He was about 38 years of age and leaves his wife and six children. He was very well known at Berkeley, Cal., where he had made his home for several years before moving to Los Angeles, 22 years ago.

Synopsis of Acts — Act 1—Friday

Chicken Market Suffering From 'Bear' Practices

PORTLAND, Mar. 25 (AP) — Conditions in the live chicken trade are again more or less under influence of manipulative California interests. Lower prices are being named by some of the buyers for southern account in fact some of these are naming the lowest price of the season to date for light weight hens. At the same time the California buying price for home goods is nearly double that being offered here.

The market for chickens is still suffering from the competition in northern interests who are being utilized by California buyers to break the price list throughout the Pacific northwest. Light and medium hens are the chief buyers for the lowest prices. Heavy hens are in call with prices fairly well maintained.

Efforts to break the spring chicken market are proving futile at the moment, owing to the lightness of arrivals. There was practically no change in the better market situation for Friday on the open market both sides and prices were stationary at recent prices. Make a generally increasing.

There was no change in the price of eggs locally for the day but more or less secret cutting is indicated in the trade. Much of the cutting is by producers willing direct to retailers.

There remains very little change in the country market. Lamb, both old and new crop, are in good call and at fair prices. Veal are weak and hops about steady. Best demand is good.

Flour, wheatberries of the season are here from Southern California. They sold rapidly at 10c per unit. Quality extremely good.

Owing to some setback in inspection at Roseburg, broomstick offerings from there were scarce for the day. Prices at Roseburg were nominally at $2.25-$2.35 for 16. Unimproved stock is still coming by truck.

Shoppers of districts of onions say their sales to the east yesterday were about 10c central less than previously which would not indicate a buying price here above $6.00-$6.50. Local sales to retailers not more than a half dozen sacks a day.

The big onion agency had in the potato trade with practically all carload buyers refusing to take hold at primary points within the price range recently asked. Locally the market is quiet.

Notes of wholesale trading. Dressed turkeys are in very good demand at life prices.

Wholesale turkeys are very slow sale on account of the weather. Chicago market is up about 25 cents here locally with even greater advances at the source.

Extreme scarcity of fresh salmon is reflected with prices nominally higher. Green peas are now arriving in sacks from California. Sales around $9.10-$9.15. Quality very good.

First carload of new Texas potatoes here here. Sales around $2.25 to $2.30 about 10c extra for Florida.

Several potatoes from Milwaukee, of very excellent quality were offered today on the east side farmers' wholesale market. Prices around $2.25.

Household brooms were again available but only in very light quantities. There was a general sale around 50c crate but some state stock sold $1.00-$1.10. Local around 60c-70c crate.

Onion tubers again sold $2.00 per 16 for local while a small supply of Summer 16s was quoted $1.25. Potatoes at the for choice 16s and 18 for fancy.

Apples were well represented with Sumner locally $1 for extra fancy and $1.10 for fancy. Extra fancy Delicious from Hood River were $1.20 with local and the White Bananas and Arkansas Blended $1.

Serious Shortage Of Feed Reported In Western Region

CORVALLIS, Ore., Mar. 25 (AP) — A serious feed shortage throughout much of the western livestock region was reported today in a weekly summary of livestock ranges and pastures issued by the Oregon State college extension service and the U. S. D. A. bureau of agricultural economics.

Oregon livestock is in only fair condition, the report said, as weather conditions have delayed the start of spring pasture. Prospects for later pasture are excellent due to the unusual amount of moisture, but much depends on the future weather.

In California range feed has been delayed by low temperatures. Western lamb shipments decreased slightly during the week ending March 23, and sharply less than the corresponding year ago, although the movement for the year so far is about the same as last year.

Supplies until May will be largely fed lambs and early spring lambs from California and Arizona with some stock from Texas. The early lamb crop in California and Arizona is somewhat smaller this year than last and the development is not very favorable to date, the report said.

Export shipments from California for April have been estimated as relatively small.
