BOXER MAY DIE
PHYSICIANS SAY

Stanley Sargent, Vancouver Middleweight, Injured in Portland Bout

PORTLAND, Ore., June 10 (AP)—Physicians attending Stanley Sargent, Vancouver, British Columbia, middleweight boxer, said last night when he was knocked out in the fifth round by Pete Meyer, San Francisco, was seriously injured. Today the operating room at the hospital he was hurt when he was struck on the head by the floor instead of the mat as he fell. Instead of hoping today's physicians said it was doubtful whether Sargent would recover. Still unconscious, he was taken into the surgery where an operation was performed to relieve an attempt to relieve pressure on his brain.

Sargent's head struck the floor with great force after Meyer had delivered a terrific right to the chin.

FURIOUS BATTLE

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—Pete Meyer, San Francisco middleweight, knocked out Stanley Sargent, Vancouver, Wash., in the fifth round of their bout here last night. Sargent was possibly fatally injured when he was struck on the head as he fell. The knockout came suddenly and unexpectedly.

It was a furious battle from the start. Sargent, who began to look to the first round with a left hook. When he arose Sargent nearly floored him again, but Meyer rallied and knocked Sargent down with a long right. In the second Meyer caught Sargent with two fierce rights and hurt him, but in the third Sargent swarmed all over the Californian with left hooks and right whiffs. Again in the fourth Sargent had the edge.

In the fifth Meyer dropped the Vancouverer with a right hook to the jaw. Instead of taking advantage of the count, Sargent bobbed back on his feet at the count of three, plunging grayly. He put on his gloves as if he were a boxer with Meyer and the latter let go with all he had in a fierce right to the chin. Sargent fell backwards and the sound of his fall was heard all over the auditorium.

Pete Ritter, Salmon Creek, Wash., middleweight, and another string of knockouts when he stopped Jimmy Clark, Seattle, in the fourth round. All Truman Clark dropped middleweight was too much for Willard Norton, Eugene, and after five rounds Norton dropped to his knees to take a technical knockout.

St. Paul, Minn., was suspended by the boxing commission for failure to keep an engagement with "Society Red" Miller. Jess Sawyer substituted and lasted two rounds.

Johnny Garvey, Los Angeles, boxed out a decision over Tommy Walsh, Vancouver, in the curtain raiser after four hard rounds.

Huskies Defeat Marietta Crews On Ohio Course

MARIETTA, O., June 10 (AP)—Marietta and Southern Ohio have seen their first eight-oared intercollegiate shell race and liked it.

Liked it so much, in fact, that concentrated effort was started here last night to obtain the Olympic trials for the Ohio River course just west of here, next summer.

Yesterday evening more than 10,000 persons from the West Virginia and Ohio banks of the river to see the University of Washington freshmen and varsity crews defeat the Marietta college crewmen in the first shell races ever held in this section of the country.

Less experienced and lighter than the Washington Huskies, the Marietta eight made a game race of it. Washington winning the two-mile varsity event by about 10 feet, drawing even and passing the Huskies in the last 100 yards. The Huskies covered the distance in eight minutes and one-half second, excellent time for the flat water of the Ohio.

The Washington freshmen crew outdistanced the Marietta Jayvees by two and three-quarter lengths, finishing the mile and a half race in 8:06.

The Washington crew departed from here last night after the races for Highlands, N. Y., where they will compete there in the intercollegiate at Poughkeepsie June 16.

Before leaving, however, Coach Al Umbrich announced that he probably will return with his crews next summer to race in the West with Marietta and possibly Wisconsin.

Street Car Firm Asks Injunction Against 7c Fare

PORTLAND, Ore., June 10 (AP)—The Pacific Northwest Public Service company yesterday filed suit in federal court here for an injunction preventing the state public utilities commission from enforcing an order reducing street car fares in Portland from 10 cents to 7 cents.

Charles M. Thomas, commissioner, recently ordered the company to reduce its fares to a 7-cent cash basis. The company yesterday declared this order "a unilateral, unreasonable, unjust, unfair, arbitrary, unsupported by any substantial evidence, confiscatory, and constitutes a taking of the property of the plaintiff without adequate compensation."

Thomas issued his order to become effective July 1. The utilities company seeks a restraining order preventing enforcement of the reduced rates until the case has been determined by the courts.

This suit is the first challenge of the rates of the public service commission under the law enacted by the last session of the legislature.

The traction company's complaint contains a request for a violation of the 14th amendment of the United States constitution which guarantees protection against confiscation without due process of law and without adequate compensation.

Thomas' order was issued May 29. It provided for a basic 7-cent cash fare with various ramifications of the fare structure for tokens and passes.

STANDARD RATING SCALE for Electric Refrigeration

The END of the ENDLESS CIRCLE is Right Here

THE bewildering circle of details, opinions and overemphasized "features" of electric refrigeration has been broken. Now you can actually measure quality. The Standard Rating Scale leads buyers straight to the heart of value. It brings out every point upon which your future satisfaction depends. Just read the Scale, and you will understand how you, too, can now judge like an expert.

That is the way we want you to judge Kelvinator.

The Kelvinator line includes models priced from $210 upward. Any one of these may be purchased on our Monthly Budget Plan.

3 YEAR GUARANTEE

Carr Furniture Co., Inc. Kelvinator

• Is the refrigerator manufactured by a reliable company with proper experience in the electric refrigeration field?
• Has it plenty of food and shelf space?
• Is the cabinet itself well designed, sturdy built and perfectly insulated?
• Is there provision for the freezing of an adequate supply of ice cubes? (Quantity of ice rather than number of cubes, which may be of large or small size, should be taken into consideration.)
• Will the refrigerator constantly maintain a proper temperature for the preservation of foods?
• Can the freezing of ice cubes and desserts be speeded up when the need arises?
• Can this extra freezing speed for ice cubes be had without affecting the temperature on the food shelves?
• Is there a temperature on the shelves will, of course, injure food.
• Is there a place to keep ice cream, meat, fish, game, "quick frozen" foods or extra ice cubes indefinitely at a below freezing temperature?
• Are these various temperatures (extra fast freezing; fast freezing; below freezing for storage; and normal food preservation temperature) automatically maintained without any attention from the owner?
• Does the refrigerating unit operate often or infrequently? (The fewer "starts" the longer the unit will last and the less it costs to run.)
• How long will the cooling unit continue to cool the refrigerator even though the current is shut off? (Refrigeration should continue for 10 or 12 hours.)
• Can the back parts of all shelves, even the lowest, be reached without kneeling or sitting down?
• Has provision been made for keeping vegetables fresh and crisp?
• Can the refrigerator top be used to "set" things down for a moment while the contents of the cabinet are being re-arranged?
• Will the refrigerator add to the attractiveness of the kitchen?
• Has the experience of users over a long period of years proved the refrigerator long-lived and dependable?

Mrs. Frederick Bankhardt, of Berea, Ohio.

In an effort to strengthen its drive against outlaws and communism government authorities today announced they were planning to inaugurate political, economic and education programs to supplement their military campaign. Chiang Kai-Shek, head of the government, recently announced that he would lead the military operations against the bandits but thus far has not taken the field.

In an announcement to the press the government officials said: "It is realized that military force alone cannot eradicate banditry and communism unless attention is paid to the importance of political influence in destroying the evil."

"Therefore Chiang Kai-Shek is organizing a committee composed of expert political scientists and economists who will accompany him when he leads the anti-bandit campaign within Hunan and Kiangsi Provinces shortly.

These experts will undertake the rehabilitation of the captured areas, consolidating the accomplishments of the government forces through education.

The government military reported to have in Kiangsi province were making progress against reds and bandits, scattering the outlaws and breaking their hold on the country. Chiang is expected to establish campaign headquarters at Nanchang.

MAXIE, STRIB SETTLE DOWN TO HARD WORK

CLEVELAND, June 10 (AP)—Max Schmeling and Young Stribling were able to settle down to serious training today, unwarred by legal obstacles after their heavyweight championship bout here yesterday.

The state supreme court removed the only legal hurdle yesterday by refusing to advance for immediate hearing the injunction suit brought by Attorney Joseph H. Melien.

Melien, defeated in common pleas and appellate courts, had carried his case through the supreme court, contending the bout would be a prize fight and thus contrary to the statutes. The city argued it would be only a "boxing exhibition."

The matter of referee and an agreement concerning fouls now are the only details to be ironed out.
