

Wallowa Youth Will Take Part In Maneuvers

By Mrs. C. A. Hunter (Observer Correspondent)

WALLOWA (Special)—Word has been received from Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Fisher from their son, Joe, that he was sailing last Sunday from San Francisco on board the transport San Michel en route for Hawaii with the troops of the 30th Infantry to participate in the war game.

Dr. J. B. Gregory and L. P. Allen started to La Grande Thursday morning and were compelled to turn back because of the drifted condition of the roads.

The thermometer here reached the lowest mark of the winter Tuesday night, falling to 19 degrees below zero, shortly after midnight. The lowest previous mark was on Dec. 14 and 15 and on Jan. 25, each night being 13 degrees below zero.

The infant child of Mr. and Mrs. Ted Collins is reported to be recovering from the serious injuries received last week when a police pup attacked the six weeks old baby which was left on the bed while Mrs. Collins went to the home of a neighbor on an errand. The attack was made in a spirit of fun but the romping pup badly lacerated the baby's head and face and the child also received chest injuries. It was cared for at the local hospital.

Mrs. Fred Purst is confined to her home this week with an attack of the flu.

Miss Louise Kennedy, fifth grade teacher, is absent from school this week because of illness. Mrs. O. F. Campbell is substitute teacher.

Mrs. Bruce Cox entertained the Billikin Bridge club Tuesday afternoon at her home. Two tables were strangled for cards and prizes were received by Mrs. E. A. Searle, first for guests and Mrs. Edwin Marvin, first for members of the club. Mrs. Cox served lovely refreshments at the close of the afternoon. Mrs. Reese Sutphin will be the hostess in two weeks.

J. P. Morelock, of La Grande, was a business visitor in Wallowa on Monday and Tuesday of this week.

Mrs. M. A. Bull, of Moro, who has been at Wallowa for the last six weeks caring for her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Hollis Bull, who has been ill of scarlet fever, will leave for her home Saturday.

Mrs. J. B. Gregory and daughter, Kathryn, made a trip to Portland, Friday returning home Sunday. They were accompanied home by Jack Gregory, who had to give up his work at the University of Oregon on account of illness. He expects to return to Eugene for the spring term.

Miss Elin and Miss Agatha Marvin entertained the members of the Faculty club at their home Wednesday evening. Guests to form three tables at bridge were present and the prize for high score fell to Miss Melba Hanks, while Miss Lenore McKiniss received the consolation prize. Miss Lottie McCrae and Miss Lenore McKiniss will entertain in two weeks.

The K. of P. lodge gave a farewell party at Castle hall Wednesday evening in honor of Donald McDaniel, who is leaving next week for Coquille, Ore., where he expects to locate. Mrs. McDaniel will accompany her son and will remain in Southern Oregon and in California indefinitely. Following the social evening, refreshments were served by the Pythian sisters.

Mrs. Hugu Daugherty and Mrs. Earl Peffer entertained the Presbyterian Ladies Aid at the country home of Mrs. Daugherty Wednesday afternoon. Fifteen members attended the meeting. Mrs. Max Cook led the devotions and following the business meeting, the afternoon was spent working on a quilt that the Aid is making to sell. Late in the afternoon, refreshments were served by Mrs. Daugherty and Mrs. Peffer. The aid will meet in two weeks with Mrs. C. A. Hunter.

Motion Picture Stunt Man Dies In Plane Crash

VAN NUYS, Cal., Feb. 6 (AP)—A dare devil of Hollywood who had charmed the dangers of film stunts for 15 years spun into the ground and instant death Friday in performing a falling leaf, one of the most hazardous of airplane feats, for a film production.

The flier was Leo Nomis, 38, as famous as a stunt man in Hollywood as Douglas Fairbanks is as an actor.

The accident occurred as Nomis' plane slipped and fluttered earthward after an aerial dog fight in imitation of a plane which had been crippled by an enemy ship. As the ship wobbled down from an altitude of about 1000 feet, the make-believe suddenly was converted into stark tragedy. The plane spun viciously and hurled into the death, killing Nomis. The motor was buried more than eight feet in the ground.

The picture, "Sky Brides," under production by Paramount, features Richard Arlen, Jack Oakie and Frances Dee.

At The La Grande Theatres

FOUR FEATURES DUE NEXT WEEK

COMING TO LIBERTY

"Alexander Hamilton," "Street Scene," "Sooky" and Grid Picture Coming

THE WEEK'S PROGRAM At The Liberty

Sunday and Monday—George Arliss in "Alexander Hamilton."

Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday—Sylvia Sidney in "Street Scene."

Friday and Saturday—Jackie Cooper in "Sooky" and pictures of the entire Tulane-U. S. C. football game, both feature length.

George Arliss, known as the "First Gentleman of the Cinema," in "Alexander Hamilton" and Sylvia Sidney in "Street Scene" stand out as leading attractions on the week's program at the Liberty theatre. The picture "Street Scene" is ranked as one of the leading ten features filmed during 1931.

As an added attraction, a double bill is being shown next Friday and Saturday, including "Sooky" and pictures of the Tulane-Southern California football game New Year's day at Pasadena.

"Alexander Hamilton"

One of George Arliss's most recent appearances in La Grande theatrical circles was in "Diarrh" and moviegoers who saw him then undoubtedly will relish the opportunity to witness the 64-year-old actor again.

Supporting Arliss are Doris Kenyon, Dudley Diggs, June Collyer, Alan Mowbray, Ralph Haroldie and Montagu Love. It is a Warner Brothers picture.

"Street Scene"

The picture "Street Scene," featuring Sylvia Sidney and William Collier Jr., is represented as an incident of false standards in life, and the plot could be applied to any city of size in the country. Incidentally, "Street Scene" won the Pulitzer prize for Elmer Rice after 17 years of work. Besides the two stars carrying the leading roles, Estelle Taylor appears in this King Vidor production, a United Artists picture.

Grid Picture and "Sooky"

Grid fans who were thrilled at the Notre-Dame-U. S. C. pictures shown here in January will have another delightful hour or so Friday and Saturday when the pictures of the Southern Cal-Tulane game are shown along with the feature "Sooky" starring Jackie Cooper.

The football classic, won by the Trojans 21 to 12, is packed full of excitement and every one of the startling plays are portrayed on the screen.

The other young chaps who are favorites with movie fans appear with Jackie Cooper in "Sooky," the picture, advertised as a kid classic, centers in the efforts of Skippy and Sooky to build their own cadet corps after they have decided the Bonobos in the fashionable neighborhood are too snooty and need a ribbing.

At Liberty this week.

George Arliss as Alexander Hamilton at Liberty Sunday and Monday.

Author of "Street Scene" at Liberty Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday.

JAPAN WILL SEND MORE TROOPS TO SHANGHAI AREA

today the firing was heavier than it had been all yesterday.

The small arms were silent as the big guns jarred the city. It was not possible to go close to the lines, but from the sound the six-inch pieces had been set up close to the Japanese headquarters in the Hongkew area.

Not long before this phase of the battle began the associated press correspondent, touring behind the Chinese lines, saw reinforcements coming up and the battle-worn veterans going out.

The 10th Chinese army is supposed to be the best fighting unit in the country, but to western eyes they seemed deficient in training and certainly they lacked much in equipment.

Some Weapons Antiquated

They carried guns of a dozen varieties, some of them antiquated long-barreled pistols and some of them rifles long outmoded. A few wore steel helmets obviously taken from the Japanese, but most of them had no helmets at all.

The most impressive thing about them was their extreme youth. Many of them certainly were not more than 14 years old. Nevertheless these youngsters were as stoical as any veteran who ever was under fire.

Behind the Chinese front line an intricate system of trenches seemed the countryside and there were scores of sandbag shelters in exposed spots.

Stankely, well inside the Chinese territory a squad of Japanese blue-jackets stood guard over a Japanese cotton mill. The place bristled with machine guns but so far there has been no attack on the mill, although the blue-jackets were in constant danger from snipers.

Refugees on Roads

There was still a considerable civilian population close up behind the lines, but the roads away from the zone of battle were crowded with refugees.

On the road to Nanking especially it was very difficult to pilot an automobile through the stream of humanity. The big parade of Chinese under heavy burdens of their household goods also was marching steadily along the tracks of the railway to Nanking.

Every now and then a Japanese airplane droned overhead. Nobody could see it in the dark, but at the sound the crowds would throw themselves on their faces, turning occasionally to peer through the night at the sky.

CORPORAL AT 15

SHANGHAI, Sunday, Feb. 7 (AP)—Corporal Zee, of the Chinese army, is only 15 and not quite as tall as his rifle, but he's having the time of his life.

He loomed in the dark before an automobile touring behind the Chinese lines early this morning and asked for a lift like any hitch-hiker.

It turned out that he had just walked three miles over to Chenju for a bowl of rice and was on the way back to the trenches.

"I haven't slept for two days and it's cold out there," said he "but we're having a fine time. When the real fighting begins we'll drive out the Japanese and take back all of Chapel."

BILL TO CREATE REVOLVING FUND

to 1 with gold was demanded by congress today by the national farmers union.

John Simpson, president, and 70 representatives of the union from nine states in the mid-west, appeared before a senate finance subcommittee to urge enactment of the 16 to 1 bill introduced by Senator Wheeler (D. Mont.)

Simpson, a former Oklahoma bank president said it was easier for international bankers to control money based on the gold standard than when currency is based on a bimetallic standard.

House leaders meanwhile announced in order to expedite a study of depressed silver prices, the Somers resolution calling for an investigation of monetary system, would be brought before the house for action Monday.

Chairman Pou of the house rules committee forecast quick approval.

FRIENDS URGING J. E. REYNOLDS TO BECOME CANDIDATE

He is not ready as yet to make a definite announcement, although he is seriously considering becoming a candidate, he said. He has a wide acquaintance over not only the county but most of the state, having served for many years as a member of the Oregon state fair board.

Although Mrs. Florence Bacon, incumbent, has not yet made a public announcement, it is generally believed that she will be a candidate for re-nomination and re-election. She has served as county treasurer since Hugh McCall, now of Haines, Ore., held the position.

Preserving Odor in Roses

Odor in roses and other aromatic plants can be preserved by using salt, which will force the juice out of the petals. Take one pound of salt and one pound of rose petals or other plants and rub them together until the mass is reduced to paste, after which it is tightly corked in a bottle and set in a cool place until used. This method will preserve the odor for several months.

O. N. G. TEST MOBILIZATION IS CANCELLED

SALEM, Feb. 6 (AP)—Plans for a test mobilization of the Oregon national guard, scheduled for next week, were cancelled Friday by Major General George A. White, commander of the national guard in the northwest states.

"While the mobilization is held annual and is purely a routine of training, it is necessary to use telegraphs and radio to get the troops together in a surprise call," Major General White said.

"A call at this time might be misunderstood by the public as a military gesture, rather than an annual routine event. This especially is true since it is impracticable to give out advance notice of the assembly covering 21 counties.

"Therefore the test will be postponed until later in the year."
