Oregon Editors Will Gather In Eugene Jan. 21-23

UNIVERSITY OF OREGON, Eugene, Jan. 11 (Special)—An analysis of the newspaper industry of today and its need for reduced expenses without affecting the quality of publication and without loss of prestige will form the basis of discussion for the fourteenth annual Oregon press conference, to be held at the University of Oregon January 21, 22 and 23. Experts in all phases of newspaper work will be on hand to present papers and take part in the discussions, according to the tentative program released by Arne G. Rae, field manager of the state editorial association and chairman of the program committee.

Ben R. Little, publisher of The Oregon Press conference, will preside at the meetings which will be held in the school of journalism. One of the outstanding features will be the awarding of the Sigma Delta Chi cup to the best weekly newspaper in Oregon, an annual event sponsored by the journalism honor society. The Hesperian Gazette-Times is the present holder, and it will receive a certificate of merit, when the cup is presented to the new winner.

There will also be a short, but important, business meeting of the State Editorial association, the publishers' business organization, at which Ralph E. Cronise, co-publisher of the Albany Democrat-Tribune, will preside as president. This meeting will be held Saturday morning, January 23.

The annual banquet, which has become a traditional and popular event of the conference, is scheduled for Friday evening, January 22, at the Osburn hotel, at which Eric W. Allen, dean of the school of journalism, will be toastmaster. Tom Russell, president of the Eugene chamber of commerce, will speak, and Quincy Scott, cartoonist of the Portland Oregonian, will give a cartoon talk, predicted to be one of the most entertaining features of the session.

Newspapers will not give up their supremacy in the advertising field to other media, believes Clarence R. Lindner, general manager of the San Francisco Examiner, who will tell Oregon newspapermen some of his opinions on this subject.

HOOVER ANXIOUS TO REVISE BILL

The senate banking leaders indicated a general understanding from the White House conference.

One of the things worrying the administration as well as the congressional members is the attempt of Mayor Walker of New York to get help from the bill for New York City.

Senator Copeland, Democrat, New York, will press that point but both the Republicans and Democrats in charge of the measure are going to stand firm against it.

Offers to Wed For $7000

Terming himself "the answer to a maiden's prayer," Corporal James J. Burcham, above, of Fort Leavenworth, Kan., has offered to marry any woman of any age who will give him $7000. He says he is a better bargain than the Chicagoan who made the same offer for $10,000.

HOOPER ANXIOUS TO REVISE BILL

Hoover to get the new relief corporation into operation at the earliest possible moment is leading him to consult with the congressional leaders on the legislation.

Moses With "Horns"

Horns on the head of Moses, in some of the early pictures, are accounted for by a boulder in the translation of the Book of Exodus 34:29-30. In some of the early translations of the Hebrew phrase stating that the face of Moses shone or sent forth beams were erroneously translated "sent forth horns."

Rickard Widow Returns South

Mrs. Tex Rickard, widow of the late promoter, and her daughter, Maxine, are shown here in their most recent picture at Miami Beach, Fla., where they are renewing old acquaintances and making new ones on their annual winter sojourn in the south.

Prolific Layers

A queen bee can lay 5,000,000 eggs in an average lifetime of three years. A lobster can lay 10,000 eggs at a sitting, and a white ant lays 80,000 eggs in a day.

AMERICAN WOOL GROWERS GATHER IN CONVENTION

tered into with Secretary Jardine in 1927 at Salt Lake City he declared "a one sided, colored referendum was sent out by Secretary Hyde to the political powers that be in the states affected" and added that even though the results of the referendum was favorable to the sheepmen's plea for lowered rates, "the forest bureau, and under its influence the secretary of agriculture, turned a stony heart and a deaf ear to our plea and the national government continues to profiteer to the extent of over 100 per cent at the expense of a stricken industry."

Praises Co-op Corporation President Hagenbarth spoke in terms of the results attained by the national wool marketing corporation. He said: "It has marketed one-third of the entire tonnage of wool and mohair produced in this country; it has been the stronger price stabilizer in the market; it has saved millions of dollars for producers—members and non-members alike; through pre-seeing and wool advances it was a great financial help to growers through a time of credit stringency; it is fast building a firm foundation for the future which bids fair to make it by far the controlling factor in wool marketing in the United States, and finally it has been largely effective in safeguarding for the producers the benefits of the tariff."

BRITISH SAY CONFERENCE IMPERATIVE

The board also renewed the bank's share of the Austrian credit of 90,000,000 schillings the Hungarian credit of $20,000,000 and its own $1,000,000 credit to Jugoslavia.

It was understood that the directors regarding Chancellor Bruening's reparations statement of last week as "very interesting and irritating to the French, but not likely to interfere with plans for the Lausanne conference."

The Young plan advisory committee report which directors of the world bank approved today justified Germany's contention that she is unable to make conditional reparations payments beginning next year.

YEAR'S DELAY HELPFUL (CLEVELAND, Jan. 11 (AP)—France would have seized the left bank of the Rhine had Germany's reparations announcement come a year ago, in the opinion of former Secretary of War Newton D. Baker. "I am inclined to believe that if Herr Bruening's statement had been made a year ago instead of now, the French army would have marched up the Rhine as far as Dusseldorf, taken over the left bank of the Rhine and seized the German posts in order to collect the customs, and then taken over the German railroads which produce considerable revenue." Baker said he was not surprised at Bruening's announcement on reparations.

THE WHIP IS IN YOUR HAND

When our grandmothers went shopping they were prepared to match their wits against the shopkeeper's. His was the whiphand. Prices were anything the dealer had to pay, plus a profit. And his profits were as elastic as his necessity—or opportunity.

Our grandmothers had a very fine knowledge of woollens, cottons, silks. They used their eyes and fingers in buying. They tasted and sniffed at foodstuffs. Our grandfathers knew an intimate lot about woods, veneers, stains. They knew leathers and machinery and cutlery. They had to.

Today you can shop with assurance by designating this brand of this and that brand of that, and hardly bother to check the price on the bill when it comes. You can send a twelve-year-old to market with a note and never have a doubt of kind, quality or price — if you buy advertised goods.

Advertising has established standards, established values and established confidence. Advertising forces fair dealing and honest merchandise. It puts the whip in your hand.

Do you read the advertisements?
