

Winter One Of Most Severe In Wallowa Annals

By Mrs. C. A. Hunter (Observer Correspondent) WALLOWA (Special) — Wallowa is experiencing one of the severest winters in years. Following the heavy snow fall, which continued for three days last week, the weather has turned cold again. Tuesday and Wednesday nights the thermometer reached 18 degrees below zero. The snow is three and four feet deep in different localities and many of the country roads are blocked so that farmers are unable to get into town.

Ex-governor Walter M. Pierce, of La Grande, was in Wallowa last Saturday and was the principal speaker at the Lincoln day program given at the K. of P. hall in the evening. C. T. McDaniel introduced Mr. Pierce and was at the head of the committee in charge of the program. Music for the program was furnished by the High school glee club and the grade school chorus with several numbers by pupils of the 7th and 8th grades. Each year a Lincoln program is given by the Pythian lodge and these affairs are looked forward to with much interest by the general public.

A jolly party and a surprise that was genuine was given the members present at the regular meeting of the chapter O. E. S. last Thursday night. After chapter had closed the members were preparing to leave for their homes when a group of 30 Masons and their wives filed into the hall with card tables and refreshments. Six tables were soon arranged for cards, and bridge and pipichee were played until a late hour. The refreshments were served by the Masonic refreshment committee composed of Ross Hood, Hollis Bull, E. A. Searle and Edwin Marvin. C. H. Thorpe, master of Stanley lodge, had planned the party and was assisted in making the arrangements by W. P. Poole and Edwin Marvin.

Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Cox returned home on Monday's train after a week's absence. Mr. Cox made a business trip to Portland and Mrs. Cox spent the time visiting in La Grande at the home of her sister, Mrs. H. E. Coolidge.

At a delightful one o'clock luncheon, Mrs. O. F. Campbell entertained members of her bridge club and a few invited guests Friday afternoon at her home. Lunch was served at three small tables, each of which was decorated with red roses and valentines. Bridge was played during the afternoon and the prize for high score was received by Mrs. Hollis Bull and second high by Mrs. J. Ward Evans. Mrs. Bruce Cox will entertain the club in two weeks.

Sidney Castel and Stanley Shell were La Grande visitors Sunday. Mrs. Susie Davis went to La Grande Sunday where she had been called by the death of her sister-in-law, Mrs. George Miller. Mrs. Miller's death occurred less than a week after the death of her husband. The Miller family made their home in Wallowa for about 30 years before moving to La Grande eight years ago.

Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Trump are the parents of a son born Monday, Feb. 15 at their home on Bear creek. Bill Fisher, four-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Fisher is ill this week of a light case of scarlet fever.

home as she could not get to Lostine.

W. H. Williams, one of Lostine's pioneer residents, has been quite ill of heart trouble, at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Charles Hook.

Mrs. Robert Bowman suffered a stroke of paralysis Wednesday night. Her condition has not shown much improvement yet.

Friday afternoon the Odd Fellows were busy shoveling the snow off the roof of their building. At it has a flat roof there was danger of it breaking in under the weight of the snow. Harry and Wayne Wade helped to get the stage on the road again Wednesday after it ran off into the deep snow.

Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Leonard celebrated their 25th wedding anniversary Sunday and were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Brandt.

Miss Thelma Crea, of Enterprise, is staying at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harley Gaudle, helping to care for the new valentine boy that arrived Sunday morning.

Lostine School News The girls of the High school met last Friday and reorganized "The Girls' Club." Officers were elected as follows: president, Sara Sherman; vice president, Verda Childers; secretary, Pauline Bradley; treasurer, Margaret Whitehead; sports manager, Mrs. Williams; and assistant sports manager, Viola Cole. It was voted at this meeting that the money in the girls' treasury is to be used to purchase dishes which will be kept in a cabinet made by the manual training boys.

At a student body meeting Friday, it was decided that an entertainment committee be appointed to function for three weeks. This committee will furnish a program to be given at 3:00 p. m. every Friday, for the High school. The first committee is as follows: Margaret Foley, chairman, Bernice Winnings and Calvin Platts. The public is cordially invited to attend any of these Friday afternoon entertainments.

The sixth grade is doing some research work about George Washington, which they will put into little booklets.

Ruth Winnings has been absent from school the last week on account of sickness.

Several pupils were absent from both High school and grade school on account of the heavy drifts which made it impossible to reach school.

J. W. Redrow, 80-year-old Civil war veteran, has decided to take a trip to his old home at Boulder, Colo. where he will spend the remainder of the winter. His daughter, Mrs. Mary Turner, came to accompany him there. Mr. Redrow and T. A. Ratcliff, father of the late George Ratcliff were soldiers in the Civil war together, being in the same regiment and both came to Wallowa county after the war, remaining steadfast friends until Mr. Ratcliff's death.

IMBLER PERSONALS By Mrs. Ray Wilson (Observer Correspondent) IMBLER (Special) — Two close basketball games were played on the Imbler floor Wednesday afternoon. The first game, between the Imbler second team and the La Grande Junior class resulted in a win for the La Grander, 17-16. Harland Pratt was high scorer with eight points. Others who played for Imbler were Chase McCoy, Lyle Crouser, Delmer Fowler, Gerald Masters, Raymond Munsen, Chadwick Pratt, Sheldon Lloyd and Clifford Skeen.

In the second game the grade girls defeated the High school girls in a game requiring an overtime period, 17-15.

Imbler will wind up its basketball season with games on the home court this weekend. Friday the boys met Joseph while the girls tangled with Cove. Saturday the F. F. A. team will meet the Wallowa F. F. A. The alumni will furnish the other half of the double header by playing the La Grande Independents.

I returned to the vicinity of the Japanese headquarters in time to see a group of soldiers bringing their baggage to the barracks in civilian clothes. His stay there was brief. After being threatened with bayonets, swords and pistols, he was led away with a Japanese soldier, waving a menacing bayonet behind him.

Japanese consular officials denied today the accuracy of a statement printed in the American newspaper, Evening Post-Mercury under the signature of T. O. Thackeray, managing editor, saying that he saw Japanese officers killing Chinese at the International Hotel in New York.

The consular officials said the race club area had been under fire for two days and it was not likely any Chinese civilians were in the vicinity. Japanese officers, before launching their attack, warned the civilians to depart, they said.

They added they had no knowledge of executions. Such matters, they explained, were entirely in the hands of the military.

California Max Turns Back Tom Heeney Monday

By Russell J. Newland (Associated Press Sports Writer) SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 23 (AP) — California Max Baer, who expects to go places and do things in the heavy-weight ranks, listed Tom Heeney as a victim today, but his efforts are being held back by a decision of the New Zealand referee who were not particularly impressive to a holiday crowd of about 7,000 persons.

"The former Livermore 'buteher boy' went into the ring on an odds-on favorite, with every physical advantage but weight on his side, but when the tenth round was over his veteran opponent was still in the ring and had a bad omen. Heeney was in the heyday of his career when he fought Gene Tunney for the title in 1926.

The rangy Californian had figured to take the measure of Heeney without undue trouble. He discovered a busy afternoon for himself instead. They thumped each other steadily with Heeney absorbing his opponent's best punches without showing much effect, meanwhile inflicting considerable punishment at close range.

For the first three rounds, Heeney took the play away from his youthful rival. In an opening session he banged Baer's jaw with lusty rights that had the latter on the retreat.

Baer located his chunky opponent's chin in the fourth round and forced him to the end until the eighth which was fought on fairly even terms. Heeney lived up to have an edge in the ninth round but Baer's routing rally in the tenth round was the decision to win. Referee Toby Irwin's decision. The New Zealander did little but protect himself in the closing round.

Baer's most impressive showing was made in the fifth round when he clipped Heeney with a right to the jaw just before the bell sounded. Heeney was groggy as he walked to his corner but he quickly gathered himself and gave Baer a good argument in the next frame.

Weight favored Heeney as he scaled 211½ pounds. Baer came in at 199 pounds, about three pounds less than his weight for several earlier bouts.

Other finishers were Ted Geelan, McCall, fifth; Harry Whitehead, Idaho Falls, 6th; Ben Bape, Cascade, 7th; Death Hannl, Big Springs, Idaho, 8th; Duane Kent, Island Park, Idaho, 9th; Ray Peterson, St. Anthony, Idaho, tenth; George Henderson, Gault, Idaho, eleventh, and Kent Fuller, Marysville, Idaho, twelfth.

The youthful winner received $500 as first prize. Groom was awarded $200, Stover $150 and Oliver $75.

Two Women Stars Credit Golf With Restoring Health CHICAGO (AP) — Golf can give a boost to the health of two of its greatest women stars and mean it.

For the old Scotch game brought health to both of them, Mrs. Opal S. Hill, 47, and Mrs. Virginia Van Wie, 50, of Chicago.

Neither Mrs. Hill nor Miss Van Wie, who rank among America's big ten of powder puff golf, had a serious case of nervous prostration. They revealed them to take it up to recuperate their health. They accepted the advice and arose to stardom.

Mrs. Hill, attacked, during divots when her physician warned her of the danger of excessive maternal worries. She puttered around with her irons and woods while divot covers hid her considerable latent ability and then took it up with great vigor.

A few years later she became western champion and one of the strongest contenders for the national women's crown.

Last year at Dismoor, Highland Park, Ill., she collected her third western title in three years by defeating the smartest field in the tournament's history. The picture of health she smothered her field with her long smacks off the tee and down the fairway.

Golf came to Miss Van Wie's rescue when she was a child. A fractious vertebrae seriously interfered with her health, so she took up the game and became a star.

Although Miss Van Wie appears the picture of health, her physical infirmities have not blasted her greatest ambition in golf—the national championship.

In 1928 and 1930, she won her way to the finals only to be routed by Glenn Collet. Van Wie in two matches where the physical strain of the long championship grind did as much as Mrs. Van Wie's shots to beat her.

Don Cordingly Beats Veterans In Ashton Derby

ASHTON, Idaho, Feb. 23 (AP) — A 17-year-old driver who has mused his dogs in only three big races, beat back a challenge of a lot of veterans and won the 10th annual American dog derby here yesterday afternoon.

The youth, Don Cordingly, of Ashton, thrilled the crowd of 4,000 as he raced ahead of his string of five Llewellyn and Irish Setters for the last 200 yards, with trailing him, to beat Delbert Groom, of Rigby, to the finish line by one second.

Cordingly's time for the 25 mile grind run in three laps around a 8-1-3 mile track was 1 hour 58 minutes and 18 seconds, nearly five minutes slower than the record of 1 hour 53 minutes and 32 seconds established here last year by Roy Stover of McCall, Idaho. Cordingly finished second in the derby last year.

Stover, driving a string which included three new dogs, came in third ahead of Jack Oliver of Huntville, Utah. Stover's time was 2:04:29, and Oliver's 2:04:36.

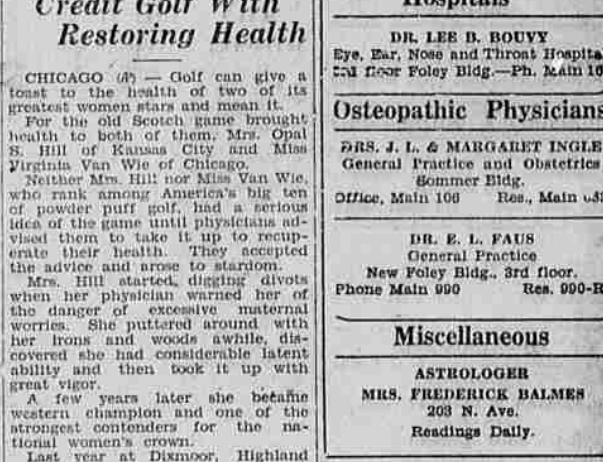

Other finishers were Ted Geelan, McCall, fifth; Harry Whitehead, Idaho Falls, 6th; Ben Bape, Cascade, 7th; Death Hannl, Big Springs, Idaho, 8th; Duane Kent, Island Park, Idaho, 9th; Ray Peterson, St. Anthony, Idaho, tenth; George Henderson, Gault, Idaho, eleventh, and Kent Fuller, Marysville, Idaho, twelfth.

The youthful winner received $500 as first prize. Groom was awarded $200, Stover $150 and Oliver $75.
