

AMITY DISAPPEARS AT LAKE PLACID

International Good Will Appears Collapsed - U. S. Holds Big Lead.

By Edward J. Neil (Associated Press Sports Writer) LAKE PLACID, N. Y., Feb. 6 (AP)—International good will and amity, avowed purpose of the Olympic games, has collapsed completely after tottering about the winter division on a pair of legs for almost a full day.

Situation Under Control Outwardly the situation was under control for the moment today. The decision of Joseph K. Savage, chairman of the United States Olympic speed skating committee, disqualifying Alex Hurd and Frank Staak, of Canada, and Eddie Wedge, of Detroit, from the final of 10,000 meters competition, had in effect been reversed.

Among the La Granderes present at Meacham, Ore., tomorrow, according to information received today from the Blue Mountain Ski club, are the largest crowd of spectators, as since President Harding's visit, enjoyed the skiing and toboggan slides last Sunday, with approximately 200 sport enthusiasts participating in the thrills and spills of the day.

The program tomorrow will start with a fat man's ski race at 1 p. m., which should be a thriller from start to finish.

Many prizes are to be offered in the different classes; free for all jumping, boys' jumping, ladies' jumping, boys' jumping, men's, women's and children's.

The toboggan slide will be improved and any one owning toboggans are invited. A prize also will be given on the toboggan slide.

Eight inches of new snow were on the ground late yesterday, according to reports from Brent Sturgill and F. L. Synhorst, of Meacham, who will take the Canadian team to the winter sports program. The public is invited to attend, and no charges will be made.

After four hours of argument last night during which Peter J. Mulqueen, chairman of the Canadian Olympic committee, threatened to withdraw the entire Canadian team from the games if Stack and Hurd were not put back in the final, and the Scandinavians said they'd go home if they were, Savage declared yesterday's heats in the 10,000 meters event "no races" and ordered them skated over again today.

Skate Final Monday The final of the last men's speed skating event will go over from today to Monday, probably at 2:30 p. m.

Savage disqualified the North Americans, along with Shozo Ishiura, of Japan, on the cumulative protest of Norway, Finland, Sweden, and Japan, who had complained in the morning, after Jack Shea, brilliant young Dartmouth sophomore, had raced to his second straight Olympic title in the final of the 1500 meters event.

They said that the Americans were not racing fairly, that they refused to help "break the wind" that exhausts a man who tries to lead all the way, and that they were making a travesty of the "speed skating." They demanded that the European style of racing against time be adopted for the remainder of the races.

No Basis For Protest Strangely enough the Scandinavians have no basis for protest of any kind, inasmuch as the manner of racing in the 1932 Olympics was decided upon and agreed to by all countries a year ago.

While the net results yesterday brought no progress in the 10,000 meters, the United States stepped further out in its drive for an initial Olympic games championship. Although Alex Hurd, Bill Logan and Frank Staak finished in that order behind Shea in the 1500 meters final, Ray Murray and Herb Taylor, New Yorkers, took fifth and sixth places respectively.

The United States thus led with 42 points today, while Canada headed 23 and Norway, only other scorer, eight.

Nowland Hailed As Prospect For Olympic Contest

At least one La Grande athlete, Fred Nowland, is hailed by Portland newspapers as an Olympic prospect. The following appeared in the Oregonian this morning:

Fred Nowland is an Olympic candidate, specializing in the high hurdles. Nowland, as a senior at La Grande High school last spring, established a new record in this event at the Oregon state high school meet. He was clocked in 1:59.

It was barely under the old mark, set in 1914 by W. Murrhead, Columbia university, at 1:16 flat. Nowland will have to shave his time a second or so to make the Olympic team.

Nowland is now under the coaching of Colonel Bill Hayward, Oregon's veteran coach and a member of four Olympic coaching staffs.

Motor Fuels Tax Laws of Oregon Net Large Sum

SALEM, Feb. 6 (AP)—The motor vehicle fuels tax laws of 1919 and 1921 returned to the state of Oregon during the year 1931 a total of $6,935,820.93, according to a statement prepared by the secretary of state here Friday.

This tax accrued on the sale of 170,339,122.27 gallons of gasoline and 3,493,160.8 gallons of distillate. Returns in 1931 aggregated $748,024.77. Returns are allowed on all sales of gasoline and distillate not on the highways of the state.

Non-resident registrations of automobiles in Oregon for the month of January, 1932, aggregated 1814. The largest number of registrations were in Portland, with a total of 371.

Ruggirello Loses Match to Schaff By Wide Margin

NEW YORK, Feb. 6 (AP)—The right hand punch that won for Salvatore Ruggirello surprising knockout victories over Walter Cobb and Stanley Poreida, held no terror for Jack Schaff, a man Friday, Ernie Schaff.

Schaff, himself one of the best of modern heavyweights, stopped Ruggirello in the fourth round of their 15-round bout in Madison Square Garden last night.

Ruggirello had gained the chance to meet Schaff when the Bostonian's scheduled rival, Paulino Uzcudun, suffered a cracked rib in training. He was picked solely on his showing against Cobb and Poreida. A deadly right hand hitter, he figured to extend a stand-up fighter like Schaff.

But when the fight began there was no question whatever of Schaff's all-around superiority. The Boston boy, managed joyfully by Shurkey and Johnny Buckley, gave Ruggirello a terrific lacing in the first three rounds, caught the Italian with a damaging left to the body early in the fourth round and floored him for a count of nine immediately afterwards with a right to the chin.

Ruggirello came up for more but was taking a merciless beating when Referee Arthur Donovan stopped the fight. Schaff weighed 209 pounds; Ruggirello 209.

Pacific Triumphs Over Albany 46-20

ALBANY, Ore., Feb. 6 (AP)—Pacific university took the Albany college basketball team into camp here last night, winning a rough-and-tumble game 46 to 20. Two Albany men, Hector and Buchanan, were ousted from the handsomest, strongest, bestest boy she had ever met. A junior, and the quarterback of undisputed rep, class president, classman who had won his letter, and a boy who even lived in New York! Right close by!

Even the amazing and delightful shock of finding upon her return home that she really was something of a matchmaker, for Charlie Rand was serious about Goody, failed to rouse Hope from her reverie of new infatuation.

For the first time Hope exerted herself to the effort of letter-writing. Big, round, childish scrawl, with sadly misspelled words, and a total disregard of grammar, which she always posted with a special delivery stamp—and then watched for the postman as though every day were Valentine's Day.

So long it was, until the prom! So heavily-footed the days. So solemnly dull, these small town boys—so silly!

And then, one Saturday afternoon, she experienced the surprise of her life.

Chapter 7 COFFEE AND JEALOUSY HOPE had come with the others to watch the ski-jumps because they had heard of this young Dickey Dale—son of the theatrical producer—who was staying with his father at the North Woods Inn.

She actually came to see what this wonder ski-jumper was like. Took one good look and gulped! Watched him fly—soaring through the air, steady, keen, controlled; and land with a balancing, awaying movement that caused her heart to bounce for no particular sane reason.
