ONE SCHOOL HEAD SCHEME IS APPROVED

It is expected by those who have followed the deliberations of the board that by leaving the time indefinite the committee is leaving the way open for recommendations to be made.

It was learned, however, that the action of the board in agreeing on one administrative head does not mean that the presents the university, state colleges and normal schools are to be eliminated at once and all these institutions grouped in one organization.

Unofficially it was said that the period of reorganization will be of sufficient length to permit those whose services will no longer be required, to make the necessary contacts for other work.

It is believed that under the one administrative head, however, each institution will have a management. The board continued its deliberations in the afternoon and was expected to remain in session most of the day.

After a brief open meeting yesterday the committee excluded newspaper men and discussed reports of higher education problems behind closed doors for six hours.

The board is endeavoring to place the length of the Wallowa river along with a recent federal educational survey. This presupposes a certain consolidation of efforts and elimination of duplication.

The only announcement yesterday of what the board did was in

The place cards were miniature books, with a short comic sketch illustrated with appropriate pictures of the person to whom the card belonged. At intervals along the table, the names of the place cards were placed on stands, and these Miss Doty characterized as best sellers. The table decorations which were very amusing were made by Mrs. J. to one of the scenic spots in this vicinity. Mrs. Bay has compiled a list of beauty spots that "beggars all description."

Wallawa Lake, rich with lore of the Nez Perce Indians, about a three hour drive from La Grande over good gravel and dirt roads, is an ideal place for a two-day vacation. Mrs. Bay believes, The lodge and dining room in the resort hotel are in operation and cabins will be available at various places around the lake for the weekend.

Beautiful camping sites may be found the length of the Wallowa river along the south fork and the various tributary creeks. The admirable feature of the Wallowa river and its tributary, the creek which flows through Lowline is its proximity to the main traveled highway.

For an afternoon of joyriding, Mrs. Bay suggests the road from Enterprise to Flora and Paradise along the rim of Joseph creek canyon. Forty-er to La Grande's Memorial day celebration this morning, although the downpour of the night had turned to light drizzle.

After a swim at Cove, 16 miles from La Grande, a drive up Mill creek, past the old electric light and power plant, on the Little Mission road, will take the picnicer to delightful camping grounds in the densest forest, after a 40-minute drive in which Mrs. Bay states one can forget that there is a world. The Little Mission road is a narrow but a very beautiful mountain road.

Out from Union is to be found Catherine creek and as an added feature, excellent fishing.

Ladd canyon, its wooded hills covered with flowers, is suggested by Mrs. Bay as a shorter drive with good fishing and excellent picnic grounds for miles up the narrow but smooth road. To reach Ladd Canyon, Mrs. Bay suggests that the motorist drive to Ladd Pine and turn to the right onto a market road which leads to the very mouth of the canyon.

On the left side of La Grande the Grande Ronde river is suggested with various scenic places to be found near Hilgard, and Whiskey, McCoy, Meadowbrook, Beaver, Jones, and Creeks on the Starkey road. The Grande Ronde river is also a paradise for the fisherman.

For those who delight in scenery rather than fishing, Mrs. Bay mentions the Summerville road which leads to the base of Mt. Emily. Turning off at the West ranch, the motorist may find a beautiful view of the mountain where a profusion of wild flowers make an ideal picnic site. Mill creek, which flows near Summerville, is as a natural overflow road radiating out of Summerville lead to ideal spots for vacationers. Picnic sites may be found on the side of Mt. Emily by driving straight north, the By-Newton ranches and past the Orvis ranch for two or three miles.

Lake Region Not Open— Later in the season the road into the Grande Ronde lakes will be cleared of snow west, and the lake region will be open to tourists. After leaving North Powder, instead of turning onto the Baker road, turn west and about 30 miles from North Powder is to be found the first of the Grande Ronde lakes, Lake Anthony.

LA Grande offers so many interesting spots to campers that Mrs. Bay states she will not attempt to mention them all but will dispense further information to all inquirers at the 3 A office in the La Grande hotel.
