SLOT MACHINES SQUEEZE LOSERS AT MONTE CARLO

MONTE CARLO (P)—Slot machines for impetuous gamblers have been installed in the casino here. The reason for the innovation is the shortage of heavy players with ample supplies of paper currency. "Once the patrons run out of franc notes, they lie to the bar with their small change in the hope that the machines will yield enough to give them a seat in a bigger game."

Italian for Italy Movement Causes War on Alien Word

ROME (AP)—A campaign to drive English and other foreign words from the Italian language is sweeping Italy, supported by all the newspapers. The dailies are holding contests among their readers to form new Italian words as substitutes for foreign words in everyday use. The success obtained by the word "autista" instead of "chauffeur" is encouraging the campaign. The American visitor to Italy would be dismayed by the meaning given some of the English words which the Italians wish to banish. "Tight," for instance, does not mean "closely drawn or fastened," a full-dress, or tails coat. "Smoking" does not mean what it seems to, but a tuxedo suit. "Cylinder" does not mean a "solid round body whose ends are equal parallel circles." It is a high hat. Among the other English words to be chased into outer darkness are bar, cigar, kitten, copyright, dancing, film, first, golf, jazz, record, sandwich and taxi.

Invent Machine To Manicure Nails

CHICAGO, Mar. 31 (AP)—You can have your nails manicured by machine now. An apparatus which shapes and files the nails with an emery wheel, treats the cuticle with an orange stick, buffs and polishes, was demonstrated yesterday at the closing session of the Illinois Hairdressers' association. The machine age for beauty hasn't reached the stage where you drop a coin and out comes a manicure, as an operation is still required, but as somebody pointed out that isn't so important because a fellow can't talk to or make a date with machinery anyway.

KOAC STATION TO REMAIN ON AIR; GET $6000

SALEM, Mar. 31 (AP)—State department heads late yesterday voted to contribute approximately $6000 necessary to keep radio station KOAC at Corvallis in operation until July 1 at which time the state board of higher education will operate it under a new budget. In return the state groups will use the state college equipment for broadcasting educational and informative reports. The action was taken at a meeting called by Governor Julius L. Meier after President W. J. Kerr of the college stated that funds were required to keep the station operating and thus not to lose its position on the air. The deficit resulted from the federal radio commission's order to broadcast from the station 12 hours a day.

Stormy Petrels

The stormy petrels, sometimes called Mother Carey's chickens, are the tiniest of web-footed birds. Their name, "petrel," is a form of "Peter," and was given them because of their ability to walk upon the water.

Interpolated Music

The "Rakoczy March" was not written expressly for the "Lammermoor of Faust." It was interpolated. It is an old Hungarian rhapsody tune. Berlioz first heard it in the city of Pesth in 1846, as near as is known. A friend, probably Liszt, had loaned him, the evening of his departure from Vienna, a collection of popular songs. Berlioz chose the theme of the "Rakoczy March" and reworked it with magnificent orchestral color.
