Endeavorers Of Grande Ronde Will Hold Rally

Presbyterian and Christian Churches Represented By District Delegates At Meeting.

A district rally of the Grande Ronde Christian Endeavor union will be held in La Grande Saturday and Sunday, and extensive plans are being made for the event by the societies of the Presbyterian church and the Central Church of Christ.

The meetings will open with an executive board luncheon on Saturday noon, and the afternoon's meeting will be succeeded by a big birthday banquet.

On Sunday the delegates will attend the church of their choice, and both Rev. J. George Walz, of the Presbyterian church, and Rev. Paul de F. Mortimore, of the Christian church, are planning special services.

Rev. Ross Gulley, field secretary for Oregon, will be one of the distinguished guests and speaker on Sunday evening at the Presbyterian church at 7:30 o'clock.

Presbyterian Church Washington and Sixth The District Christian Endeavor rally being held in this church, the minister, J. George Walz, has chosen for his morning sermon topic: "The Gospel of Work." A welcome awaits all Christian Endeavorers not in attendance elsewhere, as also all members, friends and visitors. Strangers in the city will always find the fellowship of this congregation delightful, he believes. The quartet will sing the beautiful anthem, "My Shepherd," by Nevin. Ruth Geibel, soprano, will sing "Come, Ye Disciples," by Risher. Mrs. Harley Richardson, organist, will play the service.

The Christian Endeavor rally services will be announced elsewhere. The evening service hour, 7:30 o'clock, has been given over to the young people, and Ross Gulley, field secretary for Oregon, will be the speaker. Hear his message, it will enlighten upon the work the young people are doing and can do, says Rev. Walz.

Sunday Bible school is at 9:45 a. m. Junior Christian Endeavor, at 3 p. m.

Central Church of Christ Seventh and Pennsylvania The Church of Christ Bible school continues to make impressive growth. In January of 1931 the average attendance was 156. The January, 1932, average attendance was 216. Those in charge of the Bible school believe that this growth is a result of higher standards for teachers, better equipment, and better grading instituted during the past year. The school meets each Sunday morning at 9:45 and there are classes for every age and grade. Miss Dorothy Smith is superintendent.

The morning worship service meeting at 11 o'clock is showing the same healthy growth, according to the pastor, Rev. Paul de F. Mortimore. He says, "The service which a church renders to the community is a spiritual service. If an individual is to receive the benefits of this service, he must attend the public worship services of the church. The church has many firm friends who wish her well, but who do not realize that by their absenting themselves from the worship services they are giving the impression of disinterestedness. To all such the message of the Church of Christ is, attend some church service regularly. We invite you to visit our services."

The pastor will preach at the morning service, using the unique subject, "The Gospel Aeroplane, or Going Up." The regular communion service will be observed in exemplification of the early disciples who "met on the first day of the week to break bread." An interesting feature of the morning service is the presentation of an anthem by the large and well trained choir.

Christian Endeavorers will be taking part in the seasons of the rally which will be in convocation here Saturday and Sunday. This church is co-operating in the rally.

In recognition of the young people who will be here in attendance at the C. E. rally, the pastor will speak Sunday evening upon the subject "What is Wrong With Our Flaming Youth?" This is promised to be an exceedingly interesting subject to both young and old. Mr. Mortimore states that the Sunday evening service is a great service at the Church of Christ, and urges all who will to attend. The orchestra will play for the service as usual.

Zion English Lutheran Church M Avenue, near Fourth "The Soul of Christianity" will be the subject of the sermon at the 11 o'clock service of worship, Edwin W.

Bracher, pastor of the Lutheran church, announces. A trio composed of Miss Juanita Stitzinger, Fred Matties Jr. and Edwin W. Bracher, will sing "I Come To Thee." They will be accompanied by Miss Helen Jensen, pianist.

The Sunday school session begins at 9:45, to which any boy or girl is welcome. The theme for our Sunday school during February will be "Courage." There will be a story of courage next Sunday morning to begin the month in the proper spirit. Miss Genevieve Nelson will lead the devotional meeting of the Luther league at 7 o'clock in the evening, using for the topic, "How Our Society Meets Young People's Needs." Any young people who may wish to attend this worship and discussion period are cordially invited to come.

Church of the Nazarene 7 Avenue and Birch Rev. Richard Taylor and his wife from Cheney, Wash., will continue at the local church through the opening week in revival meetings with services every evening at 7:30, according to the pastor, Rev. E. E. Taylor.

Their messages in sermon and song are said to be well worth hearing, and those who come early will especially enjoy the song service led by Mrs. Taylor. The Sunday services will be as follows: Sunday school at 9:45 a. m.; morning worship at 11 a. m.; Richard Taylor will sing and Rev. Richard Taylor will preach; young people's service at 6:30 p. m. Mrs. Taylor will speak; evangelistic service at 7:30, with special songs, and sermon by Rev. Taylor.

First Church of Christ, Scientist First at Washington "Spirit" will be the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, Feb. 7. The Golden Text will be: "We have received, not the spirit of the world, but the spirit which is of God; that we might know the things that are freely given to us of God" (1 Cor. 2:12).

Among the citations which comprise the lesson-sermon will be the following from the Bible: "Now the Lord is that Spirit; and where the Spirit of the Lord is, there is liberty" (2 Cor. 3:17). The lesson-sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Man walks in the direction towards which he looks, and where his treasure is, there will his heart be also. If our hopes and affections are spiritual, they come from above, not from beneath, and they bear as of old the fruits of the Spirit" (p. 481).

Sunday school is held at 9:45 o'clock. Reading room, West-Jacobson building, open daily except Sundays and holidays, from 1 to 4:30. Services at church edifice, corner First and Washington streets, 11 a. m. and 8 p. m.

M. E. Church South Corner Fir and U Streets Sunday school at 9:45 a. m.—a good school room for all. The pastor, Rev. A. J. Starmer, will preach at the 11 o'clock service. Epworth league meets at 6 p. m., and Bible study for older folks is also held at that hour. The evening service begins at 7 p. m. and closes by 8 o'clock.

Island City Community Church News Sunday services at the Island City church are: 9:45, Sunday school hour, Mrs. Bertha Way, superintendent; 11, worship service, with the sermon, "What It Means to Be a Christian," by the pastor, J. Epworth league service, and at 7:30 the pastor will preach at Imbler on "The Ten Virgins of Today." There will be only Epworth league service Sunday evening as the pastor preaches at Imbler the first Sunday night of every month.

On Sunday morning, Feb. 14, at 11 o'clock, Rev. Robert Brymer, evangelist, will begin a series of special services. He comes with many years of experience in evangelistic work and preaches a full Gospel with "faith which worketh by love." Every one is most cordially invited to these services, which will be held each evening during the week at 7:30, according to Rev. Maud E. Cone.

Emmanuel Apostolic Assembly 1806 Jefferson Avenue Meetings this Sunday at the assembly will be: Sunday school at 10 o'clock and morning service at 11, with Rev. R. S. Swanson, delivering the address. In the evening at 6:30 the young people will have their service, followed by an evangelistic service at 7:45.

The meetings in the week are: Tuesday, prayer meeting; Wednesday, prayer meeting, and Friday at 7:45, an evening meeting, all of which are for the public.

A street meeting will be held on Saturday at 8 o'clock.

COL. CLARK IS CONSIDERING SENATE RACE

PORTLAND, Feb. 5 (AP)—A special dispatch to the Journal here Thursday from Washington, D. C., said "politically-wise Oregonians in Washington entertain the belief that Col. Alfred E. Clark will soon make an announcement that he would like to occupy the seat of Frederick Steiwer, in the United States senate." The story says further: "Clark himself is not quoted as authority for these predictions, for he spoke with reserve when his prospective candidacy was mentioned during his recent visit. He was undecided, he said, and would think it over on the train which is speeding him to Portland. He is due there at the end of the week."

Travel to the national parks and monuments in 1931 broke all records with a combined total of 3,544,856 visitors.

About 55 per cent of the money found in "dead" letters in 1931 was restored to the rightful owners.

Sermonette Edited by Harriet R. MacDonald

"And this is the victory that overcometh the world, even our faith."—1 John 5:4.

VICTORY When you are forgotten or neglected or purposely set at naught, and you smile with your heart at rest, That is victory.

When your good is evilly spoken of, your wishes are crossed, your taste offended, your advice ridiculed and you take it all in patient loving silence, That is victory.

When you are firm in difficulties and superior in adversity, That is victory.

When you fully realize that the fear of God is the beginning of wisdom, That is victory.

When you lament not the loss of that which you cannot retrieve, That is victory.

When you know that each day is a new life, and that yesterday is one hundred years old, That is victory.

When you are content with simple raiment, plain food, any climate, any solitude, any interruption, That is victory.

RULES FOR PLAY By Alice Judson Peale

On the whole, the best plan for helping a child to enjoy his play gives him plenty of freedom, varied materials and leaves him alone.

But there are a few rules by which he should be guided. He should learn to use but not abuse his materials.

Blocks, for instance, may be used for building, they may be carted about in a wagon—but never thrown. Dolls are for all sorts of make-believe but not for mopping up the floor.

One uses a hammer for pounding only on certain things like old boxes, boards or the gravel walk. One paints only on paper given for that purpose, never on walls and woodwork.

In order to teach the child to use his materials properly it is best to keep out of reach those which most readily lend themselves to misuse, such as hammer, saw, paint, crayons and scissors.

Until good habits have been learned, he should work with them only when mother has time for supervision.

The important realization that a toy belongs temporarily to the child using it comes most easily in a nursery school where there is play material over which no one child has exclusive rights.

At home there may be difficulty, especially with an only child who feels that a little visitor is an intruder.

For this reason he should have visitors frequently so that he may learn that the pleasures of playing together more than outweigh the disadvantages of sharing.

In teaching little children these fundamental attitudes in their play it must be remembered that they cannot learn them all at once, and that adjustments should be required gradually.

Women Aristocrats Adopt New Tactics To Win Suffrage From French Senate

By Adelaide Kerr
PARIS (AP)—One hundred thousand women of France have begun a new drive for suffrage with a system of "persuasion" designed to break down the last vestige of opposition in the senate.

Public demonstrations, street picketings and riots they have taboed as "beneath the dignity of French womanhood and of France."

Their aim is to convert quietly, one by one, a dozen or more of the 22 senators who block their acquisition of the vote.

Foremost in their ranks, which include the most aristocratic women of France, are the Comtesse de Fels and her daughter, the young and beautiful Duchesse de La Rochefoucauld, president of the National Union for Votes for Women.

Recently the duchess presided at a meeting stressing the "advantage to France of the feminine vote" and not long ago she made a plea for women's suffrage before the feminist group of the senate.

"We do not stand for extreme ideas," she told the Associated Press, "but we feel that we have the right to the vote and we believe that, when we have gained it, we can do much to improve our country."

"The improvement of sanitary conditions in municipal and country communities, the protection of motherhood and the property rights of women, the regulation of conditions under which women work and the improvement of educational facilities are all fields in which women are actively interested. Through their vote they should be able to contribute much to the betterment of the country they love."

The protection of women's property rights is one of the chief points stressed by French feminists. Under the Code Napoleon, still in effect, married women in France relinquish all property rights.

Their campaign has received new impetus with the prospect that the bill giving all French women over 25 the right to vote will come before the senate at the present session after having been shelved for six years.

It has been passed twice by the chamber of deputies and when last voted on by the senate was defeated on a technical maneuver by only 23 votes.

That majority feminists hope to defeat by their campaign of "peaceful penetration." Their chief support in the senate is Louis Martin, leader of the group favoring women's suffrage.

Instead of enlarging his navy, Uncle Sam ought to borrow what warships he needs from Europe. He has been loaning her money to put in one pocket while she kept up her armaments out of the other.

Looks from here as though China is expected to make amends for getting her slats in the way of the Japanese boat.

We figure that from now on Uncle Sam will be disposed to illustrate to Europe the difference between "easy mark" and "hard-boiled egg."

BAKE A VALENTINE!

MAKE IT a delight WITH CALUMET'S DOUBLE-ACTION!

A VALENTINE CAKE with frosty coconut and tiny red hearts! There's a chance to be different—try it! And be wise—follow the recipe exactly. Use Calumet Baking Powder—and Calumet's Double-Action will make it the cake of your heart's desire. A specially smooth—extra delicate—light-as-a-wisp creation! Will any other baking powder do?—Not if you want that even Calumet texture, that wonderful Calumet tenderness. For Calumet has a way all its own of making your cakes and quick breads superlatively good—it acts twice. Calumet's first action begins in the mixing bowl. It starts the leavening properly. Then in the oven, the second action begins. Steadily, evenly, it continues the leavening. Up! . . . up! . . . it keeps raising the batter and holds it high and light, until your cake is beautifully baked.

And see what you save!—The simple, tested recipe given here calls for the Calumet proportion—only one level teaspoon to a cup of sifted flour. That's the usual Calumet proportion and should be followed for best results. A splendid economy for you! Yes, Calumet is the real baking powder bargain! Calumet is a product of General Foods Corporation.
