Dairy Products Steady; Eggs Continue Firm

PORTLAND, Feb. 26 (AP)—Steadiness of the dairy products market generally is attracting more than normal interest in the trade. Usually at this period of the season there appears a tendency for prices to ease off somewhat. The steadiness is especially noticeable in the butter trade with even strength indicated in spots. The latter is for undergrades. In fact these are in chief call locally.

One large chain organization was offering butter to consumers at 23c lb., which is exactly the same as top score cubes have been quoted for some time on the local exchange.

No changes in either butter or butterfat prices were shown for the day. General trading in the egg market continues firm with a smaller supply than immediate needs of the trade. Speculative interest continues to gain at all points along the coast.

Lessened demand is showing for extreme weighty hens. Stock weighing about 5 lbs. is showing more or less sales resistance. General chicken trade is steady.

Continued sagging trade trend is shown for country killed calves. This is normal during the big run of smelt in the Columbia. Prices are softer to lower. Hogs are weak.

Very strong demand continues in the market for country killed old crop lamb with sales easily made at the top. Mutton market is firmer with some slight business at a rise for top ewes. Increasing supply of fresh halibut has sent the local wholesale price down to 20c lb. generally with chicken 18c lb. Columbia chinook salmon is more plentiful and down a trifle. Smelt in an oversupply. Crabs a trifle scarce again.

Owing to the scarcity, due to the stormy weather for a protracted period, California vegetables are generally firmer to higher priced. This applies principally to cauliflower, celery and lettuce.

Market for turkey appears to be nearing an end for fresh arrivals with only odds and ends offering. Hens are still of quality and selling well to 20c but toms are becoming flabby and less desirable.

Notes of wholesale trading: Dallas spinach in better supply and is expected to crowd others from the market here. Californian is the best available today.

There is a growing shortage of place and pack oranges which is expected to increase. Prices firm. Another carload of Texas spinach is due Saturday.

There remains a lack of interest in potatoes. Offerings of home grown hothouse cucumbers increasing with best up to $2.75 doz.
