Further Cut In Butter Market Prices Likely

PORTLAND, Jan. 9 (AP) — Further cut of 1c in the price of cube butter on the produce exchange for the weekend session was expected and due. All prices were down an equal sum during the session.

Congestion of offerings due to the increased seasonable make as a result of the too great expansion of the milk supply, plays havoc with the market for butter. In fact this same condition is forced all through the milk product market.

Cut of 1c in the buying price of butterfat, naturally follows the lower butter mark on the exchange as well as on the open market.

Owing to the fact that there are so many different ways of quoting butterfat at the moment, some calling the best stock special or sweet cream while others say No. 1, only the basic price for churning cream is being listed today.

Trade conditions in the egg market continue weak with prices lower in spots although no further change by the Pacific co-ops was announced. Receipts are extremely heavy.

For the weekend generally steady prices were reflected in the local market for live chickens. Demand is best for medium to heavy hens.

Serious surplus of dressed turkeys is showing on the local market with very little local and practically no outside demand at a price that is acceptable. Best stuff is selling nominally to retailers at 25c with No. 2 stock at 20c.

Surprising demand is shown for mountain potatoes of Clackamas-Washington counties being graded and marketed through the co-operative association. No. 1 stock is generally sold to wholesalers 90c cental.

Well held prices are generally shown for country killed meats with a very good movement except for hogs, which appear a trifle weak and somewhat slower sale. Lambs especially in call.

Umatilla Control Matter Comes Up

PENDLETON, Ore., Jan. 9 (AP) — Plans to protect two of Pendleton's large investments from the ravages of Umatilla flood water are being considered by the city council. The Round-Up grounds and the septic tank in the west part of the city are endangered by high water. Councilmen are considering a crib dyking to protect the Round-Up park, and pulling trees in the Umatilla channel. A new channel would be dredged in the vicinity of the septic tank.

In last year's flood the tank was damaged to some extent by flood currents.

SECRETARY HYDE DEFENDS HOOVER IN SPEECH TODAY

serve to define the task, if we inquire 'who has?'" he continued. "He makes vain search who seeks for a man or a coherent suggestion among the followers of Mr. Sinclair. Their statecraft apparently begins and ends with beer. The lack of beer was not the cause of British distress nor has its plentiful supply relieved the German crisis. Not in the Democratic national committee nor in its hirelings is there a constructive thought."

Secretary Hyde continued that the president could not be blamed for his leadership when the relatively better condition of this country was taken into consideration and compared with that condition in other countries.

"Amid the crash of governments and of financial systems, the United States has had not even so much disturbance as a strike of major importance and a dollar is still a dollar both in America and throughout the world," he said. "Do you think that we, as Americans, should apologize for a political and economic system which can do that? Do you think that we, as Republicans, should apologize for a leadership which has made it possible to say that? I do not apologize for that leadership. I boast about it."

Profit Taking At Last Halts Gains In Stock Market

NEW YORK, Jan. 9 (AP) — The recovery in the stock market was extended into the fourth successive session today, but finally was halted by weekend profit taking and the list slipped back slightly in the final dealings.

The market closed with a somewhat heavy tone, several prominent issues showing net declines of a point or so. On the whole, however, brokerage quarters regarded the action of the market as distinctly encouraging, since a rather substantial setback would not have been surprising in view of the extensive gains of the past three days. The turnover approximated 2,000,000 shares.

U. S. Steel's unfilled tonnage figures announced at the close of the market, were considerably more adverse than had been generally expected, but it had been well-known that steel buying had been virtually at a standstill.

JAPAN MAY ASK FOR CONFERENCE

Manchuria, as Secretary Stimson infers," said the newspaper Nichi Nichi, "because China's so-called administrative power in Manchuria never existed. If any real power ever ruled Manchuria it was Marshal Chang Hsueh-Liang. Japan had no intention of ruining political power in Manchuria — it was self-ruined."

The newspaper Asahi said the note impresses Japan by its serious tone regarding Chinchow as the last remaining stand of Chinese governmental authority in Manchuria.

"In this attitude," the paper said, "the United States is entirely in error. Japan's military operations in Manchuria have been solely in self-defense, against outlaws . . . Japan's action in the Chinchow zone resulted in the impairment of the rights of no third power nor has Japan any more to do with the new government now under formation than the United States had in the same circumstances in Nicaragua."

JAPANESE ADVANCING

LONDON, Jan. 9 (AP) — An exchange telegraph dispatch from Harbin, Manchuria, today said Japanese troops were advancing toward the city from Kirin.

A Japanese airplane, the dispatch said, dropped two bombs at Wuchang Yushu, 100 miles from Harbin.

COMMUNIST ATTACK FEARED

PEIPING, Jan. 9 (AP) — Walter A. Adams, United States consul at Hankow, informed the American legation here today that the women and children at the American Lutheran theological seminary at Hsikou, ten miles away, have been advised to proceed to Hankow for a few days because of a communist attack on Huangpei, a town near the mission.

WALLOWA PERSONALS

By Mrs. C. A. Hunter
(Observer Correspondent)

WALLOWA (Special) — Funeral services for Henry Spence were conducted at the Presbyterian church Tuesday afternoon, with Rev. W. P. Shields delivering the sermon. Rev. A. A. Harriman and Dr. H. W. Oliver assisted with the services. Several beautiful old hymns were furnished by a quartet consisting of Mr. and Mrs. K. W. McKenzie, Mrs. W. P. Poole and H. M. Vaught, with Mrs. E. A. Pollock at the piano. Members of Jessica chapter O. E. S. and of Stanley lodge A. F. and A. M. of which the deceased was a member, attended the services in a body. Interment was in the Enterprise cemetery. The ritualistic services of the Masonic lodge were conducted at the graveside with C. H. Thorp, master in charge.

After receiving news of the death of Henry Spence, Mrs. Garrett Blokland of near Island City came to Wallowa on Sunday's train and remained for several days with Mrs. Spence. Mr. Blokland drove to Wallowa on Tuesday to attend the funeral and his wife accompanied him home Thursday.

Spencer Trump, who has been seriously ill following an emergency operation for a ruptured appendix Sunday afternoon, is reported to be improving.

Three cases of scarlet fever have appeared in Wallowa since the holidays. Miss Mildred Johnson, Mary Elaine Bratton and Mrs. Hollis Bull are in quarantine but none of them are very ill. The disease seems to be in a mild form. Fred Bales is back in school following an attack of scarlet fever which kept him confined at his home for three weeks.

Three Ladies' Aid meetings were held in Wallowa Wednesday afternoon. The Christian Ladies' Aid was entertained at the home of Mrs. A. A. Harriman with 20 members and friends in attendance. After the usual routine of business had been transacted, refreshments were served by the hostess. Mrs. C. T. McDaniel and Mrs. F. F. McCully were joint hostesses to 15 members of the Methodist aid at the home of Mrs. McDaniel. After the business meeting a social afternoon was enjoyed and refreshments served by the hostesses. The Presbyterian Aid held its first meeting of the year at the home of Mrs. T. T. Shell with 15 members present. Following the transaction of business a social hour and refreshments were enjoyed. The next meeting will be in two weeks at the home of Mrs. Ross Hood.

Ralph Brace, nephew of Mrs. E. J. Rinker returned to his home in Portland the first of the week after a few days spent at the Rinker home in Wallowa.

Mrs. Orval McKinzie and small son, Teddy, are spending the week in Elgin with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Coats.

N. E. Wilkes is seriously ill and was taken to the hospital Wednesday. He has been in poor health for several months suffering from anemia and heart trouble.

According to a letter received this week by the Wallowa Sun from Mrs. Myrtle Rich of Livermore, Cal., her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Williams, received 110 letters and cards from Wallowa friends on the occasion of their fiftieth wedding anniversary which fell upon Christmas day. Early in the month of December, letters were received in Wallowa asking that former friends send greetings as a part of the surprise that Mr. and Mrs. Williams' children were planning for them. Mrs. Rich states that her mother read all the letters aloud to the rest of the family and that many of them brought tears of happiness to their eyes. She says that friends who took the time to write would feel amply repaid if they could have seen the happiness those letters brought to the bride and bridegroom of 50 years ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Wade Hall, of Chico, are spending a few days here, while Mr. Hall is transacting business at the local forest office. Mr. Hall is forest ranger in the Chico district.

Mr. and Mrs. Peterson, sister and brother-in-law of the late Henry Spence, arrived here Wednesday from Eureka, Cal. They will spend a short time visiting with Mrs. Spence in Wallowa and with her son, W. H. Spence, of Enterprise.

The Lions cluub held its regular weekly banquet at the Miller hotel Thursday evening with 16 members present. Three young people from the public speaking class of the Wallowa High school gave three-minute talks at the meeting. Hollis Tulley had as his subject "Radio." Miss Isabel Allen spoke on "The Olympic Games." Tom Willett told about "The Public Speaking Class of the High School." Each of these brief talks was well given and was very interesting and pleasing to those in attendance, it is stated. The club is planning several interesting social meetings for the near future. Bruce Cox is president of the Lions club.

Mrs. M. A. Bull, of Moro, arrived in town Thursday to care for her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Hollis Bull, who is ill of scarlet fever.

Mrs. Roy Lovell and daughter, Bonnie Jean, returned Monday from a trip to Riverside, Cal., where they had been called three weeks ago by the illness of Mrs. Lovell's mother. When Mrs. Lovell left California, her mother was improving in health.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Rich have returned to their home in Wallowa after living at Joseph for the last two years, where Mr. Rich had charge of the MacMar grocery.

EAST SIDE MARKET

PORTLAND, Jan. 9 (AP) — Demand for cauliflower is rather keen on the east side farmers' wholesale market. Prices held up well for good quality.

Cabbage market is fairly steady with practically no change in the price.

Green broccoli is in liberal call with little offering. Mostly 86c lug.

Potatoes were dull but held unchanged prices.

Brussel sprout offerings are surprisingly liberal considering the season. Demand is good and price retained.

A majority of mounts used by the pony express were half-breed California mustangs.

CHICAGO GETS DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION

straw man set up saying Smith, Raskob and Shouse combine against the nomination of Governor Roosevelt. There is not one word of truth in it."

The story in question referred to him and Alfred E. Smith, the 1928 nominee, and Jouett Shouse, now executive chairman for the national committee.

There was no discussion of the motion to refer prohibition and other platform suggestions to the convention, it not even being read.

Finance Plan Outlined

Raskob outlined a plan for party finance calling for raising $1,500,000. This would wipe out the deficit in the treasury and leave $500,000 for "a flying start fund for the 1932 campaign," he said.

A plan for a "victory campaign" beginning Jan. 14 to raise the money was proposed.

The committee took no formal action on the financial report. Raskob appointed Byrd, Howard Bruce of Maryland and Mrs. Nellie Taylor Ross of Wyoming, a committee to study means by which the national committee can function more effectively.

He said the chairman does not get the cooperation he should.

The predominant political development from the Jackson day dinner of last night was the definite manner in which former Governor James M. Cox, of Ohio, and John W. Davis took themselves out of consideration for the 1932 nomination and the fact that former Governor Alfred E. Smith of New York, did not.

These three former standard bearers of the party were the speakers at the dinner. They combined to heap dnunciation on the tariff, the farm board, the Hoover administration as a whole.

Smith went further and laid out a platform for the relief of unemployment after characterizing the administration policy in this regard as "defenseless."

Advocates Bond Issue

He advocated a great governmental bond issue sold as were liberty bonds direct to the people and the use of the money for permanent public improvements needed in the operation of government.

Cox and Smith assaulted prohibition. Cox, his voice pitched high, called on southern Democrats to "send back to their pulpits political ecclesiastics so that the people may know the truth about prohibition." His plea was applauded.

Two party stalwarts, one an avowed candidate for the presidential nomination and the other mentioned as a possibility, were cheered by the assembled Democrats. They were Governor Ritchie of Maryland, who announced his candidacy in Baltimore Thursday night, and John Garner, of Texas, recently elected speaker of the house.

Claude G. Bowers, keynoter at the Houston convention in 1928, was the toastmaster. In his opening address he attacked the Hoover administration for "its failure to fulfill campaign promises." He said the blame for the depression would have to be placed on the Republicans:

"For when a party claims credit for the rain it must take credit for the drouth."

Smith, with arms extended, asked the question, "What about prohibition?" then he answered:

"The country is spending annually $100,000,000 in a senseless, useless and fruitless attempt to enforce prohibition."

Applause, and the 1928 campaign cry of "Come on Al," greeted his answer.

Davis turned his fire on the Smoot-Hawley tariff bill. He said that "not one new dollar has this tariff dropped into the pocket of a single American citizen."

Hits at Farm Board

The former ambassador to Great Britain, and 1924 candidate, described the farm board as "a mad adventure" and maintained it had taught the farmer only one thing and that was he had "been handed a gold brick of purest brass serene."

He severely criticized the Hoover administration for the treasury deficit saying "honest governments like honest men must live within their income."

Shouts of "never" greeted Cox's charge that "Republicans are in a conspiracy to bury Woodrow Wilson in the grave of the unknown soldier."

Juror No. 12

John D. Rockefeller Jr., thinks no job is more important than jury duty. Here you see the oil magnate, whose time is worth many thousands of dollars an hour, after he had set an example for others to follow by serving willingly on a sheriff's jury for the fourth time in a year. As "Juror No. 12," he helped to decide a breach of contract case in New York.

On November 30 unfilled orders amounted to 2,933,891 tons. As of December 31, 1930, the total was 3,943,596 tons.

Persons familiar with the industry has been uncertain as to what today's figures would show, but there had been some expectation of a rise. Since 1921 the backlog had always increased in the last month of the year. The corporation's mills operated at a low rate during December, but it was believed several fairly substantial orders had been received toward the year end, although incoming business over the greater part of the month was small.
