

Grocery Store At Cove Entered Monday Evening

By Mrs. A. G. Conklin (Observer Correspondent)

COVE (Special) — Hallmark's grocery store was entered Monday night via the rear and side windows. Many things were missed, chiefly tobacco, but some candy, gloves, etc., were taken. Weimer's store was entered a few weeks ago and the merchandise taken there was largely tobacco.

Mrs. George Alexander suffered a stroke of paralysis a few days ago but is reported to be recovering.

Mrs. Zela King, who has been caring for her mother, Mrs. Joe Goyette, at Hot Lake for the past two months, will return to her home in Ashland the last of this week. Her mother is improved in health although she has not yet been discharged from the hospital. Mrs. King has been called to her home.

Mr. and Mrs. Al Puckett have purchased a house in town across the way from Karl J. Stackland's residence, where they will make their home.

Eldon Southwick, who has been studying in Oakland, Cal., is at home. Charles Hancock is again clerking in the Cove Meat market and grocery.

Mrs. O. M. Gardner, who has been quite ill of the flu, is able to be out again.

Mr. and Mrs. Amos Rees and Mrs. Rees' mother, Mrs. Phillips, of Enterprise, spent the weekend at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Phillips. Mrs. Rees is a sister of Bill Phillips and Mr. Rees is a brother of Mrs. Phillips.

Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Anties were hosts at a small dinner Sunday, the guests being Mr. and Mrs. Roy Baker and their family and Miss Eleanor Davis.

An announcement has been received of the birth of a baby daughter to Mr. and Mrs. John Bradner, in Boston, Mass. Both Mr. and Mrs. Bradner are well known here and in La Grande. Mrs. Bradner will be remembered as the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Creasey. The little lady will be called Lucy.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Landers and family and his mother, Mrs. Ella Anderson, of La Grande, are spending much time at their home here in Cove.

Mrs. George Coons, who has been at Hot Lake for an operation, is reported to be recovering nicely.

The library board met with the librarian Tuesday to look after some important business.

The Order of Eastern Star met Tuesday evening for regular order of business. One member, O. M. Gardner was received by demit.

Dog Kills Sheep At Westenskow Farm at Imbler

By Mrs. Ray Wilson (Observer Correspondent)

IMBLER (Special) — Two sheep belonging to Dan Westenskow were killed Monday night and several were badly injured. Sheriff Jesse Breshers and the government trapper, Bart Robbs, investigated the matter Tuesday and reported that one or more dogs had caused the loss. Mr. Breshers continued his investigations at Imbler Wednesday in an effort to locate the guilty dog or dogs.

A delightful children's party was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Pat Rollins last Saturday afternoon in honor of the 8th birthday anniversary of their son, John.

The third, fourth and fifth grades gave a program in their room Friday afternoon at which several numbers were given concerning teeth. They had just completed their year's study of this subject. Several songs were sung that were composed by students in this room. The "Brushing Song" was composed by Arlene Withy, Irene Richeson and Laurel Lloyd. Poems and plays written by Claude Westenskow, Donald Anderson and Myrtha Westenskow were heartily applauded. Talks were made by all the pupils, some of which were "The Beaver's Teeth" by Warren McCoy; "Care of The Teeth," Betty Crouser; "Pyorrhoea, Its Cause and Check," Gusta Fowler; "A Germ," Alvin Bushman; "Foods That Build Teeth," Albert Withy. Stories, self composed, were read by Colleen Hudson, Maxine Bingham, Lee Richeson and Billy Kellum. Richard Wilson was in charge during the program.

Ted Conklin left by train for Portland Sunday evening for a visit of several days.

The Women's club met at the home of Mrs. E. J. Eason in bi-monthly meeting Wednesday afternoon. There was no leader for this afternoon. Each of the members present contributed on the subject "The Home Beautiful."

The Imbler M. I. A. team demonstrated its endurance Monday night when it played two games with but a few minutes intermission. The Baker M. I. A. team being late in arriving here the players spent the time while waiting in trouncing a pick-up alumni team 53-30 and then overwhelmed the Baker aggregation 64-11. This team made a bad start this season, losing five straight games but have since won seven consecutive victories.

A number of young people plan to accompany the team to La Grande Thursday evening to play the Second Ward team and after the game they will assist in decorating the hall for the Green and Gold dance to be held Friday night.

Marion Westenskow is very ill of the measles.

The P. T. A. will hold its monthly meeting in the school house Friday afternoon at 2:45. Ben Rankopf will have charge of the program.

Member of Bank Robbers Guilty

KLAMATH FALLS, Ore., Jan. 28 (AP) — George Wolfe, 62, convicted in circuit court here last night of assault and robbery while armed with a dangerous weapon, will be sentenced Saturday. The case grew out of the daring Bonanza bank robbery Nov. 12 in which $5000 was taken.

BELFAST QUITS RACE

BELFAST, Ireland (AP) — It has been definitely decided not to hold the annual Grand Prix automobile races at Phoenix park this year. Non-support of the races last year caused a large deficit, a member of the Royal Irish Automobile club explained.

Center of Trap Industry

Making traps of all kinds from one big enough to catch a lion, to the mouse variety, is one of the main industries of Wednesfield, a town of 1000 in the north of England.

SUNSET PASS by Zane Grey

Chapter 43
MARKED MAN

WHEREUPON Alice Preston entered, gayly gowned, and far brighter of eye than Rock would have expected to see her that day.

"Allie, you—well, I almost said, darlin', replied Rock, suddenly warmed by surprise and gratitude.

"Trueman, you're just a day late," she said, roughly. "I became engaged yesterday."

Rock, "Who's the lucky boy?"

"Charlie Farrell."

"Allie dear, I don't know that I ought to allow this," said Rock, gravely, "but seem' I'm crippled ain't you very well stop it, I'll say bless you, my child."

She sat down on the bed and took his hand in both hers.

"Trueman, I think you'd make a good dad at that. . . . Does my news cheer you up?"

"Sure does, Allie—for you. . . . I can never cheer up again for myself."

"Pooh!" she exclaimed, in sweet derision.

But a squeak of the door and a deep expulsion of breath from some one entering checked her. Rock gave such a start that his stiff injured leg actually reminded him of its condition. They had entered. She leaned against the wall. She was bareheaded, and her soft hat dropped from nervous hands.

Alice gave Rock's hand a thrilling squeeze and jumped up. "Reckon this is no place for sister Allie!" and she beat a precipitous retreat, with Winter, closing the door behind her.

"Thirty—how good—of you!"

Haltily she approached, as if the impelling force that drew her was only slightly stronger than something which held her back.

"Trueman, are you—all right?" she asked, apparently awed at the helpless length of him there on the bed. She lay, flat down beside him, and her eyes, black with thought and pain, followed her rancorous husband, to rest on the coverlet over his knee.

"Reckon I'm 'most all right—now," he replied, sensitive to her touch.

"Mr. Winter told me everything," she went on, "but seeing you is so strange. . . . Can you move?"

"Sure. All but my left leg."

"Was that broken?"

"No, I'm glad to tell you."

"Then you can ride again?"

"Some day."

"And the other hurt—was that here?" she asked, pale, almost reverent, as she laid a soft hand high upon his left shoulder.

"Lower down—Thirty."

Fascinated, she gently slipped her hand down over the bandage.

"Here?"

"Still lower."

"Then she felt the throbbing of his heart. "But Trueman—it couldn't be there."

"You bet it is."

"What?"

"The hurt you asked about."

"I was speaking of your latest wounds," she replied. Then she looked him squarely in the face, which she had failed to do before. How tragic, deep with sorrow, yet soul-searching that gaze! It changed. "I had to fight myself to come," she said. "There was a cold, dead, horrible something inside me. . . . But it's leaving. . . . Trueman, you're so white and thin. So helpless lying there! I—I want to nurse you. I should have come. . . . Have you suffered?"

"A little—I reckon," he replied, unsteadily. "But it's gone now."

"Has Amy Dabb been here?" she asked, jealously.

"Yes. Today. She was very nice."

"Nice. . . . Because she wheedled John Dabb to offer you the running of Sunset Pass Ranch?"

"Oh, no—I mean, just kind," he returned, Rock, uncertainly. He was of half a mind to believe this delirium.

"Trueman, you will accept that offer?" she queried earnestly.

"Me ever go to—Sunset Pass—again? Never in this world."

"Trueman, you would leave this country?" she asked, in quick alarm.

"Soon as I can walk."

"But I do not want to leave Sunset Pass," she returned, with spirit.

"I'm glad you don't. Reckon that's a surprise, Thirty. . . . It's very beautiful—out there. Perhaps, somehow, it can be arranged for you. Allie is engaged to young Farrell, isn't that fine? . . . Some one, of course, will take the place. . . . Is your mother leavin' soon?"

State Controls $7,582,368 In O.S.C. Property

OREGON STATE COLLEGE, Corvallis (Special) — That the state of Oregon now controls $7,582,368 in property for Oregon State college is shown in a recent inventory completed here. The state holds title to all this with the exception of $138,000 in property owned by the counties and $5000 owned by the federal government.

The Corvallis plant alone accounts for $7,192,284 of this total, of which more than 20 per cent has been provided in buildings and equipment obtained without use of tax money. These include the Memorial Union building located on state property and inventoried at $616,704, as well as two stadium units, the men's dormitory, the physics building, poultry-veterinary building and miscellaneous buildings and equipment which rates the total of non-tax-built plant at $1,602,250.62.

Land connected with the Corvallis plant includes 240.9 acres actually inside the Corvallis city limits, while the total holdings here, including the home experiment station farm and certain integral improvements on the land other than buildings, amount to $760,711.

The state college owns or controls as present a total of 696.5 acres of land of which title is vested in the state for 554.5 acres. Different Oregon counties hold title to 721 acres used by branch experiment stations, while the federal government owns the state-owned land includes 3040 acres of forest land acquired through gifts to the school of forestry for use in instructional and experimental activities. Of the state's total holdings 1883.5 acres are in Benton county, the remainder being in Jackson, Union, Columbia and Umatilla counties.

HIGH SCHOOL IN ARKANSAS HOTBED OF SPORTS STARS

RUSSELLVILLE, Ark. (AP)—Russellville High school seems to be a good place for an athlete to start.

Some of the school's claims to fame in that direction are:

Twenty-four all-state men in 10 years.

Seventeen state cups have been won.

Eight all-state men on college teams.

Twenty-seven track men on college teams.

Two all-state quarterbacks in 10 years.

College golf champion, Sammy Richmond, from this school.

John Tucker, Alabama quarterback, a member of the 1930 football team, and who started in the Rose Bowl game, a Russellville graduate.

GERMANS GLIDE, THEN FLY BERLIN

(AP) — German passenger pilots now must take a course in glider flying before they can obtain pilot certificates. Aviation interests claim the measure increases the safety factor.

GARDEN FAVORS 'HEAVIES'

NEW YORK (AP) — The number of heavyweight bouts on the weekly fight cards at Madison Square Garden is being increased. James J. Johnston, manager, and Sam McQuade, matchmaker, believe that the willingness of Max Schmeling, champion, to meet Jack Sharkey has stimulated interest in heavies.
