

NEWS of the CHURCHES

Reverend Kopp To Take Charge Of Local Church

Comes From Ellensburg As Rector of Episcopal Church After Years Service.

Rev. Clarence A. Kopp, who comes to St. Peter's Episcopal church as rector, Sunday, was graduated from Ripon college, Wis., with an A. B. degree. The first four years after his graduation, he spent in public school work, three years in Wisconsin, and one at Yale, Oregon. Following his graduation as a priest, he became head master of the academic department of Racine college, which position he held for a year. He then went to Missoula, Montana as assistant rector of the Episcopal church there.

From there he went to Livingston, Montana, where he was rector of St. Andrew's church, where he also was missionary in charge of missions at Missoula. Mr. Kopp has a family of wife and four children, who will not come to La Grande until school is out.

Services at St. Peter's Sunday will be holy communion at eight; church school at 9:45; and morning prayer at eleven, and a cordial welcome is extended to the members and those interested in the services of St. Peter's church on Sunday. As several thirty in the evening he would like to meet the members of the congregation at an informal gathering in the church.

Baptist Church
Spring Avenue and Sixth
The pastor's theme at the Baptist church Sunday morning will be "Can a Child of God be Lost?" Special music will be rendered by the choir. The subject of the evening sermon will be "What the World and the Church Have to Offer." The young people's topic will be "Why Do We Have a Church?" The 10:00 o'clock morning prayer meeting will be at the home of Mrs. P. R. Finlay, Tuesday. The hours of services are Bible school, 9:45; morning worship, 11:00; B. Y. P. U., 6:30; evening worship, 7:30; prayer meeting, Thursday evening, 7:30.

Christian Science Church
First Street at Washington
"Unreality" will be the subject of the lesson-sermon in all churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, April 3. The Golden Text will be, "For ever, O Lord, thy word is settled in heaven." Through thy precepts I get understanding; therefore I hate every false way" (Ps. 119:89, 104).

Among the citations comprising the Lesson-sermon will be the following from the Bible: "And Jesus went into the temple of God, and cast out all them that sold and bought in the temple. . . . And said unto them, It is written, My house shall be called the house of prayer; but ye have made it a den of thieves" (Matt. 21:12, 13).

The Lesson-sermon will also include the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "As in Jesus' time, so today, tyranny and pride need to be whipped out of the temple, and humility and divine acceptance welcomed in. The strong cords of scientific demonstration as twisted and wielded by Jesus, are still needed to purge the temples of their vain traffic in worldly worship and to make them meet dwelling-places for the Most High" (p. 142).

Presbyterian Church
Washington and Sixth Streets
The service hour at the Presbyterian church, Sunday morning, 11:00 o'clock will be given to the observance of the holy communion. The minister, J. George Wals, will speak on "The Ceremonies of the Presence," which will lead up to the Lord's Supper. There will be those who will confirm their baptismal vows, thus coming into full membership. The double quartet, Mrs. S. B. Morgan, Mrs. Floyd Sherwood, soprano; Mrs. W. H. Bohlenkamp Jr., Miss Corinne Baker, alto; E. E. Hurley, Roscoe Hurley, tenor; W. W. Nusbbaum, and C. E. Anderson, baritone, will sing the anthem by Mendelssohn "Jehovah Reigns." Miss Edris Maguire will play the prelude "Pastorale" by MacDowell, and the offertory "Hymn" by Johnston.

At 7:30 o'clock in the evening the minister will speak, Miss Gladys Miller will play the service, and Mrs. Floyd Sherwood will be in charge of the special music. As several thirty in the evening he would like to meet the members of the congregation at an informal gathering in the church.

Other Christian Endeavor groups will meet in the church at 6:15 p. m.

First Methodist Episcopal Church
Fourth and Spring
The first Sunday after Easter and the first Sunday in Spring will be observed by communion in the Lord's Supper at the First Methodist church. The sermon topic is "The Last Breakfast" and will be brief. Mrs. Stanley Lyons will sing the soprano solo, "Saved By Grace," by Stebbins and the choir will sing the anthem, "All Hail the Power," by Finley Lyon.

The Epworth League will meet at 7 o'clock with a Wednesday Heritage leading the devotions and Frank Tyler leading the discussion period.

The Sunday school under the supervision, M. L. Whitney, will meet at 9:45 with the orchestra playing at the opening service.

Central Church of Christ
Seventh Street at Penn
Paul De P. Mortimore, pastor of the Church of Christ, announces that he will speak Sunday morning on the subject, "The Responsibility of the Easter Message."

At this morning service the choir which successfully presented the cantata on Easter, will be heard in an anthem. All of the singers who were heard Easter at this church sing regularly here. The Lord's Supper will be served for all Christians at this service also.

The Bible school reached the 303 mark easily Easter, and Miss Dorothy Smutz, superintendent of the school, states that it is the aim of the school to hold to that attendance.

For the quarter which begins Sunday, extra supplies have been ordered to care for an increased attendance, and a new course is being offered at the adult department. This church maintains a thoroughly graded school, with classes for every age.

The Christian Endeavor societies meet at 6:30 p. m. for the expression service. All groups invite young people to attend their sessions. Plans for a lively spring season are under way.

At 7:30 p. m. the Lord's Day is climaxed with an evangelistic service. A twenty piece concert orchestra plays a short concert which will include a "Serenade" and several popular numbers Sunday evening. This orchestra received very high praise for the concert which they played Easter evening when many were turned away for lack of room. The choir is also present at the evening service, leading in the song service.

The pastor has announced for his evening sermon, "Killed By Her Friends" and Rev. Mortimore urges that those who have not been attending church regularly especially attend this service. There will be baptismal services at the evening hour.

Church of the Nazarene
Y Avenue and Birch St.
Sunday services at the Church of the Nazarene will be Sunday school at 9:45; morning worship at 11 o'clock, with the pastor speaking on the subject, "The Christian Race;" young people's service at 6:30; and evangelistic service at 7:30. The sermon subject for the evening will be "The Devil, who he is; what he is, how he works and how to defeat him."

Mid-week prayer service will be held Wednesday at 7:30.

Sermonette
Edited by Harriet R. MacDonald

But when they in their trouble did turn unto the Lord God of Israel, and sought Him. He was found of them.—II Chron. xv. 4

How often we say: "That was a frightful thing that happened to so-and-so!"

We know people whose whole lives seem to be wrecked by some misfortune, loss, or disappointment. Yes, but do we not know others to whom the like or worse has happened who have borne up under their difficulties and have not been harmed by them? Surely we do not believe that in the former case the circumstances possessed power for evil which was lacking in the latter. It is not true that in one case the individual gave the circumstances the power to harm him? Is it not rightly said that it is not what happens to us, but how we react to the happenings, that counts?

How are we reacting to our own trials? Are we allowing them to fill us with discontent, or bitterness, or anger, or impatience, or with unkind thoughts of others? Can we justly excuse ourselves by laying the blame on "circumstances beyond our control"? For surely if we will but "turn unto the Lord" and seek Him—trust Him really—then do we find Him and are saved from harm.—M. M.

Hudkins Winner Of Battle In Court

LOS ANGELES, Apr. 1 (AP)—Ace Hudkins, who is known to boxing fans at the Lincoln, Neb., "Wildcat," last night won a $10,000 damage suit for alleged breach of contract to marry and for battery brought by Miss Rhos Bill, an entertainer.

The fighter denied the charges, and said that if Miss Hill suffered black eyes it must have been when she fell down. He offered several character witnesses against the girl.

Miss Lee, the head of the department, had taken No. 12 into her office while she checked over new stock. But just then No. 12 was too tired to wonder why Josie put the question, to read into it the jealousy with which each salesclerk observed any distinction paid to any one of them. No. 12 had not been at Stratton's long enough to lift her eyes toward the glamorous position of assistant buyer.

"Way, yes, she did," she answered tiredly.

"Oh, well, she's taken us all in, one time or another."

They took their wraps from their lockers. Josie jammed a tight little red hat down over her head, arranged crescents of blonde hair in each temple, applied powder to her nose and a dab of scarlet to her lips. She drew her coat tightly about her hips, holding it there with crossed arms.

"Taking the street car home?" Her eyes were pointed with curiosity.

"No, I walk home."

"Well, by my, Miss Brandon. See you tomorrow."

"Oh, make it Josie's!" the friendly Josie called over a hunched shoulder.

Stratton's knew No. 12 as Katherine Brandon.

As she walked out into the chilled dusk, Kitty felt a little cheered by Josie's advances. Until today the girls in her department had left her alone. Her own fault, of course—she'd wanted to be friendly, but in her awkwardness she'd felt shy, and probably they'd taken that for standoffishness.

Josie was a leading spirit in the sportswear department. She was good-natured, sympathetic and ready with a joke, mimicked her customers when they departed, hatched with the footmen. Every morning she regaled her associates with her experiences of the evening before. Dates and boy friends made the substance of her easy chatter. She was alert in her work, apologetic shoppers with an atten-

"Alfalfa Bill" Not To Address Local Audience

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., Apr. 1 (AP)—Governor William H. Murray returned home Thursday after a 12-day campaign tour of the south in the interest of his candidacy for the Democratic nomination for president. He plans to leave Tuesday for 11 speaking engagements in Nebraska and 11 in Oregon. Tentative plans call for Murray's going to Ohio after completing the Oregon tour, April 14.

"Alfalfa Bill" plans to speak at The Dalles, April 11, and at Portland that night; at Klamath Falls, Medford and Roseburg, April 12; at Eugene, Albany and Salem, April 13, and at Pendleton, Baker and Ontario, April 14.

A prediction that Oklahoma delegates to the Democratic national convention, pledged to support Gov. Murray as a presidential nominee, will not support Governor Roosevelt of New York at any time was made today by the governor.

"I see where Pat Malloy, of Tulsa, says the delegation will vote for Roosevelt when they see I have no chance," Murray said. "I'll bet a dime they'll never vote for Roosevelt. If I can't be nominated, they'll go for somebody who will help the country. We are not hunting a band wagon. If Roosevelt's got it, he'll take his band wagon and go on; we'll not be on it."

KITTY FREW

by JANE ABBOTT

SYNOPSIS: A sudden proposal, hurried wedding, and brief honeymoon. Kitty Frew, a beautiful girl, is engaged to marry her husband's uncle, who is a wealthy man. Her husband, Garret, refuses to work. His mother visits Kitty's lack of social place, and Kitty runs away to her half-brother and his friend Dorcas.

Chapter 16
WHILE KITTY WAITS

"YOU have to hang on to your self-respect or you're nowhere," Dorcas said finally, concisely.

"Now it's up to you to see it through. But you don't have to plan anything tonight. Tomorrow'll be time enough. Let's get to bed. I'll fix you on the couch here."

She sprang up and vigorously fell to work transforming the couch into a bed, folding covers, spreading sheets and blankets.

She tucked the covers about Kitty's shoulders and the touch of her hand was warming and reassuring. Like a weary child Kitty snuggled further down under the soft blankets. The embers of the fire made fingers of light across the darkened room. Through the half-open door of Dorcas' bedroom Kitty could see her moving back and forth. A blessed drowsiness enveloped her.

Tomorrow, they'd plan things out. Dorcas would help her. But tomorrow Gar would come for her, of course!

It was closing time at Stratton's department store, three weeks later. The last-minute shoppers had hurried off. The salesclerks were putting away the stock, working furiously against precious time.

No. 12 in the sportswear department was hanging two dresses in a case. Her unaccustomed fingers made slow work of it and the other girls, folding sweaters and blouses, watched her and smiled slyly at one another. No. 12 was new and it was game to leave to a new one the job of hanging the suits away. It took longer.

A bright-eyed, blonde girl passing No. 12, hesitated. "Gee, don't bother so much. Lee's gone." She caught up an armful of the garments and swung them on to the bar of the case. "Rotten day, isn't it?"

No. 12 knew Josie Price was trying to be friendly. Her tired face flushed gratefully. She agreed that it had been a rotten day.

"Bet you're dead," Josie went on. "My bet used to hurt as if they had holes on 'em. But you get used to it. I guess you get used to most any thing unless it's Lee's tongue, after the ad bunch've taken her for a ride. Anyway, you don't have to mind that, do you? Didn't she take you into her office?"

Miss Lee, the head of the department, had taken No. 12 into her office while she checked over new stock. But just then No. 12 was too tired to wonder why Josie put the question, to read into it the jealousy with which each salesclerk observed any distinction paid to any one of them. No. 12 had not been at Stratton's long enough to lift her eyes toward the glamorous position of assistant buyer.

"Way, yes, she did," she answered tiredly.

"Oh, well, she's taken us all in, one time or another."

They took their wraps from their lockers. Josie jammed a tight little red hat down over her head, arranged crescents of blonde hair in each temple, applied powder to her nose and a dab of scarlet to her lips. She drew her coat tightly about her hips, holding it there with crossed arms.

"Taking the street car home?" Her eyes were pointed with curiosity.

"No, I walk home."

"Well, by my, Miss Brandon. See you tomorrow."

"Oh, make it Josie's!" the friendly Josie called over a hunched shoulder.

Stratton's knew No. 12 as Katherine Brandon.

As she walked out into the chilled dusk, Kitty felt a little cheered by Josie's advances. Until today the girls in her department had left her alone. Her own fault, of course—she'd wanted to be friendly, but in her awkwardness she'd felt shy, and probably they'd taken that for standoffishness.

Josie was a leading spirit in the sportswear department. She was good-natured, sympathetic and ready with a joke, mimicked her customers when they departed, hatched with the footmen. Every morning she regaled her associates with her experiences of the evening before. Dates and boy friends made the substance of her easy chatter. She was alert in her work, apologetic shoppers with an attention to the Democratic national convention, pledged to support Gov. Murray as a presidential nominee, will not support Governor Roosevelt of New York at any time was made today by the governor.

"I see where Pat Malloy, of Tulsa, says the delegation will vote for Roosevelt when they see I have no chance," Murray said. "I'll bet a dime they'll never vote for Roosevelt. If I can't be nominated, they'll go for somebody who will help the country. We are not hunting a band wagon. If Roosevelt's got it, he'll take his band wagon and go on; we'll not be on it."

Farm Groups To Make New Effort On Relief Plans

WASHINGTON, Apr. 1 (AP)—A new effort to obtain action by congress on the equalization fee and export debit plans of farm relief is planned by three national farm organizations.

Legislative committees of these groups—the National Grange, American Farm Bureau federation and Farmers' Union—are preparing a bill consolidating these plans. Separate bills embodying the plans—designed to remove crop surpluses and bolster prices—are now before house and senate committees.

The farm groups want the agricultural marketing act, under which the farm board was created, amended to give the board authority to use any or all of the relief plans at its discretion.

They had hoped the committees would consolidate the separate proposals in one bill. The committees, however, have delayed acting pending a decision on the proposed investigation of the board. Now the grange, farm bureau and farmers' union plan to work out their own measure and urge its adoption.

The investigation also contemplates a thorough study of grain, cotton and other commodity exchanges which probably would require months to complete.

Lei Women Do Work

In Kilbury, East Africa, the dusky ladies completely own, manage and work the one industry, salt-making, while the gentlemen gather firewood and run errands to earn their salt, the medium of exchange.

liness that held them and more often than not sold something to them. This and the fact that she had been in Stratton's for four years, beginning at the bundle desk gave her an unofficial seniority over the others. Kitty had recognized that seniority.

Thinking of Josie, she walked swiftly, liking the touch of the cool air against her tired face. Like Josie and the hundreds of others who had left Stratton's before her, she felt a sense of lightness with the day behind her. At this hour even the pain in her heart lifted a little.

Most of all she walked swiftly because she was going back to Ketchum Street and Ketchum Street meant to Dorcas' room with its lamp and its fire—Dorcas herself.

It had been three weeks since that night David had taken her to Dorcas, infinitely longer when she measured it in heartache. He had not tried to find her. He must know where she was—Pound knew and must have told him.

Dorcas had taken her to Stratton's. Dorcas knew the head of the personnel there. The wages Stratton's paid her gave her a meager independence. She was living in a small room on the same floor as Dorcas' apartment.

Kitty knew now that Dorcas owned the old house on Ketchum Street. She knew that Mrs. Gentle to whom she paid her week's rent only acted as Dorcas' agent. David had told her about Mrs. Gentle. One day Dorcas had found her, destitute, evicted with her two children from a basement apartment in the block and had taken her in. "She can get on if someone just gives her a hand," David had quoted Dorcas as saying. And Mrs. Gentle, installed in the big kitchen of the old house, sleeping in what once had been the dining-room, had gotten on, just as Emil Schelling was getting on, Kitty herself.

Kitty had met others in Dorcas' apartment, to whom she knew Dorcas had given a hand. Young Mark Quin, who worked in a garage and went to art classes at night, Leah Moore, a lawyer, thirty, cynical, brilliant of intellect, decrying sentiment, sneering at any ideals and yet somehow softening to humanity after an evening around Dorcas' fire; Max Adler, a sensitive-faced, dark-browed Jew, shouting communism yet arrogant himself, who was a violinist. It was Dorcas who had secured for him a place in the Palace Theater orchestra. Perhaps Dorcas had helped them all, in one way or another, to regain their self-respect. In the ups and downs of everything each of them was doing, Dorcas showed a deep interest. But she would not tolerate impatience, "Oh, stand up!" she'd cry impatiently at such times.

Kitty had heard her berate David. "You haven't done a bit of work today. I can tell by the hang of your head. Are you going to be content all your life with a column of dribble for the Times? Well, if you are, go on home." And David had gone, his face angry, slamming the door behind him.

Kitty had come to know, with some excitation, that David's work was the writing of a novel. But neither he nor Dorcas talked about it except, now and then, to exchange some pertinent comment concerning it, or a question and a brief answer, or often, on Dorcas' part, a sharp rebuke. It seemed to be something between the two of them and Kitty sensed that Dorcas cared a great deal about it; she'd seen the look in her eyes when David went out, slamming the door behind him.

Kitty, even in her most balmy moments with Dorcas never touched on her own discouragement. She could tell David how faithfully she'd tried she got. And with David she could talk of Gar. David hadn't said anything about self-respect. David's sympathy was different from Dorcas'.

Four blocks from Stratton's was the Finer building. As Kitty reached it David stepped from the wide entrance way and joined her, just as he met her nearly every evening, making the encounter seem to happen without any planning. And always, on the instant of seeing him, tall and lanky, a little shabby, his hat pulled down over his eyes, Kitty felt a little rush of gladness.

"Well, how did it go today?"

"Oh, better." Her eyes came to David's face. She slipped her hand through his arm.

"David, did you see him today? Hear anything?"

(Copyright, Jane Abbott)

Where is Gar? In the next installment, on Monday, time is turned back to the day after Kitty's flight, and David discovers the news to Mrs. Frew.

CHURCH, BARBER SHOP, POOL HALL BURN AT LOSTINE

(Continued from Page One)

street and nearly hitting John McKenzie.

The cause of the fire is unknown but it is believed to have started in the pool hall, which was operated by George Dodge until about a month ago, when he became ill. Mr. Dodge was in La Grande at the time of the fire. His house, near the pool hall, was saved from flying sparks.

The pool hall was the property of Julius Roesch, of La Grande, and the barber shop was owned by C. E. Thomas.

The church, a building erected some 30 years ago and converted into a church about 15 years ago, was insured.

Total loss will amount to several thousands of dollars.

A small fire occurred in the pool hall some time ago but did but little damage.

Garner Is Not Worried About New Movie Tax

WASHINGTON, Apr. 1 (AP)—Speaker Garner doesn't expect much of a personal burden from the new movie tax of ten per cent on tickets costing over 45 cents each.

In the first place the price of movies in his home town of Uvalde, Tex., is 35 cents, so escapes the levy.

But there is another and even better reason.

"Mrs. Garner always pays for my way," he said.

The Garden

VEGETABLE GARDENS AS LUXURIES

Vegetable gardens in the home grounds serve two very different purposes—a substantial economy and a luxury. Vegetables vary widely in quality when they come to the table. This is dependent on their culture in the first place, their freshness, and the method employed in cooking them.

High quality is dependent chiefly on freshness. This can be obtained certainly only in the home garden. Vegetables with a large sugar content, such as corn and peas, lose it through natural chemical action within a few hours after they are taken from the plant. Sugar will have to be added to them in cooking to bring back a semblance of the natural flavor. It is never quite the same delicious flavor.

Fresh pulled radishes are crispier and snappier than those which have stood in the market and which must be leech and soaked in cold water for some time before serving to bring back a semblance of their original quality. Fresh lettuce is of finer quality than lettuce from the market, no matter how well refrigerated.

The humblest garden can grow fancy vegetables as well as that of a millionaire. Seeds of the higher quality vegetables and which may need a little extra care to bring the plants through successfully can be bought as cheaply as the staples.

Commercial growers are conservative. They cannot afford to experiment much with new varieties. They grow the reliable old timers that they know will thrive and produce abundant crops for market. A home gardener can make experiments for improved varieties at a loss even if the vegetable tried does not pan out. In the majority of cases they will prove to be all that is represented for them. They have been given severe and scientific tests before being placed on the market.

Each seed merchant has his special lines. They are worth trying for the production of better quality vegetables. There is a great variety of peas, sweet corn and tomatoes offered each year. The individual taste may be consulted. Some persons prefer a certain type of tomato. Others prefer another. It is an easy matter to select the quality desired.

Grow vegetables as a luxury and for superior quality that cannot be obtained in any other way. Make it point to grow better vegetables this year than you did last.

To Grow Hyacinths

Hyacinths in the house should not be potted and set away in the dark closet or basement. Have the soil moist but not wet. Hyacinths can be grown excellently in water in specially designed glasses on sale at all dealers. It is an easy method

FIND IT HERE

Copy for this Column must be by 8 a. m.

SPECIAL
Diamonds 85c. April 22. Watch for ads.
Old time dance Eagles hall Saturday night. Admission 50c. 3-31-3 t.
FINAL SALE
Cinerarias, 1 for 99c and 2 for $1.00. Saturday, Clarks Florists. 4-1-1 t.BLUET GRANGE DANCE
Sat. night at Grange hall near La Grande. Music by Blue Mt. Wranglers. 3-31-2 t.CAIRD OF THANKS
We wish to thank the friends who assisted us during the illness of our dear one, Clyde E. Knaut, also Rev. Wals, the physicians, the staff of the Grande Ronde hospital, especially Mr. Fred Norman, the F. O. E., the auxiliary of F. O. E., and Mr. Elza Dodge, the special nurse who cared for him so faithfully during his long illness.
May Knaut.
Dr. C. E. Knaut.
Paul Hanson and family. 4-1-1 tpRADIOS
Radios at all prices at Adler's Close Out Sale. 3-31-2 t.SHEET MUSIC
At Adler's Close Out Sale. Standard, 2 for 15c. Popular, now 25c. Adler's Music Co. 3-31-2 t.FOR LADIES ONLY
Now is the time to have your old hat refinished like new, in any color or shade, and with lacquer which will not fade or stiffen the straw or brim. Take your last year's hat to Richardson's Art and Gift Shop and save the expense of a new one. 3-22-1 f.MANLEY M. ARANT
Accountant and auditor, income tax advisor. G. B. Apt. 303. Ph. 208 W. 3-10-1 m.HUSTED
When your broken side glass or wind shield to be refitted, you will save both time and money by taking your car to Richardson's Art and Gift Shop. 3-22-1 f.NO. 12692
TREASURY DEPARTMENT
Office of Comptroller of the Currency
Washington, D. C. March 7, 1932.Whereas, by satisfactory evidence presented to the undersigned, it has been made to appear that:
"The First National Bank of La Grande" in the City of La Grande in the County of Union and State of Oregon has complied with all the provisions of the statutes of the United States, required to be complied with before an association shall be authorized to commence the business of banking;
Now therefore, J. W. Pole, Comptroller of the Currency, do hereby certify that "The First National Bank of La Grande" in the City of La Grande in the County of Union and State of Oregon is authorized to commence the business of banking as provided in Section Fifty one hundred and sixty-nine of the Revised Statutes of the United States.
In testimony whereof, witness my hand and seal of office this seventh day of March, 1932.
J. W. POLE, Comptroller of the Currency. 3-24-60 t.Reconstituting, painting, button holes, etc. Norton's Kiddy Shop. —Ad.NOTICE TO CREDITORS
Notice is hereby given that the undersigned has been duly appointed by the County Court of the State of Oregon for Union County, executor of the estate of Mike Casey (sometimes known as Michael Casey) deceased, and has qualified as such. All persons having claims against said estate are hereby required to present the same, verified as required by law, to the undersigned at the office of his attorneys, Green & Hess, in La Grande, Oregon, within six months from the date hereof.
Dated at La Grande, Oregon, this 1st day of April, 1932.
DR. M. T. PHY, Executor of the Estate of Michael Casey (sometimes known as Mike Casey) Deceased. Apr. 1-16-22-29.NOTICE OF SHERIFF'S SALE
Notice is hereby given that I have received foreclosure execution and order of sale, issued out of and under the seal of the Circuit Court of the State of Oregon for the County of Union, dated the 29th day of March, 1932 in the suit therein pending in which E. C. Stevens, Executor of the estate of Nellie M. Stevens, deceased, is plaintiff, and Jerome Campbell and Pearl Campbell, husband and wife, and La Grande Investment Company, a corporation, are defendants, to me directed, upon a decree and order of said made and entered in said court and cause on the 20th day of November, 1931, in favor of the above plaintiff and against the defendants Jerome Campbell and Pearl Campbell, husband and wife, in the sum of $500.00 and interest thereon at eight per centum per annum from February 7th, 1928, until paid, less $50.00 and the sum of $3.45 and interest thereon at eight per centum per annum from September 4, 1928, and the further sum of $75.00 as reasonable attorney fees, and $16.50 costs and disbursements, in which said execution and order of sale I am commanded to sell the following described property, being the property described in the mortgage being foreclosed in said suit, to-wit:
A tract of land, the boundary beginning at the northwest corner of Lot 1 of Block "F" of Coggan's Second Addition to the Town (City) of La Grande, Union County, Oregon, running thence South 175 feet to the southwest corner of said Lot 1, thence East 66 2/3 feet, thence North 175 feet, thence west a strip of land 66 2/3 feet wide off of the west side of said Lot 1, all in Union County, Oregon, together with the tenements, hereditaments and appurtenances thereunto belonging or in anywise appertaining.
NOW THEREFORE, by virtue and authority of said writ, and in obedience to its commands, I will, on Saturday, the 30th day of April, 1932, at eleven o'clock a. m. of said day, at the front door of the court house in La Grande, Union County, Oregon, sell at public auction all the right, title, interest and equity of the above named defendants and each of them in and to the above described real property, had on the 7th day of February, 1928, or thereafter acquired, to the highest bidder for cash, subject to redemption as provided by law, the proceeds to be applied in satisfaction of said judgment and decree, including costs and accruing costs of execution and sale.

Dated this 31st day of March, 1932.

JESSE BRESHEARS, Sheriff of Union County, Oregon.
Apr. 1-8-15-22.

VICKS COUGH DROP

All you've hoped for in a Cough Drop—medicated with ingredients of VICKS VAPORUB

New Spring Suits

ALL WOOL

Guaranteed Values

$20.00 and $22.50

Trotter's QUALITY CLOTHES SHOP

Garner Is Not Worried About New Movie Tax

WASHINGTON, Apr. 1 (AP)—Speaker Garner doesn't expect much of a personal burden from the new movie tax of ten per cent on tickets costing over 45 cents each.

In the first place the price of movies in his home town of Uvalde, Tex., is 35 cents, so escapes the levy.

But there is another and even better reason.

"Mrs. Garner always pays for my way," he said.

The Garden

VEGETABLE GARDENS AS LUXURIES

Vegetable gardens in the home grounds serve two very different purposes—a substantial economy and a luxury. Vegetables vary widely in quality when they come to the table. This is dependent on their culture in the first place, their freshness, and the method employed in cooking them.

High quality is dependent chiefly on freshness. This can be obtained certainly only in the home garden. Vegetables with a large sugar content, such as corn and peas, lose it through natural chemical action within a few hours after they are taken from the plant. Sugar will have to be added to them in cooking to bring back a semblance of the natural flavor. It is never quite the same delicious flavor.

Fresh pulled radishes are crispier and snappier than those which have stood in the market and which must be leech and soaked in cold water for some time before serving to bring back a semblance of their original quality. Fresh lettuce is of finer quality than lettuce from the market, no matter how well refrigerated.

The humblest garden can grow fancy vegetables as well as that of a millionaire. Seeds of the higher quality vegetables and which may need a little extra care to bring the plants through successfully can be bought as cheaply as the staples.

Commercial growers are conservative. They cannot afford to experiment much with new varieties. They grow the reliable old timers that they know will thrive and produce abundant crops for market. A home gardener can make experiments for improved varieties at a loss even if the vegetable tried does not pan out. In the majority of cases they will prove to be all that is represented for them. They have been given severe and scientific tests before being placed on the market.

Each seed merchant has his special lines. They are worth trying for the production of better quality vegetables. There is a great variety of peas, sweet corn and tomatoes offered each year. The individual taste may be consulted. Some persons prefer a certain type of tomato. Others prefer another. It is an easy matter to select the quality desired.

Grow vegetables as a luxury and for superior quality that cannot be obtained in any other way. Make it point to grow better vegetables this year than you did last.

To Grow Hyacinths

Hyacinths in the house should not be potted and set away in the dark closet or basement. Have the soil moist but not wet. Hyacinths can be grown excellently in water in specially designed glasses on sale at all dealers. It is an easy method

"Wear-Ever" Tower Cake Pan Set

The sides heat as rapidly as the bottom, resulting in more even, thorough baking. Also, these Tower Cake Pans can be called on to make salads for buffet suppers.

Standard "Wear-Ever" quality—thick, hard sheet aluminum

It's Oval! "Wear-Ever" Early American Drip Coffee Pot

Simply put finely ground coffee into the coffee basket, pour boiling water over it and let the water drip through into the bottom section. Makes excellent coffee! It holds 6 to 8 cups.

Introductory price $2.25 Regular price $3.38

This French Fryer makes the crispest French fried foods you ever ate. Capacity, 2 quarts.

Special price 98¢ Regular price $1.39

Now on sale at WAGNER HARDWARE

Federation

Is the Best

Flour

For Home Made BREAD And Everyday BAKING

But For Fancy CAKES and PASTRIES Always Use BLUESTEM

Both Are High Quality Products MADE IN UNION COUNTY From Local Wheat

Support Your Home Industry

La Grande Milling Co.

Hudkins Winner Of Battle In Court

LOS ANGELES, Apr. 1 (AP)—Ace Hudkins, who is known to boxing fans at the Lincoln, Neb., "Wildcat," last night won a $10,000 damage suit for alleged breach of contract to marry and for battery brought by Miss Rhos Bill, an entertainer.

The fighter denied the charges, and said that if Miss Hill suffered black eyes it must have been when she fell down. He offered several character witnesses against the girl.

THE SECRET of real coffee economy and GRAND FLAVOR! First Golden West coffee; then "drip" in the Golden West maker. Just as simple as it sounds.

Your coffee has Golden West coffee and maker.

The "secret" formula of Golden West is not a "drip" but a "drip" and other methods of making coffee.

The Garden

VEGETABLE GARDENS AS LUXURIES

Vegetable gardens in the home grounds serve two very different purposes—a substantial economy and a luxury. Vegetables vary widely in quality when they come to the table. This is dependent on their culture in the first place, their freshness, and the method employed in cooking them.

High quality is dependent chiefly on freshness. This can be obtained certainly only in the home garden. Vegetables with a large sugar content, such as corn and peas, lose it through natural chemical action within a few hours after they are taken from the plant. Sugar will have to be added to them in cooking to bring back a semblance of the natural flavor. It is never quite the same delicious flavor.

Fresh pulled radishes are crispier and snappier than those which have stood in the market and which must be leech and soaked in cold water for some time before serving to bring back a semblance of their original quality. Fresh lettuce is of finer quality than lettuce from the market, no matter how well refrigerated.

The humblest garden can grow fancy vegetables as well as that of a millionaire. Seeds of the higher quality vegetables and which may need a little extra care to bring the plants through successfully can be bought as cheaply as the staples.

Commercial growers are conservative. They cannot afford to experiment much with new varieties. They grow the reliable old timers that they know will thrive and produce abundant crops for market. A home gardener can make experiments for improved varieties at a loss even if the vegetable tried does not pan out. In the majority of cases they will prove to be all that is represented for them. They have been given severe and scientific tests before being placed on the market.

Each seed merchant has his special lines. They are worth trying for the production of better quality vegetables. There is a great variety of peas, sweet corn and tomatoes offered each year. The individual taste may be consulted. Some persons prefer a certain type of tomato. Others prefer another. It is an easy matter to select the quality desired.

Grow vegetables as a luxury and for superior quality that cannot be obtained in any other way. Make it point to grow better vegetables this year than you did last.

To Grow Hyacinths

Hyacinths in the house should not be potted and set away in the dark closet or basement. Have the soil moist but not wet. Hyacinths can be grown excellently in water in specially designed glasses on sale at all dealers. It is an easy method

"Wear-Ever" Tower Cake Pan Set

The sides heat as rapidly as the bottom, resulting in more even, thorough baking. Also, these Tower Cake Pans can be called on to make salads for buffet suppers.

Standard "Wear-Ever" quality—thick, hard sheet aluminum

It's Oval! "Wear-Ever" Early American Drip Coffee Pot

Simply put finely ground coffee into the coffee basket, pour boiling water over it and let the water drip through into the bottom section. Makes excellent coffee! It holds 6 to 8 cups.

Introductory price $2.25 Regular price $3.38

This French Fryer makes the crispest French fried foods you ever ate. Capacity, 2 quarts.

Special price 98¢ Regular price $1.39

Now on sale at WAGNER HARDWARE