Miss Claribel Nye Gives Address At A.A.U.W. Meeting

A leader in home economics and nationally recognized as an authority in the field, Miss Claribel Nye last night described the practical uses to which her field of endeavor has been put during the present crisis, not only in the home but in municipalities, at a dinner meeting of the American Association of University Women at the Sacajawea Inn.

for better and more artistic homes. They have, also, a series of programs, not for the radio, which prove very popular, she adds, in child development, home management and family life.

Miss Norma Hanks, accompanied by Miss Tola Gooding, played two violin numbers, "Gypsy Dance" and "Oriental." The program was planned by Mrs. Lawrence Hull, program chairman.

Miss Eleanor Vernon, chairman of the International Relations group, announced that she will entertain the group at her home on Thursday at 7 o'clock.

Miss Helen Moor, president of the A. A. U. W., announced the speaker, Mrs. Oscar Warnock will act as program chairman at the next meeting, at which Mrs. Shultz, dean of women at Reed college, will describe her life in Vienna, where she spent several years.

Mrs. J. E. Reynolds Entertains Club

Mrs. J. E. Reynolds was hostess yesterday afternoon to the San Souci club at her home. Guests to form three tables at bridge were invited, and the prize was received by Mrs. C. H. Devine.

Red carnations were used about the room and lent a delightful atmosphere to the delightful event. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Reynolds at the close of the meeting.

Mrs. W. H. Safford will entertain in two weeks.

Oregon Music Is Program Feature

Mrs. Jessie A. Hoskins, of Baker, presented a program of "Oregon Musicians of Today" at a meeting of the Neighborhood Music club last night at the La Grande hotel.

In her preparation of material, Mrs. Hoskins personally met many of the Oregon musicians, and had letters and first hand information from others, which made her talk of interest. Her program consisted of three tables given in a charming, informal manner. Mrs. Hoskins stated that not all the musicians represented were not natives of Oregon, but that all had lived here at some time, and had received inspiration in Oregon for their compositions.

The program was given by local and Baker musicians, the first number being "Roses" and "My Dreamland" which is Drifting to You, by Daniel H. Wilson of Portland, sung by a sextet. This was followed by four "Chinese Nursery Rhymes," by Calbreath Crist, sung by Mrs. D. T. Towler. "The Little House," by Calbreath, "I Meant to Do My Work Today," by Dent Mowrey, sung by Mrs. James B. Quinlan; and "Tears of God," by Dent Mowrey, "Twilight," by Kathryn Glenn, and "My Love Rode By," by Calbreath, sung by Mrs. Miles Edgill. Miss Helen Williams played two piano numbers, "Serenade," by Dent Mowrey, and "Spanish Gypsy Dance."

A women's chorus sang songs by Calbreath and Mowrey. Marcus Swann, accompanied by Miss Annette Hoskins, both of Baker, sang songs by Gene Byron Walker, which were followed by three songs by Mrs. Leo Miller composed by Kathryn Glenn, Clara Edwards and Clarence Olmstead. "Outward Bound," by Calbreath, was sung by La Faun Boylen, and three songs by Marlon Bauer and Clara Edwards were sung by Mrs. H. N. Ashby. Dick Lindsey's violin solos, accompanied by Miss Edith Clark at the piano, were "Serenade," by Calbreath, and "Indian Lover's Lament," and "Chinook Sands," by D. H. Wilson. Gilbert Howard, accompanied by Annette Hoskins, of Baker, sang songs by Olinde and Tom Dobson. The last two groups of songs were sung by Mrs. B. Maxwell and Mrs. James McNamee. Other accompanists were Mrs. Merlin Bailey, Mrs. T. B. Maxwell and Mrs. Arnold Gralapp.

The program closed with all singing "Oregon, My Oregon."

Swastika Club In Interesting Meet

The home of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Rosenbaum was the scene of an interesting party at which members of the Swastika club gathered last night. Mr. and Mrs. Russell Parlett were guests for the evening and completed three tables for bridge.

Mr. Parlett and Mrs. Hugh Leonard were high scorers. Refreshments were served at the close of the evening. Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Leonard will entertain in two weeks.

Literature Group To Meet Wednesday

Two university women will present reviews of modern books at the meeting of the Literature group of the American Association of University Women Wednesday evening at 7:30 at the home of Mrs. Ralph Badgley in the Sacajawea Annex. The literature group has become one of the most popular of the auxiliary organizations of the association, and a large group of members enjoy the reviews every two weeks.

Birthday Party Saturday Event

Master Jimmy Macpherson celebrated his fifth birthday anniversary at a party Saturday afternoon when his mother, Mrs. James Macpherson, entertained a group of his small friends at 2 o'clock. Games were played during the afternoon, a pleasant feature being the animal cracker hunt.

Refreshments, the center of which was the large birthday cake, were served near the close of the party. Guests were Betty Burns, Helen Macpherson, Helen Blockland, Shirley Wood, Nellie Lou Wilson, Lyle Woodruff, Dick Smith, Ballard Brooks, Dick Karther, Bobby Karther and Don Wood.

Pajama Fad Nipped In Bud By Philippine Schoolma'm

MANTLA, P. I. (AP)—The pajama fad sustained a quick setback when it spread to the younger generation of this tropical land of white clothing which is almost as scant as the pajamas.

When Pauline Butte, daughter of George C. Butte, vice governor of the Philippines, and Agnes Busch appeared at Central public school attired in white pajamas they were sent home by the principal almost by the time they had taken their seats in the classroom.

After the two girls had departed, the principal, Miss Elizabeth Flagg, warned the other girls in the class they must wear "proper" clothing to class.

"Pajamas are not uniform clothing," explained Miss Flagg afterward. "We are under the bureau of education and governed by its rules."

Whether the pajama fad will gain other adherents among the younger generation remains to be seen.

Wearing of lounging pajamas among adult American women, introduced by the wives of army and navy officers, has been common probably as long as in the states.

After the two girls had been sent home, the boys in the class announced that they would appear in shorts.

As daughter of the vice governor Miss Butte has been active in society. She took part in a recent benefit show.

corporation departments offices."

When asked if he knew G. E. Shrader, witness who testified about the use of $2000 in receiving a permit, McCallister said: "I think Shrader came to Salem once or twice in connection with the permit. J. G. Arnold, Portland attorney, I believe was retained by Foshay interests and assisted them in obtaining the permit, but I don't recall circumstances."

Fred Meindl is not now with the commission. He was released soon after James W. Mott, present commissioner, assumed office last April. He is said to be residing in Portland.

STORY IS DENIED

PORTLAND, Feb. 2 (AP)—J. G. Arnold, attorney here who was mentioned in the Foshay trial at Minneapolis Monday as having been given $2000 to obtain a permit to sell Foshay securities in Oregon, today declared "the story of the $2000 is all bunk."

He said he did not recall the incidents clearly but he did remember a Foshay employe discussing such a permit with him. He said he and the man met Fred Meindl, deputy corporation commissioner, and discussed the matter. Several days later, he related, the two went to Salem and obtained such a permit.

Meindl said today he never knew Arnold to be associated in the matter at any time, and that he knows nothing whatever about any $2000.

He said G. S. Shrader, Foshay employe, appeared at the Salem office about the permit. Meindl said he already had considered several times the question of the permit, and that Foshay had four such applications on file.

"I did not take kindly to some of the applications," Meindl said, "and recommended that some be denied."

Meindl said today he never knew Arnold to be associated in the matter at any time, and that he knows nothing whatever about any $2000.

"FORMAY is perfect... at last an ideal shortening"

M. BERTOGLIO says it's perfect! And when Bertoglio calls a shortening ideal you know it must be so!

He means Formay—the marvelous new-type shortening that is different from anything ever produced before. Made by an utterly new process. Gives utterly different results.

Formay is absolutely pure—snow white and flavorless. Stays that way indefinitely. It's fluffy, and creams much faster than any other shortening. You can whisk up cakes in a jiffy. Such cakes too! Fine-grained and light as a feather.

Formay is the shortening every cook will love in pastry. "Springy" dough—old-fashioned flaky crusts. For frying, the smoke point is exceptionally high. No kitchen discomfort or odor.

Try Formay today! It won't be long before everyone you know will be talking about this marvelous new shortening. Order one of the conveniently shaped pound cartons, or the 1, 2, 3 or 6 pound tin.
