LOCAL BRIEFS

At Gospel Mission—
On Tuesday evening the following questions will be discussed at the Gospel Mission: "Is Sanctification a Second Definite Instantaneous Work of Grace? Is the Baptism of the Holy Spirit for us Today as it was on the Day of Pentecost? Can You Substitute One for the Other?" Meetings at the Gospel Mission will continue until Friday, the pastor states.

On Committee—
Miss Alyce Cook is one of the committee members at the University of Oregon who are in charge of ticket sales for the Gamma Alpha Chi fashion dance at the University of Oregon. Gamma Alpha Chi is a national advertising sorority for women. The dance, which will be held on Mar. 5, will be a leap year event.

From Baker—
Mrs. Blanche Stoddard, of Baker, was a visitor in La Grande on Saturday. She attended the affair at which the Relief society of the L. D. S. church was entertained. Mrs. Stoddard is a former resident of the city.

Returns—
William Moor and Lee Hamm, who transacted business in Morrow county for a few days, returned yesterday to La Grande.

Improving—
Mrs. Grant Bean, who has been confined to the Grande Ronde hospital during the past week, returned to her home today. Mrs. Bean slipped on the ice and fell more than a month ago, breaking her arm. It has been necessary to perform two operations to remove fragments of bone since the arm was first set.

On Business—
John Dixon, a certified public accountant of Portland, is in La Grande this week transacting business.

From Lyle, Wash.—
Sidney Lyle, who lived in Lyle, Wash., near The Dalles, is in La Grande where he expects to spend the week transacting business.

In "Three Musketeers"—
Tom Bruce, a La Grande student at Oregon State college, is one of a cast of 20 students who will present "The Three Musketeers," on March 3 and 4. One of the most pretentious productions ever put on at the college, "The Three Musketeers," by Dumas, is the romantic story of three friends in the France of the French Revolution. Selwyn Nock, of Oswego, and Nadine Millhollen, of Corvallis, will play the leading roles in the production which is being staged by the Workshop theatre players under the direction of D. Palmer Young, instructor in public speaking.

Leaves—
Mrs. Ethel B. Andrews, of Ogden, Utah, who has been visiting her mother, Mrs. Mary H. Bean, during the past week, left this morning for her home. Mrs. Andrews is very active in L. D. S. church, and during her visit here was a guest at church functions.

From Elgin—
Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Parker, of Elgin, were weekend visitors in La Grande. Mr. Parker is a member of the faculty at the Elgin High school.

Have New Son—
Mr. and Mrs. Chester Skull, 2101 Maple street, are the parents of a son born last night at 7:45 at their home.

In Pendleton—
Mrs. Charles Gump is spending Monday in Pendleton visiting her aunt, Mrs. Julia Loftus. She plans to return to La Grande this evening.

To Return—
Misses Enid Happersett and Veri Ramm are expected to return tonight from Portland where they have spent the past week. On Saturday and Sunday, they were delegates to the state convention of the World Wide Guild of the Baptist church, and the remainder of their stay was spent visiting friends.

From Arlington—
Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Ripley, of Arlington spent the weekend in La Grande visiting Mrs. Ripley's parents, Dr. and Mrs. H. S. Brownton.

Word Not Encouraging—
Word which members of her family have received recently from Mrs. G. C. Headley, who was called to Trinidad, Colo., a few weeks ago, is not very encouraging, they state. Mrs. Headley was called to care for her mother, Mrs. J. A. Richardson, who had fallen and broken her hip. Mrs. Headley writes that the bones have not started to heal yet and that her mother has been having some hemorrhages. In addition to all this, Mrs. Headley wrote within the last few days that her father, Mr. Richardson, who is quite feeble, lost his balance and fell while crossing a room, and also suffered the fracture of a hip, the break coming quite near the joint.

Return From Seaside—
Mr. and Mrs. Fred Eames, have returned to their home at 907 O avenue, after a visit of six weeks at the home of their daughter at Seaside, Ore. They arrived in La Grande Saturday evening.

Income Tax Man Here—
Roy L. Maule, deputy collector of internal revenue from Portland, will be in room 217 of the post office building all of this week, to aid Union county people in preparing their federal income tax returns. Mr. Maule is a government employe.

Return—
Lynn Croxdale and Roger Folgate, both of Walla Walla, returned Saturday evening to their home after spending two days in La Grande, where they acted as referees in the sub-district basketball tournament. Mr. Croxdale is a former Whitman college basketball star, and Mr. Folgate is assistant director of athletics there now. They were accompanied to La Grande by Russell Nelson, who visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Nelson.

Visits Mother—
Miss Bonnie Fraser spent the weekend in La Grande visiting her mother, Mrs. D. P. Fraser, in La Grande. Miss Fraser is teaching school at Richland.

Visits Here—
A guest at the home of Mrs. D. P. Fraser was her daughter, Miss Ruth Frasier, of Newbridge, who spent the weekend in La Grande. She is a member of the teaching staff of the Newbridge schools.

Leaves—
Miss Donna Holcomb, a student at the Eastern Oregon Normal school, spent the past weekend at Richland at the guest of her parents.

Paper Published—
The Beacon, the publication of the Eastern Oregon Normal school, was published this morning, under the direction of Editor Lum Rhea. The Beacon relates the news from the Normal school about twice a month.

Jewish Covering of Head
The wearing of a headcovering by Orthodox Jews is an oriental custom, which differs from the occidental in the fact that the covering of the head is a sign of respect, while in the occidental uncovering of the head evidences respect. There is not a specific clause in the Bible requesting devout Jews to cover the heads at meals, but as the head of the family officiates as the priest of the family, at meals, the custom is general.

CHINESE AND JAPANESE TO ENTER TRUCE

(Continued From Page One)

CHINESE PLAN EXPEDITION

NANKING, Tuesday, March 1 (AP)—The Chinese government decided today to order a punitive expedition against the newly created independent state of Manchuria.

By Morris J. Harris
(Associated Press Staff Correspondent)
(Copyright, 1932, by the Associated Press)

SHANGHAI, Feb. 29 (AP) — The Chinese battle line, fighting fiercely on a new front at Chapei, wavered and fell back slightly today under a thunderous artillery bombardment, in the midst of negotiations for peace and declarations for more widespread hostilities around Shanghai.

The battle had shifted back to Chapei from Kiangwan, that stubbornly defended little village half way between Shanghai and Woosung, which the Japanese captured on Sunday ending a long and bitter campaign.

After a terrific battle which lasted throughout the day from early morning, the Japanese, aided for the first time in more than a week by the big guns on thhe warships in the river, claimed they smashed the Chinese defenses, captured a cemetery west of Hongkew park and occupied positions near the American-owned Southern Baptist Mission hospital.

Threaten 50-Mile Area

While the battle was in progress, and shortly after a peace conference had ended, Japanese Consul General Kuramatsu Murai served notice on Mayor Wu Teh-Chen of Shanghai that unless the Chinese cease bringing in reinforcements the Japanese operations would be extended over a 50-mile area around the city "on a scale not even approached by the hostilities thus far."

The Japanese consul general said in his letter to the mayor that the Japanese would be forced in "self-defense" to destroy the Shanghai-Nanking railway as far west as Soochow, 50 miles away, and the Shanghai-Hangchow railway, as far as Kashing, 50 miles to the southwest.

Such a scale of hostilities would threaten one of the most thickly populated and richest areas in China, inhabited by millions of people, and would also bring serious danger to hundreds of foreign residents, including many Americans.

Japanese Entrenching

The Japanese began entrenching themselves in their new positions tonight as the ferocity of the battle lulled.

During the day Vice Admiral Sir Howard Kelly, British Fleet commander here, presided over a peace conference aboard his flagship, Kent, which was attended by Vice Admiral Kichisaburo Nomura, and Rear Admiral Yosuke Matsuoko, representing Japan, and Dr. Wellington Koo, former Chinese foreign minister, representing China. The conference adjourned without announcing the result of the deliberations.

The Japanese said they lost two killed and nine wounded in today's battle. A blistering barrage laid down by their field guns in Hongkew park was a signal for their surprise attack. Under the protection of the artillery, their engineers bridged Hongkew creek and then, led by two armored cars and two tanks, the bluejackets scattered the Chinese front line forces with hand grenades.

Chinese Fight Stubbornly

A further advance was balked, however, by the stubborn resistance of the Chinese secondary defenses.

Shrapnel was used with deadly effect on the fleeing Chinese. The latter, however, constantly swept the barbed wire entanglements with a rain of machine gun and rifle fire which impeded the progress of the Japanese drive.

While the bluejackets slowly pushed their line forward, Japanese airplanes subjected the Chinese positions in the rear to a continual rain of high explosive bombs apparently in an effort to destroy Chinese gun emplacements. A number of bombs were dropped along the Shanghai-Nanking railroad at the Markham road yards.

New Peace Conference Soon

Although the Chinese were reported to have refused the Japanese demand that they withdraw twelve and a half miles from Shanghai and permanently destroy the forts at Woosung at Paoshan as conditions of peace, it was reported tonight that the conferees planned to meet again soon and that Sir Miles W. Lampson, British minister to China, would sit in on the next conference.

The Chinese, however, were reported hesitant to accept the sincerity of the purported peace inclinations of the Japanese, fearing that they might merely be a smokescreen to cover the pending arrival of additional reinforcements.

Tonight the clouds above Woosung were aglow from a great fire started by Japanese shells in the outskirts of the wrecked town, and the bombardment was still going on.

Apparently this was intended to prevent activity by Chinese artillery against the railroad yards south of Woosung creek where several thousand newly arrived Japanese troops were quartered.

No more transports arrived in the afternoon, but one Japanese vessel resembling a troopship was observed in the Whangpoo off Kiaochao, and tonight several truckloads of Japanese infantry with a large quantity of stores and ammunition moved from the Yangtze wharves to the Japanese headquarters at Kiangwan.

Mission Again Damaged

During the day's fighting the American Southern Baptist mission was damaged again when a shell tore through the wall of one of the school buildings. This has happened several times previously and each time a protest has been registered by the American authorities. The property is owned by the Southern Baptist church of Richmond, Va.

Although the Japanese peace proposals were not published unconfirmed reports outlined them as follows:

1. Both the Chinese and Japanese troops would withdraw to a definite line.

2. A committee of Chinese and Japanese, including neutrals if desired, would be appointed to supervise the withdrawal.

3. Provisions for the protection of foreign and Chinese interests, the status of Shanghai and the policing of the evacuated zone would be discussed at a round table conference of all interested parties, including foreigners.

Outcome Not Disclosed

The outcome of the conference was not disclosed.

At noon Japanese naval authorities said 5,000 additional soldiers from Japan had arrived within the last 18 hours.

Most of the reinforcements were landed at Woosung, 16 miles away, but those aboard the transports came into the international settlement were disembarked on the Japanese wharves and proceeded from there to their quarters.

WOOL REPORT

BOSTON, Feb. 29 (AP) — Wool prices appeared to be offering a fairly strong resistance to pressure from a slow goods market. Ranges of quotations are practically unchanged from a week ago, although light concessions can still be obtained owing to the continued quiet demand for wool. Members of the wool trade are in a waiting mood pending developments in the demand for goods. Estimated receipts of domestic wool here during the week ending February 27 amounted to 437,500 lbs. compared with 2,144,500 lbs. the previous week.

LOCAL GIRLS IN ATTENDANCE AT CONFERENCE

Two hundred and fifty home economics students, teachers and parents, attended the second annual meeting of high school home economics clubs which was held at McMinnville Friday and Saturday. The conference was under the direction of Miss Frances M. Wright, supervisor of home economics with the state board for vocational education. Local arrangements were in charge of Mrs. Thelma Gildea and Miss Edna Fitts, home economics teachers.

Delegates from La Grande were Misses Edna Brown and Kathleen Landers.

In addition to the high school delegates, the group included seniors from Oregon State college who expect to teach home economics next year and the officers of the Oregon section of the American Home Economics association. C. A. Howard, state superintendent of public instruction, and O. D. Adams, state director for vocational education, also attended.

The program was in charge of the high school home economics students with Ellen Youngberg of the McMinnville club presiding.

Miss Claribel Nye, president of the Oregon Home Economics association, explained that the thirty Oregon high school home economics clubs are a part of the American Home Economics association. The schools which have clubs affiliated with the national association are: Union, Salem, St. Helens, La Grande, Klamath Falls, Sandy, Roseburg, McMinnville, Tillamook, Milwaukie, Milton, Woodburn, Pendleton, Molalla, Silverton, Ontario, Astoria, Gresham, Cottage Grove, Lebanon, Wallowa, Clatskanie, Chiloquin, Medford, Yamhill, Corvallis, Stayton, Mill City, Newport and Albany.

1932 "Mona Lisa" on Honeymoon

NEA Los Angeles Bureau

Here is "A Modern Mona Lisa" and her new husband, who are now on their honeymoon. She is the former Rosanna Roosevelt Bleecker, lower left, a descendant of the old Knickerbocker Bleeckers of New York. He is Carl C. Lindbom, upper left, noted Danish architect and builder who has been in Los Angeles for the last eight years. Miss Bleecker, a statuesque blond, is said to resemble Da Vinci's "Mona Lisa," and a portrait of her, "A Modern Mona Lisa," shown at the right, has been a feature of Los Angeles art exhibits.

Getting a Kick Out of Life

NEA Paris Bureau

The famed "million-dollar" legs of Mlle. Mistinguette haven't anything on the shapely limbs of Mlle. Cherie Langlois, who gets a great big kick out of life. She steps high, wide and handsome about Europe, and her beautiful legs have won prizes in 27 cities in eight countries. She is shown above exhibiting half of the championship combination.

WALLULA CUT-OFF ESTIMATES ASKED

(Continued From Page One)

the state highway commission at its meeting here March 12 as to the course to be pursued in the completion of the Wallula-Umatilla cut-off.

It will be decided by that time whether to go ahead on the present location which is under the crest of proposed dams of the Columbia river at Umatilla rapids, Arlington John Day and The Dalles, or on a new line.

"There is no intention to postpone the completion of the road indefinitely," Leslie M. Scott, chairman of the commission, said today. "I am for it and Commissioner Washburne is also. Commissioner Aldrich has said he will not oppose. His concern is chiefly to place the road above the water crest."

REORGANIZE STATE ROAD DEPARTMENT

(Continued From Page One)

1. Baldock succeeds Klein as chief engineer tomorrow, although the latter will remain in an advisory capacity until April 1.

Expect Savings of $285,000

Baldock further announced that the department planned to bring about savings in overhead of at least $285,000 a year. Of this sum $50,000 annually will be effected by the consolidation of offices and the remainder through wage reductions. Salaries of higher officials would be cut 20 per cent, while the remainder about 12½ per cent, effective April 1.

"The reorganization," Baldock said, "which eliminates the office of assistant state highway engineer, maintenance superintendent, equipment engineer, market road engineer, and one division office, contemplates the creation of the offices of construction engineer and maintenance engineer."

"The executive authority controlling the department," Baldock continued, "will be delegated by the state highway engineer to four staff officers: office engineer, bridge engineer, construction engineer, and maintenance engineer. There will direct the activities in the field through four division engineers.

Baldock said C. B. McCullough will be retained as bridge engineer, S. H. Probert will be retained as office engineer, J. N. Bishop, formerly maintenance superintendent, will be maintenance and equipment engineer, and H. G. Smith, formerly division engineer at La Grande, will be in charge of construction and surveys.

There will be four divisions instead of five with headquarters as follows: Salem division, in charge of William E. Chandler, who will be transferred from Grants Pass; Grants Pass division, in charge of E. A. Collier, to be transferred from Salem; Bend division, in charge of K. D. Lytle as at present; and La Grande division, in charge of W. C. Williams, of La Grande, who will be promoted from resident maintenance engineer to division engineer.

Klein's report, made on his last day as state highway engineer, showed that during the past year 1337 miles of state highways have been improved in some form. This included 329 miles of re-oiled surfacing; 248 miles of new oil surface treatment; 170 miles of non-skid pavement resurface; 169 miles of regrading and widening roadbed; 135 miles of bituminous macadam; 105 miles of crushed rock resurfacing; 95 miles of new grading; 82 miles of crushed rock surfacing and 4.5 miles of concrete paving. Thirty-four bridges were also constructed.

Of the expenditures during the past year $11,108,836 was from state funds; $4,535,069 from federal funds and $256,811 from county funds. The year's work on highways brings the present improvement status of the state highway system to a total of 4,468 miles of highways.

"The outstanding accomplishment of the year," Klein stated, "was the practical completion of the coast highway which has been an objective for many years. The grading of the remaining units in Lane and Douglas counties, the construction of several bridges across minor streams and the surfacing of graded units were undertaken as a part of the year's program and are now advanced to practical completion. There remains only the surfacing of the 13-mile unit between the Lincoln-Lane county line and Berry creek in Lane county to open the project for all-year travel.

"In making comparisons with expenditures for the previous year, it will be noted that in administrative expense there was a saving of $30,-731.86 or 11.7 per cent for the year 1931, even though the total expenditures for all purposes were $1,232,-779.82 greater.

"Likewise, there has been a saving in maintenance expenditures of $213,-536 in 1931 when compared with 1930, or 10.1 per cent, although the mileage maintained was 3030 miles greater.

"The reduction in equipment expense for 1931 amounted to $109,926 or 9.8 per cent.

"The increase in the volume of new construction and betterments has amounted to $1,704,960.94. The engineering cost to handle the whole construction program has been 4.40 per cent which compares with 4.53 per cent in 1930.

"Excluding interest and principal payments on outstanding bonds, the total expenditures for the year were $12,538,183.09. In percentages the administration costs were 1.84 per cent compared with 2.31 per cent in 1930."

Insects Fly High

Insects have been found by air plane observers as high as 10,000 feet above the earth.

BUSINESS TO BE BENEFITED DUE TO RELIEF BILLS

(Continued From Page One)

won't get well in a moment."

During his talk he said that talk originating overseas that America would be forced to suspend the gold standard appears without foundation in fact.

The attendance at today's meeting was the best during the last month.

President Sarvis appointed Lot Snodgrass as chairman of the March program committee.

ONLY A FEW SHIPS STAY IN ATLANTIC

(Continued From Page One)

ents. It limits the American stand to employment of moral force and world sentiment to discourage violation of treaties.

President Hoover is represented as feeling that this means—embodied in the outspoken American declaration that no gains Japan might make through her military operations in Chinese territory would be recognized by this country—is more powerful than any embargo.

125 Are Present At Services At The Chapel Car

Rev. C. W. Cutler preached two very interesting and enlightening sermons at the Baptist church yesterday. In the morning he spoke on the subject, "The Builders," and in the evening he used the theme, "The Main Line." More than 125 young people, members of the young people's societies of the Presbyterian, Christian, Methodist and Baptist churches, filled the chapel car to capacity yesterday at 6:30 p. m. for an enthusiastic union meeting.

The chapel car evangelists are beginning their real task of soul winning this week, Mr. Cutler states, with meetings every evening at 7:30 o'clock, in which meetings the primary stress will be placed on this phase of religious life. Mr. Cutler further states that while it is true that the chapel car is sent out by the Baptist denomination and is cooperating with the local Baptist church, the invitation is extended to "Take Christ as your personal Saviour and join the church of your choice." There is no pressure used to force people to join the Baptist church. In fact churches of all denominations have gained members wherever the chapel car has visited.

The sermons for the coming week are unusual in that they treat of a separate problem each night. And the services are made happy in that there is no embarrassing personal work done in the chapel car, and no drives for funds. Expenses of the car are paid by the American Baptist Publication society.

There will be special meetings for school children in the chapel car at 4:00 o'clock Tuesday and Thursday afternoons.

Menus Of The Day

BAKED NOODLES FOR DINNER

Breakfast
Orange Juice
Cooked Corn Cereal Cream
Poached Eggs
Buttered Toast Coffee

Luncheon
Fruit Salad Cheesed Wafers
Cocoanut Cookies Tea

Dinner
Baked Noodles
Baked Sweet Potatoes
Bread Butter
Head Lettuce French Dressing
Apple Pudding Cream
Coffee

Cocoanut Cookies

½ cup fat.
1 cup sugar.
1 teaspoon vanilla.
1 teaspoon lemon extract.
¼ teaspoon salt.
½ cup dry cocoanut.
2 eggs.
3 tablespoons cream.
2¼ cups flour.
1 teaspoon cream of tartar.

Cream the fat and sugar. Add eggs and beat 2 minutes. Add rest of ingredients, mixing lightly. Chill dough. Break off bits of dough and flatten down 3 inches apart on greased baking sheets. Bake 12 minutes in moderate oven.

Baked Noodles, Serving 6

3 cups cooked noodles.
1 cup cheese, cut fine.
½ cup chopped celery.
2 tablespoons chopped onions.
4 tablespoons catsup.
1 teaspoon salt.
¼ teaspoon paprika.
1½ cups milk.

Mix ingredients and pour into buttered baking dish. Bake 30 minutes in moderate oven. Serve in dish in which baked.

French Dressing
(Bettina's special)

1 teaspoon salt.
1 teaspoon paprika.
1 teaspoon celery seed.
1 teaspoon mustard.
1 teaspoon finely chopped onion.
1 tablespoon chili sauce.
5 tablespoons sugar.
3 tablespoons lemon juice.
2-3 cup salad oil.

Mix ingredients. Beat 2 minutes with rotary beater. Chill. Beat well and serve.

Gladstone's Eloquence

It has been said of Gladstone, when he was chancellor of the exchequer, that he could envelop prosaic facts and figures in such a mist of romance as to carry his listeners along with the sheer fascination of the story.

"Ma" Ferguson In Race Again

Mrs. Miriam A. (Ma) Ferguson, above, who once canned fruit in the Texas gubernatorial mansion, again has tossed her bonnet into the race for governorship of the Lone Star state. She won the office in 1924 to "vindicate" her husband, former Governor James E. (Pa) Ferguson, who had been ousted a decade before. She was criticised for wholesale pardoning of convicts.

HOOVER URGES CONGRESS TO PLUG LOOPHOLES

(Continued from Page One)

juvenile courts.

Providing that where a corporation, organized under the laws of one state, carries on business in another state, it shall be treated as a citizen of the state where it does business as respects suits within that state between it and residents there and arising out of business done in the state.

Criticizes Flaws

The president strongly criticized flaws in the present bankruptcy laws. He pointed out that losses to creditors soared in 1931 to a total of $911,000,000. The present law, he said, "holds out every inducement for waste of assets long after business failure has become inevitable," and, in addition permits wasteful exploitation.

As he expressed it, the aims of revised bankruptcy legislation should be to relieve honest but unfortunate debtors of an overwhelming burden of debt; "to effect a prompt and economical liquidation of insolvent estates; and to discourage fraud and needless waste of assets by withholding relief from debtors in proper cases."

Under his proposals for stricter prohibition enforcement in this city, which were published last year and are embodied in pending legislation, the police would be clothed with the authority of federal prohibition agents. He devoted but a single paragraph to the subject today.

President Hoover transmitted to congress along with his message a report on bankruptcy made by the department of justice following a lengthy investigation.

ANNUAL BANQUET TUESDAY NIGHT

(Continued From Page One)

in charge of the annual meeting which begins at 6:30 sharp tomorrow evening at the La Grande hotel, determined to delegate this office to a woman this year, and Mrs. A. T. Hill will perform that formal duty. The committee does not admit or deny that leap year had anything to do with the choice.

Blind Editor to Speak

All details are now in readiness for the dinner, to which reservations must be made this evening or tomorrow. B. Frank Irvine, blind editor of the Oregon Journal, will be the principal speaker of the evening. Mr. Irvine is one of the foremost orators of the state and is in demand for after dinner speeches all over the Northwest. He will arrive in the morning. He is a member of the board of higher education.

Plenty of Music Provided

The High school orchestra of two score pieces, will play before the dinner and during the service of the courses. Later in the evening the Blue Mountain Wranglers will be heard in two numbers that will depart somewhat from the usual repertoire of that popular organization. Bob Ward, popular high school vocalist, will sing.

A third group of musical numbers will be given by a brass horn quartet consisting of B. F. Wylde, F. L. Robinson, Max McMillan and Andrew Loney.

There will be official reports of the club's activity for the year as Secretary H. C. Boone is sending detailed statements to each member by mail this evening. President-Elect Harry McKinlay, will, however, give the speech that is required of every incoming president in which the year's course will be charted.

Visitors are expected from Baker and Wallowa counties, and the various towns of Union county.

Ladies are welcomed, as is the custom with the annual meetings. It is imperative that diners be on time. Dinner will be served in the dining room rather than the banquet hall thus adding to the comfort and convenience of all.

at FALK'S
Because It's Better At Falk's — It's Cheaper

GANTNER
Sport Sweaters
for the man who wants something better.

With golf season just around the corner why not step in and choose your sweater — a full range of sizes — with sleeves, or sleeveless — all colors.
$2.75 to $5.

ARROW and EAGLE Shirts wear longer fit better and look better.

Sanforized shrunk — low, medium and high neck bands — stripes, plaids, and solid colors — all sizes.
$1.95 to $3.50

INTERWOVEN
Socks
for particular men.

With the Interwoven heel and toe insuring longer wear — lisle lined — silk, rayon, and silk and wool—sizes 10 to 12.
35c to $1.

"Style Without Price Penalty"

DON'T RUIN YOUR HEALTH
Washing. Wet wash 4c lb., Damp Wash 3c lb., flat work ironed. Economy Wash 7c lb. flat ironed garments dry. Rough dry 9c lb. flat ironed garments starched.
MODERN LAUNDRY
PHONE MAIN 77

DON'T FORGET TO PHONE THAT WANT-AD
YOU can quickly raise extra cash by selling some of those things you no longer need. A Want-Ad will find an answer to any of your wants.
PHONE MAIN 600

Enkay
IS QUALITY

GARBO
NOVARRO
Mata Hari

Extra SPECIAL
6 Bars Palmolive Soap
6 Boxes Palmolive Beads
$1.10 Value
All For 44c
Grande Ronde Meat Co.

Nettleton SHOES and OXFORDS
$8.95
at Trotter's
QUALITY CLOTHES SHOP
The Store For Every Man

MAN'S HEART STOPPED BY BAD STOMACH GAS

W. L. Adams bloated so with gas after meals that his heart missed beats. Adlerika brought out all gas and now he eats anything and feels fine. Red Cross Drug Store.
—Adv.