

AMUSING YARNS OF BASKETBALL

Phog Allen Tells of Freak Play Developing on Very Small Floor.

This is the third of a series of articles written by Forrest C. Allen, director of athletics at the University of Kansas and nationally known basketball coach.

By Forrest C. Allen

LAWRENCE, Kan., Jan. 22 (AP)—In the drama of life human emotions are stirred no more deeply than in the fierce maelstrom of sports. Out of athletic competition comes high exaltation, depression, fierce rivalries and much pleasure. Somebody has said that, "anything to possess heart interest must possess the qualities sufficient to produce a tear one moment or a laugh the next instant." This is true of the experience of the basketball player. Many amusing yarns are spun after the fires of fierce rivalries have burned low.

Freak courts and freak plays always have drawn a laugh. Harold M. "Kid" Gore, the effusive and energetic director of athletics at Massachusetts Agricultural college, Amherst, Mass., contributes a yarn, "In bounds" story during the meeting of the National Basketball Coaches' association in New York last winter.

Sure Baskets

The story dealing with "Shine" Farrell, veteran Massachusetts coach, concerns a keen rivalry between schools several years back, which resulted in much discussion and second guessing.

It seems that one school had a very small floor which necessitated special ground rules. The playing surface was bound by walls at both ends and the sides by windows.

The home team had a particularly clever center, six feet tall and fast, who was adept at laying "em in underneath the basket.

He used to climb the wall, place one foot on a window sill and proceed to drop in the baskets almost at will.

The back walls were always considered in bounds. Coach Farrell asked that the end walls, which of course included the protruding window sills, be considered out of bounds.

The home team declined and the debate waxed hot until finally there was an agreement to Farrell and company, either to play with the end walls in bounds or go home without their guarantee.

"Shine" wrought up over this sudden trend of events, had an idea. He instructed a tall guard, a rugged boy who could be depended upon, to forget his man, and as soon as the referee's whistle blew to climb upon the window sill under his defensive basket and knock down the ball when an opponent tried a shot.

Timing

The game started. "Shine's" guard obeyed orders to the letter, climbed upon the window sill and waited. It wasn't long before the opposing team took a shot. The big guard just leaned up and pushed the ball away. Again they shot and again the guard tapped the ball down. There was absolutely no chance of their ever scoring.

For a moment or so there was a dead silence. Everyone, including the team and officials, was struck dumb with astonishment. Then pandemonium broke loose. Partisans took sides and tried to hook the guard down, but there he stayed and pushed away all attempts on the part of his opponents to score.

Finally the official called time out and told the guard that he would have to get down. The guard refused.

NORMAL SCHOOL TRIMS ALBANY IN OPENER, 41 TO 25

its advantage. Three times the visitors rallied to come within two points of the Mountaineers, when the score stood 4-6, 12-14 and 14-16, but each time the scoring spirit fell short.

In the last half the play was slower, with the home team counting 16 to Albany's five. The Pirates, even with three E. O. N. second team men on the floor, were unable to find the ring in the closing minutes of play.

Belta, out of practice all this week because of an infected toe, was weak on his basket shooting but otherwise turned in a fair performance.

The game was fairly rough, with Kropp forced to the bench in the last half by four personals, and Baxter and Belta in danger with three.

Next weekend the Mountaineers play a second northwest conference team when they go to Walla Walla for a tilt with Whitman.

Seconds Severe Win

The Normal school seconds, several points behind in the third quarter, staged a rally in the last frame of their game with the Imbler town team to clinch up a 30 to 26 victory. Dawson, of the Normal school, was high point man with a dozen.

A fair crowd witnessed the two contests in spite of blustery weather outside.

DEMPSEY WILL GO 4 ROUNDS IN CHICAGO

CHICAGO, Jan. 22 (AP)—Jack Dempsey will make his appearance in a Chicago ring February 18 for the first time since his famous 14-count battle with Gene Tunney four years ago.

The Manassa Mauler was signed today for a four-round exhibition in the Chicago stadium with the probability that King Levinsky will be his opponent, provided the Kingfish will accept the financial inducements.

Levinsky, with recent victories over Tommy Loughran and Paulino Urociun, is the man Dempsey wants to meet.

Dempsey, regarded as a ring idol in Chicago, figures to draw one of the biggest crowds that ever witnessed a boxing show in the stadium.

And, so far as known, Dave Barry will not be the referee. Barry was the man charged with giving Tunney the "long count" after Dempsey had knocked him down in his first comeback attempt following Tunney's victory in Philadelphia.

Tod Morgan Beaten By Fraser, Spokane

TACOMA, Jan. 22 (AP)—Tod Morgan, of Seattle, former world junior lightweight champion, dropped a decision here last night to Don Fraser, Spokane welterweight, in a six round headliner, with Fraser doing most of the leading and landing the most blows to finish with a comfortable margin. Morgan showed better on the defensive.

Leo Piver, San Francisco featherweight, lost by the knockout route to Paddy Sullivan, New York, in the third round of their scheduled six round bout.

Tim Keist, Victoria, B. C., 130-pounder, won by a knockout over Art Leonard, San Francisco, in the second.

Three Undeclared In Three-Cushion Billiard Tourney

CHICAGO, Jan. 22 (AP)—The field has been reduced to four undeclared stars today as the world three cushion billiard championship went into its fifth day of play.

Three cushions, the great leveler of billiards, took Jake Schaffer out of the unbeaten class last night, and his chances of adding the angle game title to his 182 balkline championship, appeared remote considering tougher matches ahead.

Young Len Kenney of Chicago, conquered Schaffer, 30 to 43, in 43 baulings.

Still undeclared and tied for the leadership were Arthur Thurnbull of Chicago, the defending champion; and the three veterans, Otto Reisel of Philadelphia; Augie Keikhefer of Chicago; and Johnny Layton of Sedalia, Mo. All have held the title once or more.

Three of the leaders were scheduled for action today. Layton was paired with Bud Westhus of St. Louis, who had suffered three straight defeats; Reisel was matched with Tiff Denton of Kansas City, a veteran who has failed to get going, and Thurnbull was down to meet Gus Copulos of Eugene, Ore., another old timer who also had not yet found himself.

OREGON EDITORS MEET

EUGENE, Ore., Jan. 22 (AP)—Oregon editors and publishers were gathered here today for their fourteenth annual conference.

Most of the delegates were here for a banquet last night but the conference was opened formally today with an address by David L. Foulkes, mechanical superintendent of the Oregonian. He discussed "The Typographical Press of Oregon Newspapers as Seen by an Old-Timer."

Special group conferences were planned for the day.

Cove High Team To Play Elgin Quintet Tonight

By Mrs. A. G. Conklin

COVE (Special)—The high school basketball team will play Elgin High school here tonight. The grade schools of Cove and Imbler will have a double header, first and second teams, here this afternoon. The Imbler High school girls will play Cove High school girls Saturday evening here. Cove boys, first and second teams, will go to North Powder Saturday evening. The Elgin town team came to Cove Tuesday evening for a game with the local town team, and lost to Cove 28 to 15.

The freshmen and sophomores of the high school, with a few guests, and with their teachers enjoyed a cozying party Wednesday night. They went up the canyon above Camp Yew Bow, where the hill is steep and coasting was wonderful.

The Nissaki Camp Fire girls held a council fire at the home of their guardian, Mrs. Gladys Harris, Wednesday evening. Their program follows:

Song, "Whoever for Aye," by the girls. Presentation of the hand sign. Twelve candles were lighted, symbolizing the 12 months of the year. Four new members were added. They were Pearl Lindsay, Burnetta Musgrove, Phyllis Hancock and Hazel Clark.

Pledge of allegiance to the flag. Song, "Oregon, My Oregon." A short talk by the guardian on the Oregon flowers, preparatory to their spring study.

Walking song. Candle extinguishing ceremony. Prayer by the guardian.

This group has 14 members. The two groups, Nissaki and Kodawa will present a winter carnival in the near future.

Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Gay and small daughter, who have been visiting at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Peterman, for the past three weeks, left Monday for their home in Medford.

Mrs. L. R. Lay, who has spent the past four months at the home of Mrs. A. G. Conklin, is sufficiently recovered from her illness to return to her home.

Oregon Wildcat Will Make Race For Senate Seat

SALEM, Jan. 22 (AP)—Robert G. Duncan, Portland, Oregon, editor and publisher of the Crusader, Thursday filed with the secretary of state his declaration for the Republican nomination for United States Senator. Duncan filed his declaration in person.

In his statement of platform Duncan declared "concentration of wealth and power in the hands of a few men has brought upon our country the wage slavery foreseen by Abraham Lincoln at the close of our Civil war. Therefore it is the issue of 1860 over again. Monopoly has filled our cities with silent factories, our country lanes with penniless tramps."

Duncan, the self-styled "Oregon Wildcat" in his radio campaign against chain stores recently, said further:

"The chain system has been weighed in the balances and found wanting. To save the republic from civil strife and bolshevism we must return to the teachings of the forefathers, we must get back to the competitive system under which men of small means could engage in business with the assurance that industry and ability would be rewarded with success.

"To restore confidence in our government we must unshackle business. We must restore the rights and privileges of the people; we must free men from the yoke of monopoly; we must give the plowboy a chance to rise above the plowhand's lot. Also we must abandon prohibition, eliminate the grafter now grown to appalling numbers under the system of oppression used by the privileged few to enslave the many."

Mrs. R. N. Stanfield Charges Desertion

PORTLAND, Ore., Jan. 22 (AP)—Robert N. Stanfield, formerly United States senator from Oregon, was charged with desertion in a divorce complaint filed in circuit court here yesterday by his wife, Inez Hill Stanfield.

The complaint charges that Stanfield abandoned his wife more than a year ago.

Mrs. Stanfield asks $200 immediate support money, $100 a month permanent alimony, $1500 alimony in a lump sum, and $300 suit money.

The Stanfields were married Sept. 19, 1897, the complaint recites.
