back there in practice. I finished nowhere.

Ten or fifteen minutes' practice before any match or round of tournament play usually is plenty.

Was "Nagged" By Rheumatic Pains

"Sargon rid me of rheumatic pains that had 'nagged' me for years, until I could hardly use my left arm. Instead of my system being clogged with poisons and my whole body feeling cold and numb like it used to, my blood seems to circulate freely now. My appetite is fine, I've gained back 10 pounds I'd lost, and sleep like a log. Sargon Pills rid me of constipation and bilious attacks, and the relief has been lasting." — H. H. Cotton In Ear Is Gabby's Drawback

PITTSBURGH, May 8 (AP)—Manager Gabby Street of the St. Louis Cardinals is afraid the umpires might get the idea he is losing his grip.

Gabby recently has been suffering from an abscessed ear. Cotton packing interfered with his hearing and when he whispered he thought he was shouting. Now he removes the cotton before each game so he can tell just how loud he is talking.

"Sure would have been a joke on me if I'd have whispered and thought I was telling," Gabby explained. "Yes, the umpires would have thought the millenium was approaching."

Cincinnati Reds Change Line-Up But Cubs Win

By Hugh S. Fullerton Jr.
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

The Cincinnati Reds appear shy a few important parts of a good ball club despite Manager Dan Howley's efforts to build up something like a winner.

Howley made a few more changes yesterday, buying Harvey Hendrick, Brooklyn utility man, to plug the hole at first base, and releasing Chuck Dressen but it appears that he has plenty of work ahead of him. Two Red outfielders, Wally Roettger and Cliff Heathcote, are pounding the ball at a .400 clip but no other player on the team is even near the .300 mark. The return of Ed Roush hasn't worked out and Ick Cullop has not been hitting. Joe Stripp, a .300 hitter last year, has the best mark of the infielders, .268, while Chick Cuccinello, who was expected to do some slugging, is barely above .200.

The Reds' pitching also has been ineffective. Si Johnson did seven good innings against the Cubs yesterday only to weaken and Chicago hammered out five successive hits in the eighth to tie the score at 4-4. The Cubs pushed over another run off Ray Kolp in the eleventh to win, 5-4, for Cincinnati's fifteenth defeat in 17 games. Kolp won one of the two victories and Red Lucas, who has gone the route four times, took the other.

The league leading St. Louis Cardinals won their seventh game in a row yesterday, combining good pitching and powerful hitting to beat Pittsburgh 11 to 5. Jess Haines gave the Pirates only seven hits while the Cards got that many in the fourth inning, putting over five runs and then coming back after a shower to add four more in the fifth.

The St. Louis Browns, by far less successful than their townsmen so far, did about as well yesterday. They got started in the fifth inning and pounded four Cleveland pitchers for a total of 17 hits and a 10 to 4 victory. George Blaeholder yielded 13 blows but he kept them well scattered to turn in his first victory of the season.

Vic Sorrell of Detroit also recorded his first win of the year, holding the Chicago White Sox to nine hits as the Tigers won 6 to 1. Detroit collected four hits and as many runs off Al Thomas before he retired the second man in the opening inning.

The eastern clubs of the American league had an open date as they began their first western trip of the year and New York and Boston in the National also were not scheduled. Brooklyn's game at Philadelphia was rained out.

Washington Track Team Meets O.S.C.

CORVALLIS, Ore., May 8 (AP)—The University of Washington track team was favored to win the dual meet with Oregon State college here today.

Dick Newman, Oregon State coach, said he had little hope that the Orangemen could defeat the Huskies. Others, however, expected the Beavers to offer strong competition in the hurdles and middle distances and probably in some field events.

Oregon Golfers Subdue Huskies

EUGENE, Ore., May 8 (AP)—University of Oregon golfers completely subdued Washington in a dual golf tournament here yesterday, 22½ to 1½. The tournament preceded the annual Northern conference title play which opens here today on the Eugene country club course. The matches were player under the Nassau system.

George Will, for Oregon, shot a brilliant 68 for 18 holes.

Beavers Defeat Washington State

CORVALLIS, Ore., May 8 (AP)—Oregon State defeated Washington State 5 to 1 here yesterday, evening up its two-game series with the Cougars. The victors used three pitchers in trying to stop the Beavers. Cate held the visitors to three hits.

The score:

	R.	H.	E.
Washington State	1	3	3
Oregon State	5	5	4

Nelson, Fiscus, Estell and Mitchell; Cate and Mack.

Willamette Wins From Puget Sound

SALEM, Ore., May 8 (AP)—By the overwhelming score of 30 to 2, Willamette won its second Northwest conference game from College of Puget Sound here yesterday. The Bearcats batted through the entire batting order before a putout was scored in the third inning, scoring 12 runs. The score:

	R.	H.	E.
C. P. S.	2	5	8
Willamette	30	24	2

Sterling, Iaselman, Perdue, Nakmura and Johnson, Sterling; Wood and Messenger, Houck.

Qualifying Round At Country Club

With the weather man predicting clear skies for Sunday, another big day is anticipated at the country club golf course.

The schedule calls for the qualifying round for the spring handicap tournament, with 16 men to qualify. Another event for the men will be a sweepstakes tournament (match play).

The course is reported to be in excellent condition.

On May 17 the country club will meet a team of O.-W. golfers from Portland—the second annual event of this kind.
