

Workers' Frowns Drain Thousands From The Tills

By J. R. Brackett (Associated Press Business Writer) NEW YORK (AP)—Emotions cost one manufacturer more than $500,000 in one year—not the manufacturer's emotions, but the unhappy emotions of his workers resulting from an imperfect plant environment.

Conditions Affect Work

On the basis of factors both within and without the plant, average production was 99.84 per cent, while the average of the most normal worker was 101.5 per cent. While this may seem a trifling difference, the statistics show that virtually all of this normal worker's drop in production resulted from factors not connected with his working life, while for all the workers in the test the plant situation accounted for most of their decreased production.

GREAT-AUNT TO SELL ROYAL JEWELS SO ALFONSO'S DAUGHTER MAY WED

By Adelaide Kerr PARIS (AP)—Behind the gray walls of a Paris convent-pension the Infanta Eulalia, daughter of one of the queens of Spain, is preparing to sell the jewels given her on her own wedding day to provide a dowry for the love-match of an exiled Spanish princess. Diamonds, emeralds and pearls which once gleamed from the throats and hair of two Spanish queens are to be taken from dust-covered iron-bound strong boxes and sold to facilitate the marriage of the Infanta's grandson, Prince Alvaro d'Orleans and her great-niece, Princess Beatrice, eldest daughter of Alfonso, former king of Spain.

for a marriage and a 'dot' now, and that they must wait until affairs are more settled. The little princess has sobbed on his shoulder. "My grandson writes me frantic letters from Zurich where he is in school. They both beg 'Help us out, Gfandmamma. Nobody else will.' And so it's up to me. I haven't anything left but my jewels, but I'm giving those."

Princess Beatrice, tall, dark-haired, dark-eyed, is working "day and night," his grandmother says, on his course in mechanical engineering at the University of Zurich in Switzerland. Two more years of work are necessary before he will be ready to earn his living as a mechanical engineer.

Meanwell Through With Midget Idea

MADISON, Wis. (AP)—Coach Walter E. Meanwell of the University of Wisconsin has abandoned his experiment with midget basketball players. This year six-footers will replace the small men who have worked the short-pass style of play under Dr. Meanwell for several seasons.

KILL STOCKHOLM PIGEONS STOCKHOLM (AP)—City authorities have declared war on the pigeons which infest the city, and huntmen stalk the plump birds in the market places where the flocks especially congregate.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE— WITHOUT CALOMEL

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rin' to Go If you feel sour and sunk and the world looks puny, don't swallow a lot of salts, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine.

Beetle Robbing Wheat Farmers Of Northwest

SPOKANE, Wash. (AP)—A slim, jet black beetle, half an inch long, is robbing wheat farmers of Oregon, Washington, Idaho and Montana of as many millions of dollars as the market slump. M. C. Lane, associate entomologist in the federal bureau of entomology, tells about the pest, known as the "Great Basin wireworm" in a bulletin.

Longer Work Day With No Loafing Makes Hens Pay

KELLOGG, Iowa (AP)—One secret of success in raising poultry, B. E. Craven believes, is to put hens on a 12-hour day, and to allow no loafing. So at 5 a. m. he turns on the electric lights, to equalize winter days with longer summer working periods.

Winters Cold Enough to Injure Fall Sown Seed

The worms attack spring sown kernels almost as soon as they are planted, in some cases preventing germination. They also attack the underground parts of the plant after sprouting, killing out the stand in spots.

"I'll stand by it!"

"I'll stand by tobacco . . . in good times, in hard times . . . all kind of times . . . it helps a whole lot!"

"I GREW up with tobacco. Mostly I smoke cigarettes now—but I've smoked plenty of cigars, and pipes, too. And I never got anything but good from tobacco in any form—pipe, cigar, or cigarette—and that goes for every smoker I ever heard about."

of mine—fine tobaccos from all over the world, and cured and blended just so; you couldn't get anything purer or milder. Cleanest factories you ever saw, too—never a hand touching the cigarettes . . . everything up to date.

*NOTE. In the sections where tobacco grows and where people know tobacco, Chesterfield is usually the largest-selling cigarette.
