In God have I put my trust, I will not be afraid what man can do unto me.—Psalm 56: 11.

NITRATE

Sodium nitrate, the cause and force of wars, can also be a sign of peace. It figures in an international agreement of recent signing in such a way as to indicate basic conditions of peace.

A Franco-German deal whereby Germany is to deliver 200,000 tons of sodium nitrate to her traditional enemy, France, hardly supports the alarmist dispatches of foreign newspaper correspondents placing all Europe dangerously near the powder house.

Were Germany planning to make war on France or fearing invasion from France she would not sell to France the very stuff that makes modern warfare. When war clouds hover over Europe Germany hoards her precious sodium nitrate and conspires to exhaust the resources of her enemies.

While France is buying the nitrate for agricultural purposes, it could be diverted for the uses of war, especially when the order is for more than the war reserve supply of 125,000 tons.

Germany is not anticipating trouble with France or she would withhold her nitrate from world markets, compelling countries like France to risk sea cargoes. As it is she is entering into competition with the United States, Chile and Norway for the world trade.

Nitrate was Chile's prize in the War of the Pacific. Muscle Shoals was built to supply the United States with nitrate for farming and war needs. No nation fearing immediate hostilities would part with 200,000 tons of the essence of warfare.

A MAN'S INTENTIONS

Whatever a man's problem and handicaps there is a word that describes the one thing he can do and must do. That word is "Forward." The man who lets nothing stop his steady advance need fear no future obstacles. His motor is his will and no form can long chain and impoverish that. Success comes sometimes when least expected. It is missed sometimes because of lack of faith in its existence. But he who advances, whose watchword is "forward," is never surprised at prosperity. He welcomes it when it comes for he has long expected it and is prepared to meet its responsibilities.

Success is wholly a matter of mental attitude toward success. The half-hearted idea that it may work out never made a success of anything. Success comes from the determination at the beginning to be successful and then by being it. It isn't swelled-headedness to believe oneself bigger than anything which may stand in the way of success but to believe that is necessary to success.

Goethe in his "Life and Character" said "Strictly speaking, everything depends upon a man's intentions."

This is about the season of the year when we begin to admit that we have not made good our promise to ourselves (or was it a threat?) to have more money this season than we had last year.

How much the world owes to fools who did not know it couldn't be done and went ahead and did it.

In Washington

By Herbert Plummer
WASHINGTON — It must make some of the Democrats in the house feel a bit glum when they see their names and utterances occupying so much front page newspaper space nowadays.

It has been a long time since they have enjoyed that sort of thing. For years it has been such lean pickin' for all but such a few of them that they must be in a sort of daze.

There's the white-haired floor leader, Henry T. Rainey, for example, and James W. Collier of Mississippi, chairman of the ways and means committee. They have been doing a lot of talking lately about taxes, tariff and the like, and their every word has been snapped up eagerly by the newspapers.

Both of them have freely expressed their opinions before, but they attracted relatively scant attention. It is different now.

Too Much Talk?
Gossip around the capitol has it that there is a feeling among the Democratic leaders that too much talking is being done.

Outsiders have too frequently grabbed at the statements of one man and made them appear as expressions of party policy.

When Ogden Mills, undersecretary of the treasury, attacked the "supposed" Democratic tax plan, Speaker Garner quickly rushed in, declaring that the party had not decided on anything definite.

Garner said in effect that an individual opinion is a vastly different thing from party policy.

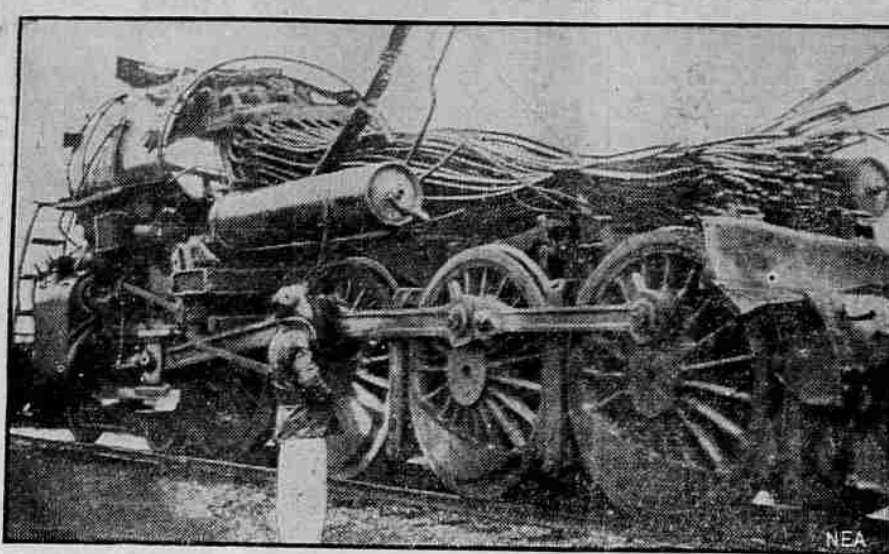

Just who will be the enunciator of Democratic policy when one is formed? Will it be Speaker Garner? Will it be Floor Leader Rainey? Or will it be Chairman Collier of the ways and means committee?

Maybe A Tricameral
Perhaps a new tricameral is being formed in the Democratic ranks—one along the lines the Republicans had in that famous combination of "Longworth, Tilson and Snell."

However, under the new rules of the house a Democratic tricameral would be deprived of the most powerful weapon the Republican trio had—the rules committee. That hand of the Republican group, represented in Snell, has been rendered practically useless for a similar Democratic combination.

Virginia Had the First
The first windmill was built in Virginia at Windmill point on the James river, in 1621 by Gov. Sir George Yeardley.

CONFERENCE SHAPES BILL IN TWO DAYS

house, this greatest of peace-time emergency measures returned to the two chambers for final approval, a consummation expected tomorrow. Something approaching a record was set by the conference committee in adjusting, within two days, numerous and important differences between senate and house on the $2,000,000,000 government credit agency.

Dawes, Meyer Lead Hand
The men who will run the financial plan, Charles C. Dawes, and chairman of the board Eugene Meyer, helped in attaining the agreement.

As drafted by the conferees the legislation will allow the corporation to replace unliquid collateral with cash in loans to the following:

Federal and state banks, savings banks, trust companies, building and loan associations, mortgage loan companies, insurance companies, credit unions, federal land banks, joint stock land banks, federal intermediate credit banks, agricultural and livestock credit corporations and interstate steam and electric railways, exporters and farmers.

Loan Limited
All loans are limited to $100,000,000 each. The farmers' loans are limited to an overall total of $200,000,000. For exporters another outside figure of $500,000,000 is set. Another clause allows a total of $200,000,000 for closed banks for freeing deposits.

The conferees eliminated a provision in the senate bill which would have required the corporation to include in its quarterly reports the names of persons, financial institutions or corporations with whom contracts for loans or other transactions were entered into and the amount involved in each case.

This provision was inserted in the senate measure mainly at the instance of Senator Wheeler, Democrat, Montana, who insisted the people have a right to know definitely to whom their money is going. The clause would have required the information to be printed as public documents.

One of the conferees said the provision had been stricken out because of the belief the borrowing institutions might be injured if it were known generally they were calling upon the emergency corporation for aid.

Hoover Pleased
As congress convened Senator Walcott (R., Conn.) co-author of the bill, said President Hoover was "very much pleased" with the corporation bill.

The senator, who had visited the White House, said the president had asked him to call to permit him to go over the changes made by the conferees, all were approved by the president.

Senator Walcott said he was informed the house would approve the conference report this afternoon. As soon as it reaches the senate he said, he planned to ask unanimous consent for its immediate consideration. A single objection could force it to go over for a day.

DIRECT RELIEF BILL REPORTED
WASHINGTON, Jan. 21 (AP) — An appropriation of $275,000,000 for direct federal relief for the unemployed was recommended to the senate today by one of its committees, despite President Hoover's opposition.

The manufacturers committee voted 6 to 2 to report the Costigan-La Follette bill authorizing $125,000,000 for the present winter and $250,000,000 for the next fiscal year.

Up to Senate Now
The committee's action places squarely before the senate the proposal for direct appropriations from the treasury to aid the jobless.

Early consideration by the senate will be demanded by the bill's sponsors, Senators La Follette, (R., Wis.) and Costigan, (D., Colo.)

President Hoover has strenuously opposed direct appropriations for unemployment relief. Walter Gifford, head of his emergency relief organization, told the committee during hearings that the problem was being adequately met by states, counties and municipalities, aided by private charity.

Strong Support Expected
The vote in the committee indicated the relief bill will have strong support in the senate from the Democratic side.

The only votes against it were cast by administration Republicans, Senators McNary, of Oregon, and Goldsborough, of Maryland.

Those who voted for the bill in addition to La Follette and Costigan were:

Senators Smith of South Carolina, Wheeler of Montana, and Sheppard, of Texas, and Bulkeley, of Ohio, all Democrats.

Crowley To Die This Evening To Aton For Crime

OSSINING, N. Y., Jan. 21 (AP) — Francis Crowley, scrawny youth who lived all his 20 years in New York and can scarcely write his name, cut and stole the picture of the electric chair pasted on his cell wall. He dies in the chair at Sing Sing tonight for murdering a policeman.

"I didn't want to forget it," said Crowley, explaining with a leer why he pasted up the picture of the chair when they put him in the death house.

Probe Into His Past
Experts tried to find in his past the reasons why the twisted youth raged through the series of crimes that brought him the nick-name "Two-Gun."

He was the son, his attorney said, of Dora Dietz, a servant girl, and a private policeman who never married her. Shortly after birth, he was taken to the baby farm of Mrs. Anna Crowley, the lawyer said. Growing into adolescence with a mind retarded, he turned from school to tawdry dance places and shady resorts.

His name was linked with a series of holdups. Then came an alarm for him in the killing of Virginia Brannen, a time-dance girl who was shot and tossed from an automobile into a Yonkers hedge.

Patrolman Slain
One night patrolman Frederick Hirsch, of Nassau county, thinking a parked automobile, its occupants were Crowley and his sweetheart, Helen Walsh, Crowley shot him dead and sped away.

A few days later detectives cornered him, the girl and Rudolph Durringer, truckman, in an apartment house on the upper west side. Bullets and tear gas were poured into the place for two hours before Crowley, wounded and his ammunition exhausted, let the police enter.

Durringer Executed
Durringer was executed for killing Miss Brannen.

In his cell Crowley began building paper bridges and apartment houses. Defense alienists said he was a "moral imbecile." The state said he was sane.

More than 2000 people have applied to Warden Lewis E. Lewis for tickets to see Crowley die.

ALBANY COLLEGE QUINTET TO PLAY

represented the E. O. N. on the maple court since its founding and hopes were running high today for a victory. With Belts at center, the Mountaineers are expected to get the tip-off a majority of the time, and possession of the ball at that stage of the game spells a lot in the type of play likely to be shown. That Albany's defense is penetrable also is demonstrated by the score chalked up by the veteran Whitman team, favored to win the 1932 Northwest conference title this year.

The game tonight also will serve as a measure for figuring the Mountaineers' chances against Whitman college, which entertains the E. O. N. at Walla Walla Saturday, Jan. 30.

The following week the Mountaineers open their conference season with two games in La Grande against the Southern Oregon Normal school at Ashland.

Prior to the Albany-E. O. N. game tomorrow night, the Mountaineer seconds will play an Imber town team, this game beginning at 7 o'clock.
